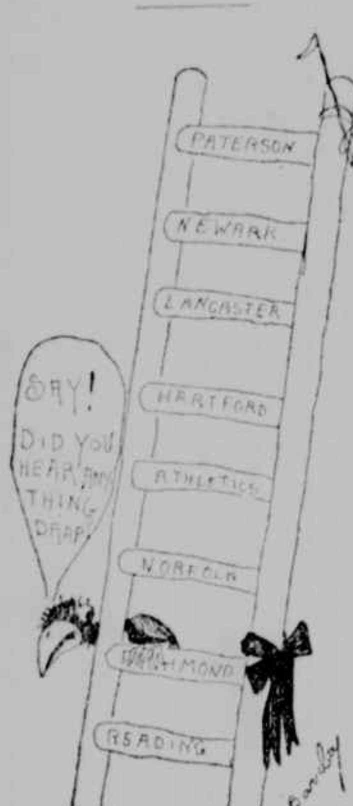
DOWN, DOWN, THEY GO.

ATHLETICS TAKE THE FIRST GAME FROM JAKE WELLS' CHERUBS.

Garvin Twirled and So Did Professor Sammy—The Locals Are Now in Seventh Place and Shake With Reading.



PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 27.—Special.—Virgil Garvin, Professor of Curvature of the Sharsig School, brought grief to the Cherubs from Richmond to-day. He had out his full assortment of hypnotic curves, and gave a great exhibition of the art. Only four times did the visitors get the ball outside the diamond, and nine different times did they punch holes in the air in trying to connect with the ball. Every member of Jake Wells' combination, except Stuart, McDonald and Kain fanned at least once, and Elsey was three times sent back to the bench in disgrace.

In only one inning, the third, did the Cherubs have a "look in." Outside of this inning, but two scratchy hits were made off Garvin, and a favorite cry of the bleachers was "Send up another baby for Virgil to knock down."

Leever was selected to go to the centre of the diamond for the visitors, and outside of the second and third innings, he kept up pretty well with Garvin's pair. He had plenty of speed, but in these two innings sent three men to base on balls, which proved costly, as the locals also did a little batting at that time.

THREE MISPLAYS.

The Richmond men were somewhat off in their fielding, especially in the eighth, when three misplays were bunched, which, luckily enough, cost but one run.

Leever's good pitching pulled them through without greater damage. Kain, in right field, tried to stop ground hits with his feet, and greatly aided the Athletics and the scoring of their runs in the second and third.

Stuart and Elberfeld put up a good fielding game. Their errors were made on hard chances, but after the hardest part had been completed, they made poor throws to first. The home team fielded finely. Schaub and Childs made some great stops. Carey was the only player on either side who secured more than one hit.

Leever retired the Athletics in one, two, three order in the first inning. Elsey dropped one in front of the plate, and was safe at first. Elberfeld sacrificed and Stuart flied out to McVey. Hargrove was passed to first and immediately stole second. The best McDonald could do was an easy grounder to Schaub, and the side was retired without scoring. Hargrove retired Harley and Battam in the second, but Schaub hit to right for two bases. Leever then developed an inability to locate the plate, and the next two men walked to first filling the bases. Garvin dropped one safe over second and Kain allowed the ball to get away from him, Schaub and Childs scoring, and Fox taking second while Garvin went down to third. Moran singled to left and Fox and Garvin came home. McVey forced Moran at third.

ONE, TWO, THREE.

The Cherubs went out in order in their half. Wells and Steelman striking out. Carey started the third with a single to right, which Kain again failed to stop, and the runner continued on to third. Harley struck out but Battam shot one through the infield and Carey scored. Schaub sent a long fly to right, which looked safe but Kain made a neat catch. Childs then waited for his second base on balls. Battam stole third and a moment later Childs went down to second. Battam tallied on a wild pitch and Childs advanced to third. Fox fanned. With two out Elberfeld stepped into one of Garvin's curves but was forced out at second by Stuart.

Leever made sort work of the Athletics in the fourth. For the visitors, Hargrove made three awful swipes and missed. McDonald drew four balls and Wells came to time with a single sending McDonald to third. Wells went down to second, and both scored on Kain's single. Steelman flied to McVey and Leever scratched a hit, but Elsey struck out. It was again one, two, three for the Athletics in the fifth.

