'Twas only three short months ago (how time flies to be sure) and he stood at the church door, her shawl hung gracefully over his arm, his shining silk hat he held by his side, she looked up into his eyes, smiled and arranged and rearranged her dress and bonnet. The future mother-in-law gazed on the artless pair and murmured: "What a catch!" The usher approached them and the three marched up the aisle as if they were worth "one hundred thousand dollars all in gold." And to-day she carries her own shawl, they take a seat in the side aisle and the mother-in law goes to some other church or don't go at all. And she only wonders how Eliza Jane ever took up with such a mean fellow anyhow. So the mysteries of life are ever opening to us and we go on with the great future all unexplained.

A new example of the power of association is being illustrated. In a recent trial Judge Hubbard, of Chicago, attorney for the Northwestern railroad, made a savage attack on commercial travelers, or "drummers," as a class, denouncing them in unmeasured terms. They, in turn, have combined to divert shipments from that road, as long as he is its attorney. There are about ten thousand of them, and the pledge is being eagerly signed. It is said the road begins to feel the effect of this combination already. The boys say they "mean business."

Mr. Tilden joins Mr. Watterson in ridiculing the idea of any break in the solid South. He says the pretended ovations to the President in the South were all "humbug," and that the Southerns will vote for "none but a true-blooded Democrat, who will support them." As for the President, Mr. Tilden tells a Herald reporter that the Administration will have no more than a corporal's guard to support it three years hence since the course of Mr. Hayes is "chilling the fanaticism in the Republican party." For the undoubted edification of Mr. Hendricks, Mr. Tilden made the usual remark that he never felt better in all his life.

A Business Man wished Sunday would come twice a week, so he could attend church oftener. He takes in so many bogus ten-cent pieces in six days that his conscience will not permit him to put them all in the contribution-box during one Sunday.

Every young man who is so fat that he can't tie his own neck tie, and whose face is as round and about as large as a dinner plate, wears the helmet hat, and the burlesque sits on the top of his head like a grape on an orange. The spectacle of a fat man in a helmet hat is what makes men murderers.

The prisoners in the Janesville Jail run a paper of their own. Their last issue consists in a frantic appeal to the County Board to clean out the rats, which are becoming so numerous that jail-life ceases to be a pleasure.

SIMMONS' LIVER DISEASE and Indigestion prevent to a greater extent than probably any other malady, and as the liver is regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Indigestion or want of action in the Liver, causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Bad Taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, palpitation of the heart, depression of spirits or blues, and a hundred other symptoms. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered for these ailments. It acts mildly, effectually, and, being a simple vegetable compound, can do no harm to any one. Office that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; is now been for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will testify for its virtues, viz.: Hon. Alex. H. Stevens of Georgia; Bishop Pierce, of Georgia; John Gill Shorter, Ex-Governor of Alabama; Hon. John H. Gunter, R. L. Bett, of Selma, Ala.; Hon. Jas. Jackson, Atlanta, Ga.; Hon. Chas. Austin, Augusta, Ga.; Hon. Jas. Gardner, Augusta, Ga.; Hon. Jas. Gardner, Augusta, Ga.; Hon. Jas. Gardner
