A Pretty Wedding in Petersburg—E. B. Morse and Miss Hannah Ash.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

PETERSBURG, VA., April 3, 1890.

Mr. E. B. Morse, a well-known and popular young Hebrew citizen, was married this afternoon to Miss Hannah I. Ash, a charming and lovable young lady. The ceremony was performed at the synagogue on Union street in the presence of a very large assemblage of friends, the Rev. Dr. E. M. Myers officiating. Four young ladies tastefully dressed and charming in appearance acted as waiters—viz., Misses Celia and Helen Eigenbrun and Misses Hannah and Celia Cohen. The guests on the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Straus and Miss Myra Rose, of Richmond. The ushers were Messrs. M. L. Myers, E. Eigenbrun, and Isaac Cohen, of this city; Mr. Stern, of New York, and Mr. Abe L. May, of Roanoke. The bride was attired in a handsome travelling dress, and the happy couple, after receiving the congratulations of friends and relatives, left on the 6 P. M. train on a bridal tour to Philadelphia and New York. The occasion was a very delightful one in all respects.

A MEMORABLE DAY

In the History of the Cockade City.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

PETERSBURG, April 3, 1890.

Twenty-five years ago to-day, the day following the evacuation of Petersburg by General Lee's army, is remembered as probably the most exciting occasion in the history of the city. The entrance of the Federal troops after having been so long kept beyond the gates, the trepidation of the people, the distribution of the Government stores, the burning of tobacco and bridges, all combined to render the day one never to be forgotten. Most of the tobacco in the city had previously been collected in the large Centre Warehouse on Washington street, which was fired as the last of the Confederate troops left the city. The smoke and scent from the warehouse filled the city. Pocahontas and Campbell bridges, over which the Confederate troops crossed into Chesterfield, were burned behind them, and it was some time before they were rebuilt.

PETERSBURG POINTS.

Religious Matters—Fish—Evidences of Prosperity.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

PETERSBURG, April 3, 1890.

Rev. Leonidas Rosser, D. D., the venerable Virginia Methodist evangelist, is in the city and will assist at the revival-meetings held this week at the High-Street church. He is still vigorous in style and powerful and effective in the pulpit.

The Democratic Workingmen's Club held a meeting to-night at the Tabb-Street Armory. The several candidates for municipal office were present by invitation and addressed the club.

Large numbers of infant sturgeon from one and a half to three feet in length have been caught in James river the past few days and brought to this market. The pleasant weather of the past week has caused a fine run of fish in our river and the catch, both by net and hook, has been large. Many fishing excursions are being arranged for Easter Monday.

The evidences of the increasing prosperity of the city are unmistakable. A well-informed gentleman, whose business carries him all through the city, remarked to-day that there are more improvements in progress and in contemplation in Petersburg than in any other city of its size in the State, all things being taken into consideration. There have not been so many companies incorporated here, it is true, but the improvements are solid. The prospects are that when the season opens there will be a real building boom here. Some half a dozen or more houses are to be erected on the site of the burned district on Sycamore street, a shoe-factory is to be established, and other enterprises are in contemplation. A great many dwelling-houses are to be erected, and all signs point to a busy year for the mechanics. A decided advance in real estate, especially in the western portion of the city, is one of the evidences of this prosperity.

Railroad Matters—General Mention.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

APRIL 2, 1890.

A general meeting of the stockholders of the Alexandria and Fredericksburg and Alexandria and Washington Railroad Companies, which were recently united in one road—the Washington Southern—has been called for the 30th day of this month at the office of the company, on Cameron street, in this city. The object of the meeting, as stated in the call, is to "approve or disapprove of the execution of a mortgage by this company and the issuance of bonds secured thereby to the amount of $2,500,000, and for the transaction of any other business that may be properly brought before the meeting."

A charter of incorporation was to-day granted by Judge Keith, of the Circuit Court, to the United States Patent and Improvement Company, whose principal office is to be in this city.