"Brownie" Elberfeld has a neat way of getting hit and he worked it for the second time in the fifth, and worked his way around to the plate on Stuart's out, Schaub to Carey, a steal of third and Hargrove's slow hit to the pitcher. McDonald was third out on a grounder to Childs. Childs made a hit in the sixth, but did not get further than second. Wells, Kain and Steelman were the victims in Richmond's half. Steelman sent a very hot one to Schaub, of which the latter made a splendid stop.

INFIELD ERRORS.

With two out in the seventh, Carey and Harley singled but Battam was retired on a grounder to Stuart. Leever and Elsey could not get the ball further than to the pitcher. Childs made a fine stop of Elberfeld's hot one close to the second bag, but could not recover in time to retire the runner. A passed ball put Elberfeld on second. Stuart closed the inning with a slow bounder to Schaub. The eighth produced another run for the home team. Thanks to the errors of the Richmond infield. Stuart after making a nice stop of Schaub's hit, threw wild to first. Childs struck out and Elberfeld made a wild throw on Fox's slow grounder. Fox was thrown out trying to steal. McDonald fumbled Garvin's grounder, allowing Schaub to score.

Elberfeld gathered in Moran's grounder and threw Garvin out at second. Wells got a life on a fumble by Battam but there were two out and Kain forced Wells out at second. Elberfeld made a beautiful stop of a hot grounder by McVey in the ninth and got the ball over to Wells like a shot. Carey and Harley were easy outs.

"Reddy" Foster was sent to bat in place of Steelman in the ninth and was given free transportation to the initial bag. He stole second but was left there. Garvin settled down the heavy artillery work and the next three batsmen were rapidly sent back to the bench without connecting with the leather. Garvin's speed in this inning was simply terrific and the men shut their eyes and struck at almost every ball blindly. Elberfeld played with a broken nose and for a cripple, put up a magnificent game. The score:

Norfolk at Newark.

Base-Ball Notes.

What does Norfolk think of Newark now?

Lancaster is still on the jump.

Garvin is doing the thing right along.

The rooters at the Academy didn't have much chance to root yesterday.

From reports that reach us the game put up by Tom Leahy's Little Men is better patronized than many of the regular games.

Pfanmiller couldn't stop it in Newark.

Leever let them hit him eight times yesterday, and the Brownie let them hit him twice.

It was a fielders' game in Lancaster yesterday, the hits being 13 and 15, and in Newark they were 17 and 13.

The Cherubs went in for four errors.

Down the ladder they go, and they must win two games to go up.

What is it: luck or playing?

Amole was hit eight times.

The frisky lads from Lancaster are getting where they belong, in great shape.

Danny Long is getting nervous, for there is a possibility of his losing his cinch on the tail end.

Sisey couldn't locate the sphere a little bit.

Both Steelman and Foster officiated behind the liver pad yesterday.

Did Cline win the game in Reading?

Norfolk plays in Paterson Sunday, and Hartford at Newark.

Richmond won't be in the game Sunday. They are hardly in it week days.

There is a consolation: The Crew of the Mary Jane goes down with us.

Jake Wells is still renovating. Boyle, a late acquisition has been given the make-haste, and an infielder, McDonald, has been secured. The release of Schabel has not met with much favor in Richmond, particularly as Steelman, his successor, is far from fast.—Norfolk Pilot.

Richmond seems to be gathering together an entire new team. Too much experimenting with players who have been putting up the article of ball the "Cherubs" have, is not the best policy in the world.—Newark Advertiser.

Here are a few lines from the Paterson Call:

The two German pitchers, Schmidt and Stimmell will keep Richmond right in the race.

McDonald's stop of Smith's hard drive over second base in the fourth inning was a beauty.

Those Southern teams are hot stuff. Both Norfolk and Richmond moved up yesterday.

Stimmell is also some "punkins" of a pitcher.

These fellows don't know when they are beat.

NEWARK, 13; NORFOLK, 7.

The Game Was Not Scheduled, but Played by Mutual Consent.

NEWARK, N. J., May 27.—Special.—It was a case of fall down hard to-day on the part of the Norfolk Atlantic League team here in a game with the locals at Shooting Park. The final score was 13 to 7, in favor of the Champions. This game was not regularly scheduled for today, and in reality should be played on July 13th, but the date was changed by mutual consent.

