

The National Whig

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 27, 1847.

FOR PRESIDENT, IN 1848,
MAJOR GENERAL
ZACHARY TAYLOR.
OF LOUISIANA,
THE HERO OF
PALO ALTO, RESACA DE LA PALMA,
MONTEREY,
AND Buena Vista.

Subject to the decision of the Whig National Convention.

Mr. T. M. Kimber is no longer an Agent for the National Whig.

NOTICE.—Persons indebted to the National Whig for advertisements, are respectfully requested to make payment either to the Proprietor in person, or to Mr. G. L. Gilchrist, who is our sole Agent, and whose receipts alone will be recognized by us as valid.

The city of Mexico was declared by President Anaya to be in a state of siege on the 1st of May, and under martial law.

The U. S. sloop of war Portsmouth has captured the towns of San Jose, San Lucas, La Paz, and Loreto, all on the peninsula of California. They surrendered at discretion.

The best joke of the season that we have seen is, that Com. Perry has been ordered by Mr. Polk to prevent Santa Ana's escape from Mexico, and to take him dead or alive! Mr. Polk is getting savage. Stand out of the way!

On the 12th instant a party of eleven American dragoons were surprised, 14 miles from Vera Cruz, by a Mexican guerilla band, and all put to the sword but four. Captain Walker was sent in pursuit with his 100 rangers. It seems that the American party were all asleep but the sentinel, and his gun having missed fire, he was killed before the alarm could be given.

The volunteers and the Jalapans have had several severe rows and fights, and the result is—that the former always suffer from the Mexican knife, as they are generally on a high horse when they begin these emutes.

The Louisville Journal is kind enough to say of the National Whig that it is a "new and brilliant paper." Thank you, friend Prentice for your opinion. It is worth having.

Gen. Pillow has arrived at Nashville, on his way to Washington. He bears despatches from General Scott to the Government, but intends visiting his home before he comes on. "Take your time, Miss Lucy!"

G. T. Edwards, a Taylor Democrat, has taken the field in the Green River District against B. L. Clark, a Polk Tory, for the next Congress.

Gen. Cushing has no experience in battle. He has yet to smell sulphur. N. Y. Globe.

So have you—if not in this world, certainly in the next.

The "Spy in Washington" of the New York Courier and Enquirer is positive that a peace will follow Mr. Trist's mission to Mexico. We doubt it.

We have news from the Kaffir war in South Africa up to the 20th of February. The Kaffirs, like the Mexicans, though whipped by the British every day, won't stay whipped.

The editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel will oblige us by sending to the National Whig the number of his paper containing the list of all the newspapers published in Wisconsin.

The Pontiac, Mich. Jacksonian, a Democratic paper, says, that it has no doubt, but that General Taylor is a GOOD MAN. Stick a pin there!

General Paterson reports at New Orleans, that Gen. Scott's disposable force does not exceed 6000 men.

The Mexican diligences or stages were robbed as many as seven times a day near the city of Mexico.

The Washington correspondent of the N. York Evening Post, (Tory) says that a change of operations in the field has been decided on by Mr. Polk; that Gen. Taylor is to be kept on the defensive; that Scott is to occupy the capital and to keep open the road from the capital to Vera Cruz. This correspondent appears to be another Mr. Grund, so cautiously does he speak!

The people of Dubuque, Iowa, met on the 1st inst. in council, and resolved that Mr. Polk's administration did not possess their confidence or approval, and then nominated by acclamation the Hero of Buena Vista for the next Presidency. The Dubuque Tribune comes to us with his flag flying.

PRAYER FOR MR. POLK.—We commend the following form of prayer to Mr. Polk, and his prayerless cabinet, as peculiarly applicable in the present state of things:

"We humbly and fervently implore the All-mighty Disposer of events to avert from our land War and Usurpation, the scourges of mankind; to permit our fields to be cultivated in peace; to instil into the nations the love of friendly intercourse; to suffer our youth to be educated in virtue; and to preserve our morality from the pollution invariably incident to the habits of war; to prevent the laborer and the husbandman from being harassed by taxes and impost; to remove from ambition the means of disturbing the Commonwealth; to annihilate all pretensions for power afforded by war; to maintain the Constitution; and to bless our nation with tranquillity, under whose benign influence we may reach the summit of happiness and glory, to which we are destined by Nature and Nature's God."

Senator Cameron's TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF GEN. TAYLOR. THE DEMOCRATS FORSAKING THE TORIERS. MIDDLETOWN, Pa. April 25, 1847.

