POETRY.

For the Public Ledger.

A YEAR AGO.

Sweet autumn, in its loveliness and pride,
Hath come again, and 'tis another year—
Though ne'er again my darling, side by side,
Will linger in the gathering twilight here.
Alone, with strangely aching heart I stand,
Watching the dusky shadows come and go—
And, ah! I miss the pressure of a tender hand,
That clasped o'er mine this day a year ago.

One year ago! oh, what a varied host
Of memories throng around me now.
Bright days of love forever, ever lost—
A dream of life, a fond unbroken vow.
Oh, throbbing heart, how hopefully I thought,
That time would wear the bitter pain away,
Once circling these hallowed hours, I find them fraught
With more than common bitter pain to-day.

With heavy, trembling heart, I kneel
Beside the grave, and 'neath the sunset's glow,
The sunbeams that through shadows steal,
Mock me in my silent tearless woe.
I cannot weep, the sacred fount is sealed,
Stifling the heart throbs come and go—
The bleeding wound not yet, not yet is healed,
Where is the peace I felt one year ago?

Though sorrowing still, I'm something calmer now,
Than when they laid thee sadly here;
No one could tell how faithfully thy vow,
Be me was kept through all this dreary year.
All seeming placid flows my saddened life,
I strive not, "outward all is well."
But there are things that breathe of spirit strife
More than tears or sighs could ever tell.

The storm has passed, but, ah, the wreck remains,
And hopes now scattered on the wave lashed shore—
The wind hath passed o'er and a silence reigns,
Where erewhile the heavy billows o'er and o'er,
But all life's ties are severed, torn apart,
Heavy, though swift, has been the tempest's roll—
A tender dream lies shattered in the heart,
A deep and priceless shadow on the soul.

Asiatic Cholera in China.

Almost Every Case Cured

WITH

PAIN-KILLER.

FROM REV. R. TELFORD, MISSIONARY in China, now visiting his home in Pennsylvania:

WASHINGTON, PENN., June 25, 1866.

MESSRS. Perry Davis & Son, Providence, R. I.:

DEAR SIRS: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Vegetable Pain-Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera.

In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain-killer in a cup of hot water sweetened with sugar; then, after about fifteen minutes, begin to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every minute until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain-killer, clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera and took the medicine faithfully, in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.

—R. TELFORD.

If attacked with Diarrhea, Dysentery, or Cramp Colic, don't delay the use of the PAIN-KILLER.

It was generally used for CHOLERA IN 1849, and is a reliable remedy.

No Steamboat on the Western rivers should leave port without it.

Don't EXPERIMENT with new "REMEDIES" or "MIXTURES"—Davis' Pain-Killer is RELIABLE.

The component parts of the Pain-Killer are the same recommended by all good and learned physicians—Camphor, Capsicum, Laudanum, are some of the leading articles of the Pain-Killer—and the physicians of the present day, writing upon the cure of cholera, urge the use of those articles. If you have the Pain-Killer by you to use in case of an attack, it will be all you will require for a cure. It is within the reach of all. Price, Twenty-five Cents, Fifty Cents and One Dollar Bottles.
