...de-
...ademy, de-
...ght at Trevilian's
...ent of C. Company, First
...egiment. Quite a large and
...able audience greeted him, and he was introduced in an appropriate and happy manner by Governor McKinney.

The stage was set in a pretty woodland scene, with three canvas tents in the rear. Stacked in front of these were muskets, and the colors of Virginia and the United States hung from them.

On the stage were a number of veterans from the Soldier's Home and General D. H. Maury, General Charles J. Anderson, Colonel Archer Anderson, Colonel A. S. Buford, Colonel Miles Cary, Colonel H. C. Jones, Dr. Moses D. Hoge and Dr. J. L. M. Curry.

General Hampton gave many interesting facts in regard to the fight at Trevilian's and Sapony Church.

The left-hand proscenium box was occupied by Dr. Hunter McGuire's party, and the right contained the friends of Governor McKinney.

THEY WILL PLAY BALL.

Richmonds Will Make a Great Effort to Defeat Kensingtons.

The Richmonds will play their first game of ball with the Kensingtons, of Philadelphia, this afternoon. This is said to be a strong team, but the Richmonds have also been strengthened since Tuesday. Harris, their new second baseman, is already here, and will play this afternoon, and Brooks, catcher, and Duff, pitcher, are expected here some time to-day. These players will help the home team in its weakest places, and the management will yet give good ball playing. The battery this evening will be Kelly and McCaffrey.

Yesterday Messrs. V. Donati and Paul Latouche, representing the Richmond Athletic Association, had a conference with Mayor Ellyson in regard to ball playing on Sunday. The matter was thoroughly discussed, and the representatives assured the Mayor that the game had been canceled. They had done this, they said, in deference to the general sentiment of disapproval about the Sunday games.

If the Wilmingtons or Worcesters drop out of the Atlantic Association before the season is over, the Richmond club will then stand a very good chance of getting in. In either event the Richmonds will play ball, and even if they do not get in this season, they will establish a very good foundation for admission next year. As soon as Richmond sees that good ball playing is being done she will patronize the home team, and there are plenty lovers of the National game in the city to support a first class club.

MANCHESTER MATTERS.

Little Items of Interest Picked Up on the Other Side of the River.

A regular meeting of the City Council will be held to-night. Among the matters that will be considered will be a proposition from the Johnson Axle Company, relative to a site for their foundry on the property belonging to the city, and located on the line of the Richmond and Petersburg road, below Manchester. The company has made a proposition to the Council, and that proposition will be laid before the body to-night. It is understood that Mr. Johnson desires to pay a nominal sum for nine acres, the land to revert to the city whenever the works cease to operate. The sentiment of the members of the Council seems to be in favor of giving the nine acres, if the company will require that much ground in the enlargement of their works. Another matter that will come up will be an ordinance relative to numbering the houses in the city. An ordinance similar to the one in force in Richmond will be presented.

The Excise Board for Manchester, recently appointed by the State Excise Board, organized yesterday. The members of the board are Dr. L. B. Spencer, S. M. Perdue, and B. M. Robertson. They met in the office of the clerk of the Hustings Court about noon, and elected Dr. Spencer chairman, and Mr. Robertson as treasurer. Applications for liquor license will in future have to pass the board before being considered by the judge of the Hustings Court.

On Tuesday the large brick building on the Petersburg turnpike, known as "Bolling Hall," was destroyed by fire. The building some years ago was purchased by Mr. Bonney, who left it to his widow at his death. Mrs. Bonney was occupying the house at the time.

The street car company have altered their schedule in regard to late cars on their line at night. By the new arrangement the late regular car will leave Manchester at 9:30 P. M. and the last car at 10:40 P. M. Returning, they will leave Richmond at 10:10 and 11:15 P. M., respectively.

Rev. E. M. Peterson will deliver a lecture at the West-End Methodist Church next Thursday night on "The Importance of Little Things."

The condition of Mr. John Craig, formerly of Manchester, who was injured by the cars at Lynchburg, is not as serious as was first reported. Instead of having both feet cut off, Mr. Craig only lost his toes—all on each foot.

Rev. John J. Clopton, rector of the Meade-Memorial Church, returned Wednesday afternoon from the South, much improved in health. To-day (Good Friday) at 11 A. M. and on Saturday afternoon at 5 P. M. he will conduct services.

