ITS ANNUAL REUNION.

OUTING OF OTEY BATTERY ASSOCIATION TAKES PLACE TO-DAY.

WILL FEAST AT OLD PUMP-HOUSE.

Something of the Organization—List of the Survivors of the Historic Command—Many Members from a Distance Will Be Here.

The annual reunion of the Otey Battery Association will be held at the Old pump-house to-day. It will be an all-day outing, and every veteran of that historic command will be assured a good time. The day will be devoted to renewing old friendships, talking over war times, and indulging in quiet amusements, under the shade of the big trees which surround the Old pump-house. Light refreshments will be dispensed throughout the day, and at 3 o'clock an excellent dinner will be served.

Only about forty members of Otey Battery are still alive, and about twenty-five of this number reside in Richmond. It is expected that all these will attend the reunion, and many who live a distance from here have written that they would be here for the occasion.

The Otey Battery Association was organized over twenty years ago, and is the only individual company association to erect in this city a monument to its own dead, without outside assistance. This monument is the splendid shaft which stands opposite General Pickett's memorial in Hollywood Cemetery.

The entertainment at the Old pump-house to-day will be one which the old "vets" will enjoy.

The committee who are in charge of the arrangements consists of Mr. Montgomery West (chairman) and Messrs. George Watt Taylor, W. H. Stratton, T. R. Thompson, C. C. Baughman, R. T. Briggs, and Julian Binford.

Anniversary of Big Bethel.

To-day is the anniversary of the battle of Bethel, the first general engagement of land forces of the war.

How many of the old First North Carolina, Fifteenth Virginia, and Richmond Howitzers can now recall the events—the early breakfast; the march to the field; the getting ready; the masked battery; the listening for the approach of the enemy; their first drum-beat; the sound as it approached nearer and nearer; the enemy's firing into each other at Little Bethel by mistake as they met at that point, approaching by different roads; the driving in of the pickets; how the Yanks looked when they emerged from the road into the field in full view, and the "Up, guards, and at 'em!" shout of the Confederates as they raised and delivered a volley, followed by the screeching of shell from the Howitzers? And the battle was on!

How many can now recall their feelings of thirty-six years ago to-day!

NOT A DISORDERLY HOUSE.

Policeman Baker Fails to Make His Case Against Ethel Ford.

One of the most interesting cases heard in the Police Court in some time was that of Ethel Ford, a white woman, which was called yesterday, and after a most searching examination, was dismissed. Ethel was charged with keeping a disorderly house at the corner of Tenth and Cary streets. The warrant upon which the woman was arrested was sworn out and served by Officer William H. Baker, of the Second District. There were on hand a large number of witnesses, all of whom gave testimony in favor of the accused, except Mr. Baker himself.

The woman was represented by Mr. Matthew F. Maury, who had about twenty witnesses, the effect of whose evidence was that the house was an orderly one. Mr. Baker testified that while on duty last Wednesday night he was told by a man named Rush that there would be some fun at Tenth and Cary streets. He said he went there and saw a woman come out of the house, go to Bennett's stable, shake the door, and demand to be let in. She was disorderly, but he did not arrest her. He also said he saw a woman catch a man in the collar and curse him, and then lead him around the corner, but he did not arrest her. He told Justice Crutchfield that the reason why he did not take steps at that time was that he hoped to catch others who were in the house.

Officer Clarkson, one of the Commonwealth's witnesses, said he passed the place about the time of the alleged disturbance, and that he only saw Policeman Baker talking to a woman. Twelve or fifteen other police officers testified that the house was a quiet and orderly one, and Sergeant Cosby said that it was a surprise to him to see the woman brought into the station-house on a warrant sworn out by Policeman Baker, because Captain Angle's orders were that he should know of cases of this sort. He said that the house was an orderly one.

Once during the examination Mr. Baker appealed to the court for protection from Attorney Maury. He was told by his Honor that he would get all the protection he deserved.

The Justice promptly dismissed the case.

There appear to be no grounds for the supposition that Mr. Baker will be arraigned before the Police Board in connection with this matter.

Old Dominion Club Asks When a Meeting Will Be Held.

