AGRICULTURE.

A BILL TO ADVANCE ITS INTERESTS IN VIRGINIA.

Meeting to be Held in Richmond on the 20th of October to Perfect It.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Virginia State Agricultural Society and the presidents and delegates from other agricultural societies of the State held at the White Sulphur Springs on the 11th and 12th of August, 1886, the following bill for the advancement of the agricultural interests of the State was unanimously recommended:

Whereas the encouragement of practical and scientific agriculture is a matter of vital importance to the Commonwealth: therefore

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, That there shall be established a Department of Agriculture for the State of Virginia, to be composed of all the regularly-incorporated societies and associations now or hereafter to be incorporated within the State, whose cash capital invested in lands owned by the Society or others and used for exhibition purposes, permanent improvements, or other investments devoted to the improvement of agriculture, shall not be less than $5,000. The term agriculture shall include all horticultural or fruit-growing associations organized for the encouragement of the growth of grapes or other fruits.

2. The Department of Agriculture shall be under the control and management of a board of directors, which shall be a corporation under the name and style of The State Board of Agriculture for the State of Virginia. The said board shall consist of the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society, and of the presidents of all the agricultural societies or associations belonging to the Department of Agriculture. The President of the Virginia State Agricultural Society shall be ex-officio president of the Board of Directors, and the Commissioner of Agriculture shall be ex-officio a member of the board, and also secretary and treasurer of the State Board of Agriculture for the State of Virginia.

3. The president of the Board of Directors, the Commissioner of Agriculture, and four of the directors, to be appointed by the Board from the four grand divisions of the State—namely, Tidewater, Piedmont, the Valley, and Southwest Virginia—shall constitute the Executive Committee of the said Board of Directors.

4. For the purpose of practically carrying out the designs for which the Department of Agriculture is established in this State an appropriation of $50,000 for each and every year is hereby made for the support and maintenance of said Department, said sum to be placed to the credit of the treasurer of the State Board of Agriculture, to be paid out, as hereinafter directed, on the warrants of said treasurer, countersigned by the president of the Board.

5. Of the said sum there shall be annually employed by the Commissioner of Agriculture the sum of $10,000 for the purposes mentioned in the act of Assembly approved March 29, 1877, chapter 249, entitled "An act to establish a Department of Agriculture, Mining, and Manufacturing for the State," and acts amendatory thereof, and for such other purposes as are specified in this act and not otherwise specially provided for.

6. Out of the said sum there shall be annually paid to the agricultural societies and associations belonging to the Department of Agriculture the sum of $25,000, to be distributed among these societies and associations ratably in proportion to the amount of premiums offered and actually paid by each society or association the preceding year; and, in ascertaining the amount of premiums, special premiums offered by private individuals through the society or association shall not be estimated: provided, however, that in estimating the premiums which regulate the distribution, military premiums shall not be included, and that the sums thus paid shall be used exclusively for the payment of premiums awarded by said societies or associations; and provided, further, that no association or society shall receive from said fund a sum exceeding one third of the amount actually collected and expended for premiums at its last preceding annual fair. A detailed statement of the amount thus collected and expended for premiums shall be furnished the State Board by the treasurer of each of said societies or associations, such statement to be verified by the oath of the treasurer of each society or association, countersigned by its president, and delivered to the secretary of the State Board on or before the 1st day of December of each year. Each society shall also be required to furnish a list of all premiums awarded at its last annual fair, either for animals, implements, fruits, vegetables, cereals, or other exhibits, giving the peculiar excellence of the exhibit as written by an expert in each department, with the name and address of each exhibitor. Any agricultural society or association which shall make any false or fraudulent return of the amount of its capital as defined by the first section of this act, or of the amount actually collected and expended in premiums, shall be deprived of membership in the Department of Agriculture, and shall be debarred from all the rights and privileges arising from such membership for such time as the Board of Directors shall direct; but no expulsion shall take place except at a regular meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, and after thirty days' notice to such offending member.

7. The State Board of Agriculture shall meet annually in the city of Richmond for the transaction of business, on the second Tuesday in January in each year, but called meetings of said Board may be had at any time, upon the call of the Executive Committee.

