CITY AND SUBURBAN.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT HIMSELF.

Sad Termination of a Prospective Marriage. A Pistol Causes the Trouble.

Yesterday morning Mr. E. O. Fitzgerald, Jr., while packing his trunk for a northern tour, which he proposed taking after his marriage, which was to have taken place at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, accidentally shot himself in the forehead. He was examining a new pistol (which he had just bought) in the presence of his mother and brother. He asked them if he had better carry it in his pocket or in his trunk. They advised him to put the pistol in his trunk, which he decided to do. Shortly after leaving the room his mother heard the report of the pistol, and called the young man. Failing to receive a response, she returned to the room and found her son lying on the floor, with his head bleeding. He was laid on a couch, and Dr. James Nalle, the family physician, immediately summoned. On examining the wound Dr. Nalle called in Dr. Wellford. The two, after consultation, probed slightly for the ball, but not finding it, decided to defer further probing till relation took place. The ball entered just above the left eye, took a downward course between that eye and the nose, and the doctors think lodged somewhere in the roof of the mouth.

The doctors do not think the wound will prove fatal. The young man had not spoken yesterday afternoon. Just before the accident occurred Mr. Fitzgerald was in high spirits, and was just making arrangements to go down to the church to have it lighted for his marriage.

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

Postponement of the Annual Meeting—General Butler.

General M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, who has promised to deliver the address before the Southern Historical Society, having written that pressing engagements in the political campaign in South Carolina would prevent him from being here this week, but that he could come some time during the winter, the Executive Committee of the Southern Historical Society have determined to postpone the annual meeting usually held during Fair-week.

In taking this action the committee were also influenced by the consideration that "Fair-week" is always so crowded with other things as to prevent the attendance upon the meeting of some of the best members of the Society.

General Butler will speak on "The Battle of Trevilian's Depot and the Cavalry Campaign of 1864," and the annual meeting of the Society (due notice of which will be given) will doubtless be one of more than usual interest.

Personals and Briefs.

Major H. B. McClellan, principal of the Sayre Female Institute, Lexington, Ky., and who was chief of staff of General J. E. B. Stuart during the war, and is at this time engaged in writing the campaigns of the cavalry of the Army of Northern Virginia, arrived by the Chesapeake and Ohio railway last night, and is the guest of his old friend, Mr. George N. Woodbridge, No. 8 east Grace street.

The place of registration for the Fourth precinct of Jackson Ward will be at No. 724 north Seventeenth street.

Marshall-Ward Democratic Club will have a meeting to-night to complete their arrangements for bringing the Club into the procession to-morrow night and for other regular business.

The Clay-Ward Actives will have an important meeting to-night at their headquarters, No. 617 west Main street.

Mr. R. A. Brock, of this city, has received an official notification of his election at Baltimore on the 18th instant as a member of the American Historical Association, which was called to its first annual meeting at Saratoga, New York, on September 9th last, under the auspices of the Social Science Association. There were enrolled at its organization the next day forty-one active and one life-member, and it was decided to increase the membership of the Association to 120 by the selection by the Executive Council of well-known American students of history in different sections of the United States.

Mayor Carrington has issued an order closing all the city offices to-day, so that employés may have an opportunity to go to the Fair.

The following is from Mr. Collins, who was invited to speak here to-morrow night:

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE,
BOSTON, October 20, 1884.

My Dear Sir,—I have your favor of the 11th instant inviting me to address a public meeting in your city on the 24th, which I should be most happy to accept if the nature and urgency of my duties here did not forbid it. I regret, however, that the canvass here will require my presence till the close of the polls.

I am yours respectfully,
PATRICK A. COLLINS.

W. D. Chesterman, Esq., Secretary, &c.

Manchester News.

The Hustings Court was engaged seven hours on yesterday in the trial of William Heider, indicted for an attempt to burn the dwelling of J. C. Robertson; C. L. Page for the Commonwealth, William I. Clopton for the defence. The probabilities are that this case will consume to-day and to-morrow, if not more of the term.

Lovelace Bland, convicted on Monday of house-breaking, was sentenced, according to the verdict of the jury, to three years in State prison. Lovelace Bland has once before been in the Virginia penitentiary, and is entitled to five additional years in consequence thereof.