Its capital stock is to be not less than $10,000 nor more than $25,000, divided into shares of $50 each. The amount of real estate it can hold is limited to 1,000 acres. The objects of the company are the purchase, sale, and advancement of patents of all kinds; to operate anything upon which a patent may have been secured, and to manufacture and deal in patent articles of all kinds. Its officers are Park Agnew, president; M. B. Harlow, secretary and treasurer; and these, with James R. Caton and J. K. M. Norton, of this city, and William Marshall, of Fauquier county, are the directors.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary L. Dearborn, for over half a century a resident of this city, took place this afternoon.

The recently-appointed Excise Board for this city organized to-day by electing Mr. B. H. Lambert chairman and Mr. M. P. Vincent secretary.

ALEXANDRIA, April 3, 1890.

Alexandria still continues to do a good charter business. To-day two charters were granted by Judge Norton and offered for record in the Clerk's office of the Corporation Court.

The Fairfax Aluminum, Gold- and Silver-Mining and Manufacturing Company has for its objects the purchase, mining, and manufacturing of gold, silver, aluminum and other metals to be found in a certain tract of land about six miles west of this place in Fairfax county. It is allowed to hold real estate to the value of $1,000,000 and its capital stock is not to be less than $100,000, in shares of $25 each. Its office is in the Braddock House and Mr. John S. Beach is its agent. Its officers are George W. Bott, of Washington, president, T. H. Gardner, of Washington, secretary, and George W. Bonnell, of Washington, treasurer, and the above, with W. W. Bassett, Philip Juch, Van H. Manning, and Thomas H. Mitchell, are the Board of Directors. This charter pays a State tax of $40.

The Washington Improvement and Investment Company has for its objects the purchase, sale, and improvement of real estate in Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Mr. A. W. Armstrong is named as the Alexandria agent of this company, whose capital stock is to be $75,000, divided into shares of $25 each. It can hold real estate to the value of $100,000, and its officers are William J. Rannells, president; John O. Johnson, secretary; E. J. Parker, treasurer, and the President and Treasurer, with C. F. Scott, J. K. Brown, W. D. Blackburn, and E. L. Mattice are the directors.

Bishop A. M. Randolph, of the Episcopal Church, confirmed a class of twenty-eight persons in Grace church here last night. To-night he will confirm a class in Christ church, and to-morrow afternoon he will officiate at St. Paul's church.

SIXTEEN YEARS.

The Second Trial of Jordan Washington.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

FREDERICKSBURG, April 3.—The trial of Jordan Washington (colored), for the murder which was mentioned in the Dispatch of to-day, terminated this afternoon by the jury rendering a verdict of murder in the second degree and the sentencing of the prisoner to sixteen years in the penitentiary. This same verdict was rendered in the trial of Washington here last September, which verdict was reversed by the Supreme Court and a new trial granted the accused. Judge J. T. Goolrick represented the Commonwealth and Hon. William A. Little, Jr., the prisoner.

A YOUTHFUL JUROR.

An Amusing Description of a Court Scene in Fredericksburg.

A Dispatch correspondent gives the following details of the court scene at Fredericksburg in which a baby figured:

An unusual and remarkable occurrence was witnessed here in the court-house last Wednesday night just before his Honor, Judge Wallace, adjourned the court until this morning. The trial of Jordon Washington (colored) for murder was in progress, when there suddenly appeared in the court-room a very pretty young married lady pushing a baby-carriage in which was a bright-eyed little fellow of about two summers. She was the wife of a Commerce-street merchant, who was one of the jurymen, and had been absent all day from home. This was a very unusual occurrence for him. The lady not being familiar with the course of justice, went in quest of her husband. She rolled the carriage near where the jury sat, and, to the astonishment of the beholders, took her babe out of the carriage and sat it in the lap of her husband, saying: "You must come and go home, I cannot stay by myself." The little babe not relishing the situation, showed its disinclination at becoming a juryman at such a tender age by crying lustily. The judge, jury, and bar seemed to be in a dilemma. The Court undertook to reason with the fair intruder, but she was persistent in her demands that her husband must go home with her and the baby. The spectators laughed and greatly enjoyed the situation. The officers of the court demanded "Silence in court!" but the risibles of the auditors were uncontrollable. The situation was indeed embarrassing to the court, jury, and bar.

