Habitual Costiveness
causes derangement of the entire system, and begets diseases that are hazardous to life. Persons of restive habit are subject to Headache, Defective Memory, Gloomy Forebodings, Nervousness, Fevers, Drowsiness, Irritable Temper and other symptoms, which unfit the sufferer for business or agreeable associations. Regular habit of body alone can correct these evils, and nothing succeeds so well in achieving this condition as Tutt's Pills. By their use not only is the system renovated, but in consequence of the harmonious changes thus created, there pervades a feeling of satisfaction; the mental faculties perform their functions with vivacity, and there is an exhilaration of mind and body, and perfect heart's ease that bespeaks the full enjoyment of health.

Consumption.
Mr. JOHN JOHNSON, 521 N. James st., Richmond, Va., writes:
Less bill I was attacked with hemorrhage from the lungs, soon followed by a hacking cough, chills, night sweats, great emaciation of appetite, and profuse night sweats. I grew worse rapidly under medical treatment, and my case seemed hopeless. I was persuaded to try A. B. C. Compound, and did so in despair. The A. B. C. Tonic cured my cough, night sweats left me, and I commenced the use of the Expectorant, and am fully convinced and satisfied that I owe my recovery entirely to my remedy. I recommend now my remedy entirely.

Clarksville, Tenn.

CLARKSVILLE, TENN., Mar. 19.—We have been having more favorable weather, and the condition of the country roads is steadily improving, so we expect full receipts of the new crop from this time forward. Sales for the week ending to-day foot up 400 hogsheads. Our market is very strong with an advancing tendency. The pressure of local and country speculators, seems to constitute the principal strength of the market. The late cold, freezing weather has done a great deal of damage to the plant beds, by spewing up the young plants, leaving them to dry up and die on the surface of the ground. Most plant-beds have had to be re-sown, and under the stimulus of advanced and advancing prices, farmers are making preparations to burn and sow additional plant beds.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

New York Stock Market.

Reported by C. W. Branch & Co., bankers and brokers, No. 1111 Main street.

NEW YORK, March 21.—Another day of intense and almost unrelieved dullness, the market being strong the first hour, dull and lower until 1 o'clock. The sugar people fixed things so that the regular 2½ dividend will be paid April 5th, and the stock went up a point to lose half. Chicago Gas Was weak and lower on efforts to enjoin the dividend, and the refusal of the Illinois supreme Court to rehear the trust case. Outside of these specialties there was nothing to encourage trading on either side. All the bulls expect ammunition in their favor from the Western railroad meetings, to be held next week, and to-morrow's bank statement ought to be good. We can see no reason to change our opinion that small profits on either side of the market will be the rule until after the first week in April.

Chicago Market.

Messrs. Baldwin & Farnum telegraph Thomas Branch & Co., as follows:

CHICAGO, Mar. 22.—Wheat has been active all day. There was nothing in outside news to advance prices except the advice early from New York that there would be 216,000 clearances from there to-day. They have been clearing this lot for the last two weeks and it has not gone yet, and when it does go, it will probably be used as a bull argument. The largest line of short wheat in this market was covered to-day around 81, and the general impression was that after that was covered we would get a break, but it proved to be only a small one. While the market gained half cent to-day the feeling at the close is an unsettled one. Corn has been a little firmer to-day. Oats dull, but don't believe they will go much higher. Provisions have been weak and dull all day. We see nothing to change our position and believe them a sale on all strong places, 15,000 hogs.

New York Cotton Market.
[By Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Co. say: "Foreign advices were fully equal to the expectations of the trade this morning, and prices quickly advanced 8 to 10 points. In fact, every item of interest to operators in cotton came favorable to a further advance in prices, but the extreme prices were not maintained at the close of the market, despite the light plantation movement, the light receipts at the ports and a better closing tone to the Liverpool market. A reason for this failure to close at the best prices can be found in the free supply of cotton offered by the bulls, who purchased freely upon the last decline, and the absence of buying orders. Everything favors a further advance in prices, the settlement of the coal strike in England, undoubtedly exercising great influence upon the Liverpool market, but the better conservative operators are disposed to regard present prices as offsetting the many favorable features, and are not disposed to follow a further advance, although they admit fully the strength of the situation in cotton. Under these conditions the market remains narrow, and the further course of prices will be determined by the spinners, unless speculation revives. Holders of spot cotton do not consider the advance in quotations to-day justified, as they were willing to sell at 1-16 lower."