Pfanmiller and Cogan were the opposing twirlers, and while neither man particularly distinguished himself, the odds were clearly with the home pitcher.

Newark secured a total of sixteen hits, including a home run, a three-bagger and four doubles.

The "Oyster Shuckers" went to the bat first, and at once began to do business. Weihl drew a base on balls, and trotted down to the half-way corner on a wild pitch. He went to third, when Daley fumbled Gilroy's grounder, the batter, of course, being safe at first.

After McFarland had been retired on a fly to Gettig, Weddige drove one to Shehan, and Weihl scored on the throw in. Shaffer's two-sacker to left was responsible for Gilroy's tally. Two lucky hits in the third tells the story of the visitors' next run. Gilroy drove one at Cargo, but just as the little short-stop was about to scoop up the ball it took an ugly bound out into left field. Dame fortune also smiled on McFarland when his hard hit bounder struck Cogan in the leg, and bounded off into right field.

Shaffer gave Shehan a fly, and "Gil," who in the meantime had reached the third corner, came home. This ended Norfolk's run getting until the sixth inning. Although Newark was not at all asleep, the pennant winners started off a trifle more moderately. Rasty Wright had his good eye with him, and walked to first. He was at once advanced to third on O'Hagan's cooking single to right field. Hard hitting Shehan was also in line, and the ex-St. Louis player brought Rasty home with a safe one to left.

Jack Rothfuss was a bit unfortunate when his great drive was caught by Weihl, who purposely laid way out near the fence. Cargo singled, and then he and Shehan made a clever double steal. The best Friend Gettig, recently released from the New York National League team, could do was to fan out.

Gettig has been signed as a pitcher, but was played at second to-day, in the hopes of strengthening the team at the bat. The locals scored again in the second, but it was not until the fifth that they struck their gait. Then they touched up Pitcher Pfanmiller's delivery in such lively fashion that the later was made to appear like some novice.

Wright singled, and O'Hagan also reached first when an attempt was made to field Wright out on the former's hit. Shehan and J. Rothfuss followed with doubles. Cargo flied out, but Gettig and Daley singled. The result was six runs. The music was continued in the seventh. Cogan, the first man up, hit the ball on the trade mark, and it went sailing over the back fence in left field, one of the longest hits made on the grounds this season.

Wright, O'Hagan and J. Rothfuss followed with safe drives and four more runs came in. Adam Rothfuss caught a star game, but there were no medals on Earle's umpiring. The score:

HARTFORD, 6; READING, 3.

Came Home From a Disastrous Tour to Again Meet Defeat.

READING, PA., May 27.—Special.—The Reading club returned from their disastrous tour last night, only to be again defeated on their own grounds to-day. The Hartfords, who are booked for four games, were the victors in a finely-contested game, however, as there were but two errors in it, and these were trifling.

The locals were unable to hit Gastright after the first inning, when he settled down and gave them but four hits thereafter.

The features of the game were the home run made by McIntyre on a clean hit to deep centre; the stop of a hard grounder by Minnehan, and two splendid catches by Hill in left field. The score was as follows:

LANCASTER, 11; PATERSON, 8.

There Were Plenty of Hits and Wagner Thought So, Too.

LANCASTER, PA., May 27.—Special.—There was plenty of hitting in this afternoon's game between Lancaster and Paterson, and while Yeager was touched up for fifteen, and Paterson earned four of their runs, Lancaster's thirteen hits off Flaherty and Viau were mostly at times when Paterson's errors came into play, and counted very rapidly in run getting.

Flaherty and Viau were both very wild, and, as the home team had their wits about them, they were quick to take advantage of this, and ran many chances on the bases. Flaherty was taken out during the fourth inning, and Viau threw the ball the remainder of the game.

His curves suited Yeager exactly, as he lined out three singles and a two-bagger, while others of the team were only a trifle behind him. Paterson had a batting rally in the ninth, and with five singles and a two-bagger, aided by Ward's error, piled up three runs. In the fourth inning the visitors lost the services of a valuable man, Wagner, who was hit by a thrown ball, and had to retire.

