WEDNESDAY....OCTOBER 30, 1889.

Enemies and Friends.

If next Tuesday's elections could be decided by weighing the votes instead of counting them, MAHONE would decline to be a candidate for Governor. It is only because the votes of ignorant negroes are counted as equal to the votes of intelligent white men that he presumes to come before the voters of Virginia as a candidate for the highest office within their gift. It is only because three thousand votes cast in Jackson Ward by men totally unfit to exercise intelligently the elective franchise are in law sufficient to neutralize the votes of three thousand of the most intelligent white men in this city that such a man as WILLIAM MAHONE is not ashamed to ask the suffrages of the people of Virginia.

This man and his colored cohorts must be put down next Tuesday. Otherwise there will be such a condition of things in Virginia in the course of a year or two as will cause all her good citizens to begin to think of migrating to some other State.

Can such a man be regarded otherwise than as an enemy to his State and hostile to his own race? He has no friends in the northern States who are not our enemies. He is not ashamed to bring into this State as advocates of his election men who are in favor of compelling our white children to attend the same schools which are attended by the negro children. He has travelled in almost every section of Virginia in company with a man who has in his place in the House of Representatives at Washington denounced the southern people in terms of vituperation absolutely unmeasured. He with brazen face asks his white followers to turn out and hear BRAGGS, CHANDLER, BURNS, and other northern speakers whose breasts overflow with malice towards the southern people.

Why does MAHONE select such men to advocate his cause in Virginia? Why does he not choose men friendly to the people whom he wishes their speeches to influence?

The reason is plain, and a good reason it is. The Republican party of the North is made up almost exclusively of men who hate the South. The southern negroes, too, hate the rebellion and rebels as much as the northern Republicans hate them. So that MAHONE has to select for his orators either men who are enemies of his own people or none. The men in the North who are always ready and willing to do justice to the people of the South are Democrats. They all wish to see PHIL. MCKINNEY elected Governor of Virginia. They despise MAHONE and all such treacherous southrons as much as the good people of this honored old Commonwealth hate him and them. These friends of ours are northern Democrats. Of course MAHONE cannot secure the services of good men and true, such as these warm-hearted, patriotic Democrats.

If you want to find Mahoneites go to Ohio and lay your hand upon Fussey FORAKER, JOHN SHERMAN, MURAT HALSTEAD, and all other other such wicked, malignant unpatriotic sectionalists. Go to New York and enlist Colonel ELLIOTT F. SHEPARD, WHITELAW REID, Wood-Pulp MILLER, Mc-Too PLATT, and all their party associates of limited mental horizons. Go to Massachusetts and find HOAR and DAWES, and Beast BUTLER, and all other such hypocrites. Go to Vermont and interview the cold-blooded EDMUNDS. But go where you will, North or South, you will find that the friends of peace and good will between the sections are Democrats, and the enemies of concord and universal happiness are Mahoneites.

FORAKER, Mahoneite; THURMAN for McKINNEY. QUAY, Mahoneite; RANDALL for McKINNEY. BURROWS, Mahoneite; DON DICKINSON for McKINNEY. PLATT, Mahoneite; CLEVELAND for McKINNEY. HOAR, Mahoneite; RUSSELL for McKINNEY. EDMUNDS, Mahoneite; PHELPS for McKINNEY. And so in every State.

Can any true Virginian doubt that Duty calls upon him to support McKINNEY? How is it possible to entertain a doubt upon a question that can be answered in only one way?

Mahone "Rattled."

According to the Washington correspondent of the New York Times MAHONE was badly "rattled" by the results of the registration last Saturday. The correspondent says:

"Mahone is very angry at the losses his party has sustained in Saturday's registration. The truth is, Mahone and his colleagues are badly 'rattled' and do not know what to do.

"Mahone candidly admits that the Democrats surprised him in this coup d'etat, and he is at a loss how to proceed. One of his local managers tonight freely admitted that Mahone has no show. 'I shouldn't be surprised,' added the local boss, 'if the Republicans haven't lost thirty or forty thousand in the purging process of Saturday. I am satisfied that we haven't a ghost of a show of electing our men.'"

That's just the way it appears to us. Unless he can accomplish his unholy ends by trickery MAHONE is already defeated. Let us all work together to roll up thirty thousand majority against him.

