SECRETARY HAY'S NOTE WELCOMED BY BRITAIN.

"Fresh Evidence of Growing Disposition of United States to Take Seat in Orchestra of European Concert."

LONDON, September 19.—Secretary Hay's note to the Powers, which were signatories of the Berlin treaty of 1878, on the subject of the treatment of Jews in Roumania, which was received in London about a fortnight ago, was welcomed in British official circles. The tone of the formal acknowledgment of the receipt of the note here indicates British approval of the American initiative in this matter, and confirms the idea that Great Britain welcomes the continued intervention of the United States in affairs in which Europe is more directly concerned, in the belief that such intervention tends to indirectly strengthen the hands of the British government. Apart from this, the question of the exclusion of pauper aliens from Great Britain is growing more acute, and anti-immigration laws are demanded in many influential quarters. So, the government is in sympathy with Mr. Hay's protest, in the hope that the wholesale exportation of undesirable emigrants from Eastern Europe may be checked.

The newspapers here continue to comment on the United States note. The St. James Gazette, is a semi-humorous reference to it, says: "The European governments to whom it was addressed must have been unagreeably surprised, for the note furnishes fresh evidence of the growing disposition of the United States to take a seat in the orchestra of the European concert, which some other performers view with uneasiness."

OUR CHIEF MOTIVE HUMANITY.

After declaring that it is difficult to understand what President Roosevelt hopes to gain by the appeal to the signatories of the Berlin treaty, the St. James Gazette concludes that the chief American motive is humanity, and says: "This indicates a spirit of knight errantry, which, however creditable to a great, civilized Power, is likely to give the Americans plenty of occupation without increasing their popularity with the governments of the Old World."

Mr. Hay's contrast of the enlightened system of America and the intolerant tyranny of the surviving principalities of Europe is referred to by the St. James Gazette as "not devoid of self-complacency," and as intended for the edification of mankind. The paper refers to Mr. Hay as an "American Hamlet," who says: "Look on this picture and then on that, and consider whether Old Mother Europe should not be ashamed of herself."

The St. James Gazette suggests that South Africa would welcome the Roumanian Jews, "for whom the American government is so solicitous, and is yet so unwilling to welcome."

All Powers Informed.

The British foreign office this evening gave the Associated Press authority to announce that his Majesty's Government had communicated with all the signatory powers of the British treaty, with the view to developing their attitude and purpose and relation to Roumanian Jews, as called to the attention of the Powers by Secretary Hay.

PARIS, September 19.—Secretary Hay's note to the Powers on Roumania is widely published here, but the newspapers make no comment on it.

THEY BEAT MORGAN.

MOORE BROTHERS HAVE TIED UP ALL THE MONEY.

THEIR ROCK ISLAND SCHEME.

They Launched It While Morgan Was in Europe, and When He Returned, He Found He Couldn't Get Money for His Projects.

NEW YORK, September 19.—(Special.)—Rumors of disagreement between J. P. Morgan and Moore Brothers, who recently acquired the Rock Island railroad and have been developing that property along plans formerly pursued by Morgan in his readjustment of properties, are heard in Wall street. Morgan has been greatly chagrined at the fact that the enterprising westerners have put out their readjustment plan without notifying him at the time when he needed all available cash in Wall street to float his great shipping trust, and to carry out his scheme to combine the Louisville and Nashville, the Monon, and Southern railways.

When Morgan returned from Europe he brought the details of his shipping combination almost completely worked out. It only remained to finance the deal. To his astonishment, he found upon his arrival that Moore Brothers had launched their plan to readjust the securities of the Rock Island and had tied up all the available money in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago.

It required $30,000,000 to carry through the Rock Island plan. The plan is now complete, but the $30,000,000 is still tied up, and will not be released until late in October. The money represents all the available cash the banks and financial institutions can furnish in the present financial stringency. When Morgan discovered all this he was very angry. It is said he sent for Judge Moore and expressed himself in vigorous terms. Judge Moore simply laughed over the situation, and told Morgan he did not think the great financier had a monopoly of the money market, and he thought he had a right to float his enterprises at any time he saw fit. It is said Morgan was forced to concede this, and the interview ended pleasantly.