Smink took his place on the bag, and distinguished himself by making a throw to first, on which two men scored. The score:

Will Play it Over.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—The Board of Directors of the Atlantic Base-ball League met in the Hotel Hanover this afternoon to take up the protest filed by Norfolk in the matter of the game played May 15th, which the umpire declared no game. The Newark team prepared to catch a train and for this reason the game was begun early. When the score was 6 to 0 in favor of Norfolk, rain fell and the game was stopped nearly half an hour. When Norfolk had finished four innings and Newark had finished five, the umpire gave the Newark team permission to quit and declared no game.

Norfolk protested and the matter came up for a hearing to-day. The decision was that the game will be played over.

RICHMOND FOR CONVENTION.

the fact that at a recent public meeting held for this very purpose, at which a vote was taken forty-two votes were cast against a resolution offered in favor of the town returning to county government, while only three votes were cast in favor of the resolution.

HENRICO AGAINST.

So Far Heard From Over Five Hundred Majority—Successful Candidates.

Election day in Henrico passed off quietly yesterday so far as was learned last night, and the returns, as far as received, are given below.

There was no contest of interest, except in Fairfield District, where independent candidates ran for office and were generally supported by the Republicans.

Only one precinct in Brookland District, Barton Heights, has been heard from.

Returns from all precincts in Fairfield District give Mr. Hechler, Democrat, majority for supervisor, over Mr. Southward, Independent, of 542.

ELECTION IN THE STATE.

Skinner; constable, Tom Candy; overseer of poor, a tie between Col. E. E. Savage and R. M. Brown.

Wyth District: Supervisor, Charles E. Hewins; justices of the peace, J. E. Tignor, P. R. Stevenson, T. H. Saunders; overseer of poor, Robert Armistead; constable, W. H. Turner.

The vote in Hampton on the constitutional convention was 96 for the convention and 208 against it.

Accomac County.

EASTVILLE, VA., May 27.—Special.—The election passed so quietly here to-day that one would hardly have known that it was going on. The lightest vote was polled for many years.

The following is the result in Eastville Precinct:

For supervisor, N. L. Holland, 82. Justice of the peace, W. F. Waddy, Jr., 86; R. F. Nottingham, 86; W. J. Savage, 82; J. T. Wilson, 84; T. W. Upshur, 82. Overseer of the poor, R. S. Trower, 87.

For convention, 79; against convention, 26.

In Albemarle.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., May 27.—Special.—The election here to-day was very quiet. Less than a third of the usual vote was cast in the city to-day. The proposed municipal bond issue was not authorized. The Democratic nominees for municipal offices had no opposition. The vote on the constitutional convention stood: For convention, 229; against, 132. Majority for convention, 97. The county precincts not heard from.

Nottoway County.

CREWE, VA., May 27.—Special.—The following is the result of the election in Wittingham District, Nottoway county, to-day: Supervisor, R. S. Devlin, 131 [illegible]; W. T. Warriner, 8; Constable, C. Henry Hatcher, 131 [illegible]. Justices of peace, W. H. Verser, 131; J. T. Johnson, Sr., 131; W. C. Hatcher, 132. Overseer of poor, Cornelius Irby, colored, 22; J. J. Leath, 134.

For convention, 8; for no convention, 131. Total number of votes cast, 155.

Prince Edward County.

GREEN BAY, VA., May 27.—Special.—At the election here to-day a small vote was polled. The following officers were elected in Leigh District:

For supervisor, A. A. Haskins; of Meherrin; for justices of the peace, R. H. Wilson, R. W. Price and J. W. Dyer; constable, R. H. Nunnally; overseer of the poor, Patrick Hart.

Thirty-one votes were cast in favor of the constitutional convention and twenty-six against.

Isle-of-Wight County.

WINDSOR, VA., May 27.—Special.—Very little interest has been manifested in the election at this place to-day—in fact, but little throughout the entire county. Of the 278 votes at this precinct, only 10 were polled, and of that number only 4 were for the convention. This precinct goes Republican by 4 majority.

Appomattox Against.

PAMPLIN, VA., May 27.—Special.—Following is the official vote of Pamplin City precinct, Appomattox county: For Supervisor—J. R. Franklin (Republican), 30; W. H. Lacy (Democrat), 19. No opposition on balance of ticket. Convention, 4; no convention, 9.

The indications are that the vote will be light all over the county, with a small majority against the convention.

Six for Thirty-Nine Against.

