FIELD DAY FOR BEARS

The Prices Sold Off Heavily During Early Hours.

LATE SCRAMBLE TO COVER

Final Rally Wiped Out Many of Early Losses and Some Stocks Showed Fractional Gains for the Day. Bonds Were Weak.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 5.—The bears had a field day on the Stock Exchange to-day, and the professional operators sold stocks with such enthusiasm that they found themselves somewhat over-extended towards the close, and had something of a scramble to get back what stocks they sold to cover their short sales. The turbulent and excited market gave rise to many rumors of all degrees of credibility. These all pointed to disaster during the early part of the day, while the prevailing sentiment quickly shifted in a manner very characteristic of the stock market, to exceedingly roseate views when prices turned upwards in the final hour. This final rally made clear that the prominent raiding tactics played an important part in the day's declines; but the unsettled state of feeling amongst securities holders was clearly evident from the success of the raiders in dislodging long stock. That there was heavy liquidation during the day is beyond question. Part of it was forced by extensive calling of loans. The calling of loans according to some views was for the account of one of a powerful financial group with the purpose of forcing down prices and thus affording an opportunity to buy in at an advantage. Stocks in which this financial group is the dominant power have been amongst those most severely handled in the late collapse and the gossip of the board room credited the leaders of this group with an additional purpose to extend their power into other fields. An influential voice in the affairs of the Pennsylvania Railroad is alleged to be the aim of the campaign and to explain the recent persistent attacks on Pennsylvania stock for the purpose of accumulation. Pennsylvania after lowering its record for this movement by a small fraction, developed support that became rather steady, although very active, around last night's figure.

The bad effect upon sentiment of the large selling in this stock was still perceptible to-day. Fears for the crops obviously played a part also in the day's heaviest declines, which were amongst the cotton and corn grangers. The Southwestern cotton carriers were especially affected and Atchison and Union Pacific touched a new low record for the movement.

The late rally resulted in the recovery of a substantial portion of the early losses and some of the principal active stocks on the list closed a fraction higher.

Bonds were weak. Total sales, par value, $2,760,000.

United States old 4's and 2's advanced 1-4 per cent. and the 3's 1-2 per cent. on the last call.

Total sales of stocks to-day were 890,000.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE—CLOSE: Money on call, ruled firm, but closed easier, ranging from 1 1-2 to 4 per cent., closing 1 1-2; time money, firm; sixty days, 3 1-2 per cent.; ninety days, 4; six months, 5@5 1-2; prime mercantile paper, 4 1-2@5 1-4; sterling exchange, steady at the decline with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87.25@4.88 for demand and at $4.83@4.83.10 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.85 1-2@4.86 and $4.88 1-2@4.82; commercial bills, $4.84 7-8; bar silver, 52 7-8; Mexican dollars, 42.

Wall Street Gossip.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, June 5.—The opening of the stock market was weak, but there seemed to be some protection around the room and declines were fought. The belief that pressure was being put on to acquire stock, and the known large short interest did something to protect the market. Commission houses did not seem to have liquidating orders in any volume, but London was an early seller.

WEAKNESS IN COPPER:
The early weakness in Amalgamated Copper was directly due to the decline in the price of metal in London and the weakness in copper stocks there. A rumor from Boston of an issue of $45,000,000 to pay for new properties probably also had some depressing influence, although it lacked confirmation.

SLOSS DIRECTORS' MEETING:
Sloss-Sheffield directors meet next Tuesday, when the usual quarterly dividend will likely be declared on the preferred stock. It is rather doubtful if the board takes any action with regard to placing the common stock on a dividend basis at this meeting, although it seems entirely probable that a dividend will be declared on the common stock, probably 5 per cent. per annum before many weeks elapse.

THE FIRST HOUR:
The market steadied after the opening uncertainty, and in the first hour held well in the face of a heavy volume of trading. The gossip current was of the vaguest character, and, upon the whole, the support seemed rather good. Traders were bearish, but the smaller professionals at least were not following stocks down.

SUPPORT FROM GOOD QUARTER:
The support in Atchison, Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio and Southern Pacific seemed to come principally from the same quarter and was considered good.

THE SECOND HOUR:
In the second hour the market was irregular, but upon the whole was disposed to hold, and the buying seemed to be at least as good as the selling. Traders were making speculative drives at weakly held pool stocks, but upon the whole were letting the more important issues alone. London, who had been a seller early, bought a little stock before the close of that market.

SELLING PENNSYLVANIA:
Sheldon had the most important selling orders in Pennsylvania during the morning, but there was good support forth coming from Vaughan, Haiuts and Wormser.

ROCKEFELLER INTEREST:
There is reason to believe that the more important Rockefeller interests have been buyers of stocks.

THE EARLY AFTERNOON TRADING:
The market did not rally at all well, and although some stocks held up, the tone was essentially weak in the early afternoon. The traders would have been willing to work for an advance on any encouraging development, but nothing of the kind was forthcoming, although it was claimed that there had been good buying during the day.

GOULDS AND THEIR STOCKS:
The Goulds were making apparently no effort to protect their specialties, and that group was as weak as anything in the market. The selling in Texas in particular attracted attention, as the younger members of the Gould family took the bull side in the stock some time ago and attracted a considerable following. The weakness seemed to be bases as much as anything on depressing crop conditions.

THE CLOSE:
The market did not rally at all well, and although some stocks held, the tone was essentially weak in the late afternoon. Traders would have been willing to work for an advance on any encouraging development, but nothing of the kind was forthcoming, although it was claimed that there had been good buying during the day.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The cotton market opened barely steady at an advance of 3 points to 2 points lower. The advance was on Southern support and covering, while the declines were influenced by the better weather and more favorable crop advices, notable a report issued by a trade paper, which made a increase of 6.10 increage, while speaking rather favorably of the crop condition. There was no cables to influence sentiment in either way. Liverpool being closed, owing to the Whitsuntide holidays. Considerable liquidation developed later, and the list declined 5@10 points from the opening figures. Then came another slight rally on the high estimated receipts for leading points to-morrow and a rather less bearish into sight movement for the week than anticipated, the figures showing 49,836 bales compared with 42,819 bales last year.

The upward movement was limited, however, and shortly after the noon hour prices ruled irregular for a time, then reached a new low level for the day under further selling by both longs and shorts. The market was finally quiet and steady at about the low point of the day, except for October, which rallied 3 points under under covering.

The list as a whole was net 5@11 points lower. Total sales futures estimated at 150,000 bales. Port receipts were 2,075 bales for the day against 3,841 bales last year.

Cotton futures opened barely steady and closed quiet and steady:

NEW ORLEANS, LA., June 5.—COTTON—In the spot cotton market there was little doing; quotations, low middling and higher grades advanced ¼c.

Futures were dull. At the opening June was down 2 points, July up 1, September down 2, and the other positions 4@7 points lower. In the trading during the day there were slight fluctuations, but for the new crop positions the market had a distinctly downward trend. The decline here was attributed to telegrams received from New York claiming that the increased cotton acreage was 10 per cent., and the percentage of condition was put at 80.

It is also claimed that the "insight" figures are bearish. At the close the list was bullish compared with yesterday, June was down 2, July even, August down 3, and the new crop positions were 9@11 points lower.
