The Jennings Reporter has been awarded the Parish printing of Calcasieu.

Hereafter letters mailed without a stamp will be sent to their address and postage paid by the parties receiving them.

The new printing press of the New York Herald, now in course of construction, will have a capacity of 90,000 six-page papers per hour, and 70,000 eight page papers.

The secretary of the Oklahoma Immigration society says that already 22,000 negroes have settled in the Oklahoma strip and that the number will be increased to 50,000 by spring.

Some astronomers predict that the Star of Bethlehem will make its appearance for the seventh time since the birth of Christ during the present year. Other astronomers think there is nothing in the prediction.

The supreme court of Illinois has decided that cities and towns "have the right to protect themselves against the objectionable practices" of the Salvation army, such as parading the business streets, blowing horns, pounding bass drums and otherwise profaning music.

The DEMOCRAT is in receipt of the bill of Hon N. C. Blanchard, introduced into the House, "to declare contrary to public policy and unlawful, trusts and combinations in restraint of trade, transportation, manufacture and production." We return thanks for the document.

Mr. Jas. Lambert, of New Brunswick, Illinois, says: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today and would insist on every one, who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." For sale by E. J. Sullivan.

A Michigan man who was drafted in 1864 was... the government to refund him the money he paid for a substitute. The chances are for a class of patriots to which the Michigan man belongs get together and declare their intention of not voting for the Republican party unless they get back the money they paid in hiring some other fellow to do their fighting that a bill for their relief will be rushed into Congress in a hurry.—Exchange.

An eminent divine, who appears to know all about such matters, says that during the first 4,000 years of the history of the human race everybody went to hell.—[States.]

Another eminent divine has made an accurate measurement of the dimensions of heaven and proves beyond doubt or question that each citizen, man woman and child, white, black or yellow, can have a room sixteen feet square to themselves, with plenty of space for base ball in the "suburban districts." The one story goes far to substantiate the correctness of the other.—[Caucasian.]

The acreage of rice will be largely increased the coming season. Everywhere men are talking of enlarging their old and making new fields. One firm in our town talks of putting in 1500 acres, and others will swell the number of acres put out by men of our town to near 3000. This outlook suggests the question, what will become of the rice straw? Very little is needed for fuel. The straw is not of much value now except as a fertilizer. Rice straw makes the finest kind of paper, and there is no enterprise that bids fairer to be a success than a paper mill at Jennings, good clear water can be had and rice straw by the hundred thousand tons. Also the Tupelo Gum would make the finest white pulp for paper of any wood grown, and it is very abundant. In our judgment a paper mill at Jennings would be a paying investment.—[Jennings Reporter.]

EXTEND THEIR JURISDICTION.

The steadily increasing expense attendant upon the criminal prosecutions in the several Parishes of the State, has been much commented on by the editorial fraternity of late, and the facts elicited are quite startling to the tax-payers. A recent criminal term in Natchitoches Parish cost the alarming sum of $5000, and in Calcasieu $3000 was the footing up of the criminal outlay—and in many other Parishes the increasing expense is causing the burden bearers to cast about for some remedy.

Here in East Carroll the criminal term is now on, and what the expense will be we are unable to estimate as yet; but we note that the grand jury was empanelled on the 6th inst., and have been in session ever since, barring the 8th of January, and it is now as we write, well on towards the close of the second week. Witnesses in large numbers have been summoned from the extreme ends of our Parish to testify before the grand jury; and from what we can learn, there are complaints enough presented to keep the grand body another week or more, if they should conclude to entertain them. In fact, the large number of frivolous charges presented, many of them from the several magistrate courts, are becoming expensively annoying, and in many instances a burlesque on justice.

In the face of such a condition of things, it will look like recklessness to propose an extension of the jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace in the several wards, both in the civil and criminal departments, yet such is our proposition, and such a measure we regard as the only available remedy for the evil that is not only increasing taxation but often evading the ends of justice by its tardiness. It may be urged that there is but one really intelligent and well-informed white Justice of the Peace in our Parish, the rest being colored, but limited education and less of the necessary knowledge to fill the positions they now occupy, with their limited jurisdiction; and to extend that jurisdiction under such circumstances would be a dangerous experiment; and it is well known that the preponderance of colored voters in this section is calculated to perpetuate the magistracy in the hands of this class of people. This objection can be readily met by enacting that certain qualifications should be essential to the fitness for Justices of the Peace, as in the case of Notaries Public and other positions of importance commissioned under the broad seal of the State.

