FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

QUOTATIONS OF THE NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

Situation of Tobacco at Richmond and Other Important Centres—Cotton and Farm Products—Peanut Quotations—Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The money market formed very close most of the day owing to the calling of a number of loans by the banks. The closing rate was the lowest of the day, but most of the business was at 6 to 8. Exchange closed steady; posted rates, 480½@487; actual rates, 437½@437¾ for forty days, and for demand. Governments closed steady; currency 6's, 113 bid; 4's, coupons, 120 bid; 4½'s do., 104 bid.

The rumor mill was busy on Wall street this morning, and long before the opening of the Exchange all sorts of stories were current. Most of them were too absurd for credence, but, nevertheless, in the present nervous state of affairs, they had the effect of increasing existing apprehensions. From London there was little comfort to be got. In fact, the early advices from that financial centre, to say the least, were demoralizing. Cables from there reported that all securities had declined heavily; that the rumors in circulation yesterday of a large banking house being in difficulty, owing to its ability to rediscount maturing bills, were being circulated with even greater zeal than this morning; that the Bank of England was making loans at eight per cent., and that the Bank of England's Board of Directors would probably raise the rate of discount to eight per cent. to-morrow. Further cables stated that the decline in American securities on the London Stock Exchange extended to 4 per cent., and that Louisville and Nashville, St. Paul, Union Pacific, and Atchison showed the greatest declines. One of the rumors in circulation on Wall street was that some of the strongest houses in the street were about to fail. Another rumor was that a new trust company was in trouble. This was investigated and could not be traced to any very reliable source. These rumors probably arose from fears concerning the condition of an investment company outside of New York. The combined effect of street rumors and the unfavorable advices from abroad was to create a feeling of feverish anxiety as to the course the stock market would take. It was predicted last night at the hotels that a serious break might be looked for, and this was fulfilled. At the opening there was a rush to sell and great excitement prevailed during the first few minutes after opening, prices declining sharply on almost every transaction. The weakness was increased, and the alarm somewhat intensified by the selling of thirty-five thousand shares by the London firms in the first six minutes. After the selling had continued for about a half hour prices had fallen 1 to 4 points, Northern Pacific, Louisville, Missouri Pacific, Atchison, and the Vanderbilts leading the decline. As the morning wore on more reassuring news was received from abroad. It was stated that all the foreign discount houses were in good shape, and well secured, and that 1,000,000 pounds sterling had gone into the Bank of England on balance to-day. This, together with some covering by the bears and the placing of supporting orders by the larger houses, resulted in checking the selling, and values took an upward turn. By midday the early declines were recovered in most cases, and prices were at about where they closed last night. At a meeting of the Pacific Mail Board of Directors to-day the resignations of Colonel Magee, O. O. Payne, and Vice-President Lauterback were handed in and accepted, and Russell Sage and Jay Gould elected to the Board. George J. Gould was elected president, and J. B. Houston, the former president, was made vice-president. The reason for these changes are given out as follows: First, Mr. Gould has become the controlling factor in the trans-continental business of this country, and it was important that he should also control the Pacific Mail, which is an important link in the general chain, second, that Mr. Gould was desirous of vindicating himself by again gaining control; and third, that representative interests in the stock were anxious that harmonious relations should be established with the Goulds, and it was their suggestion that the changes be made in a quiet and peaceable way. At the clearing house the same silence that prevailed since Saturday was noticeable to-day. The Loan Committee still adhere to the concerted plan, and will not give out the names of the banks that have availed themselves of the use of the certificates. The report that $3,000,000 had been granted to the banks yesterday was said to be under the mark, and it was asserted that the certificates now out would aggregate over $4,000,000. The sales for the morning amounted to 146,000 shares. During the afternoon the market steadily advanced, and the depression of the morning gave place to a buoyant tone. There were two leading causes for the recovery of confidence and prices in the afternoon. The first was the action taken by the Bank of England in posting a notice officially denying that the bank will call in loans, and also advising the banks generally to continue their loans to brokers until the next fortnightly settlement. The result of this was that discounts were easier in the afternoon in London, and the stock market there closed firm at a large recovery, with a good buying by their capitalists for investments, and with the belief that the Bank of England's rate of discount would not be increased to-morrow, as was thought earlier in the day. Second, the revolution in the Pacific Mail directory was regarded as the index of a most important harmonization of interests on a larger scale in the whole Granger and trans-continental systems, but especially in the matter of the Union Pacific and Northwestern Alliance and the attitude of the other Granger roads towards it. It is now believed that Mr. Gould, in connection with Mr. Rockefeller and other large Union Pacific stockholders, and acting in accordance with Mr. Morgan as the representative of the Vanderbilt interests in the Northwestern and with reference to the Union Pacific, Northwestern Alliance, have, at least, settled the question that the Alliance shall not any longer be made an obstacle to the formation of a stronger association among all the roads west of Chicago. One great point in all of this harmonization will be the removal from the stock market of a most powerful bear factor. Prices advanced steadily to the close, and the final figures were generally ½ to 3¼ per cent. above those of yesterday. The sales for the day were 355,513 shares. The day closed without any failures.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—S. V. White & Co. telegraphs C. W. Branch & Co. as follows: Wheat closes up very strong with a full three cent recovery from its lowest figure early in the session. Rumors of trouble were again rife, but they seemed to have lost their force as the market showed a steady improvement from the opening. Think the general renewal of confidence will result in higher prices.

New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Cotton.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Co. say: "Early cables from London this morning reported extreme demoralization on the Stock Exchange there and the general expectation that the bank account would be suspended to-morrow. The effect of such suspension would be to enable the Bank of England to issue bank notes without regard to its specie reserve and would be practical through temporary inflation. Under the pressure of this situation the Liverpool market had declined before noon to-day some 6 points on the near positions, and 4 on the distant, and the New York opening was about 12 points under last night. Those prices proved to be the lowest touched, and the covering of shorts both here and in Liverpool combined with late advices from London rather more reassuring in character, resulted in a sharp delivery, while the net decline in Liverpool is four on the near, and three on the distant positions." Receipts at ports to-day estimated at 35,000 bales against 35,594 bales last week and 41,751 last year. The spot market is quiet at ¼ decline; middling uplands, 9½c. Sales, 217 bales. Transactions in futures 125,000 bales. Futures closed 5 to 10 points higher, as follows: November, 9.11@9.12; December, 9.18@9.19; January, 9.31@9.32; February, 9.41@9.42; March, 9.50@9.51; April, 9.59@9.60; May, 9.68@9.69; June, 9.77@9.78; July, 9.84@9.85; August, 9.89@9.90.

Produce—Flour closed weak; fine grades spring, $2.75@$3.25; do. winter, $2.90@$3.50; Southern flour closed weak; trade and family extras, $4@$5.10. Wheat closed unchanged; spot sales No. 2 red winter, 97@98c; No. 2 red winter, November, 98⅞c. Corn closed ⅜@⅝c. lower; spot sales No. 2 mixed, 56⅝@56¾c.; No. 2 mixed, November, 56⅝c. Oats closed dull and irregular; spot sales No. 1 white, 51c.; No. 2 mixed, November, 45¾c. Pork dull; mess, $11.00@$12.00. Lard closed fairly active and weak; December, $6.02@6.09. Sugar—Refined quiet; cut-loaf and crushed, 6¼c.; powdered, 6⅛c.; granulated, 6⅛c. Coffee closed steady; fair Rio cargoes, 20¼c.
