Hicks was the all-round star in yesterday's game, and he shone with a splendor that has rarely been equalled in the series of league games thus far. With six chances, he gripped them all in his hands. It is true that he had more chances than any other of the fielders, but some of them were pretty difficult, requiring long runs and an unusually sure eye. In the fourth inning he made the prettiest outfielder catch of the game, off Fetzer's bat, after a long run, bringing every one in the grand-stand to his feet.

Doyle, the second baseman of the Tobacconists, was their star, making a splendid one-hand catch in the first inning, and proved himself an expert with the stick, with three hits to his credit out of the six for the side.

Men Move Slowly.

The game was much better than that of the day before, as the score—3 to 1, in favor of the Lawmakers—indicates, though at all times the men were inexpressibly slow in getting to their positions, either in the field or at the bat—a condition that greatly retards the game and lesens an otherwise acute interest.

Manager Benny signed Winston, the old Brownies' pitcher, on Thursday night, and gave him his first trial yesterday. As a first exhibition, it was very good, and Winston pitched with fine skill and good head work, allowing only four hits to his opponent's six, which goes to show that it is not, by any means, always the greatest number of hits that wins the game. Long was at his best—steady and cool throughout the game.

The Lawmakers made their first run in the second inning, when Shafer walked to first, got to second on Cuddy's sacrifice, and scored later on Siebrle's single. In this same inning, with the Tobacconists at the bat, with two men on bases and one man down, Cuddy saved the day by a double play, catching Benny's fly and throwing McKenzie out at first.

Their Only Run.

The Tobacconists made their only run in the sixth inning, when, with two men down, Powell singled, went to third on Fetzer's two-bagger and scored on Doyle's single. Zurlage then came to bat, but went out from short to first, retiring the side when it seemed that another run might come in. The second run for the Lawmakers came in the third inning, when Reeves walked to first, went to second on Hick's sacrifice, won third when Shaffer went to first on the error of Rickards, and crossed the plate on Cuddy's out to first.

The third and last run was scored by Cowan in the sixth inning, when, with one man down, he hit a two-bagger, got to third on Long's out at first, and scored on Sapp's single.

Though they made the fewer runs, the Tobacconists were well to the forward in the batting line, making six hits. Fetzer and Cowan were the only men who made two-baggers.

Winston has the making of a good pitcher in him, as he showed yesterday. He has been permanently signed with the Danville team, and Benny seems particularly pleased with his new man-in-the-box. Winston will leave with the team when it goes.

PORTSMOUTH SHUT OUT.

Played Errorless Game, but Could Not Hit.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PORTSMOUTH, VA., June 29.—Inability to hit with men on bases was the cause of Portsmouth's defeat by Norfolk to-day. The score was 2 to 0 in one of the fastest games of the season. Schuman and Otey were the opposing pitchers, and both did great work. Norfolk got only one more hit than Portsmouth, but four of the five were bunched and netted earned runs. Portsmouth had several opportunities to win the game, but the necessary hits did not materialize, and a shut-out was the result. Portsmouth played an errorless game, while Norfolk had three bungles chalked up against her. Norfolk had only three men as far as second, and two scored. Aside from the good work of Titman in right, there were no features. The fielding of both teams was good. The score:

PLAYED MASTERLY GAME.

Lynchburg Takes Another from Roanoke With Carter in Box.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LYNCHBURG, VA., June 29.—The locals were masters of the situation to-day, and Roanoke dropped another game to the Shoemakers by the score of 6 to 2. Carter, who was in the box for Lynchburg, twirled a masterly game, keeping his opponents well in hand at all stages, excepting in the second, when three hits came in succession. In the field the locals put up a much better game, when compared with the visitors, than the score shows, and, aside from an unfortunate drop of a fly after a long run by McKevitt, who had the sun in his face, the play was perfect. Holt was the hero, nailing a high foul seventy-five feet back of first, getting the ball in his mitt with his back to the batter. The score:

HOWARD TO APPEAR IN THE GAME TO-DAY

Crack Twirler of Tobacconists to Test the Batting of Lawmakers.

