THE JUNK-DEALERS' TEST CASE.

Again Called Before Police Court—But Continued—Other Cases.

The test case of Clarence Cosby, the junk-dealer, was called in the Police Court yesterday morning, but at the request of Mr. H. M. Smith, Jr., who appeared as counsel for the defendant, it was continued until the 13th—next Wednesday.

Mr. Cosby was served with a State summons made out by Major Howard, Chief of Police, for not complying with a law enacted by the last General Assembly. This enactment provides that all junk-dealers shall make a report each day before a certain hour of all merchandise received, save paper, rags, and waste iron, &c. The junk-men are also required to hold their merchandise five days after it is bought.

This new law has met with strong protest among these merchants, and they are going to test it.

In the case of Emma Walker, a colored woman, charged with beating Josephine Brown, the accused was given ten days in Great Hotel de Epps.

William Dennis and George Woodson were before the throne for creating a disturbance, and were fined $2.50 each.

The case of Ernest Mimms and Joseph Foster, the two negro men charged with killing Irving Allen last Sunday evening, was again called and continued until the 14th.

In the case of Alonzo Williams (colored), charged with stabbing and killing William Stanton, the accused went on to the grand jury. The affair occurred at the city almshouse some months ago. The men were employed as cook and assistant cook in the colored department. The men were drunk and quarrelled. Williams, the younger, and a mere youth, drew a knife and stabbed Stanton. The latter died some hours after from the wound. Williams escaped, but a few days ago was located, and Sergeant Tomlinson brought him to the city.

The Next A. P. V. A. Lecture.

The last lecture of the season will be delivered before the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities by Professor Richard Heath Dabney, Saturday, the 23d, or Saturday, the 30th, in the Chamber of Commerce, at 8:15 P. M. No charge is made.

The subject will be the "Huguenot Element in Virginia's Population." Professor Dabney will analyze the essential nature of Protestantism in general, and of Calvinism in particular. He will describe the traits and habits of the French as modified by the doctrines of Calvin, with the ultimate aim of showing their influences on our Virginian population. He will point out the degree to which the French characteristics are developed in eminent Virginians. Professor Dabney's unremitting study in historical fields, added to his position as Professor of History and Political Economy at the University of Virginia, give him peculiar advantages for his theme. And since the publication of "The Causes of the French Revolution" his reputation is national.

"Is History a Science?" an address delivered before the American Historical Association, proves him the scientist in investigation, the historian in research, and the enthusiast for general knowledge. He raises history to her true position when he says "each nation's history is determined by two things—its own inform character, and the totality of circumstances in which it is placed." In painting out that while men of genius do, indeed, turn the vast energy of a nation in revolution into a particular channel, they cannot create that energy, or change the laws of its action. Napoleon was the axletreeman who, standing upon the great track of French history, deflected the rails, and sent the fiery nation upon the road to military renown. The French remain the French; there is law in history, and history is a science."

Mrs. Gill's Old Point Excursion.

Mrs. Gill's excursion to Old Point next Monday promises to be a great success. The number of inquiries she has received insures a large crowd. The train will leave the Chesapeake and Ohio Depot, at Seventeenth street, at 8:30 A. M., and will afford those who go an opportunity to spend nearly the entire day at Old Point, or in that section of the State, which is attracting so much attention during the times of exciting war-talk. The excursionists will have a good opportunity to inspect the fortifications at Old Point and to see the ships, composing the flying squadron, now at Hampton Roads. Mrs. Gill has arranged for special round-trip rates from Old Point to Norfolk, and return via Ocean View. Returning, the train will leave Old Point at 7 o'clock, and arrive here at 9:30.

The will was offered for probate, and is contested by her brother, John A. Lacy. The trial will likely occupy several days. Messrs. Henry and Williams represent the propounders of the will, and Messrs. Pleasants and Massie the contestant. The property involved is estimated to be worth about $6,000.

VIOLATIONS OF REVENUE LAWS.

Two Men Convicted of This Offence—Indictments.

Judge Waddill sat in the United States District Court yesterday. Two cases only were tried—John F. Robertson, charged with conducting an illicit distillery at Ford's Depot, and T. J. Gravelly, for the same offence, at Lawrenceville, Va. Both men were convicted, and sentenced to thirty days in jail and to pay a fine of $100 each.

