Games Scheduled for Monday.

Richmond at Roanoke.
Norfolk at Lynchburg.
Hampton at Portsmouth.

The game yesterday came near being a 16 to 1 affair. The Champions made it three straight from Norfolk, the latter team going all to pieces from the start.

Fine weather, with the prospects of a good game ahead of them, induced nearly five thousand cranks, many of them ladies, to meander out to West-End Park.

But oh, how disappointed they were! Mr. Leach wanted revenge for the larrupping he received at the hands of the locals on Thursday, and, very foolishly, went in the box yesterday to get it. And he got it—where the bottle got the cork. Leach needn't worry about it, though, for Rusie couldn't have held Richmond in yesterday, even with the work of his palmiest days.

NORFOLK'S HOME RUN.

The Champions were out for game and they succeeded in bagging it. Eight little goose eggs nestled around the Norfolk bench, and not until the ninth did the boys from the seaside get in a run. But that was a beauty. Wentz was the first man up, had a strike called on him, and popped the next one away over in center for a clean home run. He was liberally applauded by the ladies in the grand-stand.

The game yesterday was much cleaner than that of Friday, and was, therefore, the more enjoyable. Boland attempted that old trick of running down from third along the coaching line when a runner was on third—a trick that costs a man never less than $25 in the National League, because of the heavy fines imposed—and was promptly called down by Mr. Mace. This was the only attempt at unprofessional methods, and it wasf nipped in the bud before any harm was done.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

Richmond started in by making one run. Sholta reached first on error of Ramp, stole around to third, and scored on hit of Marr.

In the third Sholta again reached first on Ramp's error, stole around to third, and scored on Marr's hit. Marr, Viox, and Stocksdale each scored, making the total at this point five. In the fifth seven hits were made off Leach, three of them doubles, netting six runs for the inning, and in the sixth four more runs were brought in. Foster singled in the seventh, stole second, and came home on Marr's double. In the ninth Reddy walked to first, stole second, and scored on Pender's single.

The visitors were blanked up to the ninth when Wentz scored.

The stick work of the locals was simply immense, and their fielding was perfect.

That hits do not always count is shown by the fact that Norfolk made nine, one of them being a home run, and netted but one score, while on the other hand, Richmond made eighteen hits, and out of seventeen runs only seven of them were earned. Attendance, 5,000. Score in detail:

NOTES.

Foster was at bat twice in the fifth inning.

The Richmond Pennant Fund is growing. Previously acknowledged, $184; W. B. Bradley, $25; Richmond Railway and Electric Company, $25.

As a base-stealer, Marr takes the cake. He was left on third twice yesterday.

Berte hit for two bags twice, but scored on errors of Armstrong and Ramp.

One of Kain's runs was made on an error of Armstrong, the other on an error of Ramp.

Mace's work was not so rocky yesterday.

The crowd wanted Gilroy to go in the box when Leach was knocked out, but McFarlan couldn't see it that way.

The championship is all right. It will remain in Richmond another season.

Charley Boyer, the new manager for Hampton-Newport News, reported for work in Roanoke yesterday. He says he will make a few changes and have one of the best clubs in the league.

The late Petersburg team, according to Mr. Darling, one of the owners, will be known as the Hampton-Newport News Base-Ball Club.

Base-Ball Editor of The Times:

Sir,—If a team in the Virginia League should forfeit its franchise on account of failure to pay other teams their share of the gate receipts, would the National League grant the city that held the said franchise another one in the future?

BASE-BALL.

Petersburg, Va., Aug. 15, 1896.

If a vacancy occurs in the State League next season and Petersburg makes proper application for a franchise, there is no reason why that city should not again be represented in the Virginia League. It is understood that the State League will be held responsible for money due the National League.

Herman Long may figure in an exchange after all. Selee fancies one of the Louisville outfielders, though he doesn't say which one, and is willing to exchange Long for an outfielding Colonel.

Shindle and Griffin are perhaps the greatest friends on the diamond and are living exhibits of the good feeling which may arise from constant association. They played together in Utica, were side by side in Baltimore, and in fact wherever one went the other was sure to follow. They room together, eat, drink, walk and ride in one another's company and are inseparable. Recently Griffin clinched matters by moving Billy up next to him in the batting order, making another link in the friendship between the two. Yesterday when Griffin was hit by a pitched ball Shindle was the first to run to his aid and express sympathy for his friend's injury.

"Farmer" Vaughn was hissed at Chicago on Tuesday for what appeared to be a bit of "dirty" playing in the third inning. Ryan had bunted and was plainly safe. Dwyer made a wild throw, and Vaughn seemed to deliberately step in front of Ryan and throw him heavily. Ryan was partially stunned by the force of the collision, but scrambled to his feet and managed to get to second on the play.

"At one of Chris' morning lectures to his players last season he opened a couple of his favorite epigrams that came second hand from his old Secretary, Dave Reed, who has a mania for quoting pat sayings," says Tom Brown. "Chris began in a fatherly way to tell us that we should never gossip with the players of other teams and give away to them the inner workings of the club. 'As my old frient and secretary Dave Reed, would say it's a silent head that keeps your mouth shut,' said Chris. I suppose he meant that a silent tongue inhabited a wise head. Chris also advised us to save our money and to help one another, and said: 'Ond as Dafe Reed, my secredary, would say, a frient in need is a frient ven you're broke.' Tommy Dowd had a handkerchief stuffed in his mouth during Chris' little speech, and was fined $10 for giving the boss the laugh."

ROANOKE, 10; HAMPTON, 4.

With an Amateur Pitcher the Transfers Were Easy Meat for the Mountaineers.

ROANOKE, VA., August 15.—Special.—Roanoke had an easy victory over the Hampton team to-day.

Malone, a local amateur, pitched for the visitors, and he was very wild.

Williams was hit over the eye by a pitched ball, and so badly hurt that he retired from the game. Both sides played sluggish ball, and the contest was very uninteresting. The visitors did not score until the sixth, Coons kept the hits so well scattered, and an error allowed the one run then. In the seventh Leach put the ball out of the lot, and in the eighth, a hit, base on balls, wild hit, and second hit scored two more. The locals had a picnic with Malone after the third.

NORFOLK, VA., Aug. 15.—Special.—Lynchburg won from Portsmouth to-day by a score of 8 to 3. Four of the runs of the visitors were unearned, and Joe Burke was the cause of three of them, making a bad throw to first in the initial inning.

Little's one-hand stop of Katz's hit was a feature, otherwise the game was not unusual. Attendance about 300. The following is the score in detail:

NEW YORK AND WASHINGTON BROKE EVEN AT NEW YORK.

The Games Were Played Without a Regular Umpire and It Was a Wrangle From Start to Finish—Other Games.

NEW YORK, August 15.—The New Yorks and Washingtons broke even on two games to-day. No regular umpire appeared, and 8,000 persons were treated to some of the most disgraceful kicking and wrangling that has been seen here in many a year. The Washingtons won the first game by getting on to Sullivan in the seventh inning for four earned runs, and by two bad errors of Bill Clark in the eighth, which cost two more runs.

The second game was New York's, because McJames was hit almost at will. George W. Barnum, the actor, who was formerly an umpire, consented to assist Joe Hornung in this contest. One of his decisions almost caused a riot, and Joyce ordered him off the field. Attendance, 8,000.

Second game called on account of darkness.
