

Official Journal of the City of Alexandria.

Henry L. Blossat, Business Manager

THE revised version of the Old Testament will be given to the public in London on the 19th inst., and will be published in New York on the 21st inst.

A STROLL through an emigrant train at Pittsburg, Pa., revealed Russians eating blackbread sandwiches, evidently brought from the other side of the Atlantic; Germans regaling themselves with wheat bread, rancid butter and smoked sausage, and Hungarians, shunned by their fellow travelers, devouring musty bread and limburger cheese of great age and proportionate strength.

THE woman suffrage bill was defeated in the Massachusetts House on Tuesday by a vote of 61 yeas to 130 nays, with 7 pairs.—This shows a gain since last year of 7 in the affirmative and a loss of 16 in the negative, a net gain for the suffragists of 25, against a net loss last year of 37. With the exception of 1874 and 1875, every Massachusetts since 1867 has acted on this question.

IN regard to the rumor that he had decided not to go to Turkey, Mr. S. S. Cox said on Tuesday: "I have not yet reconsidered my determination to go abroad. Two delegations of my political friends from New York were to call upon me to-day to urge me to do so, but they did not come. I am informed they will come on Saturday. I will be glad to see them and hear all they have to say."

HON. Chauncey F. Black, at present the Democratic Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania, is favorably mentioned by many Democratic papers in that State as a suitable nominee for the Governorship. Mr. Black is the son of the late Judge Jere S. Black, and is recognized as an able writer and eloquent speaker. His popularity and ability are conceded by the leading Republican papers of the State.

A DISPATCH from Atlanta, Ga., of the 7th inst., gives the following interesting bit of information: One year ago Miss Fanny May Witt, a literary lady of Atlanta, passing through Monroe, La., called at the office of the Bulletin. After her departure, C. H. Trunsdale, the editor, felt himself to be desperately in love. A proposal of marriage was accepted by the lady, who became his wife here this evening, the second time that she ever saw him.

DURING the parade of the veterans of the Army of the Potomac at Baltimore on the 7th inst., according to the report in the Baltimore Sun, "the Confederates came in for an especially hearty ovation. As they came along the men on the stand cheered and cheered, all springing to their feet and waving hats, canes and umbrellas. The veterans seemed very much gratified. All looked up and then looked at each other for a moment. Then with one impulse they took off their hats and gave a ringing cheer that was taken up and echoed by the crowds on Eutaw and Baltimore streets."

MUSCLE GRAFTING.

A new feature in the practice of surgery, of which there is much being said in the public prints, is the practice of muscle grafting. This process consists in taking out a diseased or useless muscle from a patient and inserting in its place a similar part of the anatomy of some other animal. The latest case is that of a young lady, Annie Finnell, who had the muscles of her arm lacerated in such a manner as to produce numbness and to cause the arm to become useless. The surgeons excised from the hind leg of a dog a portion of muscle about four inches in length, which it is said they have successfully grafted in the place of the portion of muscle removed from the young lady's arm.

The New York Times, not to be outdone in the way of wonderful innovations, claims that this surgical performance is nothing new, and tells of a case that occurred years ago of a similar nature. A young and beautiful work woman employed in a whalebone factory had the misfortune to fall against a buzzsaw and have her nose cut off.—Moved by the distress of the young woman who would rather have died than to have been thus disfigured, a kind-hearted and skillful surgeon proposed to replace the missing feature by the grafting process, and removing a portion of muscle from the tail of a fine Newfoundland dog he succeeded in giving back to the young lady a nose equal in shape and beauty to the one she had lost, and all seemed well again with the maimed beauty.

But alas! The success of the transfer was too great. With the engrafted muscle of the dog was transferred a portion of the dog's nature, and the fair patient found that whenever she was pleased, her gratification was exhibited by the wagging of her nose just as the pleasure of the animal mutilated for her benefit, was expressed by the wagging of his tail. She soon learned to think that a wagging nose was worse than no nose at all, and became willing to lay down her new infirmity and take up again the one for which it had been exchanged.—[Ex.]

Nervousness.

The moment there is danger of impairment of the mind from excessive nervous exhaustion, or where there exists fortboding of evil, a desire for solitude, shunning and avoiding company, vertigo and nervous debility, or when insanity has already taken place, PERUNA and MANALIN should be implicitly relied on. But it is never well to wait so long before treatment is commenced. The early symptoms are loss of strength, softness of the muscles, dim or weak sight, peculiar expression of the face and eyes, coated tongue, with impaired digestion; or in others, certain powers only are lost while they are otherwise enjoying comparatively good health. In all these PERUNA and MANALIN should at once be taken.

Mrs. S. Smith, Hillsville, Lawrence County, Pa., writes: "DR. S. B. HARTMAN & CO., Columbus, O.: 'I have been a great sufferer for ten years. It seemed as though every organ in my body was diseased at one time or another. I had about given up all hopes, when I commenced taking PERUNA and MANALIN. I immediately began to improve, the soreness and pain disappeared, strength gradually returned, and now I am as well as ever in my life, and I owe it all to your PERUNA and MANALIN. I recommend it to my friends, and it gives better satisfaction than any other medicine I ever heard of.'"

Miss Maria Roderick, Warren, Ohio, writes: "It is with pleasure and many thanks that I write to you to tell you of the great benefit I have derived from the use of the PERUNA. I have used several bottles of your PERUNA, and can safely say it has done me a great deal of good. I have improved ever since I commenced its use."

Mr. T. J. Webber, Plymouth, Ohio, writes: "I am selling your PERUNA, and having a good trade in it. It gives excellent satisfaction."

Mr. Thomas Acton, Brooklyn Village, Cleveland, O., says: "I received a severe wound in my foot by tramping on a spike. It inflamed and was painful and swollen. I had every reason to fear lockjaw. Your simple suggestions as to local applications and the taking of your PERUNA and MANALIN were followed to the letter, and, thanks to you, my foot is entirely well, and I am happy."

A MOST plausible explanation of the seeming delay on the part of President Cleveland in removing Republicans from office is given by a prominent Democratic member of Congress from Illinois. Discussing the question of appointments to office with President Cleveland, the admission was made by him that "a good many Democrats were seemingly dissatisfied with the slow way in which changes were being made but that they would be satisfied after learning the cause. The Republicans had manipulated business in all the departments, so that when the Democrats came in they could not tell the head from the tail of affairs, and hence it was necessary to move slow and to retain these Republican officials to straighten out matters before removals could begin in earnest. The close of the fiscal year, on the 30th of June, will be the time for final settlement, and for wholesale removals and appointments.—[New Orleans States.]

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

BITTERS

The majority of the ills of the human body arise from a derangement of the Liver, affecting both the stomach and bowels. In order to effect a cure, it is necessary to remove the cause. Irregular and sluggish action of the Bowels, Headache, Sickiness at the Stomach, Pains in the Back and Loins, etc., indicate that the Liver is at fault, and that nature requires assistance to enable this organ to throw off impurities.

Prickly Ash Bitters are especially compounded for this purpose. They are mild in their action and effect as a cure; are pleasant to the taste and taken easily by both children and adults. Taken according to directions, they are a safe and pleasant cure for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Habitual Constipation, Diseased Kidneys, etc., etc. As a Blood Purifier they are superior to any other medicine, cleansing the system thoroughly, and imparting new life and energy to the invalid. It is a medicine and not an intoxicating beverage.