The civil case against the members of the Manchester Musical and Dramatic Association, to which reference was made in THE TIMES yesterday, will be heard by Justice Perdue to-day week.

The roof of the Central Methodist Church is being painted.

Wednesday night a party of mischevous boys removed the sign of Quan Hing, the celestial who keeps a laundry on Hull street, between Eighth and Ninth. Quan did not appreciate the move as a joke, and yesterday found his sign and swore out warrants against his persecutors. The case will come before the Mayor to-day.

Wednesday night thieves entered the old Gary warehouse, on Sixth street. Two large hogshead screws, weighing two hundred and fifty pounds each, were pulled from their position, but the thieves concluded that this property was hardly portable, and gave the job up as a bad one. A large quantity of brass was stolen from this place a short time ago.

PERSONAL MENTION.

People Going Away and Returning—Doing This and That.

Mayor Ellyson said yesterday that he had received no official information as to the date of the proposed visit of the Pan-American delegates to Richmond. These delegates, as is well known, are from all of the South and Central American States. They have been in the United States nearly twelve months. They are studying up our institutions and seeing how matters are conducted "in the best government in the world." They have visited all of the principal Northern, Eastern and Western cities, and are about to visit those of the Southern States, but the time of their coming is not yet known.

Mrs. Sallie P. Gregory has extended invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Janie, to William D. Cardwell, a member of the Richmond and Hanover bars, and a son of Speaker R. H. Cardwell. The marriage will take place on Thursday evening, April 10th, at 8 o'clock, at the country seat of the bride's mother, "Bienheim," in Hanover county.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo R. Lawrence have returned from a bridal trip to Philadelphia. Mrs. Lawrence is better known as Miss Julia M. Kelley, one of the sweet singers of the First Presbyterian church choir.

Mrs. M. D. Pumphrey, of West Main street, is visiting friends in Baltimore.

Mr. W. D. Marrow is just convalescing after an illness of two months.

NOTES ABOUT TOWN.

Local Happenings That Require Little Space to Relate.

All of the grand jurors, and nearly all of the petit jurors, of the Hustings Court have been summoned for attendance at the April term of this court, which commences next Monday.

There were entered at the custom-house yesterday three cases of clothing, neckwear and umbrellas imported direct from London by a Richmond house. The goods came by steamer to New York, thence by the Pennsylvania Railroad to Richmond. The duties on these goods amounted to $413.82.

Governor McKinney yesterday issued a rendition warrant on a requisition from North Carolina for Jasper Gilliam, charged, in Caswell county, N. C., with stealing a watch, coat, trousers, &c. Gilliam is in jail in Danville.

The ambulance was called out to the Richmond Locomotive and Machine Works yesterday to see a man whose finger was mashed. The wound was dressed and the man left at the works.

A large congregation attended the Holy Thursday Communion service at St. Paul's Episcopal Church last evening. Rev. Mr. Carmichael and his assistant, Mr. Trotman, officiated.

A large congregation was present last night at the Tenebrae service at the Cathedral, Father Bradey, of Portsmouth, preached. Bishop Van de Vyver was present.

The benefit to be given by the All Star Specialty Company for the benefit of George E. Pickett Camp to-night will take place at Gibb's Opera House, Manchester.

Mr. Henry Lee Valentine, who was very badly hurt by accident at his factory last Tuesday, was getting on better yesterday.

The old Pulliam mansion at Monroe and Clay streets has been demolished and a new building is to be erected.

The work of tearing down the building on the Levy site on the south side of Broad street near Foushee has begun.

Mr. L. C. Journey has been appointed a policeman at Hollywood cemetery.

The Police Commissioners will meet this afternoon.

PICKETT CAMP MEETING.

The Manchester Entertainment—Colonel Mayo's Lecture.

At a regular meeting of George E. Pickett Camp, Confederate Veterans, held last night $25 was appropriated to the Ladies' Hollywood Memorial Association, to assist them in caring for the graves of the Confederate dead.

It was resolved to attend the entertainment in Manchester to-night in a body. This entertainment will be given at the Manchester Opera House by the All Star Specialty Company, and is for the benefit of Pickett Camp.

It was also resolved to attend the lecture of Col. Joseph Mayo on the "Battle of Five Forks." This will be delivered in Manchester on the 10th of this month, and in Richmond on the 17th. The proceeds of both of these entertainments will be used for the buying of uniforms for the Camp.