We quote the Times letter again:

"The results of Saturday's registration, when the Republican party lost so many votes, has stirred up Mahone. He is bending every energy to overcome these losses. A member of his Executive Committee, who left for Washington last night, said they would even up these losses. It is believed that Mahone will now devote more attention than ever to the Southwest, where he is said to be placing so much of his boodle. Every colored vote he loses, Mahone's idea seems to be, can be made up for by a bought vote in the mountains. It is certain that Mahone will be disappointed in this. Every movement of his head men in that part of the State is being carefully watched, and will be from on till the closing of the polls on November 5th. Both sides will work like beavers day and night."

Let him do his worst. Let him curse and swear till he turns black. Let him rave like a madman. All will not do. He has only one way of evening up his losses—namely, by getting fraudulent ballots into the ballot-boxes.

Democrats, you are forewarned.

Will the Philadelphia Press allow us to borrow some of its lurid rhetoric and apply it to MAHONE? As for example: The struggle in Virginia has ceased to be a political fight. It has become a fight for civilization. It is not a question of party or independent voting, of "ring" or "fusion," but of Mahoneism. If an American State can be carried by the supporters and protectors of corrupt voting after the exposures that have been made, it may as well put up the shutters. The day of self-government is over here. Crime rules. Fraud is supreme. The theft of votes has become the only path to power.

What Shall the Harvest Be?

Democrats of Virginia, what shall the harvest be? The hour is upon you when you must answer that question—a question fraught with momentous import—and your southern sisters and the national Democratic party await your answer with almost bated breath. Shall it be the augmentation of Virginia's glory, the confirmation of her claim to be regarded as the bulwark of southern civilization, and the preservation of her prestige as the defender of the rights of the people under the Constitution, or shall it be humiliation and degradation for herself and the contempt of those who have reposed their confidence in her? Will she reap the whirlwind sown by malignancy, or will she garner peace, freedom, and prosperity? Will she after the 5th of November be able to "look with a royal disdain" upon her enemies, or will she be chained to their car a slave—a byword, and a reproach? Will she rebuke despotism with a voice that will go ringing through the land as a note of encouragement to all patriotic citizens, and a note of defiance to the moral traitors, or will she bow her fair neck to the tyrant's yoke and become a petty province under negro domination in lieu of empire? The contest is one of the most important that have ever taken place in this country. On its result hinge vital issues affecting the future of the republic. A victory for MAHONE would be regarded by his northern malignant South-hating allies as license to go to the extreme length of possible legislation directed against the rights of the people of the South. It would prompt them to the most radical evasions of the Constitution, which evasions would finally become fetters upon the whole people. A Democratic victory means encouragement to the good and the true everywhere to say to the moral traitors, the stirrers-up of sectional feeling, the cormorants who baten on dead issues, and the ghouls who revel in the graveyard of the past, "thus far shalt thou go and no further." It would not only rid Virginia forever of the curse of Mahoneism, but relieve the whole South from the danger of another such political orgie as obtained in the days of reconstruction. It would substitute for restlessness and anxiety restfulness and confidence from the Potomac to the Rio Grande.

Democrats of Virginia, what shall the harvest be? Watch, work, and organize, and the answer will be such that the nation will place another jewel in the diadem Duty the old mother has so long worn.

Victory in Sight.

The results of the registration of last week indicate that the Democrats will win a glorious victory next Tuesday. If any reliance may be placed upon signs that rarely if ever fail to tell what the future is to be, MCKINNEY will go into office backed by a larger majority than FITZ LEE'S. There is going to be a large vote polled if the weather shall not prove to be exceedingly unfavorable. The Democrats should set their stakes for 180,000 votes and 30,000 majority. We must not content ourselves with beating MAHONE by a small majority. He must be snowed under by from twenty to fifty thousand majority, as a prominent Republican assured us a few days ago he certainly would be.

All that can be said is that General Mahone has a fighting chance in Virginia, and appearances indicate that Campbell has a similar if not so strong a chance in Ohio.—Washington Post.

"A fighting chance." Well, that's next to no chance. If CAMPBELL has no better reasons for hoping for success than MAHONE has, then Ohio will certainly reelect FORAKER, as Virginia will certainly elect MCKINNEY.

MESSEY's claim that MAHONE will be elected if he is not cheated is an admission, coming as it did almost from MAHONE himself, that the Democrats have already secured the vote of Virginia.

Yes, we have the voters—

"We are coming, Father Philip, two hundred thousand strong."

WAVERLY, VA., October 28, 1889.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

Please answer the following questions through the Dispatch:

1. Should a registrar issue transfers between the day of sitting (26th) and election-day?

2. Should they be issued on the day of election?

3. Can or has a person a right to vote on a transfer?

You will oblige B. F. GWALTNEY.

From the headquarters of the City Democratic Committee we have received the following reply:

The law is very plain. Section 80 says: "At any time." This in answer to the 1st. The same answer to 2d.