At the last meeting of the Committee of One Hundred a resolution was adopted to organize a club of twenty-five members in each of the four wards of the city. The clubs were then organized, and officers appointed. The superintendents of the wards will be chairmen of the clubs in their respective wards. Subordinate officers are to be appointed by the superintendents at the first meeting held.

One of the clubs of twenty-five met at Bowen & Bradley's last night to make arrangements for campaign work.

General Fitz. Lee and Hon. W. S. Gilman will speak at the Democratic rally to-night. There will be other speeches. Hon. George D. Wise will be present.

Mr. Charles S. Chalkley has been appointed chief marshal of the Manchester Democrats who will take part in the Richmond parade to-morrow night. The torches will be furnished by the Richmond committee.

The stages from here will run to the Fair-Grounds to-day, and will not make their regular trips between this place and Richmond.

Police Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

Charles L. Britton, charged with being drunk and resisting the police. Fined $10.

Dora Winne (colored), charged with being disorderly on the street. Fined $5.

Arthur Carter and N. W. Moore, charged with being drunk. Carter fined $2. Moore discharged.

Stanley Leber, drunk and disorderly. Fined $2.50.

Priscilla Davis, Mary Davis, and Lizzie Davis (all colored), charged with trespass. Discharged.

Charles Simmons (colored), charged with stealing one lot of coal, the property of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company. Sent to jail for fifteen days with labor.

James Morton (colored), charged with feloniously breaking and entering the storehouse of Watkins & Young and stealing $10. Sent to the grand jury of the Hustings Court, November 3, 1884.

Look Out for Thieves.

Yesterday about noon a sneak-thief entered the premises of Mrs. M. M. Gibson, No. 1118 west Main street, and succeeded in securing a gold watch and a pair of gold ear-rings and making off with them without detection. The family were in the house at the time, but had left the doors open, and the thief entered from the rear door. Too much caution against such occurrences cannot be exercised, especially just at this time.

Public Speaking.

General Fitz. Lee, Colonel W. S. Gilman, Charles E. Stuart, Speaker of the House of Delegates, and Marshall McCormick, senator from Clarke county, will speak to Manchester Democrats to-night at 7:30 o'clock.

General Fitz. Lee, Colonel W. S. Gilman, and Major Benjamin H. Nash will address the people at Smither's store, Henrico county, Saturday night.

The Home Circle.

If father is cross, and mother scolds, and aunty has the blues, and the children feel good for nothing, home is not a very happy place. Indigestion, dyspepsia, debility, rheumatism, or liver complaint will account for all these. They can all be cast out by the use of Brown's Iron Bitters, the great tonic and strengthener. Health brings happiness. Mrs. Rochester, 553 north Gay street, Baltimore, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters quickly relieved me of indigestion and general debility."

The Theatre.

Ford's Opera Company opened an engagement for the remainder of this week at the Theatre last evening. "Girola; or, The Three Black Cloaks," was played to a good house. When this opera was recently presented here by the same company the performance was something of a rehearsal. They gave it last evening with much better effect. The company is smaller than when last here. Now, as then, Mrs. Zelda Seguin and Mr. Denham are the chief attractions—the former as an accomplished lyric artist and the latter an excellent comedian. There are some very pretty girls in the chorus.

To-night "The Orange Girl" will be presented.

More Light.

Last night the Committee on Light had blazing at the corner of Seventh and Broad streets and in front of the post-office, on Main street, two powerful gas-lamps of the Siemens make, and of five-hundred-candle power illuminating force. The lamps are quite an improvement on the old lights. The gas has been turned into the new main on Broad street, and the committee will soon have this valuable improvement complete.

Sudden Death Last Night.

Mr. Lygon Corbin, of Philadelphia, died suddenly last night, at the residence of Mrs. Vaiden, on west Grace street, Richmond. Deceased was about seventy-five years of age, and was visiting friends in this city. His relatives in Philadelphia were at once notified by telegraph of his death.

MELVILLE IN COURT.

Resisting Payment of a Bill for Paper-Hanging.