The committee to entertain the visiting Veterans on May 29th were appointed. They are Messrs. Lehr, McCurdy, Northern, Burford, and Wallace.

The Jewish Passover.

This evening ushers in the Jewish feast of the Passover. It lasts seven days, and during that time observers of the Mosaic law eat nothing whatever made from fermented grain or flour. It commemorates Israel's delivery from Egyptian bondage. In the words of Scripture, Ex. xii. 42: "A night to be observed was this unto the Lord to bring them out from the land of Egypt: this is that night holy to the Lord, to be observed by all the children of Israel in their generations." The form of service for this night is called the Hagadah, consisting of a historical narrative of the events connected with the Passover, an explanation of the significance of the different articles used in the service, and concluding with songs of praise.

Dental Board of Examiners.

The State Board of Dental Examiners met in the clerk's office of the House of Delegates yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, pursuant to adjournment. There were only two candidates for examination present, and these seated themselves around the long table used by the committee clerks during the session of the Legislature, and commenced the tedious task of answering in writing the list of questions written on the blackboard by the examiners. These questions are very deep, and some of them will require both labor and an intelligent knowledge of dentistry in order to answer them properly. The day was consumed in this labor. The board will finish its labors this morning if possible.

...NOMINEES.

...SULT OF THE DEMOCRATIC CONTEST IN THE CITY.

Selection of the Men who Will Represent the Party in the Election in May—Notes and Incidents of an Exciting Day.

With the uprising of yesterday's beautiful April sun came Democratic Primary election day.

With the day came the voters. They were astir early, and continued to march to the places where, with printed slips of paper, a friendly battle of ballots, was being fought, in order to decide who were to constitute a majority of the general officers of the city, and who would be selected to sit in the legislative halls of the city government for the next two years.

Friends of the various aspirants were out with the earliest voter—acting on the principle that "the early bird catches the ballot." The ticket holder was there. The work of electioneering went ahead very quietly.

There was some, but very little dragooning. The people seemed to have been well-decided as to their choice. They marked out those they did not want, quietly deposited their ballots and went away. One candidate, a bold, manly gentleman, denounced a man roundly in front of one of the precincts in Monroe ward for receiving money to work for him and then working for his opponent. The gentleman made his announcement to the crowd present, and they endorsed his action. As soon as it became known it made votes for him.

"CORNER" IN PENCILS.

Pencils were in demand. One quiet old man borrowed one, and the lender stood by to see how the borrower voted. The latter politely asked to be allowed to vote privately to suit himself. There were a few—a very few—men who refused to vote at the primary, because it would pledge them to support the nominees.

At 8 o'clock the polls closed. All sorts of rumors had been set afloat as to who the fortunate ones were, and the excitement over the probable result was more intense from the time the polls closed until midnight than it had been at any time before.

The vanquished lost in a good cause, and there is a beyond, that is one consolation. The victors have important work before them, especially the Councilmen. The members of that body will have no bed of roses for the next two years. This is just as certain as that there will be no pay, and but little praise, for the tough work they will have to do.

COUNTING THE VOTE.

The registrars and judges of election began their real work of the day after the polls closed at 8 o'clock. To count the vote is an arduous task, especially when several men are watching to protest against the slightest and probably seeming mistake.

After the count the returns were taken to the Powhatan Club house, where the City Committee was in session to receive them. Major Charles P. Bigger was acting chairman, and around the long table in the clubroom sat other members of the committee, successful and defeated candidates, reporters, &c. As the hours went by the number lessened and lessened, and very few were present to hear the early morning returns read. The committee remained in session all night.

In the front rooms of the club-house and around the doors were crowds of men, eager to know "who is nominated."

EXCITING CONTEST THEN.

In 1888 there was an exciting contest for the positions of Mayor, City Collector, and High Constable. This year the incumbents have no opposition. There was also a tug over the positions of Chancery Clerk and City Treasurer. This year these officers do not have to be elected. City Auditor Miles Turpin is the only man who had a walk-over both in 1888 and 1890. This year the City Collector, Captain Frank W. Cunningham, and also the High Constable, Mr. E. C. Garrison, have no opponents. For Commonwealth's Attorney, Sheriff and City Sergeant, however, there were several aspirants. For the Commissionership of the Revenue, the contest was between the incumbent, Mr. R. B. Munford and Mr. William H. Cullingworth, the ex-postmaster.