That there is a necessity for reform in the minor criminal matters continually transpiring, no one can deny. For instance: A fight takes place on a plantation, or elsewhere, an affidavit is made, warrant is issued, constable arrests, offender is brought before the Justice of the Peace, bound over to answer the charge, assault and battery, or whatever it may happen to be. He gives bond, goes on his way don't caretively. In six months or less court convenes, papers are sent up by the Justice of the Peace, witnesses have moved away, can't be found, man goes free, justice too slow for anything but accumulating costs. This will apply to many other classes of offenses, such as carrying concealed weapons, petit larceny, trespass and such like. Now, if the Justice of the Peace is empowered to give final decision in such cases, there and then, while the testimony is on hand and all the facts are fresh before the court, inflicting such punishment as the offense might demand—fine and imprisonment, or imprisonment without fine, according to law—would there not exist a more wholesome respect for the law among the masses than now can be found with the ponderous and expensive routine of the rap that leads up with much uncertainty and many mischances to a possible indictment?

Would not the speedy trial, conviction and punishment, diminish crime? To say nothing of the vast saving made in time and money, in comparison with the old routine and protracted trial. This proposition is a clear and conclusive one; then, why not adopt it? It will work advantageously to law and order, and lessen crime without doing wrong to the criminal.

As to the civil jurisdiction one hundred dollars is our Justices of the Peace present maximum. Why not two hundred or more? The capacity to determine the merits of a one hundred dollar suit should surely be equal to manage double the amount, seeing the same law governs the one and the other.

"Law is the perfection of reason," and anything that is strictly reasonable cannot be far from right. Speedy litigation is what litigants require, and the more speedy the better for all concerned.

We make these suggestions in the public interest for the general welfare, and venture to hope that our legislators will deem them of sufficient importance to be acted on promptly and intelligently at the next meeting of the General Assembly—for whatever tends to diminish crime and reduce taxation is bound to be regarded as paramount for public good.—[Lake Providence (East Carroll) Democrat.]

AMEN AT THE WRONG TIME.

It is good to be earnest and devout in all religious duties, but the following incident may go to show that with this, as with all others, there is a time: Not long ago some plain and well meaning citizens of one of the Parishes of Louisiana had been brought to serious reflection upon the subject of religion by the efficient services of a zealous minister of the Gospel. He had concluded his labors and gone to another part of his circuit. The deep interest he had aroused prompted these new converts to call a prayer meeting. There was a large attendance, and after one or two had offered prayer, a third or fourth was called upon. He began to invoke the Divine mercy upon those in attendance, and was proceeding very well and with becoming solemnity, when, unexpectedly to him, one of his fellow-worshippers uttered the usual Amen in a very audible and distinguishable voice. Why it was, no one present seemed able to understand, but as soon as it was said it confused the praying brother, and he found himself unable to recapture the thought he was giving expression to. He paused for a moment endeavoring to regain it, but unable to do so, the evil one gained the ascendancy over him, and yielding to his dominion he arose from his knees and inquired who had said Amen while he was praying? No one readily responded, and every one being startled by this sudden change in the conduct of the brother, it may well be imagined what consternation followed. The brother was not to be deterred from ascertaining who had said Amen. The brethren attempted to appease his indignation by assuring him that no harm was meant, that it was usual to say amen in token of approval of expressions falling from the lips of speakers engaged in Divine worship. All this did not satisfy the brother, who by this time had the old Adam so aroused in him that he vociferously declared he could whip the b— of a b— that had said Amen while he was praying. As some of the audience knew who it was, the individual justly concluded that brother L. would find him out sooner or later and, therefore, resolved to furnish the information called for. A fight ensued in which several of the friends of both parties took a hand. Some blood was shed and the crowd dispersed, but without reconciling the belligerents. Bro. L. and the author of the objectionable amen met some time after and exchanged shots, by which one was wounded. Information was given to a prosecuting officer who placed the matter before the Grand Jury. A bill of indictment was returned into the 12th Judicial District Court. The parties were arrested, arraigned and tried for shooting with intent to kill and murder, and one was convicted of a minor offense. The trial occupied several days, many witnesses were brought in from a remote section of the Parish of R., and the Parish put to a heavy expense, and all because the brother, in his inexperienced zeal, had said amen at the wrong time.