A regular session of the Old Dominion Democratic Club was held at Thon's Hall last night. President W. W. Wood filled the chair, and the attendance was fairly good. Three new members were elected.

The advisability of running an excursion to Norfolk upon the occasion of Hon. William Jennings Bryan's lecture there was discussed at considerable length. A committee, composed of Messrs. C. Manning, Jr., H. C. Adams, and J. E. Driscoll, was appointed to look into this matter, as well as the expediency of running an excursion to Roanoke when the Democratic convention assembles there.

The secretary was instructed to communicate with Mr. Jefferson Wallace, president of the Powhatan Club, and request him to ascertain from the Good Government League the date set for the next meeting of the conference committees on charter changes, and also whether or not they would bring in the report on the changes they will recommend in the city charter, and to advise the club of the result of his efforts.

There will be a meeting of the John W. Daniel Democratic Club at No. 1817 east Main street to-night.

WINNING OF SOULS.

MR. GOOTEE, OF MARYLAND, ON CHRISTIAN WORK.

THE HIGHEST INTENTION OF GOD.

No Luxury in the Christian Life Like Leading a Soul to Jesus—Interesting Discourse at Broad-Street Mission.

Mr. Charles H. Gootee, of Maryland, spoke to an appreciative audience last night at Broad-Street Mission. His theme was Christian work and his text was from Proverbs xi., 30—"He that winneth souls is wise." He said: I am certain that Christians make a great mistake in not studying this highest intention of God in their lives. That God has a higher plan than that of saving us is true, and I am sure that He has saved us that we may lead others to Himself, and the Christian who is taken up with nursing his or her own experience makes a mistake. There is no luxury in the Christian life like leading a soul to Jesus, and he that winneth souls is wise. And again, we are told in the 12th chapter of Daniel, 3d verse: "They that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament, and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever."

TO WIN A SOUL.

1. We must be fully and completely saved ourselves with a joyful and glad salvation. We must believe for a complete work in us, then take our eyes off of our own heart and be occupied with the saving of others. I was in the Young Men's Christian Association in Baltimore, and the young men were discussing the best method of bringing souls to Christ, and it would come out again and again in their talks that they themselves were not satisfied with their own experiences. A gentleman arose and said: "The very best and chiefest thing in the work is to be fully saved thyself."

2. We must understand human nature, for there are no two cases alike. The colleges and theological seminaries are turning out a lot of young men who are well educated, but know nothing of human nature, because they do not mingle with men (but books) to hear and see the common needs of them, and learn the hindrances that keep them away from Christ. No Christian worker can be excused for not knowing human nature, nor can any be successful who does not study the heart of the sinner whom he seeks to bring to the Saviour.

3. Know your Bible and how and where to find a promise or a passage to suit the case you deal with. The age in which we live is the time of side-tracking the Bible. We can hear a long sermon or a talk from many preachers and workers with little or none of God's Word in it. We are the agents, and the Word is the instrument the Holy Spirit uses to bring conviction and light to the soul out of Christ. I am certain that there is too much dependence in one way and not enough in another on the Holy Spirit in our work. We should work for the conversion of a soul as though there was no Holy Spirit, and then trust the Holy Spirit as though we had done no work at all. The Word is the sword of the Spirit, and the only sword He uses. Then we must believe the Word ourselves. It is not what we know so much as what we know we know. When we pray, let us believe we receive the things we ask for, and look around for them when we arise from our knees.

4. Be wise, for "he that winneth souls is wise." Be natural, an attempt to copy somebody else is hypocrisy. God has made us separate and distinct from all others with an individuality all our own, and this He desires to use to bring others to Himself. There is nothing so disgusting as to be talking naturally to some preacher or worker, and the moment he is in the pulpit to hear him change his voice and assume some unnatural and hypocritical manner.

Nothing wins men to us like being exactly who we are and what we are. When we can convince a child or a man that we are in love and in earnest to win their soul to Christ, we will have little trouble in bringing them to Him.

SEEK OPPORTUNITY.

The servant in your family needs Christ; your loved ones in your home need Him, and it lays in your power, if you are wise, to win them to Him.