At the hour of going to press returns had been received as follows.

RESULT UNCERTAIN.

By the above table to tell definitely who has been nominated for the offices of sheriff, Commonwealths Attorney, Commissioner of the Revenue, and City Sergeant. The indications are, however, that the choice has fallen on Messrs. D. S. Cates, H. M. Smith, Jr., R. B. Munford (incumbent) and Chariss H. Epps, respectively.

A reporter visited the Clay ward precincts this morning between 4 and 5 o'clock. At the First Clay precinct the judges and registrars were still at work counting the vote, and with two or three hours labor before them. Seven hundred and forty-seven votes had been polled and Candidates Cates, Munford, Epps and Smith were in the ascendency at the time. At the Second precinct the vote was still entirely uncounted, but the judges said would probably be by 6 o'clock. The Third precinct was deserted.

Second Edition.

In order to give our readers as full returns of the election as possible, a second edition, which, is believed will contain the full vote, will be issued about 8 or 9 o'clock.

PRISON REFORMERS.

The Noble Work Mapped Out by the Pioneers in this City.

The office of "The Prison Association of Virginia," is for the present at No. 1111 east Main street. The members who have not yet handed in their annual dues of three dollars each, will please leave them with the secretary. It is the great desire of the society to increase their membership to several thousand, and, for so great and good an object, there ought to be no difficulty. Let all who desire its success call and enroll their names.

Work will be begun at once in the way of rescuing young offenders from the vicious influence of criminal associations, seeking to restore discharged convicts to self respect and by providing them with a temporary home and employment, with kind treatment, encourage them to lead a virtuous life.

It is also intended to establish a workhouse where prisoners who are sentenced to short terms in jail may be usefully employed instead of spending their time in becoming greater adepts in villainy. Another plan is to establish a farm to which youthful offenders may be sent to be kept within certain bounds, where they may learn to make their own living, and at the same time receive a fair education and religious training. Besides these and many other plans for reducing crime and restoring criminals, a special committee will devote their energies to enlightening the public on the subject of a more general and comprehensive system of Prison Reform such as is now in successful operation in New York and other States, with a view to its ultimate adoption here.

But it requires means to carry out these great and most important objects. The high character and standing of the gentlemen composing the membership of this society afford ample guarantee for the faithful disposition of all funds placed in their hands.

LAND IMPROVEMENTS.

Big Bridge Project on the North Side of Richmond.

The North-Side Land and Improvement Company has a project on foot to build a handsome iron bridge from the northern terminus of Fifth street to the Meadow Bridge road. It is estimated that this bridge will cost about $60,000. It will be highly ornamental and wide enough for street-car tracks, carriage drives and footways, and will be lighted by electricity. This is a big scheme, and if the Board of Supervisors of Henrico county and property owners in that section will assist in the enterprise it will be pushed to completion.

An officer of the North-Side Land and Improvement Company said yesterday that his company will subscribe $20,000 to the bridge fund. Real estate men say that if this improvement is made, lots that are now selling for eight and ten dollars per foot will easily bring thirty-five and forty dollars per foot. Street railway men, when spoken to in regard to the proposed bridge, said that if such a bridge is built, very soon thereafter a street car belt-line would be constructed from Fifth street north as far as Westbrook (Mr. Ginter's place) following the boulevard to the new reservoir.

APPEAL FOR AID

The Lee Monument Committee Want About $25,000.

The time is rapidly approaching when the monument to General Robert E. Lee, the Commander in Chief of the Confederate Armies, will be unveiled. The expectation of the committee, charged with the duties attendant upon these ceremonies is, that there will be the largest gathering of old veterans, volunteer soldiers, and visitors ever seen in Richmond. To care for them and do full credit to themselves, and the city, the committee need money—at least $25,000, it is estimated. The council has appropriated only $7,500, and Lee Camp expects to raise about $5,000 more. To make up the deficiency the committee having the arrangements in charge, composed of General John R. Cooke, Colonel J. V. Bidgood, and Mr. Alex. W. Archer, have sent a circular letter to the citizens generally asking for contributions. It is hoped their appeal will not be without fruit. Amounts may be sent to Mr. John S. Ellett, president of the State Bank of Virginia and treasurer of the Executive Committee.

Good Friday Observance.