Receipts at ports to-day estimated at 7,000 bales. Spot market steady at 1-16 advance; middling uplands, 11¼; sales, 256 bales. Transactions in futures, 76,000 bales. Futures closed steady as follows: March, 11.35@11.36; April, 11.38@11.39; May, 11.42@11.43; June, 11.45@11.49; July, 11.53@11.54; August, 11.52@11.53; September, 10.82@10.83; October, 10.51@10.52; November, 10.31@10.35; December, 10.32@10.34.

In Liverpool spot cotton was steady; middling uplands, 6 1-16d. Sales, 8,000 bales.

New York Financial Market.
[By Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Money closed at 3½ per cent. Exchange closed steady; posted rates, 485@486; actual rates, 484½@485½ for sixty days, and 485½@485¾ for demand. Governments closed steady; currency 6's, 116 bid; 4's, coupons, 122¾ bid; 4½'s do., 103½ bid.

The stock market was extremely dull this morning, with very slight fluctuations in most of the list. Tennessee coal advanced 1¼, Louisville and Nashville 1¼ and sugar trusts 1. The majority of the rest of the list showed slight fractional advances by noon. The advance in sugar trusts was wholly due to a legal decision, allowing the trusts to pay a quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent. on its certificates. In the afternoon there was a little more activity, specially in Lackawanna. The grangers were also strong. The closing prices were generally ¼ to 1½ per cent. higher. The sales were 147,657 shares.

FACTS ABOUT PRECIOUS METALS.

All gold contains a trace of silver.

Mexico's production was $65,000,000 last year.

Australia has produced $1,600,000,000 in gold.

A full mining claim is 600 by 1,500 feet, and contains twenty acres.

Up to 1888 the output of the Comstock lode, Montana, was $224,000,000.

For every ounce of silver taken out of the Comstock mines a foot of lumber has gone out.

The total production of gold and silver in the United States from 1792 to 1889 was $3,000,000,000.

Montana has thousands of acres of rich placer ground that cannot be worked because of lack of water.

The two great mines in Montana are the most appropriately named, the Anaconda and Granite Mountain.

A Mexican miner is the best judge and sorter of ore, but an American is the most intelligent of all miners.

The Granite Mountain mine, Montana, produces 80,000 ounces of silver a week, and is the richest mine in the world.

The big fortunes of Mackay, Fair, Sharon, Flood and O'Brien do not represent dividends but come from the manipulation of the San Francisco stock market.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, is the father of the United States mining laws. He compiled them from old Spanish and Mexican authorities, and congress adopted them.—Detroit News.

ROYAL FLUSHES.

King Humbert of Italy has been obliged to have all his teeth pulled. This misfortune is the outcome of chronic dyspepsia.

Prince T. Key Kuliah Mirza, who is a first cousin of the shah of Persia, has been sent to Siberia by the Russian government for distributing base money.

Empress Augusta left 7,000,000 marks. Her jewels and ornaments are bequeathed to personal friends as keepsakes. One valuable jewel is left to the Empress Victoria.

The young king of Spain, who has been pronounced out of danger, is not a pretty child. He is totally bald and has no eyebrows nor eyelashes. He is nervous and irritable and inherits an epileptic temperament.

The shah of Persia is doing a great deal for the improvement of the sanitary and moral condition of Teheran. He is introducing sewerage into the city, and has broken up what are known in this part of the world as "dives."

The prince of Naples, the future king of Italy, if that country is destined to have another king, is described as a silent, cold and stoical young man, overburdened by a scientific and philosophical education. He is, moreover, a hard working soldier. He never smiles and salutes rarely.

BEWARE OF AND AVOID.

The person who has a sorrow that he is determined to share with you.

The person who insists upon knowing what makes you look so troubled.

The man who talks as if he held all women except yourself in contempt.