A Philadelphia (Penn.) telegram of the 21st says: When Chief-Engineer George W. Melville returned from the Jeannette cruise, about two years ago, he was confronted with bills to the amount of $2,000 or $3,000 contracted by his wife during his absence. These bills he refused to pay. One of them, that of F. P. Howell & Co., for $250, for paper-hanging in the engineer's house at Sharon Hill, was sued upon, and this morning the case came up for trial before Judge Yerkes. The plaintiffs proved that the work was ordered by Mrs. Melville, that the paper was hung, and that up to that time there had never been any paper upon the walls. Engineer Melville testified that he never intended to have the walls papered; that on leaving the country in April, 1879, his salary was $180.80 a month, of which he allotted $90 to his wife and $90 toward the extinguishment of a mortgage on his house; that his salary was afterward increased $50 a month, all of which increase Secretary Hunt, without his authority, allotted to his wife, so that for thirteen months she had an income of $140 a month upon which to support herself and three children, but that upon his return he found that she had not paid the taxes on the house, and had contracted bills to an amount greater than he was able to pay. The case went to the jury upon the question of the necessity of the paper-hanging to preserve the house in proper condition, and the verdict was for the defendant.

MASS-MEETING AT PRINCETON.

College Students for Cleveland—Blaine's Record Roughly Handled.

A Princeton (N. J.) special says: Mr. Dundas, of the class of '61, of Princeton College, this evening addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting, composed of the Independent and Democratic elements of the college and town. The meeting was held in the University Hall, which was literally packed. Several of the college professors were on the stage. The speaker was introduced by Mr. Pershing, president of the Cleveland and Hendricks Club of the college.

Mr. Dundas, who was heartily received, said that the Republican party was a party of promises which were never realized by the people. The Republicans taught the people of the industrial districts that dull times date from the agitation of the Morrison bill, when, in truth, it had culminated in 1880 and was declining ever since. Mr. James G. Blaine, said Mr. Dundas, has trafficked with the majesty of the people as Speaker of the House, and yet his colleagues have compared him to Burke, and style him the "great commoner." Mr. Dundas said that the people all over the land were crying for reform and a new Administration, and these elements will be embodied by the election of Cleveland and Hendricks in the coming election.

Daniel C. French's statue of John Harvard, unveiled at Cambridge last week, is of course in no sense a likeness, since no portrait of the honored Puritan is in existence, and almost nothing is known concerning his personal appearance. But the figure, more than life-sized, is that of a tall, slender, smooth-faced man, in an attitude of contemplation and repose, the right hand resting upon an open book on his knee, and the left upon the arm of the chair in which he sits. The dress is that of a Puritan gentleman of the seventeenth century—broad collar, skull-cap, belt, knee-breeches, shoes with rosettes, and an ample, flowing cloak.

Most of Oscar Wilde's money accumulated in this country was made outside his lecture-room. He was constantly offered large sums by rich men to visit their homes and suggest harmonious colors and artistic effects in decoration. He frequently got $500 for a visit of a couple of hours.

HARDENED LIVER.

Five years ago I broke down with kidney- and liver-complaint and rheumatism.

Since then I have been unable to be about at my liver became hard like wood; my limbs were pulled up and filled with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters. I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case; otherwise I would have been now in my grave. J. W. MOREY.

Buffalo, October 1, 1881.

POVERTY AND SUFFERING.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty, and suffering for years, caused by a sick family, and large bills for doctoring.

I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost. Yours, &c.—A WORKINGMAN.

TO ICE COMPANIES AND OTHERS.

We offer for sale the BLOODY RUN SPRING, with THREE OR FOUR ACRES OF LAND surrounding it. It is located near the eastern mouth of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad tunnel, in this city. 100 feet above tidewater at the harbor, which is close by. It yields 5,000 gallons of water per day, and has never yielded less. The water was analyzed by Professor Taylor. It is pure and clear and cold, well adapted for the manufacture of ice on a large scale, as the manufactory can be built alongside the railroad. The large quantities of coal required in the manufacture can be put down at the door, and the ice can be placed on the railroad by gravitation at very small cost.

It is very suitable for a paper-mill, or sugar-refinery, or brewery, or any other manufactory requiring cold, clear, pure water in a convenient location.

The eastern part of the city ashlar plant on Fifteenth street was formerly supplied with water from this spring, conveyed by pipes. The city paid $500 per annum for several years for the use of this water at the City Gas-Works.

For further information apply to