BURKEVILLE, VA., May 27.—Special.—The election passed off quietly, a few county officers were voted for. For convention, 6; against, 39. Supervisor, W. H. Jeffries, 76. Constable, Sammie Webster, 31. Justice of peace, M. A. Hurt, 10; Samuel Henderson, 36; J. E. Leach, 36; M. A. Hurt, 25. Overseer of poor, G. W. Miller, 42.

A Majority Against.

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., May 27.—Special.—The election held to-day was the most quiet ever held. R. T. Knox, for City Treasurer, had no opposition, and he received all the votes cast.

The vote on the question of holding a Constitutional Convention resulted in a majority of 18 against a convention.

Democratic Sweep at Blackstone.

BLACKSTONE, VA., May 27.—Special.—A quiet election here to-day. Two hundred and fourteen votes were cast, 30 for convention and 39 against convention.

No opposition to district officers. The entire Democratic ticket was elected.

Sussex County.

WAVERLY, VA., May 27.—Special.—The election in Sussex passed off quietly. The constitutional convention question was defeated by two to one.

W. M. Raines, a Democrat, was elected supervisor in Waverly District by a majority over R. V. Ellis (Pop.).

Cumberland's Negative Vote.

PEMBERTON, VA., May 27.—Special.—Returns from three precincts in Cumberland are as follows: Ford Falls, 12 for convention, 35 against; Pinchem's Mills, 8 for and 41 against; Cumberland Court House, 22 for, 101 against.

Keysville.

KEYSVILLE, VA., May 27.—Special.—Keysville 67 for convention, 46 against. The county is thought to be for the convention.

Democratic Mayor and Council.

LEXINGTON, VA., May 27.—Special.—A large vote was polled here to-day for Mayor and Councilmen and District officers. Colonel Thomas E. McCorkle, a member of the Lexington bar, is elected Mayor with a full Democratic Council.

Henry for the Convention.

MARTINSVILLE, VA., May 27.—Special.—The constitutional convention carried Martinsville by six majority. It seems that the county has gone for the convention.

Charlotte County for Convention.

DRAKES BRANCH, VA., May 27.—Special.—Charlotte county gives small majority for the constitutional convention.

Greensville Against.

EMPORIA, VA., May 27.—Special.—Greensville county goes against the constitutional convention by a large majority.

In Amelia.

JETERSVILLE, VA., May 27.—Special.—In the district election to-day this precinct cast 121 votes. For the convention, 10; against, 56.

GRAND ARMY MEN

Receive a Cordial Greeting in Fredericksburg. The Park Project.

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., May 27.—Special.—The committee of the Grand Army of the Republic, consisting of General Edgar Allan, Past Department Commander G. A. R.; Chairman General Daniel E. Sickles, Pennsylvania; R. L. [illegible]; Colonel Albert E. Shoke, Savannah, Ga., arrived here this evening and were met [illegible] and warmly received by Mayor A. S. White, Captain M. B. Rowe and Judge J. B. Sener.

This committee was appointed by the Grand Encampment, at its meeting in St. Paul, to investigate and report upon the matter of establishing a National Battlefield Park on the great battle fields of Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Spotsylvania Courthouse and the Wilderness. A handsome reception was tendered the visitors at the Exchange Hotel to-night from nine till 11 o'clock, which was attended by the elite and fashion of the city.

The receiving party consisted of Mayor and Mrs. W. S. White, Captain M. B. Rowe and Miss Lena Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Conklin and Major and Mrs. [illegible] Moore and others. The hotel was handsomely decorated with flags, the United States flag, delicacies and refreshments were served, while [illegible] Band discoursed sweet music. To-morrow the committee will visit the battlefields of this county, accompanied by the committee named—Hon. H. B. [illegible] and Commissioner E. D. Cole, who was a scout for Gen. J. E. B. Stuart during the war, engaged for lunch at the [illegible] Hotel at Spotsylvania C. H. [illegible].

Saturday they will visit Chatham, Burnside's headquarters and other points on Stafford Heights, returning in time to take part in the National Decoration Day exercises.

Grand Commander of G. A. R. Clarkson, of Omaha, Neb., sent a letter expressing his regret at not being able to be present, and expressing the earnest wish that the Department of Commerce might be the means of perpetuating the work of erecting grand Battlefields and National [illegible] Park.
