The Donaldsonville Chief.

Two Dollars a Year.

The Fair for the Benefit of St. Joseph Chapel on New River.

Voluntary contributions for the public good are the most laudable of Christian characteristics in a cultivated community. Cities have erected churches, schools and monuments of architectural beauty and elegance through the liberality of citizens, and the perseverance and untiring exertions of woman; but the country towns and even the unpretentious settlements have evinced the same philanthropic traits in creating public zeal to the advancement of religion, education and charitable institutions, as satisfactorily exemplified in the late exhibition of public feeling and generous outlay in Ascension parish for the benefit of St. Joseph's Chapel on New River, Sunday, September 7. Although the morning was rather inauspicious, clouds hiding the radiance of advancing day did not deter the expectant crowds from collecting in anticipation of the coming celebration. At about 10 o'clock A. M., the gloom passed away, and soon the sun lent its brightness to the cheeriness around; the procession led by two priests was formed from the parish church, and indeed it was a goodly sight; the consecration of the chapel and the christening of the bell with its ten godfathers, who nobly aided the proceedings, not only with their presence but in a ready and liberal financial form, were features of the morning's display most worthy of the highest praise and lasting remembrance. After high mass, about 12 M., the fair commenced. It was located in front of Dr. P. T. St. Amant's residence, under a grand old oak tree on the banks of New River; tables were extended on the sides of the yard bearing on their ample surfaces everything which could gratify the taste of the generous public; also choice articles of beauty and value to be submitted to the exciting chances of a raffle. Among the fortunate winners was Mr. Wm. Brand, overseer on Burnside's plantation, who won the goat "Flea Catcher," the large cake by Miss Florence Gauthreaux, who, actuated by that inherent goodness of all Southern daisies, presented it to the fair to be again an aid to the general fund.

The afternoon brought its own variety of amusements. Amongst them was a spirited game of base ball, wherein the muscular powers and fine training of those handsome nines did not fail in winning the applause and admiration of the spectators. But on reviewing that most pleasant of evenings, the remembrance of the horse-racing causes a feeling of profound pleasure. Mr. Joe St. Amant's fine bay St. Julien won the well merited praise of all, as his gallant strides covered the ground, his beautiful form, glossy skin, bright and almost human eyes were sufficient to challenge the admiration of all, for happily it was proven in his winning the blue ribbon twice successfully, and as he curvetted so proudly along he looked as if he felt the honors bestowed on him, and how richly he deserved them. Truly a fine horse and a noble owner, for he and his brother have aided the whole affair as only such kind and Christian gentlemen would. Dr. P. T. St. Amant had been indefatigable in his endeavors in selling tickets, and numerous other ways to aid the good work; also, Capt. Joe Gonzales, the building of the chapel, the clever arrangement of the fair grounds were mute but eloquent proof of the energy and sincerity which colors all the actions of that kind and generous citizen. It is all over now, but we hope that in the near future Dr. St. Amant's beautiful grounds may be selected again to be the scene of such another gathering and that the same true and kindly gentlemen will live to participate therein and that their good deeds may be reproduced by their children and grandchildren.

Yours truly. REGINA.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS.—Assessor and Supervisor of Registration for this parish, Mr. Dodd. Smith, gives notice that he will attend at the following places, on the dates mentioned, from 7 o'clock A. M., to 1 P. M. and from 2 to 6 P. M., for the purpose of revising the list of registered voters:

V. P. Landry's place, ninth ward, Monday, Oct. 6.

Hercule Landry's store, tenth ward, Wednesday, Oct. 8.

Magnolia school-house, tenth ward, Friday, Oct. 10.

Donaldsonville, Wednesday, Oct. 13, to Saturday, Oct. 25, inclusive.

Citizens who have reached the age of majority and those who have moved into the parish since the last registration must be enrolled by the Supervisor in order to acquire the right to vote at the coming election, while those who have removed from one election precinct to another must have he change of residence noted on the registration books.

The crop yield of the world is not larger than in 1882, though about 25 per cent. greater than in 1883. Last year there was great economy in consumption because of higher prices. This year the consumption will be larger, owning to lower prices and the economy practiced in 1883.—States.
