REPORT ON THE WORK

CITY PASTORS ASSEMBLE TO TALK OVER THE MOODY MEETINGS.

Resolutions of Thanks—Prompt Payments Desired—Last Tabernacle Service—Sing to the Veterans.

The ministers of the various denominations in the city who were interested in the Moody meetings met in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon, and after listening to reports from the various committees, indulged in a love-feast, each felicitating the other on the harmony and success which had prevailed throughout the meetings and the success which had crowned their efforts on the whole undertaking. All of the denominations were well represented.

Rev. Dr. Hatcher presided. As chairman of the General Committee of Arrangements he reported that Mr. Moody had arrived in Richmond on March 20th and remained until April 12th. He referred to the great religious awakening which the city had undergone, and congratulated the chairmen of the committees on the work done by them.

SOME FIGURES GIVEN.

Mr. Tibbitts reported that 1,144 members had been enrolled in the choir, and as far as possible he reviewed the work done by the choir. Of the Christian workers 504 had offered their services, and those of the greatest experience were selected. Six hundred inquiry cards, he said, had been disposed of finally, having been turned over to the ministers and been returned by them with their reports, and several hundred were now out.

Dr. Cooper, as chairman of the Entertainment Committee, reported that Messrs. Moody and Sankey had been gratuitously entertained at the Lexington Hotel by Mrs. Atkinson, and he desired that a vote of thanks be extended her. He also commended Miss Tyson's work among the children.

Rev. Dr. Young, chairman of the Printing Committee, referred to the excellent work done by the press of the city, and of the satisfactory manner in which the reports of Mr. Moody's sermons had been made. He desired that a vote of thanks be extended the newspapers.

Dr. Hatcher testified to the energy and fidelity which had been displayed by the ushers, and Dr. Landrum gave a history of the tabernacle. He said he was approached by no less than 20,000 people who had claimed that the building was unsafe, and he was glad to be able to report that not even the slightest accident had occurred to mar the pleasures of the meetings.

ASKED TO PAY UP.

Mr. Thomas Potts, chairman of the Finance Committee, was unable to make any definite statement of the financial aspect of the meetings, from the fact that all of the money pledged had not been received. At the direction of the General committee, he prepared the following for publication:

The Finance Committee most urgently call upon all individuals to redeem their pledges, and all the churches to forward their respective assessments at once to William M. Hill, State Bank. This is necessary to enable them to meet promptly the financial obligations incident to the Moody meetings, some of which are pressing and demand speedy settlement.

RETURN THANKS.

The thanks of the General Committee were voted to the following:

To the press of the city for excellent reports of the meetings;

Mr. Hunt for plans, which Mr. Moody thought resulted in a most admirable building;

Mr. Chesterman for kindly allowing use of the building for a longer time than the contract called for;

Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical Society for the use of 1,000 chairs;

Masonic fraternity for the use of the lot;

City Council for permission to put up the building, and for a free fire-alarm station;

Mr. John Bowers for loan of stoves;

Richmond Railway and Electric Company for use of electric lights at half price;

Mr. James Lyons for drawing contracts, etc.;

The Lexington Hotel for entertainment given Messrs. Moody and Sankey;

Messrs. Mountcastle and Ritchie, cornetists, and Messrs. Herbert Reese and Reginald Walker, accompanists;

The choir, ushers, and the police.

The committee adjourned subject to call.

The Last Tabernacle Service.

The meetings at the tabernacle are now over, and the building has been stripped of all furniture. Workmen are engaged removing the 6,500 chairs which had been placed therein.

Rev. George C. Needham conducted the last tabernacle meeting Sunday afternoon, and was assisted by Mr. Jacobs and the large choir. The building was about two-thirds full, and the service was a most enjoyable one.

The meeting was opened with the rendition of "Take Time to Be Holy" by Mr. Jacobs, Messrs. Jenkins, Smith, and Simms sang "Light of the World is Jesus," after which the choir sang several hymns. The singing was interspersed with prayers offered by Rev. W. P. Hines and Rev. Dr. Landrum.

Mr. Needham read the 20th chapter of the Book of Joshua, and after prayer by Mr. Jacobs took his text from the 91st Psalm, 2: "The Lord is My Refuge." His sermon opened with a beautiful simile, the tread of which was that to a tempest-tossed soul the Lord was as much a salvation or a refuge as was a harbor to the tempest-tossed mariner. "The Lord," he said, "is not only 'a' refuge or 'the' refuge, but He is my refuge. For is He not the only refuge?" On this point the speaker elaborated at some length, and said that the Lord was not a refuge until claimed as such. He told of an incident in his life when he with his wife had been lost in a New England forest which was infested by snakes, and of their safe deliverance by farmers residing on the edge of the forest who heard his cry for help. This illustration he very forcibly applied to the lost soul being found and delivered by the Great Shepherd.