"Dear Sir—Your paper of last week was handed me this morning, and reminds me of a promise to put in writing what I said to you the other day in regard to General Taylor.

"I have several acquaintances who know the old General well, and I met, since the battle of Buena Vista, one, a distinguished citizen of Kentucky, who lived beside him for many years. This gentleman was recently the democratic candidate for a high office. He says that General Taylor has been a democrat all his life, and this agrees with all my information on the subject. His father was one of the Electors who gave the vote of Virginia to Mr. Jefferson. He was the personal and political friend of Gen. Jackson, and the firm supporter of his administration and measures. In 1808, he was stationed in this place on a recruiting service, and he is still remembered by some of our citizens, who speak of him with pleasure, and say that he was then a supporter of Simon Snyder. He entered the army in early life, and has never been a politician—nor has he ever had any connection with the machinery of party or with wire-working politicians—but he has always kept up an acquaintance with the leading measures of the day, and his enquiring mind is a store with a thorough knowledge of the whole system of our government. No man has a greater reverence for the will of the people and none have shown a greater desire to elevate and sustain humble men of intellect to a merit."

"I have before me a letter from a friend at Monterey, who fought by his side in more than one field, dated March 11, 1847, who speaks of him in these words: 'Gen. Taylor has arrived since the above was written. He is simple and unostentatious as a child—plain as a pike-staff—honest and unpretending—brave as a Caesar—and as firm and determined as adamant. He has strong good sense—he is unassuming, but useful. His sense is of the cast-iron kind, not shining, but solid, and altogether practical. He is the least showy, unartificial general or subaltern, that is or ever was in the American army. He has a power and an influence over men, whether individuals or armies, that is irresistible. All around him have a consciousness of security and safety, while he is with them. It is this moral power, this magic of the mind, which made his four thousand men superior to twenty thousand well-disciplined troops.'

"If I have not, my dear sir, said enough to convince you that General Taylor is a good Democrat, of the Jeffersonian, Snyder, Jackson school, I shall be glad to hear what will make a Democrat.

Sincerely your friend,
SIMON CAMERON.

Col. SAMUEL D. PATTERSON,
Editor Norristown Register.

The above remarkable letter is the production of one of the present United States Senators from the State of Pennsylvania, and we place it on record for several reasons. 1. Because it is the testimony of a gentleman who belongs to the Democratic party, that General Taylor has "a thorough knowledge of the whole system of our government," and that "no man has a greater reverence for the will of the people" than the old Hero. 2. Because, by the testimony of Mr. Cameron, Gen. Taylor is not a Democrat of the POLK SCHOOL, of which Mr. Cameron himself is not. 3. Because Mr. Cameron adduces in support of his testimony in favor of Gen. Taylor's "thorough knowledge of our whole system of government" the evidence of Major General Butler, who is the distinguished citizen alluded to by Mr. Cameron. 4. Because it is the testimony of a United States Democratic Senator, that Gen. Taylor has "strong good sense" "of the cast iron kind, solid, and altogether practical." 5. Because it is the evidence of a Democrat, that Gen. Taylor possesses an irresistible power, an influence over men's minds, and is a homely, unpretending, firm and determined republican.

The possession of these qualifications and qualities, certified to by a high-minded and honorable Democrat as Mr. Cameron is, would be proof enough to us, if we had no other evidence, that the old Hero is a true, genuine, staunch Whig; and if the Democracy of Mr. Cameron, and his witness, Major General Butler, is satisfied with the standard here set up by them, it is only another proof, among the many proofs daily evincing themselves, that the true Democracy of the several States is rapidly separating itself from Polkism, which is only another name for Toratism, and uniting itself with the Whigs of the country, who are the only practical, real Democrats of the day. But Whiggery or no Whiggery, Democracy or no Democracy, the Hero of the Mexican war will be the next President; and every attempt to show that he is of this party or of that, of this way of thinking or of that, amounts to nothing. The people—the glorious, REAL people—are determined to make him their chief magistrate, and all the politicians in the country may as well follow the example of Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Cameron, Gen. Butler, Judge French, and a thousand others, and frame their own excuses in time to get their boats out into the rushing stream of popular favor; for the hour is fast approaching when he who will dare to oppose the tide of the public will in this matter of Taylor and the Presidency will be swept away:

"Even as fragments of rubbish into the ocean."

