The Farmer's Wife

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Miller Bros. 101 Ranch.

The Indians with the 101 Ranch Wild West Show, which will be here on Monday, Nov. 2, are wild, free denizens of the prairie and forest who still adhere to the buckskin garb, adorn the walls of their lodges with the "sacred undle" and guard the household from invisible enemies by the buffalo shield which hangs on its tripod back of the primitive home. They represent nearly a dozen Indian nations and include papooses and their mothers, radiant belles and beauties of the wigwam, wrinkled warriors and renowned chiefs.

Crooked Nose, a stalwart figure, is the champion bow and arrow shot of the Comanche cult. Bull Bear and High Chief are noted braves. Flatiron, 93 years old, is looked upon as the greatest orator of the Sioux nation. The older cowboys with the organization assert that it was Flatiron who harangued the Indians before they went into the Custor fight. He is still an orator and every once in a while he holds a pow-wow.

LITTLE TEDDY BEAR.

Three other Indian warriors who had conspicuous parts in the Custer massacre are members of the 101 Ranch aggregation. They are Charlie-Owns-the-Dog, Standing Cloud, and Long Bull. They are loath to talk of the slaughter. Long Bull is credited with being one of the greatest Indian statesmen of history.

The red men will make a bivouac of tepees on the 101 Ranch show grounds, where visitors will receive a hearty aboriginal welcome. An interpreter is in attendance. They are a conspicuously fantastic feature of the long and picturesque parade which will be given in the forenoon, preceding the two arenic performances.

Young Ascensionite Seriously Hurt.

The following excerpts from the New Orleans Picayune of Tuesday, Oct. 27, will be read with interest by many of our readers:

"James Bradford, deckhand of the steamer Houma, had one of his arms broken in two places and two ribs broken last Sunday, just as the Houma was about to leave Madisonville, by being caught in the line working in connection with the capstan spool. The unfortunate young man was brought to West End by the boat and then conveyed to the Charity Hospital. He was reported yesterday as doing nicely, and expected to be removed last evening to the home of his sister, corner of Magazine and Thalia streets. In the accident by which he was so badly done up, Mr. Bradford is said to have had a very narrow escape from death, as the line with which he became entangled was about to strangle the life out of him when Tom Bradford, who was standing near at the time, rushed to his assistance and cut the line with his knife."

"The Bradford Transportation Company's steamer Houma, which has been over at Madisonville, on the Tchefuncta River, for several weeks' undergoing an extensive overhauling and repairing, returned yesterday morning in splendid condition for the season's business and looking like a brand-new boat.

"The steamer Terrebonne, the other boat of the Bradford Trasportation Company, which has been running in place of the Houma, will hereafter give all of her attention to the business of the Bayou Lafourche trade, extending her semi-weekly runs up the bayou as high as J. B. Blanchard's store.