8. There shall be established by the State Board of Agriculture three experiment stations, said stations to be under the management of a general director to be appointed by said Board. One of these stations shall be established at or near the College at Blacksburg, one at or near the University of Virginia, and the third at or near Hampton Normal school. There shall be appointed by the Board of Agriculture a manager for each of these stations, who shall be under the special direction of the general director. These managers shall keep accurate and detailed accounts of the experiments made by them, and the cost of each respectively. It shall be the duty of the general director, on or before the 1st day of December in each year, to furnish a consolidated report of these experiments to the secretary of the State Board in proper form for publication. The sum of $12,000, out of the $50,000 hereinbefore appropriated, shall be applied annually by the Board for the purpose of conducting these stations: provided, however, that prior to the establishment of these stations the State Board of Agriculture, through its Executive Committee, shall enter into an agreement with the proper authorities of each of the institutions named, in which agreement it shall be expressly stipulated that each institution will furnish for the use of such experiment station a sufficient amount of land to conduct said experiments, and shall make, free of charge, all such chemical analyses as may be required by the general director; and upon the failure of one or all of these institutions to perform this agreement, then the experiment station established at such institution or institutions shall be closed, and such station may be re-established at some other location, at which these facilities will be supplied.

9. The State Board of Agriculture shall, so soon as practicable, organize throughout the State of Virginia a system of farmers' institutes for the purpose of considering and discussing questions relating to practical agriculture, horticulture, pomology, &c., &c., and they shall be authorized to employ one or more persons competent to give instructions in practical and scientific agriculture, to deliver lectures or read essays relating to agriculture and kindred pursuits. The sum of $3,000 is hereby appropriated out of the aforesaid sum of $50,000 for the purpose of organizing and equipping these institutes and paying the lecturers employed.

10. It shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Agriculture to cause to be printed with his annual report such portion of the annual reports hereinbefore required to be furnished by the different societies belonging to the Department of Agriculture and such of the lectures delivered and essays read at the farmers' institutes as the Executive Committee of the State Board shall deem of sufficient value to be preserved in permanent form.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the secretary of the State Agricultural Society cause 200 copies of this bill to be printed and furnish copies of the same to the papers throughout the State, with the request that they publish the same; and also that he send two copies to each society or association in the State, with the request that they express their approval or disapproval of the same, and the grounds of their objection, if any; and to request each society or association to send one delegate to a meeting to be held in the city of Richmond on the 20th day of October, 1886, for the purpose of perfecting said bill—each society or association represented to have one vote in said general meeting.

GEORGE W. MAYO, Secretary.

WILD ANARCHIST THREATS.

A Speech Full of Bravado at a Cleveland Meeting.

A Cleveland special says: The Anarchists of this city, being refused permission to hold a mass-meeting in the Public Park, gathered this afternoon at Favorite Hall and talked about the Chicago verdict. One of the hitherto leading spirits refused to preside, and the chairman who accepted accused him of cowardice. In other ways it was apparent that most of the Cleveland group have lost their bravado, though Chris. Saam tried to arouse them by such utterances as these:

"But for the attack of the police rowdies the trouble would never have occurred. Let those men be hanged and an army will rise to avenge them. Their blood will be as seed unto the cause, and will bear fruit quickly. As surely as no idea was ever eradicated by fire or by the sword, so surely will the hanging of those seven men not destroy Anarchism. Out of the seven will arise an army of seven hundred thousand, who will follow the banner of rebellion against a system which permits some few to live in palaces on Euclid avenue while the millions cry for bread. If you were men you would rise in an hour and destroy this Satanic and hellish system. Let us leave no peaceable means untried to save our brothers and associates from the gallows. If we are forced to war—unbutton your ears, Messrs. Reporters,—it will be a war of defence, not of aggression. Who can tell what will happen? None of us can speculate on the temper of the populace. I say to you, Prepare for the day that will and must come; the day that will witness the downfall of this rotten system of government."