Jesus sought an opportunity at the well to win the heart of the Samaritan woman by asking her for a drink of water, and ended at last by not only getting the water He asked for, but also the woman's heart, which He desired with passionate love, she afterwards becoming a worker and a soul-winner herself. Don't lose your opportunity.

A butcher was converted at a meeting. The next morning he thought he would start at once to win souls. A little girl came to his shop for some steak. While he stood sharpening his knife he asked her if she was ready to die? The child at once concluded he intended to kill her, and ran home. He lost his opportunity and his customer.

TESTIMONY IS POWERFUL.

In winning a soul, if I can tell a man who is overcome with drink or any other sin that Christ has saved me from that sin, it brings hope to his soul.

5. Be always at this work. Our missions and churches are full of religious loafers—loafers on God. If they would get out and get to work they themselves would be greatly blessed, and would soon bring those who know not Christ to Him. Hundreds of souls can be reached nightly for Christ in the streets of Richmond, in open-air meetings, who never enter a church. Christ will soon return—are you doing the work He gave you to do? I am not here to-night to tell you what your work is; you know your work better than I can tell you; I know mine better than any one can tell me. May we be found doing that which He has given each one to do when He returns. May God bless us all. Amen.

Why Don't You take Brown's Iron Bitters?

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

MARKET QUOTATIONS.

REPORTS FROM ALL GREAT BUSINESS CENTRES OF THE WORLD.

Prices of Money, Bonds, Stocks, Grain, Tobacco, Cotton, Cattle, Country Produce, &c., Foreign and Domestic.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The stock market proclaimed to-day with extraordinary emphasis the vitality and firmness of the improvement in values which has been achieved in the last two weeks. The resources of the bears were exhausted, and they were driven to cover losses by hasty purchases on the fast-rising scale of prices. The dealings in the last hour were characterized by great animation, and the volume of sales, which had been small for two hours previously, was brought up to a total considerably in excess of that of yesterday, which was the largest since the present period of activity in stocks. To-day's transactions in Sugar, also, were only about half as large as yesterday's, though the day's sales in that stock still footed up the enormous aggregate of over 45,000 shares. St. Paul and Burlington came next, in the order named. There were nine stocks in which the dealings exceeded 10,000 shares, and some thirty-five in which the sales exceeded a 1,000 shares. This indicates a greatly improved distribution of the dealings. The force of the rally is probably best interpreted as an assertion of confidence in the general outlook for business, and a refutation of the theory that marked reaction in the market was imperative.

It was that theory, coupled with revived rumors of crop damage in the Northwest, that incited some traders to make short sales for a decline in the morning. The move to cover, however, developed a small supply of stock offerings. The prices for the Grangers later in the day rose sufficiently to put the shorts to rout, and prices stiffened.

The special strength shown by a number of the Industrial stocks aided the general advance. The notable strength shown by a number of the low-priced shares of reorganized companies is probably attributable to the return from Europe of a prominent financier, whose influence has been paramount in these reorganizations, and who has, before this, enlisted large foreign capital in American properties. The strength of Sugar, the leader, was also a factor in the improvement. The early declines were for the most part fractional, extending to about 3-4 in the Grangers, a point in Sugar, 1-4 in New Jersey Central, and 1 7-8 in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago, and St. Louis, with only partial recovery. The rally extended to over a point, and left a substantial net gain in the cases of the Grangers, New Jersey Central, Delaware and Hudson, and the Reading issues, Manhattan, Western Union, Northern Pacific preferred, and Tennessee Coal and Iron. Sugar's rally covered 2 1-4 points.

The total sales of stocks were 265,551 shares, including American Tobacco, 15,509; American Sugar Refinery, 16,800; Burlington and Quincy, 19,869; Chicago Gas, 8,290; General Electric, 5,100; Louisville and Nashville, 5,460; Northwestern, 600; Northern Pacific, preferred, 10,100; Reading, 23,700; Rock Island, 10,600; St. Paul, 24,300; Western Union, 16,200.

The bond market was less animated, but a good undertone continued apparent, with some of the reorganization issues improving materially. The demand for foreign account was fairly moderate. The sales were $1,617,000. Government bonds ruled firm, with transactions light. The sales were $10,000.