Whether another prayer meeting was ever held where this untimely utterance was given the writer is not informed, but, if so, it may be well imagined the worshippers were more guarded than the unfortunate brother had been.—[E. N. C. in St. Landry Democrat.]

BAUER & WEIL, Front street, opposite Ferry Landing.

The Fourth Annual Session of the State Agricultural Society was held at Arcadia last week, and proved a success. The following officers were elected: W. S. Frierson, president; J. L. The charter of the Louisiana and Northwestern railroad is published in the Homer Journal of January 8th, with expressed purpose to construct a road from the Arkansas line to Alexandria, to bridge the Red River; to connect itself with boats in the Red and Ouachita rivers by any railroad running east and west between the rivers; also many other rights such as telephone, telegraphs, wharves; in fact everything that could have connection with a railroad.—[Ex.]

MARDI GRAS.

Who has not heard of the great Mardi Gras Carnival—the yearly pageant with which the City of New Orleans delights its citizens and visitors? From the date of the arrival on Rex, King of the Carnival, until the last note of music dies away from the last grand ball on the night of the succeeding day, the city is a wonderland, given over to crowds of merry maskers in the abandon of mirth. This year the entertainment promises displays of unusual grandeur. The day parade of Rex and the night parades of the Knights of Proteus and the Mystic Krew of Comus, will surpass in every way the spectacles of former years. Rex arrives and is received in state Monday, February 17th. Mardi Gras February 18th.—The Texas and Pacific Railway will sell excursion tickets to New Orleans and return February 11th to 17th, good until February 21st for return passage, at one fare for the round trip. Ample sleeping car accommodations will be provided. Call upon or address your nearest Texas and Pacific ticket agent for full information, or B. W. McCULLOUGH, General Passenger and Ticket Agent.

Timothy Davis, postmaster at Pattersonville, La., says: "Some years ago, while living in Algiers, I contracted a cough that every one thought would cause my death. I was unable to sleep, had night sweats, and soon became too weak to work. I had several doctors and tried many remedies, but with no improvement. An old friend hearing of my condition recommended Dr. Davis' Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry and Tar. It had cured him of a serious lung trouble, and he had great confidence in Davis' Wild Cherry and Tar. Before three bottles had been taken I was up and about, a well man. It saved my life. I always recommend it for consumption, asthma, bronchitis, any lung or throat trouble." One dollar bottles hold two or half times as much as a 50c. bottle.

It will be remembered that a few weeks since some of the Hebrew merchants of Delhi were given notice, by unknown parties, that they must leave the Parish. This mode of lawlessness was severely and properly condemned by the press at the time. Another notice has been given to the same parties, as will be seen from the following dispatch to the Times-Democrat under date of Jan. 21st: The following notice was found Sunday morning tacked to the store house of S. Blum & Co.:

NEED! Not long ago we notified you to leave town, but you have not done so. This time we want you to heed us, for none of us want to be accountable for your souls. We are not murderers and don't want to be, unless you force us. Understand us! There will be bloodshed unless you heed us. We do not propose that any of us shall do business among us and the Jew take all the money. Now, we will say to the Jew boys: Go! If this is not done by the 20th, you, one and all, pack your lives in your own hands. We mean just what we say. But we hope you will not force us. Ben Stein, you may remain and will be unmolested. Heed this time, or you will never have another opportunity of doing so.