Major Lee with one company of the 7th and two of the 15th infantry, left New Orleans on the 18th instant for Vera Cruz. Col. Andrews' volunteers, with Captain Blair's company and a detachment of the same regiment and one company of dragoons embarked also from New Orleans for Brazos on the 19th inst.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Delta from Jalapa, May 11, says of the orange grove at the British Consul's residence near that town—"The trees, some three hundred in number, are filled with green fruit—and such a fragrance! oh, it is too delicious for a volunteer to mention! In the centre of the orchard, under a fine tree, with a bunch of roses by my side, I am now—killing fleas!! having dropped the pen to commence the work of death."

But the President did not undertake to weaken General Taylor's force. The Secretary of War had submitted the military arrangements to the discretion of General Scott. For the withdrawal, therefore, of any portion of Gen. Taylor's force, the responsibility is not with the Administration, but is, on the contrary, with General Scott. Tory Union.

General Scott, when ordered to hold himself in readiness to take command of the Army of Invasion in May, 1846, refused to repair to the field until he received written orders to that effect. For this refusal the Union and its kindred prints denounced the Hero of Cerro Gordo without stint, and ridiculed him to the top of their bent as Marshal Turenne, &c. Is it a supposable case, therefore, that General Scott would take upon himself the responsibility of stripping General Taylor of nearly the whole of his army and leaving the Old Hero exposed to Santa Ana's force? The assertion of the Union is preposterous. But not only is it preposterous—it is untrue. General Scott has the written orders of the Government for depriving Taylor of his soldiers, and those orders will see the light quite in time to convict the Union for the thousandth time of wilful misrepresentation.

In the policy which dictates our present war with Mexico the Administration has never wavered. Tory Union.

The sober man is never half so certain that he walks straight as the drunken man is. It is very natural, therefore, for the Tory Organ, drunk with the rich spoils of office, to insist that the Administration has never wavered in its Mexican war policy, when there is not a man, woman, or child, in the Union, who has not laughed with contempt at the constant and violent tossings and changes of the Government in this respect.

It demands full reparation for past outrage and adequate guaranties against future injuries as the basis of an honorable peace. It demands nothing more. It makes no war against Mexican nationality. It wages no conflict against Mexican institutions, either civil or religious. It seeks indemnity and justice, not conquest nor subjugation. Tory Union.

Is the Union so stupid as to imagine that people are so blind as not to see, that "reparation for past outrage and adequate guaranties against future injuries," are demands which Mexico never will, nay, never can, submit to, without producing the extinction of Mexican nationality and Mexican institutions, without the conquest and subjugation of that country?

The Tory Union dares the press to assert directly, that the Administration was willing to sacrifice General Taylor at Buena Vista to the arms of Santa Ana, in order that the Mexican General, availing himself of the influence which such a victory would give him, might, in pursuance of a previous arrangement or understanding with our Government, conclude satisfactory terms of peace. The Public Ledger of Philadelphia, and the Sun of Baltimore have dared to make this identical, direct assertion. See Washington correspondence of these papers by Francis J. Grund, Esq.—passim.

PROSPECTS OF PEACE, like the Ignis Fatuus, vanish as we near the Capital of Mexico. The New Orleans Delta well informed of every thing relating to the war says, that the "report that a deputation had invited Gen. Scott to the capital, was unfounded. At present there is nothing to indicate any immediate prospect of peace, or a disposition to quietly surrender the city, nor is there any thing to betoken a vigorous defence. The probability now is that Gen. Scott will not proceed farther than Puebla until he is reinforced." Mr. Trist had arrived at Vera Cruz at the last dates, and was off post-haste to Gen. Scott's Head Quarters. Whether his presence will make the enemy more disposed to peace, remains to be seen! There is no doubt, but that he is empowered in connection with Scott to use the three million apiece, but will they sell their country for gold? If they do not come to terms on the appearance of Mr. Trist and after the occupation of the Capital we have every reason to believe, that the whole character of the war will be openly changed. It will then be proclaimed to be a war for the "conquest of Mexico," which it has always been under the guise of a war for the "conquest of peace." Then will commence the sequestration of the Church property, &c.

REVELATIONS.—Mr. Grund, the able and frank Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun announces that the regular government is regarded by our government as dissolved in Mexico; that the guerrillists will all be hung when they can be caught alive, that the Administration have the means not only of continuing the war at the cost of Mexico but to make ourselves paid for our previous outlay and that it is not to be frightened from this, its purpose, by scarecrows, and that the article headed "Mexico" in the Union of Friday last was written by one of the Cabinet.