Nobody in New York would have dared float such a gigantic scheme as the Rock Island readjustment without first consulting Morgan. Moore Brothers, however, have acted absolutely independent of Morgan, and have actually forestalled him to a certain extent and held up his enterprises several weeks. It is believed this explains the delay in incorporating the shipping combination and the new Southern Railway Securities Company.

Moore Brothers now head one of the strongest syndicates in the country. They control $200,000,000 in cash.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME.

Residence Burned at Danville Early Yesterday Morning.

DANVILLE, VA., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—There was a serious fire here early this morning. The fire was at the home of Frank J. Fortier. Owing to the alarm being telephoned to headquarters, the fire was given time to gain considerable headway, and when the firemen arrived on the scene the house was in a bright blaze. The piano and parlor furniture escaped damage.

The fire originated in the rear of the house, but the cause is not known. Mr. Fortier is not in the city, and his wife had a most narrow escape. She was awakened by the smoke, and just had time to arouse the servant and her child. The house belongs to W. M. Steger. The loss is estimated at $1,500, with insurance to cover it.

MYSTERY IS SOLVED.

Murder of Mrs Annie Pulitzer Traced to New York.

NEW YORK, September 19.—The mystery of the murder of Mrs. Annie Pulitzer, whose nude body was found in the Morris canal near Jersey City, has been cleared up by the discovery that the woman was killed in a flat at 103 west Fifty-eighth street, where her clothing was found to-night.

This announcement was made late to-night by Captain Titus, of the Detective Bureau, who connects directly with the murder a man named Hooper Young, who was recently employed in a cheap restaurant. Titus has learned that the woman's body was kept for some time under the sink in the kitchen of the flat in which she was killed. Young has not been arrested, and is believed to have fled the city. He is said to have shipped a trunk to Chicago last night. He formerly worked for the Hoboken Crusader, and the police found his picture taken with a group of employees. This picture was shown to the Hoboken liveryman, who at once picked out Young as the man who hired a buggy from him on Wednesday night.

The apartment in which the murdered woman's clothing was found is situated within a stone's throw of some of the most splendid apartment houses in the vicinity of Central Park, south.

The murdered woman's husband says that he saw her last late on Tuesday night, when she left their apartments for the purpose of purchasing some rolls and fruit. She did not return, and the theory now is that she met her murderer, went with him to his apartments, and that then, as the result of a quarrel, he killed her. The theory is borne out by facts now known concerning the woman's life. It has developed that this life was not a good one, a fact not denied by Pulitzer himself.

DEFEND HER SUICIDE.

ST. LOUIS CLUB-WOMEN APPROVE ACTION OF A MEMBER.

"SHE WAS SELF-SACRIFICING."

She Would Not Crucify the Living on the Cross of a Useless Life—The Remarkable Poem Which Prompted Her Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, September 19.—(Special.)—A sensation has been caused in social circles here on account of club women to-day announcing that Mrs. Addie M. Johnson was perfectly justified in taking her own life. She suicided with chloroform several days ago. The clubs held a joint memorial service to-day. Mrs. Johnson was one of the most prominent figures in the women's club and suffrage movement in Missouri. The resolution passed recites that "Her days of usefulness were done so she quietly stepped aside to let the rush of living take the right of way. She was not insane. She was heroic and self-sacrificing. Rather than to crucify the living on the cross of a useless life, she wraped he drapery of her couch about her and lay down to pleasant dreams"

The pome "Euthanasia," Mrs. Johnston's favorite and which she left word helped and prompted her suicide, was read. 'Twas written by her closest friend, Mrs. Florence Griswold Connor, of the Clotho Club. This remarkable poem follows:

EUTHANASIA.

Oh! friends, oh! loving friends,
When ye shall behold the worm,
Creep in the rose's blushing breast,
To dim the splendor of that heart of gold and fade
The crimson of his couch of rest—
Oh! pluck the rose while yet a dewy flower,
And let it fade with all its perfume left,
Lest in some cruel, anguished hour,
When wringing hands through garden, all bereft,
You beat your breast, and useless, weeping, say,
"Why left we thus the rose to worm blight sear
Just for the selfish pleasure of a day,
To shadow with regretting all the year?"