Other speakers were very tame, and beyond speech-making nothing was done except the raising of $13 toward a fund for, in some indefinite way, helping the condemned Chicagoans.

A PERILOUS TRIP.

Riding a Bicycle on the Coping of Cabin Johns Bridge.

A Washington special says: Will Robinson, a local bicyclist, to-day, in the presence of a number of witnesses, performed the extraordinary and perilous feat of riding the length of the side coping of Cabin Johns bridge on his wheel. About a week ago a paragraph was printed in a Philadelphia paper stating that the feat had been accomplished, but no names were given. Robinson, who has executed many wonderful feats on the bicycle, such as riding down the stairway at the east front of the Capitol, requested some friends to accompany him to Cabin Johns bridge to-day. The coping is only about fifteen inches wide, and is nearly three hundred feet long. The bridge is the longest span in the world. Upon reaching the bridge Robinson informed his companions that he proposed to ride his bicycle over the coping. They urged him not to attempt it, as the bridge is several hundred feet high and the coping is delved on the side, thus reducing the top level to about one foot in width. Robinson, however, said he was determined to make the effort. His machine was lifted upon the coping, and, assisted by his companions, he mounted it and started on his hazardous journey. He displayed great nerve, and sent his machine along swiftly but cautiously. When three fourths of the distance had been travelled he tilted his machine forward and rode the remainder of the way on the large wheel alone. The task looked almost impossible, but when he reached the other side safely and dismounted he was enthusiastically cheered by the large number of persons present. He will repeat his adventure at an early day in the presence of a photographer.

A Lake Over 2,000 Feet Deep.

A Washington telegram says: A party sent out by the geological survey, under the command of Captain Clarence E. Dutton, United States army, has succeeded in making a complete survey of Crater lake, in Oregon, a body of water whose shores, with the possible exception of one point on the south, have never before been touched by the feet of white men. The party's boats were hauled a hundred miles by mule-teams, dragged by a detail of soldiers up the snow-clad sides of the ridge which surrounds the lake, and lowered by ropes from the crest to the water, 900 feet below. One hundred and sixty soundings were made, the result of which gave the general character of the lake bottom. Two large submerged cinder cones were found respectively 800 and 1,200 feet high, the rest of the bottom being flat. Captain Dutton believes this to be the deepest body of fresh water on the continent. The greatest depth attained by the sounding-line was 2,005 feet.

KILLED WITH A CROWBAR.

A Wife Accused of Murdering Her Husband.

[New York Times.

Constable John Freeman, of Queens county, who is also captain of the Ridgewood-Park police, was aroused at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning by a woman who cried for help in front of his house. He recognized the voice as that of Mrs. Singer, wife of a milk-dealer in the vicinity. In reply to his inquiries she said three thieves had broken into her house and murdered her husband. The constable inquired if her husband was quite dead yet, and she replied that he was still living. The woman had two children with her. Freeman told her to go on ahead and he would be at her house on Greene street, Ridgewood, in a few minutes. He was as good as his word. He went first to the back yard, where the stables are, and found Mrs. Singer standing beside a shed, used for storing feed for the cows, and which stands between the house and stables.

Mrs. Singer got a lamp and brought the constable to the front room on the first floor, where her husband's body was lying. It was stretched on the floor about three feet from the bed. The knees were drawn up under the body, and were perfectly rigid. The skull was completely crushed in, evidently by some very heavy implement. There was nothing on the body except an undershirt. The constable says the sight was so shocking he could not endure it, and had a sheet brought instantly to throw over the body. Freeman then left the house, and returned shortly with B. H. Gefken, Jr., a night-watchman, whom he placed in charge, admonishing him to allow no one to enter or leave the house. He also gave Mrs. Singer similar instructions. Freeman then made a thorough search of the premises to ascertain if there was any one in hiding, but discovered nobody. He found a crowbar, clotted with blood and hair at the sharp end, outside the gate. He took care to verify what he had known before, that there were no locks on the doors. After his investigation was concluded he went to the residence of Maurice O'Connell, coroner of Queen's county. A jury was empanelled, but the evidence was deemed insufficient to base a verdict upon, and the inquest was adjourned to 7 o'clock to-morrow evening, at John Homeyer's hotel, just outside the gates of Ridgewood park.