To-day is Good Friday, the day observed by the churches and in commemoration of the crucifixion of Christ on Mount Calvary. It is a very solemn day in the Church calendar, and services at the churches should all have that gloom over them that settled upon the earth on the crucifixion day, and it is made more solemn by its comparison with the joyous Eastertide. Services will be held at the Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal churches to-day.

He Was Identified.

The man who was picked out of the dock Wednesday afternoon, particulars of which were published, was identified yesterday by his acquaintances. His name is James C. Palm, and came from Maryland, and had been working for some time in Talbott's foundry as a machinist. He was last seen on the 25th of March, and was intoxicated at the time, so the natural conclusion to draw is that when drunk he accidentally stumbled in the dock. He will be buried by the city to-day.

OCCUPATIONS OF INDIAN WOMEN.

There are 121,409 mercantile women in India.

The section devoted to lawyers includes ten women only.

Women as "officers of the national government" number 6,352.

No fewer than 17,764 women figure as "officers of municipal local and village government."

Eight hundred and sixty-five women are officers of independent states and governments.

Three thousand four hundred and sixty-four women appear as authors and literary persons.

The respectable total of 94,251 women appear as clergy, ministers, priests, church and temple officers.

Twenty-seven thousand seven hundred and forty-one women are employed in the construction of houses and other buildings.

As physicians, surgeons and druggists, without any possibility of a qualification of a menial kind, there are 75,239 women set down.

There are 558 employed in the building of ships, 13,799 workers in precious metals and stones, 354,721 in stone and clay and 5,244,306 simply classed as "laborers."

Five hundred and eighty-four are tabulated as artists, 19,631 as musicians, 4,545 as teachers, 127 as scientific "persons" and, strangest of all to the uninitiated, 40,381 as actresses.

The wives of specified occupation number 471,774 (exclusive of 18,893,720 agriculturists), and "other wives" number only 3,321,306. Where the balance of 39,000,000 or 40,000,000 appear is not so far discoverable.

Altogether about 50,000,000 women appear as engaged in some description of classified work—roughly, a little less than one-third of the entire female population, which includes, of course, an enormous proportion of infants and young girls.—St. James Gazette.

POINTS ON SHAVING.

Never use warm water, which makes the face (of shavers) tender.

The moment you leave your bed or bath is the best time to shave.

A piece of soft plate leather should always be kept with razors to wipe them with.

In cold weather place your razor (closed, of course) in your pocket or under your arm to warm it.

Always wipe your razor clean and strop it before putting it away, and always put your shaving brush away with the lather on it.

Never fail to wash your head with soap and cold water and to rub it dry immediately before you apply the lather, of which the more you use and the thicker it is the easier you will shave.

If you only once put away your razor without stropping it, or otherwise perfectly cleaning the edge, you must no longer expect to shave well and easy, the soap and damp so soon rust the fine teeth and edge.

The razor, being only a fine saw, should be moved in a sloping or sawing direction, and held nearly flat to your face, care being taken to draw the skin as tight as possible with the left hand, so as to present an even surface and draw out the beard.

The practice of pressing on the edge of the razor in stropping soon rounds it; the pressure should be directed to the back, which should never be raised from the strop. If you shave from heel to point of razor, strop it from point to heel; but if you begin with the point in shaving, then strop it from heel to point.—Medical Classics.

LONG DISTANCE SOUNDS.

The report of a cannon travels very far, because it communicates a vibration to the soil.

The noise produced by the great eruption of Cotopaxi, in 1744, was heard over 600 miles.

Franklin asserts that he heard the striking together of two stones in the water half a mile away.

In 1762 the report of the cannon fired in Mayence could be heard at Tinbeck, 146 miles away.

In the polar regions Sir John Franklin conversed with ease at a distance of more than a mile.

When in 1809 the cannon boomed in Heligoland, the sound was heard at Hanover, a distance of 157 miles.

The cannonading at Florence was heard at Leghorn, fifty-six miles away, and that at Genoa over one hundred miles.

The greatest distance at which artificial sounds are known to have been heard was on Dec. 4, 1832, when the cannon at Antwerp were heard in the Erzgebirge, 370 miles distant.

Colladon, by experiments made at Lake Geneva, estimated that a bell of common size, one that could be heard a distance of three to five miles on land, could, if submerged in the sea, be heard over sixty miles.—St. Louis Republic.

STRANGE TALES.

Chicago produces an average of about ten suicides per week, or 500, in round numbers, per year.