3. In counties or in a town of less than 2,000 he can vote on a transfer.

LANGSTON IN OHIO.—LANGSTON is thus mentioned in the Cleveland Plain Dealer:

"John M. Langston, of Virginia, has been in Ohio firing the negro heart for some weeks and was in Cleveland last Friday. He was reminded of his letter promising to stump his own State for Mahone if Mahone, QUAY et al. would use their influence to seat him in Congress. Mr. Langston preferred not to talk about the campaign in Virginia, as he is not interested in it."

That's good. If they had any sense a good many other negroes would not feel interested in the election in Virginia—that is, would not feel interested in behalf of MAHONE.

It would give strangers a good idea as to what manner of man MAHONE is if they knew that his reputation is so bad that nothing he could do would surprise anybody who knows him. The inference we would have every voter to draw is that MAHONE will bear watching. So will the men whom he intrusts with his secrets. Look out for frauds and tricks and unexpected machinations. Be watchful spectators, who know better than the actors what goes on upon the stage. Are you on the look-out?

Look at the results of the registration of last Saturday. Can there be a doubt as to what they foretell? MAHONE would have his bogus voters' names kept upon the registration-books; but he cannot be gratified. The negro lives here, there, and everywhere. To pretend to believe that there were not good reasons for striking off names for whom no owner could be found is to claim that our elections ought to be carried by fraud.

A correspondent writes us that a negro told some of his friends in the town where he resides that he was satisfied that roughs had already been imported thither with a view of bulldozing quiet voters. There is nothing in this report. The "roughs" would fare badly in any town or city in Virginia where they should attempt to play the rôle of bulldozers. And "roughs" do not seek such places wherein to ply their calling.

The World quotes Mr. EDISON as insisting that danger lurks in the electrical subways. He says that hydrogen gas will be generated in the manholes which a spark may ignite in an instant. Terrible explosions will follow.

We bet on EDISON. Besides, we have carried more than a million of passengers on our electric road without killing one.

The reply of Democratic Chairman EDWARDS, of Lynchburg, to United States District-Attorney CRAIG and his assistant bulldozer was just what it should have been. The election of November 5th is one with which UNCLE SAM has nothing to do.

MORE PROOF THAT MAHONE IS SCARED.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald writes:

"Mahone expresses himself as hopeful of winning his fight and says that on a fair count his majority ought to reach twenty thousand. He is, however, getting in a good position to hedge in case he is beaten. He is already claiming that whole lists of registered Republican voters in Richmond, Charlottesville, and other parts of the State are being thrown out by the Democrats on technical grounds. The truth is that General Mahone is not talking so hopefully of carrying Virginia as he was ten days ago.

"It is noticeable also that his Republican friends who were willing to wager large sums on his success last week are becoming less aggressive and insisting upon larger odds."

BRIEF COMMENT.

Democrats of Virginia, watch, work, and organize and all will be well.

The Philadelphia Times says: "Lord TENNYSON received $1,250 for his poem, 'The Throstle,' which was exclusively published in Philadelphia by the Times some weeks ago." And was the worst attempt at poetry we have seen in the Times for many a day.

Democrats of Virginia, rebuke on November the 5th the outrage involved in the arrest of the Charlotte county judges of election.

"Cincinnati now possesses the only giraffe ever born in captivity." And every beer-drinking Cincinnatian envies it.

Democrats of Virginia, the eyes of the whole South are upon you.

E. H. BAUDEN,
Pastor A. M. E. Church,
Smithfield, Va.

Mr. Ashby to the Workingmen of Virginia.

[For the Dispatch.]

PETERSBURG, VA., October 29, 1889.