THE ELEVENTH CENSUS.—The arrangement for taking the eleventh census of the United States and territories are complete and comprehensive. To facilitate the work of the census takers each State and territory has been divided into districts. The division is as follows: First District—Ascension, East Baton Rouge, East Feliciana, Jefferson, Livingston, Lafourche, Orleans, Plaquemine, St. Bernard, St. Charles, St. Helena, St. James, St. John Baptiste, St. Tammany, Tangipahoa, Terrebonne, Washington and West Feliciana parishes.

Second District—Avoyelles, Bienville, Bossier, Caddo, DeSoto, Grant, Natchitoches, Rapides, Red River, Sabine, Vernon, Webster, and Winn parishes.

Third District—Caldwell, Catahoula, Claiborne, Concordia, East Carroll, Franklin, Jackson, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Ouachita, Richland, Tensas, Union, and West Carroll parishes.

Fourth District—Acadia, Assumption, Calcasieu, Cameron, Iberia, Iberville, Lafayette, Point Coupee, St. Landry, St. Martin, St. Mary, Vermilion, and West Baton Rouge parishes.

YOUNG'S POINT CUT.—From Capt. Wm. Robson and others we learn that late Saturday night, or rather early Sunday morning, about 200 men and forty teams, working with plows, scrapers, etc., were put to work cutting a ditch across a point of land on the plantation of Col. John S. Young, on Red river, in Bossier Parish, known as Young's Point. The men and teams worked incessantly all day Sunday and at dark a ditch 230 yards in length and fifty feet in width had been completed, and doubtless the water over this is running through it at a rapid rate. This point, which is in a very ugly part of the river, about twenty-five miles below this place, has long been an obstruction to navigation, and this cut will shorten the distance in the river four and a half miles, and it is said will relieve both the Caddo and Bossier sides from overflow.—[Shreveport Times Jan. 21.]

Here it is, and it fills the bill much better than anything we could say.—"It gives me the greatest pleasure to write you in regard to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. During the past winter I have sold more of it than any other kind, and have yet to find any one but what was benefitted by taking it. I have never had any medicine in my store that gave such universal satisfaction." J. M. Roney, druggist, Genda Springs, Kansas. 50 cent bottles for sale by E. J. Sullivan.

Pimples, Sores, Aches and Pains

When a hundred bottles of Sarsaparilla or other pretentious specifics fail to eradicate in-born scrofula or contagious blood poison, remember that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) has gained many thousand victories, in as many seemingly incurable instances. Send to the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for "Book of Wonders" and be convinced. It is the only true blood purifier.

G. W. Messer, Howell's X Roads, Ga., writes: "I was afflicted nine years with sores. All the medicine I could take did me no good. I then tried B. B. B., and eight bottles cured me sound."

Mrs. S. M. Wilson, Round Mountain, Texas, writes: "A lady friend of mine was troubled with bumps and pimples on her face and neck. She took three bottles of B. B. B., and her skin got soft and smooth, pimples disappeared, and her health improved greatly."

James L. Bosworth, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "Some years ago I contracted blood poison I had no appetite, my digestion was ruined, rheumatism drew up my limbs so I could hardly walk, my throat was cancerized five times Hot Springs gave me no benefit, and my life was one of torture until I gave B. B. B. a trial, and, surprising as it may seem, the use of five bottles entirely cured me."

IT'S A MIGHTY COLD DAY In January when Pe-ra-na fails to keep you warm. When the blustering blasts of Winter envelop your body in their icy embrace, and seem to freeze your very marrow; when you shiver and shake with the cold chills that creep over you and pierce you to the very bone; then it is that you will find, if you try it, that there is nothing so comfortably warming and so mildly invigorating as this same Pe-ra-na. Sending a genial glow through your chilled system, it will start your blood-coursing through your veins, put new life and vigor into you, and make you feel altogether like a new man. The effect of Pe-ra-na in this respect is wonderful, and is manifested by no other medicine. As a stomach medicine and tonic it has no equal; and needs only to be tried to prove its efficiency. For record of what Pe-ra-na can do for ill-peculiarities to ladies, send for Dr. Hartman's "Gifts of Life," sent free by the Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O. To keep the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels regulated Man-a-lin should be taken at the same time. $1 a bottle.