Three eggs of different sizes, one inside the other, were deposited by a hen in a Lehigh county (Pa.) barn.

A novel flower has been found at the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. This floral chameleon has a faculty of changing its colors during the day. In the morning it is white, when the sun is at its zenith it is red, and at night it is blue. The red, white and blue flower grows on a tree about the size of the guava tree, and only at noon does it give out any perfume.

A peculiar result of the drinking of ice cold water from a spring in Stonington, Conn., is reported. The water flows from a crack in a high rock, and the veins of a man who drinks from it begin to swell, and he looks and feels as though he were about to burst for the next ten minutes. The swelling gradually subsides, and no serious effect is felt, except a slight buzzing in the ears. It is the talk of the neighborhood, and everybody is eager to try the effect of the water.

Her Reason.

George—Kate, will you be a sister to me?
Kate—No, George.
"Why won't you?"
"George, I will be a wife to you, but I will never consent to be a sister to you."—Time.

Sad but True.

Alas! a lass is sometimes false,
For false a maid is made;
Her waist is but a barren waste—
Though stayed she is not staid.

A Wonderful Japanese Family.

"A thousand years in one household" (ikka sen-nen) is an old Japanese saying, employed with reference to an event which, in respect of extreme rarity, may be classed with the sight of a dead donkey or a tinker's funeral. The Hochi Shimbun says that an instance may at present be found in the household of a merchant called Mizuma Gensuke, who resides at Kanazawa, in the Saitama district of Sado. The family consists of the following members: Great-great-great-grandpapa Gengo, aged one hundred and thirty; Great-great-great-grandmama Tomi, aged one hundred and thirty-two; Great-great-grandpapa Gembei, aged one hundred and one; Great-great-grandmama Miyo, aged ninety-nine; Great-great-grand-aunt Yoshi, aged one hundred and five; Great-grandpapa Gensuke, aged eighty-one; Great-grandmamma Kimi, aged seventy-nine; Grandpapa Gempachi, aged sixty-one; Grandmamma Toyo, aged sixty; Papa Genkichi, aged forty; Mamma Tomo, aged thirty-eight; Uncle Genroku, aged thirty-five; Son Genshichi, aged fourteen; Daughter Toki, aged five. The united ages of the fourteen amounted, at the close of last year, to nine hundred and eighty, and consequently became nine hundred and ninety-four on the first day of this year, according to the Japanese method of calculation. Next New-Year's Day, supposing that death had not intervened meanwhile, the aggregate ages would be one thousand and eight, and as nine hundred and ninety-four is nearer one thousand than one thousand and eight, the family have resolved to celebrate their ikka sen-nen this spring by a visit to the shrine of Ise, and afterward to Kyoto, where the whole fourteen, from the little tot of five to the gray-head—if he still has any hair—of one hundred and thirty, will do their sightseeing in company.

At the Queen's Drawing Room.

Last week's drawing room was a very small one indeed, there being only 107 presentations, (250 according to several of the daily papers!) and the attendance of the general public was so small that the ball-room was not opened. The Queen had been informed that the function would be over in three-quarters of an hour, but the reception of the diplomatic corps took longer than was expected, and when half the ordinary presentations had been got through, and another ten minutes would have concluded the affair, her Majesty insisted upon departing, to the manifest discontent of the officials, and the Princess of Wales took her place. As some of the State apartments have been redecorated, they looked remarkably well, and the huge fires which were blazing in every room kept people comfortably warm. Another great comfort was that there was hardly any of the usual crowding and pushing and wrangling which usually take place at each barrier. The Queen stood some distance in front of the throne, the scarlet and gold of which piece of furniture are rather dingy, so that the people passed right across the room instead of describing a sort of semi-circle as formerly.

The Pneumatic Post System.

Paul Gifford, the original inventor of the Paris pneumatic post system, has made a pneumatic rifle which is said to be a wonder. It is described this way: The weapon is much lighter than any of the army rifles now in use. It resembles the magazine gun in that a steel cartridge about a span and a half long and as thick as man's thumb is attached to the barrel by means of a screw. This cartridge contains three hundred shots, which can be discharged as rapidly or as slowly as a man desires. At a recent trial the ball traveled with wonderful accuracy, and penetrated deep into the wall of the shooting-room. As soon as one cartridge is emptied of its three hundred shots another can be screwed on the gun in the twinkling of an eye. Mr. Gifford says that the three hundred shots in a cartridge can be produced at a cost of about three-pence. The gun itself can be manufactured for about $5.