THE COURT ADJOURNED.

Hon. William A. Little, Jr., counsel for the defence, taking in the situation, arose and asked that the court adjourn until the next morning at 10 o'clock. His request was readily assented to. The jury was then marched off to quarters for the night, and the young wife and babe escorted to their home, where they had to sleep without papa. Was there ever such a court scene witnessed?

A Danville Donation.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

DANVILLE, VA., April 3.—Gentlemen from Ohio are here to establish machine-shops for the manufacture of specialties. Danville is asked to furnish part of the capital required, and the subscription-paper was circulated this afternoon with most gratifying success. There is no doubt that all the money needed will be raised and that the shops will be established.

Death of a Good Man.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

MARTINSVILLE, April 3, 1890.

Rev. Daniel Taylor, a noted divine and pioneer missionary Baptist in this section, died at his home near Spencer's a few days since. There was no better citizen in this county than the deceased. He raised a large and interesting family. Several of his sons are ministers, one of whom is Rev. Judson Taylor, of Kentucky.

Much Ado About Nothing.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

MARTINSVILLE, VA., April 2, 1890.

There seems to be little foundation in fact for the rumor about an attempt to rescue Twiggs Davis from our jail, and while our officers deserve all praise for their precautionary methods yet it all seems much ado about nothing.

Virginia News Notes.

Major Bullington, of Martinsville, is quite ill. He is very old and quite a noted character.

There is indignation in the upper part of Henry county over the removal of the post-office from Preston's Summit.

A report comes from Martinsville that a large body of revenue officers are making raids in Patrick and Franklin counties and destroying a large number of stills.

FREDERICKSBURG.

The Opera-House syndicate has closed a contract to make an addition to the present building. There will be a store on the ground floor and a spacious hall on the second floor, the whole to be covered with a Mansard roof.

Proposals are out for the building of a Methodist chapel adjoining the present handsome Methodist church edifice.

The Episcopal Council will meet in Fredericksburg on the 14th of next month.

LYNCHBURG COLLECTIONS.

Another large deposit of blue and gray marble has been discovered near Lincastle which has been pronounced by competent scientists capable of the highest polish.

It is reported at Lynchburg that the Governor will commute the sentence of Cabell Christian, a young white man of that city who was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years for larceny from the person some time ago, to twelve months in the city jail.

Commodore Rogers, a well-known citizen of Amherst, died yesterday morning of paralysis; aged seventy years.

James Cass, residing in Glasgow, bears the distinction of being the oldest inhabitant in Amherst county. He will be ninety years old on the 13th of June and has eighteen children, and his descendants number one hundred and ten. He is physically one of the best men in the county and very active. He is also a quiet and unobtrusive man, yet very entertaining in conversation and full of reminiscences.

News Notes.

Lord Acton is considered the most learned man in England. He is a Roman Catholic, and in addition to his barony has a baronetcy. His library contains no less than 100,000 volumes, all of which are carefully selected, and number among them some very rare books.

The huntsmen of Southern Oregon are engaged in the wanton slaughter of deer. It is said that in the vicinity of Kerbyville, Josephine county, the skinned carcasses of deer are sometimes so thick in the county roads that teams are compelled to stop while the driver pulls them aside.

The regular south-bound freight train on the California and Oregon railroad broke in two two miles north of Delta, Cal., at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. Two light engines struck the caboose, driving it through the coach, and pinning Conductor D. G. Gale in the wreck. Fire broke out immediately, burning Conductor Gale to a crisp.