When bird, half blinded, can no more, behold
His tiny, dancing figure in the glass,
To raise his hainty collar's ruffled gold
To fight the image of himself—alas,
He cannot sing, so, saddened, moping, clings
Through weary days, from rightful joys apart,
With aimless feet and faded, drooping wings,

A condemnation to his captor's heart,
Like nature's bosom when she gives us rest;
Stroke his soft plumage—wondrous shining bands—
And give him freedom—dead; he gave his best.

Dear friend, loved friends, so when I cannot give
The rose's tint to life's latest close,
'Tis better early that I cease to live,
And, going, leave the memory of a rose.

When darkness clouds my eyes, my song is stilled,
Then voice and singer linger but a shade.
Bid me not stay, for heaven, I know, is filled
With better things than this. I'm not afraid.

Sweet Euthanasia—with your kindly breath
Waft me out gently from the glad world's throng
So I may leave behind me from the place called death,
A happy memory of my rose and song.

RECLAIMS HER CHILD

A Pitiful Story of a Rockbridge County Girl.

LEXINGTON, VA., September 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. James Pannell was given the infant found on the porch of William McKeever, on the suburbs of Lexington, to rear and adopt. Yesterday morning she was visited by a young girl, who stated to her that her name was Annie Moore, and with sobs, as though heart-broken, she admitted that she was the mother of the abandoned infant. She desired to have the child given to her, and stated that she was so crazed with grief that she did not know what she was doing when she left it lying on Mr. McKeever's porch. She also stated that she was near by watching the child.

The child was refused her by the adopting parents, and the girl left. It was afterwards learned that the name she gave, Annie Moore, was false, and that her right name was Peachy Miley, and that she was from the upper portion of Kerr's Creek neighborhood, and had been living in Lexington for some time, but recently was compelled to go to her home in the country. After being allowed to remain at her family home for two weeks, it is alleged, that she was given money and told to depart for some other place. She left and it was thought that she had gone away, for she disappeared. The child was found shortly after she disappeared, and at that time, from its age and surroundings, was thought to be hers, but as she had not been seen, it could not be definitely determined. The child will be withheld from her, as it is alleged that she now wishes to do harm to it. The whole affair excited much comment, and has some shady history connected with it. The girl comes of one of the best-known families in her locality.

The Farmer's Success Depends Upon Freedom from Disease and Suffering.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

IS THE MEDICINE THAT HAS MADE THOUSANDS OF COUNTRY TOILERS WELL AND STRONG.

There are thousands of farmers in our land who are rich in broad acres and gold, yet lack that true wealth known as good health.

It is a melancholy fact that men and women in the country districts, breathing the purest air and drinking from God's bubbling fountains and limpid springs, are liable to the same diseases and ailments that come quick and fast to city people. We find rheumatism, neuralgia, debility, dyspepsia, kidney and liver troubles, and blood diseases almost as common in the farmer's family as they are in city homes.

Paine's Celery Compound, Heaven's best blessing to the farming community, has done more for the banishment of dread disease and the building up of health than all other combined medicines. Mr. John Zuspan, a prominent and well known farmer of Middleport, O., writes specially for the benefit of sufferers in the rural districts; he says:

"Last November I was so badly crippled up with rheumatism, which came on in June, that I could hardly walk without the aid of crutches or a heavy stick. About the 10th of November I commenced taking Paine's Celery Compound, and after using four bottles I was completely cured, and was able to attend to my usual work as well as when I was forty. I am now sixty-six, and can walk and run as well as a man of thirty."

A DESPERATE FIGHT AGAINST BEING HANGED

Convict Finally Subdued by Having Prison Hose Turned on Him—He Dies of Strangulation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Peter Hernia was hanged in the county jail at Hackensack, N. J., to-day for the murder of Barney Kantock, a butcher, but before his execution was accomplished Hernia made a desperate fight.

When two deputy sheriffs approached him to strap his arms he suddenly tore off two brass brackets on the side of his cell, and getting into the corridor leaped over a partition. He then tore off a piece of lead pipe, and crouching in a corner shouted that he would brain any one that came near him. By this time the jail was in an uproar. The sheriff and his deputies were at first puzzled as to how to deal with the murderer and disarm him.

TURNED HOSE ON HIM.