The grand jury was in session, and brought in the following true bills: Mary Ellen Smith, for passing counterfeit money. Action in this case was postponed until April 14th.

James W. Price, for counterfeiting. A pair of moulds and plaster of Paris casts found in his possession are the chief witnesses.

Nat. Wallace, for having unstamped tobacco in his possession.

Sadie Hobson, for retailing liquors without a license.

THE GOVERNOR BUSY.

MUCH TIME TAKEN UP CONSIDERING PETITIONS FOR PARDON.

MR. RICHARDSON'S ANSWER FILED.

The Supreme Court to Pass on the Register Matter Without Argument—Information for Oyster and Fish Inspectors—Text Books.

There were few visitors at the Governor's office yesterday, and Governor Tyler left early in order to be with Mrs. Tyler, who has been ill for several days.

The Governor still devotes a great deal of time to considering applications for pardons; indeed, these and military matters engross the most of his time. He announced no decisions on any applications yesterday.

Governor Tyler has been asked by the chairman of the Executive Committee of the International Mining Congress to name delegates from Virginia to the session of the congress to be held in Salt Lake City, July 6th, 7th, 8th, and 9th, inclusive. The request is endorsed by Governor Heber M. Wells, of Utah. Virginia is entitled to thirty delegates.

Governor Tyler will attend Easter services at St. Peter's Cathedral, by invitation. He will attend the services at St. Paul's on Sunday, the 17th instant, on the occasion of the dedication of the Jefferson Davis memorial window.

The Governor has been invited to attend the bazaar of the Confederate Relief Association, of Baltimore, to be held from April 11th to 20th. He has not decided whether he will attend.

The Land-Register Case.

The case which the Supreme Court will be asked to decide as to whether the last General Assembly abolished the office of Register of the Land Office, transferring the duties to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, will probably be passed upon to-day or to-morrow.

Mr. Lawless, Secretary of the Commonwealth, represented by Attorney-General Montague, has filed application for a mandamus to compel the Register to give up the office, and the latter, through his attorneys, Messrs. Conway R. Sands and Henry R. Pollard, has submitted his answer. By agreement between counsel, there will be no oral or written argument, unless the court calls for it, which is not probable.

Information for Inspectors.

Mr. Seth F. Miller, of Mathews county, secretary of the Board of Fisheries, was at the Auditor's office yesterday, and obtained copies of the law passed by the last Legislature, imposing a tax on pound-nets, purse-nets, and other fishing devices, and the blanks to be used in making returns. He will distribute these among the inspectors of the Eastern Shore, and left for Norfolk last night to begin his trip for that purpose.

He will start up the east side of the bay on the steamer Chesapeake to-day. Dr. Frank Fletcher, the chairman of the board, left Old Point yesterday to proceed up the west side, distributing copies of the law among the inspectors.

Mr. Miller and Dr. Fletcher were in conference at Old Point Tuesday, mapping out plans of work.

To Select Text-Books.

The State Board of Education will not meet on the 1st of May to select textbooks for use in the public schools, as was contemplated. It may meet for this purpose at some time during the month of May, possibly not until June. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is receiving daily numerous communications from various book publishers, commending certain text-books, and many sample copies are also received.

The Payment of Pensions.

Mr. E. L. C. Scott, the pension clerk of the Auditor's office, prepared the warrants of 340 applicants yesterday and 310 the day previous. He expects to finish the work by April 20th, at the latest. There are 3,600 names on the pension rolls, and the applications of all of them have to be passed upon by Mr. Scott.

Colonel Edward Williams, who has for six years been the elevator conductor at the Capitol, will celebrate his 68th birthday to-day. During his term of service he has been absent from his post only a single day, holidays excepted.

Rheumatism Cured.

My son was afflicted with rheumatism, which contracted his right limb until he was unable to walk. After using one and a half bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm he was able to be about again. I can heartily recommend it to persons suffering from rheumatism.—JOHN SNYDER, Freed, Calhoun county, W. Va. One application relieves the pain. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.