The coroner, after examining Mrs. Singer and hearing all the evidence, recommended that she be arrested on a charge of murder. The coroner felt constrained to adopt this course from the fact that she had told different stories and given several explanations of the affair. She told him that she had been asleep when her husband was killed. To Freeman she said that three men had committed the murder. She was accordingly arrested, and underwent a preliminary examination before Justice Knickman, of Middle Village. She was held to await the result of the Coroner's inquest and committed to Long Island City jail.

Singer kept a number of cows and ran a milk route. He had no store. His house is a two-story frame structure, and was mortgaged for almost its full value. It was not his custom to keep money in the house outside of his living expenses. Every cent he could spare he devoted to paying the interest on his mortgage of $3,000. He also made earnest efforts to reduce the principal. He was born in Germany, was of stout build, and was between forty and fifty years of age. His domestic life was very unhappy. He quarrelled constantly with his wife, and was frequently arrested for assaults upon her. He drank hard, and when drunk maletreated his wife. A week hardly passed without a fight, and the woman bore almost constantly, not only upon her face and head but upon her limbs, bruises and other marks of ill treatment. She generally retaliated, and as both used bale sticks in their encounters neither got off without injury. The woman gives her age as forty-five years. She is stout and healthy-looking and of Irish parentage. There are four children. The oldest is a boy of fourteen and the next a girl of twelve years.

TIRED OUT!

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

Trade Mark. QUALITY PURITY NEW QUANTITY. On Every Bottle.

For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc., it HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only iron medicine that is not injurious. It Enriches the Blood, Invigorates the System, Restores Appetite, Aids Digestion.

It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other iron medicines do.

DR. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, Ohio, says:

"Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action excels all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually positive success. It is all that is claimed for it."

DR. W. H. WORNER, 129 Thirty-second Street, Georgetown, D. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the Tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion."

Genuine has above Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO. BALTIMORE, MD.

COMMISSIONERS' AUCTION SALE OF ONE OF THE MOST VALUABLE AND HISTORIC FARMS ON LOWER JAMES RIVER JUST BELOW DREWRY'S BLUFF, IN CHESTERFIELD COUNTY, VA., CONTAINING 1,300 ACRES OF LAND, AND KNOWN AS "DREWRY'S BLUFF."

By virtue of a decree of Chesterfield Circuit Court, entered on the 15th day of June, 1886, in the cause of Townes and als. vs. James H. Jones, administrator, and als., the undersigned, thereby appointed special commissioners for the purpose, will proceed to sell by public auction, in front of the United States court-house, in the city of Richmond, Va., on at 12 o'clock M., that VERY VALUABLE FARM above described, fronting three miles on James river, one mile from Drewry's Bluff station and post-office, on the Richmond and Petersburg railroad about eight miles from Richmond, and the residence of the late James H. Jones, containing about 1,300 ACRES, of which about 230 acres are river low-grounds, about 300 acres of second low-grounds, about 300 acres of fine rich upland (all in the cultivation), and about 500 acres in original forest—pine, oak, hickory, and walnut. The land lies beautifully, and is well drained. Can be divided into four farms of nearly equal size—three fronting on the river and the other on the Richmond and Petersburg turnpike.

The improvements consist of a large framed dwelling containing ten rooms, beautifully situated, surrounded by a large forest of oak, hickory, &c.; barns, stables, granaries, tay-sheds, and houses for tenants and laborers amply sufficient. This is a valuable farm, and those wanting, either for their own use or for investment, would do well to examine and attend sale. Good neighbors. Young bearing orchard of fine varieties of fruits, grapes, &c.

TERMS: Cash.
BENJAMIN H. NASH,
ALEXANDER DONNAN,
Commissioners.

CHESTERFIELD COURTHOUSE, August 4, 1886.

I, E. H. Flournoy, clerk of Chesterfield Circuit Court, do certify that the bond required of the commissioners in this cause by decree of the 15th day of June, 1886, has been executed and filed in my office.