The game this afternoon between the Lawmakers and Tobacconists will be the most interesting of the week. The famous Howard, of Athens, Ga., who is regarded as the crack pitcher of the Danville aggregation, and is compared with Moser, of the Lynchburg team, will be pitted probably against Still, the Colonel of Kentucky. Both these players are looked upon as giants in the box, and the game between them will be a battle royal from start to finish.

Richmond has won two of the games so far, yesterday's being the hardest fought of the two. But the game to-day will probably be the most finely-contested of all, with two such pitchers arrayed against each other.

Two umpires will be used—Danihy, the new man, of Rochester, N. Y., and Newhouse.

Salve, the Lawmakers' new pitcher, whose mettle has not yet been tested, will not make his first appearance until Monday or Tuesday, when the team goes to Norfolk. The new man is thought to be just what Manager Shaffer wants. He is said to have both speed and plenty of curve, and the fans are anxious to see what the stuff in him looks like when he is up against a batting aggregation.

A volley-ball league of four teams has been organized and regular games are played on Thursday nights. Following is the standing of the teams:

Rosebuds—Captain J. H. Ricks, won 2, lost 0; per cent., 1,000.
Sunbeams—Captain J. B. Morris, won 1, lost 1; per cent., .500.

ELECTRIC PLANT IS NOW IN SIGHT

Committee on Electricity Recommends Ordinance for Municipal Purposes Only.

OPPENHIMER IS GRATEFUL

Retiring Health Officer Thanks Health Committee for Very Many Courtesies.

From present indications Richmond is shortly to have an up-to-date electric light plant on the site of the old pump-house, which will be operated for municipal purposes only.

The Committees on Finance and Electricity recently endorsed the principle and referred the matter to the City Attorney to draw a proper ordinance. Last night the Committee on Electricity received the ordinance, and after carefully going over its details, reported it favorably to the Council. It will be referred to the Committee on Finance, where it will most likely be endorsed and reported back within a reasonable time.

The ordinance, which is largely the handiwork of Alderman W. T. Dabney, provides for a plant to cost $250,000 and to furnish electricity for municipal purposes only. The sum of $90,000 is appropriated for use by the Water Committee for the erection of a pumping plant, and both committees are favorable to the proposed departure. Bonds will be issued for $340,000.

It looks now as if the work will be under way in a short while.

Oppenhimer Grateful.

The Committee on Health held a brief meeting and approved the last bills and pay rolls of the outgoing Board of Health.

The meeting lasted but five minutes, and yet it was full of interest. It probably would have been in session much longer, except for the fact that two members of the Electricity Committee had to be borrowed to make a quorum, and this necessitated a recess of the latter body. It was a critical period with the Health Committee, as on July 1st the powers and duties of this body with reference to the Health Department cease.

After the routine work was over, Dr. W. T. Oppenhimer, the retiring president of the Board of Health, made a neat little speech, in which he returned his heartfelt thanks to the members for their uniform courtesies. Dr. Oppenhimer said he had been connected with the Health Department for eighteen years, and that the most pleasant moments of his professional life had been spent with the members of the Health Committee.

Dr. Oppenhimer will almost certainly be chairman of the new Board of Health, but the ordinance recently adopted leaves no authority in reference to health conditions with the Health Committee.

The Committee on Water endeavored to have a meeting again, but failed of a quorum.

The Committee on St. John's Burying-ground met and disposed of bills and pay rolls.

Three-Cornered League.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WAVERLY, VA., June 29.—The first of the series of eighteen games, which are to be played by the Three-Cornered League, was pulled off here yesterday afternoon, amid much enthusiasm and excitement. The game was snappy and full of interest throughout.

The Three-Cornered League is composed of the towns of Waverly, Dendron and Claremont. Each of three teams plays six games, and the winner of the most games will receive a handsome pennant at the close of the series.