Peace, says the New Orleans Picayune, has no organ in Mexico city. War, and war only—as it was waged in days gone by—was the only cry.—Death rather than negotiation was the feeling. Every man who speaks of peace is declared a traitor.—The war cry was "Perish the Anglo-Saxon! Perish the Yankees." What can Mr. Trist hope to effect where such is the sentiment of the people? The truth is, neither he nor the President hopes to effect any thing by the mission. It is only a pretence for another move on the chess-board. Mark our prediction!

The newspapers are filled with suicides just now.

Unless measures of a strong character are immediately adopted, says the Jalapa Star, we need expect no yielding on the part of the present rulers of Mexico. Impose a heavy tax upon them, and compel them to sustain the American Army during the balance of its stay upon their soil, and you will soon see a different result.

SANTA ANA. This general is a great favorite with the Whig party. Louisville Democrat. Ha! ha! ha! Was it the Whig party, says Prentice, that gave him a pass through the United States blockade! Was it the Whig party that smuggled him into Mexico and relied on him for bringing about a peace between his own country and the U. States by whipping Old Zach?

FURNITURE.—We refer our readers to Mr. Reeve's advertisement in another part of the paper. Mr. R. has always enjoyed the reputation of turning out good work. He has on hand a splendid selection, and they who would buy at cheap prices the best articles, should not fail to give him a call. Our word for it, they will not go away without parting with some of their argent.

CITY ITEMS.

PUFF—PUFF, PUFF!—Ho ye who love the weed, who love to see the curling smoke just above your eyebrows, go to the depot on the Avenue advertised in another column. There you will find all sorts of prime segars from the Norma up to Isabella. And snuff too! oh, but he's up to the best snuff. And his mouth pieces are done up with perfect sugar—so say those who indulge in these bonnie bouches. Try, we say, this store and you'll be sure to try it again.

Cows, Cows, Cows.—If there is a pest in this city, it is the cows, it is the cows,—but poor things, they are always half-starved, and their owners are too stingy to provide for their wants. They go about and congregate near where they can see a lot of green grass and then set up such a howling as to shock the nerves of the whole neighborhood. This happens not only in the day but in the silent shades of the night to the annoyance of all peaceable honest and cow-providing people, while the cow-neglecting folks sleep under the howling of their starving beasts as though they neither had ears or consciences,—which last we suspect is the case. Why does not the council make a law to forbid the running at large of cows? They ought to do it at once if they have any bowels of compassion for the starving and lowing cows and any regard for people's rest and comfort.

MARKETS, &c.—Prices of eatables are beginning to find something like a level with people's pockets, but they are yet too far above the purses of the laboring poor who make up the mass of society. Here are some of them: Beef 8 to 12 cents a pound; veal the same; lamb and mutton 8 to 10 cents a pound; chickens, very scarce, from 18 to 31 cents a piece. Wheat bread 5 cents for 15 ounces; rye bread the same; corn meal $1 to $1 25 per bushel of 48 pounds; potatoes 37 to 50 cents a peck; peas 31 cents a peck; strawberries 25 to 37 cents a quart; early York cabbages 12 cents a head and small at that. Every thing else in this proportion. Pork and lard is 12 cents a pound, and this a swine growing region too! Well-a-day—these prices can't always continue. There's some comfort in that, even, if we starve in the interim. We had almost forgot to say that butter is now from 25 to 31 cents.

ADAMS & CO'S EXPRESS.—See advertisement in another column for particulars of removal of this useful and go-ahead concern to their new and spacious office on the Avenue between 2d and 3d streets. We are ready to pit this establishment against any in the country for speed, promptitude and readiness to oblige. If we had the naming of it we would call it the Phaeton Express from its swiftness and punctuality. The intelligent and obliging agent is always on hand to accommodate the public. May his shadow never grow less, and may the silver wheels of fortune continue to clink in his ear until he is sated with their music!

Circuit Court.—Mr. Bradley concluded his argument, in the case of Sickle and Cook vs. Alexandria, Georgetown, and Washington Steam Packet Company, yesterday afternoon. The jury did not agree on a verdict until this morning when they found for the plaintiff—$1800, with interest from the ninth of November 1845.

John C. Harkness survivor of Alexander Shepherd vs. B. F. Middleton. This is an action on a building contract. The plaintiff erected a building for defendant, for which, the contract stipulated, he should receive such sum as should be deemed just by competent referees. The plaintiff received in part payment a house valued at $5000 and $2000 in cash, but claims an additional allowance which claim the defendant resists. James M. Carlisle and H. H. Dent for plaintiff; Joseph H. Bradley and R. Wallace for defendant.