The person who always tells you what somebody else has been saying about you.

The person who has conquered his vices, but whose virtues have conquered him.

The person who continually reminds you of things that it "delights you to have forgotten."

The person who gives you what you know to be good advice, but which you are not able to follow.

The person who insists upon your expressing yourself upon religion, woman suffrage, or "Is marriage a failure?"—New York Sun.

Miss Hunt, daughter of ex-Minister Hunt and Mrs. Morton's private secretary, attends to all that lady's correspondence, much of it being from abroad and in French or Spanish, with both of which languages the vice president's wife is familiar. Miss Hunt receives callers where her mistress desires to be excused, and also acts as her almoner.

Mrs. Stanley Brown, daughter of Mrs. James G. Garfield, sighs for letter Mary Garfield Stanley Brown. She is a model housewife, keeps a set of books and gets off a trial balance every three weeks. With her wedding checks and subsequent savings she has bought and paid for the home she occupies in Washington. Neither she nor her husband care for society.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

President Harrison often plays billiards.

The late Count Aloys Karolyi, of Hungary, left a fortune of $2,500,000.

George W. Childs recently bought 320 clocks. He paid $1,100 for one.

Tamagno, the opera singer, receives $2,000 a night, and tips hotel waiters with one cent pieces.

Senator Stanford is one of the many public men who subscribe to newspaper clippings agencies.

The late John H. Applegate, of Asbury Park, invented a machine for lasting shoes that brought him $40,000.

It is related that when Calvin S. Price went to college he often found it hard work to pay his necessary expenses.

Secretary Proctor has a fortune of nearly $300,000 and some valuable marble contracts that bring him in $10,000 a year besides his official salary.

The late Capt. Alexander Cuthbert, of Ontario, Canada, built the yachts Countess of Dufferin and Atalanta, which sailed for the America cup respectively in 1876 and 1881.

The late Henry W. Grady, of Atlanta, Ga., left a comfortably large estate. A partner values his newspaper interest at $100,000 and his home property at $20,000. He had $16,000 or $17,000 life insurance.

The late Judge Kelley told a friend of his some time ago that the trouble with his jaw grew out of a habit he had of going to bed with a quid of tobacco in his cheek—a practice which he had kept up from his boyhood.

Dr. Frederick Bramann, who performed tracheotomy on Emperor Frederick in 1888, recently became extraordinary professor of surgery in the University of Berlin. He was graduated in medicine and surgery barely ten years ago.

The Vanderbilt family, who are members of St. Bartholomew's parish, New York, gave their rector, the Rev. Dr. Greer, a satisfactory sort of Christmas present in the shape of a paid up life insurance policy on the endowment plan for $50,000.

The late Dr. Reichenbach, keeper of the botanical gardens at Hamburg, left his library and collections of plants to the Vienna Court museum. The library contains about 10,000 works in 15,000 volumes, and the herbarium about 300,000 sheets.

Junius S. Morgan, the London banker, has made a gift to the library of Yale university and to the Connecticut Historical society each of a copy of the work of the facsimiles of manuscripts relative to America, from 1761 to 1783, in the archives of England, France, Holland and Spain.

Chauncey M. Depew says he made the great mistake of his life when he delivered his first humorous speech. He didn't see it then, but now he realizes it keenly. Instead of being regarded as a convincing logician, or a good lawyer, or even as a serious thinker, he is always taken for a funny man.

Maj. Serpa Pinto, whose name is so prominent in connection with African affairs, was born in the province of Douro, Portugal, in April, 1846, and was educated at the Military college, Lisbon. He joined the Portuguese army in 1863, rose pretty rapidly, and became an aide-de-camp to the king in 1880. He was in the Zambesi war in 1869, and commanded the African native troop.

Christian, the late veteran comedian of the Paris Varieties, was the most prolific and inveterate punster on the French stage. His "gags" were so successful that they were nearly always adopted by the playwrights in the printed editions of their works. His dramatic career, though obscure in its beginning, eventually brought him to the front rank. His greatest creation was probably the role of Jupiter, in Offenbach's "Orphee aux Enfers."