SAVED BY THE CROSS.

The speaker related an experience in the life of his brother, Rev. Thomas Needham, when that gentleman had been shipwrecked and taken captive by the Patagonians. Mr. Needham, when an apprentice in the English navy, had had the crucifix tattooed on his arm. When tied to the stake and about to be executed an old woman, desiring to save the shirt which he wore, rushed up and pulled it off his back. This revealed the cross, which stood out in bold relief on his white arm. The Patagonians, being a superstitious people, thought when they gazed upon the cross that their captive was a holy man, and they at once released him and kept him among them for months. He finally made his escape, "and," said his brother, "he owes his salvation to the shadow of the cross."

After the introduction of several more illustrations the evangelist closed his sermon with a stirring appeal for all to get under the shadow of the cross. The meeting was closed by a solo rendered by Mr. Jacobs, "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me."

SANG FOR THE VETERANS.

Immediately upon the conclusion of the services in the tabernacle the choir took cars and went to the Soldiers' Home, where with sweet music they delighted the hearts of the old soldiers.

Mr. Jacobs and the organist, Mr. Herbert Reese, were stationed on the portico of the Home chapel, and the choir, about 500 strong, were massed on the sward immediately in front thereof. Every eye was centered on Mr. Jacobs, as he gracefully wielded the baton and such volume of melody as was produced by the many sweet-voiced singers had never before rung out on the still atmosphere surrounding the Soldiers' Home.

Hymn after hymn was sung. Prayers were offered by Mr. H. O. Williams and Rev. Mr. Hines, after which the latter addressed the members of the choir, and arranged for the next meeting of the organization to be called by the Board of Directors. Ere he had concluded, a gentleman in the choir made a motion that Mr. Jacobs be made an honorary member of the organization, and that his name be enrolled at the head of the roster. The president was empowered to cast the unanimous vote of the choir in favor of this motion.

Mr. Jacobs, after expressing his appreciation of the honor in the one word, "Thanks," delivered a short talk to the veterans, in which he referred to their valiant services during the war in defence of what they thought to be the right, and urged them to enlist in the great army of the Lord, if they had not already done so, and to spend their remaining days in his service.

The address of Mr. Jacobs was brief, but very touching. At its close he requested the choir to sing one of his favorites, "God Bless You"—and it was rendered with decided spirit. A number of the singers, at the director's suggestion, repaired to the hospital and sang for the sick. Others sought the leader out in the chapel, whither he had gone to avoid the pain of saying good-by, and he was forced to shake hands for about half an hour.

Mr. Jacobs left the city yesterday morning for Salem, Mass.

Many Revivals Being Held.

The city pastors are, as a rule, putting forth zealous endeavors to carry forward the great work of revival begun by Mr. Moody and to follow up his labors by bringing into the Christian fold those in their congregations whose hearts were touched by the earnest words of the evangelist. To this end a great number of meetings are being held this week. The doors of six of the Baptist churches, two Christian, and two or more Methodist churches will be open every night, and the Gospel of Christ will be preached.

Rev. George C. Needham, Mr. Moody's efficient co-worker, is helping Dr. Hatcher at the Grace-Street Baptist holding a Bible reading at 4 o'clock each afternoon and preaching at 8 P. M. Revs. J. C. Hiden and H. A. Rigby are holding union services for the Calvary and Grove-avenue congregations. Rev. Dr. A. B. Dunaway, of Churchland, a gifted member of a gifted family, arrived last evening, and is assisting Dr. Nelson in a meeting at Fourth-Street. Rev. Dr. Hale, of Birmingham, Ala., comes to-day to preach for Dr. Cooper at the First Baptist, and Rev. W. P. Hines, of West View, and Joel T. Tucker, of East-End, are preaching nightly to their own congregations.

Rev. Jack Rosser is assisting Rev. I. J. Taylor at Laurel-Street Methodist, and great interest is being manifested. There were three services on Sunday, and twenty-three persons professed conversion. Rev. Rosser will preach every night this week. Dr. Tudor will preach at Broad-Street Methodist through the week, and so will Revs. Messrs. Moore and Omer, respectively, at Marshall-Street and the Third Christian churches.

In the Episcopal Pulpits.

