FLURRY IN CALL MONEY

Gives Prices a Set-Back After Moderate Advance During Early Hours of Session.

CALLS OF SOME LARGE LOANS

Sends Rate Up to Eight Per Cent.—Market Closes Dull and Rather Heavy.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Prices of stocks received a set back to-day after further moderate upward movement during the early hours of the session. A plausible reason for the reaction was a flurry in call money rates, which ran up to 8 per cent. late in the day, causing an apprehension that to-morrow's bank statement might reveal some unfavorable developments. The point is the loan item. There was some large calling of loans to-day by several of the great banks, which necessitated the shifting of loans, and caused the rise in the money rate to 8 per cent. The purpose of this call of loans was explained somewhat vaguely as due to syndicate requirements, including the United States Steel stock conversion syndicate.

The call loan rate ran off to 5 per cent. again before the close. Opening transactions in United States Steel preferred and in the bonds were on an enormous scale. The bonds were at one time two points above last night, but closed with only 1-2 gain. United States Steel preferred fell as low as 1-4 under last night, and made a net loss of a point. The silence in the formal statement of the closing operations of the syndicate on certain points left a busy field for conjecture, notably as to the actual holdings of the bonds remaining in the hands of the syndicate to be marketed. The good effect of yesterday's concessions in freight rates by the railroads was partly offset by continued unfavorable forecasts for the trade.

Southern Pacific came into the foremost place in speculative attention, and was lifted an extreme 2 1-4 points. There was no news to explain this movement beyond the general supposition that the present rate of extraordinary expenditures out of the earnings will not be indefinitely continued, and that an extensive refunding of high rate bonds is an early possibility. The strength of this stock was taken advantage of to realize elsewhere, and there was more or less suspicion that its rise was manipulated to help the profit takers. The market closed dull and rather heavy.

The bond market became somewhat irregular in sympathy with the reaction in stocks. Total sales, par value, $4,177,000.

United States twos declined 1-8 per cent. on the last call.

Total sales of stock were 623,900 shares.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Close on money on call strong, 5 1-2 to 8 per cent., closing bid, 5 3-4; offered at 6.

Time loans easy; sixty days, 5 1-4 to 1-2 per cent., ninety days 5 1-4 bid, six months 5 bid.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The cotton market opened weak at a decline of 9@11 points under heavy realizing and bear pressure, which in the present instance was encouraged by lower cables than expected and warmer weather in the belt, though the forecast was for more or less general rains. On the decline, however, good buying developed, including aggressive operations by local bulls, further covering and outside buying orders, which were accompanied in many instances further by reports of crop damage from the recent freeze and predictions for an early falling off in the movement.

Soon after the call the market rallied to about last night's prices. After this it ruled very irregular, but mainly at a little above the recent average. At one moment the market would show considerable firmness and advance, then would come a wave of realizing and Wall Street selling orders.

The estimates for to-morrow's receipts at leading ports were fully up to the size of movement for the week fell behind early estimates, and the exports were again very heavy. Generally speaking, however, the drift of prices during the afternoon was downward, and just before the close there was enough liquidation in connection with heavy selling by Wall Street interests to close the market easy at a net loss of 10@19 points. Sales were estimated at 300,000 bales.

Receipts of cotton at the ports to-day were 53,956 bales against 54,601 last week and 47,093 last year. For the week 455,00 bales against 431,079 last week and 333,443 last year. Receipts at New Orleans were 18,653 bales against 17,194 last year, and at Houston 15,333 bales against 7,309 last year.

Cotton futures opened weak and closed easy:

BEAUTIFUL PICTURE OF MRS. JAMES MONROE

Mr. George S. Cook, the photographer, has a photograph of an exceedingly beautiful painting of Mrs. James Monroe. It is a photograph of the portrait of Mrs. Monroe by Sene, Paris, and seems not to have been known of by descendants of Mrs. Monroe, who were here on Wednesday. It is the only portrait of Mrs. Monroe made while she was quite young, and she is represented as very beautiful. When the photograph was taken the painting was owned by Mr. Wilmer, of Baltimore, who married a great-granddaughter of Mrs. Monroe.

Readers will observe that in some stocks we give both the New York and Richmond quotations. In the Richmond quotations we give "bid and asked" prices only. In the New York quotations we give opening sale, lowest sale, highest sale and closing, bid and asked. Sometimes the closing bid in inactive stocks is merely nominal and does not fairly indicate the price of the stock.