For the first time in my life's history I appear before the people of this grand old Commonwealth of Virginia in behalf of a cause that has lived through all the ages and through adversity and prosperity since the time of Thomas Jefferson, the founder and champion of that cause. The cause which I refer to is Democracy, ever true and tried Democracy—now living and prospering through all opposing parties, which is positive and absolute proof that it is a party of righteousness and justice to all, for had it not been such a party it would have long ago been swept from existence, and would have now been one of the things of the past. Democracy means for you just simple, plain, fair, and square government, with equal rights for the millionaire and the beggar, the white man and the black man. It means the elevation of the sons of toil to a higher and better position in this life; it means to protect you from the competition of foreign pauper labor; it means the education of the masses, the enlightenment of the human mind; it means what that noble patriot, Patrick Henry, would rather have died than to be without; it means that priceless boon, LIBERTY; it means FREEDOM, freedom to act and think for yourselves; freedom to stand and act like noble men worthy of the name of true Virginians. Not to be bulldozed and bought for a price; not to be mere subjects of barter and trade; not to be mere slaves to the will of a fiend in human shape, who cares nothing under the canopy of high Heaven for your welfare except to use you as a tool to accomplish his own ghoulish purpose, to pluck this bright and illustrious jewel, Virginia, from her honored place in the portion of the American continent known as the solid South. Can you, as sons of such a noble and illustrious State, and as the brothers and kinsmen of so many illustrious patriots, allow the spotless skirts of Virginia to be dragged down into such a mire of iniquity as the Republican party? I say can you carelessly remain at home on next Tuesday and allow Virginia to be wheeled into line with the iniquity of the earth? I answer NO! A thousand times NO! You cannot afford to allow the Republican party to have a jubilee over a broken solid South, and at your expense—I say at your expense because it will certainly be at your expense if you carelessly remain away from the polls next Tuesday and allow your liberties to be wrested from you by your careless neglect. Can you trust the grand old State of Virginia in the hands of William Mahone, who has proven himself traitor to every important cause intrusted to him? "By their works ye shall know them." If he betrayed you once he will do so again. If he rolled up the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio railroad and put it in his pocket at the expense of a lot of workingmen he will roll up the State of Virginia and put her down into another of his capacious pockets. Beware of him. He looks upon you as being for sale; he looks upon you as subjects of "barter and trade," for he has set traps for you, so be careful that you do not find yourselves in this "spider's parlor." Virginia is "loaded," boys, and when she "goes off" on the 5th of November be sure that the head of the Republican party in Virginia shall "go off" too, and never to be on again. Do not stay at home and expect some one else to go to the polls and do the voting, but go yourself, for the other fellow might expect you to go and do the voting, and so by that means your liberty, your independence, and your freedom might be snatched from you and the dear name of Virginia would be slandered by being thrown into the bitter thraldom of Mahoneism and Republicanism. Then the leaders of the Republican party at Washington would have such a jubilee as would almost "lift the skies," if possible.

Do not be afraid of the reign and rule of Democracy. The four years of the Cleveland Administration were years of prosperity. The wheels of industry that had been lying idle under the Republican Administration soon began to hum under Cleveland's Administration, and peace and prosperity was soon in full blast, but what have we now under the national Republican or Harrison Administration? Already some of the mills have shut down, the price of labor has been cut down in a number of factories, the hours of work have been lengthened from ten to twelve hours a day, and people who made a comfortable living under the Cleveland Administration have been forced to leave these factories and try to make a living at whatever else they can find to do. I know whereof I speak when I say this.

Do not be afraid the Democratic party will abolish the free-school system in Virginia. Neither the Democratic nor Republican party can do this. It can only be done by a constitutional convention and your ballots, and rest assured you will never be called upon to do this. The free-school system is one of the many good works instituted by the Democratic party.

Now, in conclusion let me say that it makes no difference who is elected, the public free schools will go on just the same, and so continue unless we, the voters, should ever see proper to abolish them by our votes, and that we'll never do. Let November 5th tell the story of Virginia's future welfare. Respectfully,

JAMES T. ASHBY.

IS LIFE WORTH LIVING?

That depends upon the Liver, for if the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirits are depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general despondency and the blues. The Liver is the housekeeper of the health, and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

"Have tested its virtues personally and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness, and Throbbing Headache it is the best medicine the world ever saw. Have tried many other remedies before Simmons Liver Regulator, and none gave more than temporary relief, but the Regulator not only relieved but cured me. H. H. JONES, "Macon, Ga."

OLD NORTH STATE.

THE FARMERS' ALLIANCE AND ITS RAMIFICATIONS.

The Weldon Fair—The Negro Exodus—A Child Burned to Death—Notes.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

RALEIGH, N. C., October 29.—There are to-day two thousand and six sub-alliances of the Farmers' Alliance in North Carolina. There are now ninety-two county alliances, leaving only six counties unorganized, and State Secretary Polk says they will be in the ranks by the end of the year. The increase of membership is phenomenal.

John E. Robinson, Commissioner of Agriculture, left for Edenton this evening, accompanied by Professors Massey and Chamberlain, of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College, and will hold a farmers' institute on an extensive scale.

Governor Fowle will leave here for Weldon to-morrow to attend the fair.

There are now only 229 convicts actually in the penitentiary. Over 1,200 are outside the prison, mainly employed in railway construction. One hundred and fifty will be put in the stockade this week at Madison to work on the Roanoke and Southern railway.