Meet Direful Defeat.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

EMPORIA, VA., June 29.—The White Rolls, Petersburg's crack baseball team, met a direful defeat at the hands of the Emporia Invincibles here this afternoon. The boys of the Cockade City played an indifferent game, and never at any time appeared to care for anything except a final goose egg, which they succeeded in preventing by the score below:

Emporia	18	12	2
Petersburg	5	14	10

MARRIAGE MADE PUBLIC; THE GROOM IN VIRGINIA

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BOSTON, MASS., June 29.—A long courtship, followed by a secret marriage in New York September 5th last, is the best proof that a woman can keep a secret when she tries. The bride in the case is Miss Marion Ford, of "The Man from Now" Company, playing here, and the groom is Ernest Otto, a commercial traveler, now in Richmond, covering Virginia for his firm. The secret leaked out to-day, and when Mr. Otto returns to Boston the company will give the couple a formal reception.

NOBLE TO BE GOOD, SAYS JUSTICE JOHN

Begins Day's York by Quoting from Shakespeare—Fined Negro Driver.

"Howe'er it be, it seems to me 'tis only noble to be good," quoted the scholar and gentleman, "Judge" Crutchfield, as he took his seat yesterday morning. An ominous silence proceeded from the pen, for none in there had any great familiarity with the great poet-laureate, and the muttered quotation, to their minds, seemed to bode no good.

"Tennyson never spoke a truer word; he's the greatest poet I ever heard," continued the Judge. "Beats these spring poets cropping up all over the country just because a dandelion's in bloom—think I'll recommend him to these jail birds." He changed his quid to the other side and proceeded to do justice to the culpables.

"I'm going to put you two to work," said His Honor, addressing Henry Peters and Joe Burruss, pale faces. "I work every day for my living, and I don't see why you can't. Go back to the Age of Stone for thirty days."

Dr. Frank Willie, long haired and wan, one of life's feeble shuttlecocks, was presented to his Jedgeship.

"Charged with being a vagrant, eh? What about it?"

"Your Honor, I came here yesterday from Louisa to get a pair of pants and a new hat."

"Don't blame you about the hat and pants," thought the Judge, taking a cursory glance at the man's apparel.

"And I've been sick. I took a little ginger," continued the Doc, "and I confess that it kinder got the best of me."

"Work?" asked he of the big chair.

"Yes, sir; I works at the Leicester Manor."

"All right. How long will it take you to get out of town?"

"About three hours."

"Three hours! I can get out of town in three hours m'self, and I've been here sixty-two years. I'll give you an hour to get out, and don't let me get my hands on you again, or," he added, significantly, "them stones."

"Wait, how you goin' to buy the clothes?"

"I'm old, but I ain't broke," answered the Doctor, with great hauteur, and turning on his heels shuffled from the room.

William Green, black and statwarr, was arrested by Officer Bradley for reckless driving on West Broad Street and endangering the lives of some ladies who were crossing the street at the time. The officer complained that the man had made no effort to stop when ordered.

"I had a young horse, an' he was 'feared of ortermobiles," answered the accused one, "an' I couldn't hold him."

"Wan't no ortermobiles in sight," said the officer.

"Well, well; gimme five—I'm a lady's man myself."

S. E. Flournoy, white, smote H. A. Fennell, because he said that the latter had sold out to him and promised not to open up a meat business near him. Fennell had reopened at Sixth and Marshall Streets.

Flournoy called on his friend to see about it, and, after passing the time of day, passed him a few blows, and exchanged a "file" with him.

"It wasn't much of a scrap," said a witness.

"Lord, get me into a fight, an' I'd do my level best," said the Great Chief, his face lighting up with the warmth of Mars. "Fine you $5."

And then the great expounded of Blackstone settled himself wearily for a long civil docket.

DEAD MULE ON STREET.

Lay Many Hours at Fifth and Cary Streets.

From 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon until 10 o'clock yesterday morning a dead mule was allowed to lie at Fifth and Cary Streets, where it had been shot by Agent Taylor, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, after the unfortunate animal had fallen and broken its legs.

The people in the vicinity were extremely annoyed. Numerous complaints were made about it to the authorities, as the proper authority who has such cases in charge could not be located. At length, after many protests, the dead animal was removed on a dray at 10 o'clock.