The Pesth Ball.

At a ball at Pesth in aid of destitute children there were two bands engaged, a gypsy one and the band of an infantry regiment. The latter played without fee. The gypsies played national airs for a while, and when the soldiers struck up a waltz, their platform was surrounded by a lot of young men, who declared that they would have no Bohemian and German fiddlers playing while they could hear the real Hungarian airs. The excitement increased until finally some of the men climbed on to the platform and wrenched a violin from the hands of a soldier who insisted on playing. The military band thereupon left the hall, accompanied by the colonel of the regiment and all the officers present, and the affair has been reported to the Emperor.

Foreign Students.

The number of foreign students at German universities has been larger this winter than it has ever been before. Out of a total of 29,007 students, 1,959 are non-German, 1,384 being Europeans, and 546 having come to the seats of learning from other parts of the world. Of these latter 436 are from America, ninety from Asia (mostly Japanese), eleven from Africa, and nine from Australia. Of the European foreigners Russia sends 331, Austria-Hungary 286, Switzerland 255, Great Britain 117, Greece forty-nine, Turkey forty-four, the Netherlands forty-two, France thirty-seven, Luxemburg thirty-four, Roumania thirty-three, Bulgaria thirty-one, Scandinavia twenty-nine, Italy twenty-seven, Servia twenty-seven, Belgium twenty-six, Denmark five, Spain two, and Portugal and Lichtenstein each one.

Tariff in Canada.

Sir John Macdonald's new tariff bill is not being so kindly received by the Canadian press as its author hoped. The Canadians do not take to the increased duties and strong protests are coming from all quarters of the Dominion.

Five Dollars Given to the Public For

Anybody that wants the "World," can have it for a dollar. It is the handsomest Crush Hat manufactured, and is really worth $2. But the most surprising of all these bargains are the Dunlap-Shape Hats for $2.25, that exorbitant-price dealers are getting $5 for. Will you pay $15 for a suit of clothes when you can buy one at the S. O. P. C. Hall for $9.50? Will you pay outrageous prices for any article that is sold in first-class clothing stores, when the S. O. P. C., corner of Third and Broad, will sell it to you for thirty-five per cent. less? Consequently patronize the new, enterprising clothier and you won't regret it.

AS ANTICIPATED.

Yesterday and the day before could be seen throngs of people in our store. A continual and steady in and out; those who came in with the intention of buying realized the weight of our words; they saw that what we said was so, and those who came in as lookers on stoutly remarked that OURS was the finest stock ever exhibited upon the counters of Richmond, in style, quality and price.

JOYOUS MANIFESTATIONS OF EASTER

Can be seen in our store. How are you prepared to welcome Easter? Surely your first thought is: I need a new suit. Your second thought is: And THE AMERICAN CLOTHING COMPANY is the place where I shall go.

As remarked before, a glimpse at our beautiful and most superb stock in MENS', YOUTHS', BOYS', AND CHILDREN'S CLOTHING will convince you of our statement. We desire to speak to you, the public, of our MEN'S SUIT AND PANTALOON DEPARTMENT. Our goods are superior in make and finish, better in quality and fit and guaranteed at a less price than inferior goods can be bought elsewhere. You can save from three to five dollars on any suit you select from our beautiful and stylish stock.

OUR BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT.

In this Department can be seen every imaginable stripe and plaid, and a great line of solid shades. The boy's word to his mother is: Ma! I need a new suit of clothes for Easter. And most assuredly he gets one. They ask for something nobby; we can show it to you in two or three-piece suits. Try a vest on a boy, and he will not take it off. Our three-piece Knee Pants Suits are of various styles and prices. If you do not like the three-piece ones, our two-piece suits are put up equally as well in style, quality, and price. MOTHERS, GIVE US A CALL.

BOYS' CONFIRMATION SUITS.

Our Confirmation Suits are made of the very best material, and the workmanship is unequaled. A peep into this department will convince you.

OUR HAT DEPARTMENT.

A man is not completely dressed unless he has a nice hat. We can show you the latest English Derbys, in black, brown, or tan shades, ranging in prices from $1.50 to $3.50. Our $2.50 hat is equal to the hat that is generally sold at $4.00, and our $3.00 hat can not be duplicated. A large line of Soft Hats and Crushers at prices beyond competition.