On Sunday morning Bishop Whittle preached before one of the largest congregations ever assembled in Christ church. His sermon was delivered without notes, with that fervor and power for which the preacher is noted. The congregation of this church are sincerely devoted to the Bishop, and many were the expressions of gratitude that they were permitted again to hear him speak from their pulpit. The rector, Rev. Preston Nash, had prepared a class of twenty-nine for confirmation, four of whom were unavoidably absent. The Bishop confirmed twenty-four.

Rev. R. A. Goodwin, of St. John's church, preached an intensely interesting sermon Sunday morning on the subject of "Covetousness." He endeavored to show how covetousness was carried into business life, and how wrong it was that this should be done. The discourse was an earnest and impressive exposition of the truths of the Gospel upon this sin.

The theme upon which Rev. Dr. John K. Mason, of St. James church, preached in the morning was "Fighting for Christ." His subject was handled in a masterly manner. He presented in impressive language the idea that followers of the Lord must battle with sin. There must be no compromise. God made no concessions with sin, and His children must make none.

Rev. Mr. Kuyk baptized two children at Wesleyan-Memorial church Sunday morning.

Rev. P. P. Phillips, of Berryville, Va., has accepted a call to St. Paul's church, Alexandria, Va., and will take charge about the middle of May.

Special Services on Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Landrum preached a special sermon to the "Guard of the Commonwealth," Company C, of the regiment, Sunday night at the Second Baptist church. About forty-five men were in line under Captain George P. Shackelford, First-Lieutenant John B. Halstead, and Second-Lieutenant R. F. Morris. Dr. Landrum's subject was "Obedience to Orders," and the sermon was a very fine one. Rev. Mr. Needham preached at this church Sunday morning.

Rev. Dr. G. H. Ray preached in the morning at Union-Station church on "Moving the Hindrances to the Success of the Gospel," and at night on "The Prodigal Son." One person was received into church fellowship. Dr. Ray conducted the funeral services of Mr. W. T. Pearman from this church in the afternoon, and the Masonic ceremonies at Oakwood, led by Mr. R. L. Hechler, master of Lodge No. 170, A. F. and A. M., were very impressive. There was a very large attendance of Masons and friends.

Rev. James W. Moore, pastor of St. James Methodist church, preached the first of a series of sermons yesterday morning on "The Great Enemy of the Church," selecting as his text a part of the 3d and 4th verses of the 12th chapter of Revelations: "And behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his head. And his tail drew the third part of the stars of Heaven, and did cast them to the earth."

The Baptist City Missionary Society held its monthly meeting Sunday afternoon at Barton Heights. Quite a number of Christian workers attended the session.

The services at nearly all of the churches Sunday were of a revival nature. The weather was beautiful, and large congregations were the rule. At Park-Place Methodist Dr. Young preached in the morning on "A Plea for Boys and Young Men," and his subject at night was, "The Young Man Needed by the Times."

Rev. John J. Clopton, of Manchester, will preach a special sermon on Odd-Fellowship at Old-Market Hall next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The service will be under the auspices of Union Lodge, No. 7.

Mr. Pearman's Funeral.

The funeral of Mr. W. T. Pearman, whose death on Friday was reported in the Dispatch, took place from Union-Station church Sunday afternoon, and was largely attended. Rev. Dr. George H. Ray conducted the services. The procession to Oakwood was a long one, and a very large crowd had assembled at the grave. The floral offerings were numerous and very pretty.

Nasal Catarrh

Originates in Impure Blood

Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cures

We do not need to watch intently to see or hear the victims of catarrh on every hand. The frequent cough, the blowing of the nose, the disagreeable hawking, the foul smell, and other symptoms which betray the presence of this very disagreeable disease, are noticed very generally. The disease is an inflammation of the mucous membrane. Its direct cause is impure blood. Its cure is Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I was first troubled with nasal catarrh in 1870, but it did not give me much trouble until 1880, when I became so weak that I could not do any kind of manual labor. I moved from this state to Mississippi thinking I might find some relief. At the same time I was undergoing treatment for my complaint. After a short time I returned to Texas and continued doctoring for the disease but did not realize any benefit. I was very low when I decided that I would

and I am compelled to state that before I had taken all of the first bottle I felt a radical change. The terrible headache spells had left me and my appetite had come back. I felt that I was going to get well so I purchased another bottle and felt so much better after taking it that I again replenished my supply. I am now using the fifth bottle and thank God, for I feel Like a New Man.

Any who wish to learn more concerning my case may address me and enclose stamped envelope and I will gladly tell them all." JOHN W. RATCLIFF, Garvin, Texas.