Intelligence has been received of the loss of the steam-tug E. S. Whitaker, bound for Washington, N. C. She was last seen coming over North-river bar.

Governor Fowle to-day appointed delegates to the National Silver Convention, to be held in St. Louis.

Fifty negro emigrants bound for the delta of the Mississippi left Wilson Sunday night. Labor agents expect to get up a crowd in Wilmington and vicinity in a few days.

A few "exodusters" left Goldsboro' yesterday. Rev. Dr. Hartzell, in an address Sunday to negroes, told them plainly that the white people here were their best friends and not sneaking, hired railroad emigration agents. It is said that the backbone of the exodusis broken at Goldsboro'.

The Atlantic Baptist Association met at Piney Grove, Jones county, to-day.

When the steamer Pioneer was wrecked near Ocracoke much merchandise was scattered along the shore. Residents took possession of much of this. The Captain got the scattered freight together to have a sale. Just before the sale the men who had been employed demanded exorbitant pay for their services. The Captain refused to pay them, and the men declared the goods should not be sold. While the matter was still in dispute a storm came and washed away the goods which were piled on the shore.

It is announced to-day to be reasonably certain that Hon. Jefferson Davis will be present at the Fayetteville constitutional centennial, and that it is a settled fact that the United States Marine Band has been secured for the occasion.

The residence of Jesse W. McDonald, at Wilmington, was burned night before last. Loss, $2,500; insurance, $1,200.

A three-year-old son of James Holland, in this county, was burned to death day before yesterday. He had been left in the house by his parents and his clothing caught fire. He died very quickly.

Oliver White, one of the white men who was injured at Asheville by a fall of a scaffolding last Saturday, died Sunday.

Work begins this week on the extension of the Postal-Telegraph line from Fayetteville to Wilmington.

Senator Voorhis yesterday returned to Asheville, where he is now spending most of his time.

A locomotive was to-day put on the Cape Fear and Yadkin-Valley railway to run from Wilmington to Black Creek.

Burglars are beginning their work here. Heretofore Raleigh has enjoyed immunity from them.

The attendance at Evangelist Pearson's meetings at Henderson is very large. Special trains are running to accommodate the crowds which attend the meetings.

The Hold-Over Senators.

PIN HOOK, VA., October 28, 1889.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

The Democrats that hold over are as follows: Tenth, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-sixth and Thirty-second districts. This makes eight Democrats, and the Republicans that hold over are as follows: The Second, Sixth, Eighth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Twenty-eighth, Thirtieth, Thirty-sixth, and Thirty-eighth districts, add up (9) nine Republicans. The Fourth district is to elect, which will be Democratic, and in the Thirty-fourth is Wickham, the Independent Republican. So tell the Democrats to work night and day and we will carry the Senate Democratic. You can count on old Franklin doing her duty for Democracy. Yours respectfully,

W. D. HAYNES,
Doorkeeper of Last Senate.

Ah! Corsets.

There is scarcely any article of dress upon which there is more dependence in the matter of style in ladies' dress than Corsets. The hat may be pretty and the gown lovely, but if there is not beneath it a well-fitting and properly adjusting Corset the effect of the entire get-up will be ruined, and the figure will lack the svelt and well-moulded appearance to which it is entitled.

Corsets will be our specialty to-day, and we will disclose a lot of 100 dozen of the best ever seen in Richmond. This particular make is well boned, well made, and nicely trimmed with lace. They are absolutely perfect-fitting, and such as you usually have to pay 62 or 75c. for. We will offer them to-day for

It is generally admitted hereabouts by the ladies that our Infants' and Children's Embroidered Cloaks are cheaper and better than those elsewhere, but in the lot which we will open to-day you will find greater bargains than ever before. We advise you, too, to take advantage of the 10 per cent. discount we are giving on Misses' and Children's Plush and Worsted Cloaks. These are beautiful garments, and the prices at which we now offer them will surprise you.

Studebaker Road-Cart.

EASIEST RUNNING, EASIEST RIDING, AND MOST DURABLE ROAD-CART ON THE MARKET.

This cart has scroll foot-springs and coil axle springs, so there is absolutely NO HORSE MOTION. It has STEEL TIRES, STEEL AXLES, and STEEL FRAME. The springs are adjustable instantly at will, so the same cart answers for ONE PASSENGER and TWO PASSENGERS, for the FAT MAN and the LEAN MAN, and rides with the same ease and comfort, however loaded. Every cart warranted. Come and see it if you can. If you cannot, write me and I will send you a descriptive circular with cut of the cart. Net price to the trade $45.
