BIG DAMAGES ASKED.

MR. SWEENEY SUES MR. KELLY FOR $10,000 FOR ALLEGED LIBEL.

Two Hung Juries—The News of the Courts Yesterday—City Hall Gossip, Personals, Etc.

Suit was instituted in the Law and Equity Court yesterday by James Sweeney, the well-known liveryman, against John Kelly, the junk dealer, for $10,000 damages for alleged libel.

Mr. L. O. Wendenburg, who, as counsel for Mr. Sweeney, brought the action, only filed a memorandum, though it is learned that the suit is instituted to cover injury alleged to have been received by Sweeney because of certain publications concerning him by Kelly.

It will be remembered that some time back the defendant advertised for sale in a ludicrous way certain judgments held by him against the liveryman. It is understood that this forms the basis of the suit.

CAUGHT AT THE CAPITOL.

A Petition Turned Down—Senator Stubbs Left for Once.

The Governor yesterday refused to remove the political disabilities of George Scott (colored), who in March was released from the penitentiary after serving a term of two years for housebreaking. The Governor endorsed on the petition that Scott had been out of the penitentiary too short a time to justify an opinion being formed as to his future conduct.

Senator Stubbs of Gloucester, was at the Capitol yesterday. Mr. Stubbs is one of the joint committee of the Virginia Legislature appointed to investigate jointly with a similar committee of the Maryland Legislature the fight between the Chesapeake and Maryland dredgers in Tangier sound. When asked why he did not go with his committee on their recent trip he said the steamer on which he sailed to meet the Chesapeake got storm-bound and he missed the connection at Old Point. He then went to Crisfield, Maryland, but arrived there after the two committees had met and adjourned. This is one of the few times in his life that the Senator from Gloucester has been left on the oyster question. He has generally gotten there unanimously, enthusiastically, eloquently, and combatively, and with both feet.

Mr. John R. Taylor, Clerk of Hanover, called at the Auditor's office yesterday.

GOV. CARR'S MANSION

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE ON THE GROUNDS.

The Interior Beautiful and the Furniture Rare and Costly—Moonshiners Fool Revenue Officials.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 14.—(Special.)—Many convicts are now at work on the grounds of the Governor's Mansion. The trees, which were unsightly oaks, have, with one exception, been removed. All were old and decayed. The grounds are being regraded and turfed. The improvements will add greatly to the appearance of the place. The interior of the Mansion is very beautiful. In the dining-rom is an exquisite buffet, which, in 1860, was purchased by Governor Ellis. There is also considerable silverware of handsome design, which was on board the blockade-runner Advance when the State purchased the latter. There is also a fine mirror which came from the same vessel. There are some other mirrors which were in use in the old Mansion, or "palace," as it used to be called, of which Governor Vance was the last Executive occupant. The Mansion, large as it is, is very home-like, and Governor Carr makes a most agreeable host.

THE TABLES TURNED.

Night before last a party of four revenue officials left here for a raid in New-Light township, this county. They were in a two-horse carriage. Early yesterday morning they left their team in the woods, and went on the trail of the moonshiners. They found where the still had been, but the moonshiners had carried it off. When the party got back to their carriage, they found that the moonshiners had in their absence carried off their overcoats, the harness, etc., leaving only the carriage itself. The party had used the horses in the pursuit of the moonshiners. As they had no harness, they were compelled to pull the carriage two miles to a house, where they got harness.

SALE POSTPONED.

The sale of the Raleigh street-railway was to have taken place at noon to-day. At that hour Mr. R. T. Gray, the commissioner, announced that an upset bid of $25,000 would be required, and that unless such bid was made, under an order signed last Thursday by Judge Seymour, of the Federal Court, the sale would be postponed until May 24. The purpose of the postponement is to enable some arrangements to be perfected. The prospect is considered good for the purchase and re-equipment of the road.

Mr. A. F. Page, who invited Mr. Moody, the evangelist, to visit Raleigh, tells me he has a letter from him, in which he says his engagements will not permit him to come.

A TEDIOUS RAILROAD SUIT.

First Services in the New Presbyterian Church—Strange Noises in a Well.

GREENVILLE, N. C., April 14.—(Special.)—The prospect at this writing is that the present term of Pitt Superior Court, which has been in session two weeks to-day, will have to go over until next week and occupy a day or two of the time belonging to Franklin County Court, in this same district. The cause of this is a railroad suit that was started Thursday morning, but which it will be impossible to finish by to-night. Judge Bynum says he will continue the court until this case is disposed of.

To-morrow services will be held by Rev. J. N. H. Summerell in the new Presbyterian church, now nearing completion. Many visitors from neighboring towns are expected to be in attendance. The building is a very beautiful one, with capacity for nearly 400 people. It will not be dedicated until entirely completed and relieved of debt.

The Odd-Fellows here are preparing to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of their order on the 26th instant. An address will be delivered by Rev. J. J. Hall, D. D., of Norfolk.

A well in this town has caused some excitement by strange noises issuing therefrom. The noise is a hissing sound like steam escaping from an engine. No one has been able to ferret out the mystery.

A meeting of citizens was held here this week looking to the establishment of an electric-light plant. Another meeting will be held next week.

WINSTON, N. C., April 14.—(Special.)—News is received here that the Eagle Mills cotton factory, in Tredell county, was totally destroyed by fire April 12th at 2 o'clock P. M. The loss is placed at $15,000, with no insurance. The mill was owned and operated by Morrison, Gaither & Co. It was destroyed by Stoneman in 1865, rebuilt in 1866, and operation resumed in 1867, and carried on successfully ever since. The grist mill and twenty-five bales of cotton were also burned. The store-house, with stock of goods about 100 yards from the mill, was saved.

Colonel C. C. Haskins Dead.

BOYDTON, VA., April 14.—(Special.)—Colonel Christopher C. Haskins died very suddenly at his late residence, near town, this morning. He was 74 years of age, and was highly regarded and respected. His death was due to heart disease, which was unsuspected. He was born in this county, but the interment will be in Lunenburg county, at the old homestead.

Colonel Haskins was a zealous Mason, and an earnest Methodist, in which communion he lived and died.

He first married Miss Harriet Blackwell, of Lunenburg county. By this union there are seven children now living—Mrs. Richard Featherston, Mrs. Sallie Hite, and Mrs. F. J. Hawthorne, residing in Lunenburg; Mrs. J. J. Filepin, in Neapolis; Mr. C. Haskins, and Mrs. C. N. Williams, in Boydton, and Mrs. S. P. Crouch, in Oxford, N. C.

After he had lost his wife, he again married Miss Lucy A. Farrar, of this county. She survives him.

The Value of Experience is plainly shown in our treatment of ourselves in health and sickness. When we are well, feeling splendid, we ignore the possibility of sickness. But overwork, high living, inherited poor blood, irregular courses, etc., develop symptoms of weakness, of dyspepsia, liver complaint, and the general health fails. You should know by experience, as thousands do, that by taking