George Flemming, a farmer living between Hanover, Pa., and Westminster, attempted suicide on Sunday night by taking a large dose of corrosive sublimate. His throat, stomach, and intestines were horribly burned by the poison, and very little hope is entertained for his recovery. The reason he gives for the rash act is that his farm was heavily mortgaged and being unable to pay the interest on the same was afraid of foreclosure proceedings being instituted. He has a family of eight children, nearly all of them quite small.

Maryland Matters.

The stockholders of the Annapolis Electric-Light Company, it is said, will manufacture gas under a new process. Reports make a good showing for the nine months the Annapolis Electric Company has been in operation.

While the steamer Kent, bound to Easton from Baltimore, was off Sharp's Island Tuesday morning a steam-valve blew out. The main and saloon decks were soon filled with steam and a cry of fire was made and the frightened passengers left their staterooms. It was soon found, however, there was no danger. One of the firemen, a colored man, was very badly, and it is feared, fatally scalded.

FROM THE SEA-SHORE

THE NEWS IN NORFOLK AND PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY.

Capitalists Satisfied—He was Successful in Norfolk—The Dismal Swamp, &c.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, VA., April 3, 1890.

A party of Portsmouth business-men who have been investing in Glasgow and the Southwest have returned home from a tour of inspection and investigation and are well satisfied with the outlook, and say they never saw such a booming country as that portion of Virginia through which they passed. They have great faith in the future of Virginia and are arousing an interest in the up-country section of the State never felt here before. In Norfolk a strong influence in Southwest development has been active for some time, and considerable capital is flowing from the seaboard to the mountains and reaching over the line into Tennessee.

SUCCESSFUL.

The clothing drummer who has been working the Plymouth Rock Pants Company racket all over the State was very successful in Norfolk and Portsmouth in the early part of March. Here he represented the Washington branch of the house and secured quite a lot of advance money on the orders taken. He carried a well-stored grip of handsome samples, illustrated circulars, patent measuring apparatus, etc., and made a fine, business-like display in securing trade.

DISMAL SWAMP.

Reports from the farms in the Dismal swamp state that the frost yesterday morning badly damaged the Irish-potato crop on the low grounds. The truckers were not injured much.

Mrs. J. K. Barney, of Providence, R. I., the national superintendent of jail and prison work, is laboring here in the interest of her department.

At the annual meeting of Stonewall Camp, Confederate Veterans, last night George W. R. McDonnell was elected commander and the camp resolved to attend in a body the unveiling of the Lee statue in May. Next Wednesday night the camp will have a reunion and banquet at Masonic Temple.

Mr. Charles P. Fitchett, ex-mayor's clerk, beat Colonel George A. Martin for the custom-house and to-day received his commission as cashier.

The locomotive wrecked and ruined and sunk in the mud by the collision on the Atlantic and Danville railroad on Tuesday night was a new one just purchased by the company.

Only the Cotton Exchange and schools will close to-morrow in observing Good Friday.

The Florida season having closed, the northern yachts are now all passing through on their way home.

All the colored ministers in this section belonging to the African Methodist Episcopal Conference are closing up their pastoral work, and ministers and delegates leave next week for Danville, where the next Conference assembles.

A stranger named Frailey was arrested here to-day and committed for examination for swindling Captain William Scott out of $40.

Two more Democratic clerks were fired from the navy-yard to-day, recently-appointed Republicans reporting for duty.

NAVY-YARD.

A large force of calkers will be taken in the navy-yard to-morrow morning to calk the decks of the new cruiser Baltimore.

About three hundred marble tombstones arrived here to-day to mark the graves of the Federal soldiers buried in the cemetery at the United States Naval Hospital, but there are not enough to mark the forty or fifty Confederate soldiers' graves.

Peculiar

To itself in many important particulars, Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from and superior to any other medicine.

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be induced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get