It was finally decided to turn a hose on him. This was done and as Hernia put up his hands to ward off the water from striking him in the face a deputy sheriff leaped over and grabbed the hand of the murderer in which was the lead pipe. Other deputies quickly rushed in.

Hernia was finally overpowered and securely strapped. He was then placed in a chair, and carried to the gallows, his clothing dripping with water. He was lifted from the chair and the noose quickly adjusted about his neck.

The sheriff then asked him if he had anything to say. He replied in a weak voice, "Good bye all, excuse me." The drop was then sprung and Hernia died of strangulation.

The condemned man during the night asked frequently for whiskey, and this morning he refused to eat his breakfast. When whiskey was refused he smashed a chair in his cell, and two priests, who were with him, had great difficulty in calming him.

HISTORY OF THE CRIME.

Hernia shot Kanter on March 4 last, because the latter would not sell him five cents' worth of dog meat. Kanter explained that his supply was exhausted, but Hernia pretended not to believe him, and upon a second refusal in the day shot Kanter, who died that evening from the effects of the wound.

HANGED THREE TIMES.

Fight and Butchery at an Austrian Execution.

VIENNA, September 19.—(Special.)—A sensational scene occurred at the hanging of Zeclo Kamenow at Widden Citadel to-day for murder.

Kamenow had concealed a knife on his person, and when the guard came to take him to the scaffold, he stabbed a soldier and threw off the wards of the guard. He was seized and carried to the scaffold.

At the first drop the rope broke, and Kamenow fell to the floor. He was picked up again and the rope was fixed. This time the hanging seemed successful, but when the body was taken down it was discovered that life was not yet extinct. A third hanging was necessary before the murderer was killed.

DEVINE HANGED IN BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, MD., Sept. 19.—John Wesley Devine, colored, was hanged in the Baltimore jail to-day for the murder of Patrolman Charles J. Donohue last June. Devine was married three weeks ago in the jail to a woman with whom he had been living, and who was the indirect cause of the murder of the patrolman.

HANGING IN NEW JERSEY.

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 19.—Lafayette Gruff, of Gloucester, was hanged in the county jail here to-day for the murder of his wife, Mary Ann Gruff. The crime was committed March 11 at the home of Mrs. Gruff's aunt, Mrs. Susan Gowie, at Westmont, near here.

Mrs. Gruff had left her husband and was boarding with Mrs. Gowie. Gruff visited his wife and attempted to secure possession of their seven-months-old child. Failing in this he cut his wife's throat and attempted to shoot his baby. The bullet went wild and struck Mrs. Gowie, but the wound was not fatal.

Col. Stern Inspected Troops.

DANVILLE, VA., September 19.—(Special.)—Assistant Inspector-General Jo Lane Stern, of Richmond, arrived here this afternoon, and to-night inspected the Danville Light Infantry. There was a good turnout of the soldiers and a fine showing was made Manchester and Chesterfield.

The City Attorney was ordered at the meeting of the Ordinance Committee, held last night, to draft an ordinance making it a punishable offence for any telephone company to charge more for telephone service in Manchester than the Richmond charges. When he has prepared this ordinance, Judge Clopton will notify the chairman of the committee and a meeting will be called, to which the officials of the telephone companies will be invited. No action was taken on the motion of Mr. Pettit, concurred in by both Board and Assembly, calling for an investigation of the status of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, which is operating in the streets of Manchester without a franchise, though the matter was discussed at same length. It is probable that this question will be settled when the committee meets to consider the ordinance to be prepared by Judge Clopton.

The chairman, Mr. C. L. Pettit, reported that he was in receipt of a personal communication from Mr. E. W. Trafford, which was not read, and asked that action on the ordinance ordered by the Council penalizing the Passenger and Power Company for the improper burning of the electric lights furnished the city by the company, be laid over. The committee agreed.

The appointment of a sanitary officer whose duty it will be to relieve the City Engineer of many of the duties he is now too busy to perform, was also laid over. This official will superintend the work of the force employed in cleaning the streets, enforce the sewer ordinances, see that gutters and alleys are kept in a sanitary condition, and in other ways oversee the sanitary work of the city.

ALARM FOR THE JAIL.

