TEE-DEE WANT ADS. TELL THE STORY IN A QUIET BUT CONVINCING WAY.

FIGHT OVER THE NEGRO

crease over the past year of $6,403.55. The grand total of contributions to Foreign Missions was $247,629.69, being an increase over those of the last year of $29,117.97. This reading of this report created the wildest enthusiasm in the convention, which was greatly augmented when the secretary commenced to read the actual results of the work done in the Foreign Mission field. The report shows that there were during the past year in the Foreign Mission field 2,676 conversions and baptisms. There were other additions to the churches amounting to 265. The churches in the foreign fields lost by death and otherwise about 350 members, leaving a net increase of about 2,600. The Foreign Mission Board now has in foreign lands 180 churches, 294 out-stations, 63 male missionaries, 75 female, 68 ordained native preachers, 115 unordained male native helpers, 32 female native helpers, and a church membership of 9,659. The board has 106 houses of worship completed and paid for, 164 Sunday schools attended by 5,104 scholars, 66 day schools attended by 1,802 scholars. These churches and Sunday schools contributed for their own maintenance and for mission last year $25,545.06. Dr. Willingham's report further shows that the cost of carrying on this gigantic work was less than 8 per cent. of the total contributions, thus answering by actual figures the old fallacy that it costs nearly all the dollar to get a dollar to the Foreign Mission field. The report called for a number of eloquent speeches and created intense enthusiasm in the convention, many declaring that Southern Baptist Churches will make their contributions to foreign missions another year round up fully $300,000.

The board reports the opening of two new foreign fields, Argentine and Persia. The former has been regularly opened and a missionary is on the ground. Arrangements have been perfected for the opening of the latter and the missionary is en route.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, four or five thousand people crowded into the Gospel Tabernacle to-night to hear the convention sermon by Rev. Dr. W. W. Landrum, of Atlanta.

Woman's Missionary Union.

The Women's Missionary Union, auxiliary to the convention, held two sessions to-day at the McKendree Methodist Church and very interesting meetings they were. The various reports of the boards and of the union's committees were discussed by the good women in a manner that shows what an abiding and intelligent grasp they have upon the mission work they have undertaken.

The union elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. John A. Barker, of Virginia; corresponding secretary and general manager, Miss Annie W. Armstrong, of Baltimore; recording secretaries, Miss Nellie Martien, of Baltimore and Miss M. E. Wright, of Georgia; treasurer, Miss E. Ricker, of Baltimore. A vice-president from each State was also elected. The Virgina vice-president is Mrs. W. S. Leake, of Richmond, and the one for North Carolina is Miss F. E. S. Hech, of Raleigh.

The union voted to pay Miss Armstrong a suitable salary, but she positively declined to accept pay for her arduous work.

The Theatres.

The Bennett-Moulton Stock Company will present "Jim the Penman," at the Academy for the first three days of next week, commencing Monday, with a matinee Wednesday.

"Jim the Penman" gives every member of the cast good opportunity to demonstrate his versatility, as the play is unlike any other in their repertoire. The character of "Jim the Penman," or James Raleston, whose marvelous power with the pen, forms the basis of the plot, is one of the most unique figures on the stage. With all of his deliberate methods in ruining the lives of others, the uncontrollable instinct to do good finds an outlet in charity, and the fight of the man against his vice, up to the minute of his tragic end, is a striking field for a good actor.

Last of the Favorites.

"Germany," "Dago" and "Irish," the three characters in "On the Bridge at Midnight" will be seen for the last time at the Bijou this afternoon and to-night. The comedy-drama has proven most acceptable to the theatre goers, who have filled the popular theatre at every performance. The matinees and night performance will conclude the engagement.

Return of Walter Edwards Co.

The Walter Edwards Company, which made such a reputation here in "The Sign of the Four," returns to the Bijou Theatre Monday, for a stay of a week, when "Jane Eyre" will be the bill, with Miss Daisy Lovering in the title role. The usual matinees will be given.