Some action is soon to be taken to have the city jail connected with the police station, either by telephone or electric alarm, and the present isolated condition of the City Sergeant obviated. In case of a sudden uprising among the prisoners, or a successful escape, the City Sergeant and his deputy would be at the mercy of the prisoners and be unable to communicate with the police for several minutes at least. The officials at the jail favor an electric alarm connected with the station-house, but if that is not provided a telephone will be welcomed.

JERSEY COW FOUND.

A Jersey cow, that was evidently a very valuable animal, was found by Officer Wright walking up Hull street trailing about twenty feet of leather rope. She was arrested and imprisoned in the pound, where she still awaited bail last night. The police think that she had been abandoned by some person unknown who had attempted to kidnap her and had been frightened away while carrying out his nefarious purpose. The officers are anxiously awaiting the arrival of her guardians to claim her.

MR. BAYLEY GOES AWAY SUNDAY.

Mr. J. J. Bayley, who resigned as chairman of the School Board Thursday night, will leave for Lawrenceville, Va., where he has accepted the position of master mechanic in the Southern shops. Sunday. It will be several months before Mr. Bayley will be joined by his family.

FROM SAMOA TO WASHINGTON.

Mr. E. M. Taylor, whose sudden return after a five-year absence, last week startled his family, who had given him up for dead, left Wednesday for Washington, where he will apply for a pension. The story of Mr. Taylor's three-years' residence among the natives of one of the smaller of the Samoan Islands, as their captive, which was printed in the Dispatch last Sunday, has caused some controversy, and Mr. Taylor, before leaving, wished to refute some statements that had been made by his critics. The fact that there are no edible oysters in Samoan waters is not denied by him, and in telling his experiences to the Dispatch reporter he did not intend being understood as saying that he had been rescued by a sloop engaged in any business except the pearl fisheries. The natives of the larger islands may be highly-disciplined soldiers, and armed in modern style, with Winchester rifles, he says, but on the island where he spent his captivity the natives were savages, and used a weapon resembling the boomerang. They wore clothes as he has described, wooden shoes and all—sandals. And as for his two-mile swim through the man-eating sharks, he is a very healthy exhibit to the fact that he was not eaten.

When Mr. Taylor was captured by the Samoan natives he was a member of the marine corps, serving on the United States steamship Philadelphia, and it is for the hardships endured while serving his country that he has gone to Washington to apply for a pension. He expects to reside in Kansas City.

LET ALL REGISTER.

At a meeting of the City Democratic Committee last night the chairman was continued a committee of one to solicit subscriptions from the Democrats of Manchester to push the work of registration. The following letter will be distributed to the voters to-day:

Manchester, Va., September 19, 1902.

Dear Sir,—At a meeting of the City Democratic Committee of Manchester, held at 8 P. M., on the 17th, a resolution was adopted, urging the Democratic voters of the city to register under the provisions of the new Constitution. In order to impress upon them the importance of registering at once, it was further determined to canvass the city and see that all Democrats are properly notified and registered. This letter will be handed you by one of these canvassers.

We ask your active co-operation and urge you to show your interest in this most important matter by going to the place of registration in your ward (which is open from 12 M. to 9 P. M.) and having yourself registered. After you have registered show this letter to your Democratic friends and neighbors, so that they may be informed of it. Registration is so simple and easy that it will take but a few minutes of your time, while the benefits you derive from it are very great. The right of suffrage is the principle which keeps alive all constitutional government. Will you not do your part to foster this principle by registering at once? You cannot vote at the coming election unless you register now. You will have no other opportunity to register until October, 1903.

The State has gone to great expense in the formation of this Constitution, with the primary object of the better protection of your rights, and it is due to yourself as a good citizen to register, for there is no other way by which you can exercise the right of suffrage. By this registration is assured the political supremacy of the Democratic whites of the Commonwealth, and by it, if every white man will register, we will sweep away the dary cloud of negro suffrage which has menaced us for more than thirty years.

Should you encounter any difficulty in registering notify the chairman of this committee, or the member of this committee from your ward.

Trusting that you will interest yourself by registering at once, and that every white Democrat in the city may be registered, I am

Yours very truly,
C. C. COUSINS,
Chairman City Democratic Committee of Manchester.
