STOCK MARKET UNDER RESTRAINT

Suspended Between Rising Call Money Rates and Extraordinary Crop Figures.

STIFFENING TOWARD LAST

Currency Movement Has Turned Definitely Against New York. The Closing Was Steady.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, August 10.—To-day's stock market was held suspended between rising rates for call money influences and the extraordinary figures on the government report on the condition of the great cereal crop. There was a brief and slight hardening of prices of stocks following the publication of the government crop report, which served only to about restore the level of prices to where they left off last night. But the market fell back again into a torpid state after this brief sign of animation. The promise of the crops, according to the estimates of the Agricultural Department, served to explain the growing confidence in financial circles that the embarrassment in the situation, due to the heavy overcommitments of capital in fixed forms, give good promise of working out.

The money situation undoubtedly had an important part in the restraint on the stock market. Call loans, rates and time loans were higher. Estimates of the week's currency movement indicate only a slight movement on balance against New York to be added to the $2,000,000 lost to the sub-treasury. But no doubt is entertained that the course of the movement thus slightly indicated, has turned definitely against New York for the season. Weekly withdrawals from the cash reserve of the New York banks are to be expected, therefore, for an indefinite period. Relief from other sources depends on New York's ability to draw gold from abroad. The general market was sluggish and narrow throughout. The freedom of the call loan market from a final flurry, which was somewhat feared, prompted a stiffening of prices at the last, which established the gains for the few strong stocks. Net changes as a rule, however, were trivial. The closing tone was steady.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $1,720,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged.

Total sales of stocks were 492,500 shares.

COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, August 10.—The cotton market continued very nervous and unsettled during to-day's session with prices making still another low record for the season. The close was steady at a net decline of 4@12 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 bales.

Market opened steady at an advance of 1 point on September, but generally 3@4 points lower on other months, which was a good response to the fairly steady cables. After the call prices advanced a little, and at one time the active months were 2 points net higher, but the market soon weakened under the excellent weather in the South and the fear of depression in the spot markets as the new crop movement increased, and during the middle session prices ruled very weak, with selling for both accounts accelerated by a canard referring to the standing of one of the local wire houses. At the low point October sold at 9.54 and December at 9.66, or about 12@13 points net lower, and 90@95 points under the high prices of July 7th. The close was steadier on covering of shorts and reports of an increasing demand from spinners, with one wire from New Orleans reporting that exporters were not able to buy for early shipment in the country at anything like current prices. The market showed little rallying power, and last prices on the active months were only 5 or 6 points up from the lowest. Southern spot markets were unchanged to ¼c. lower.

Receipts of cotton at the ports to-day were 4,260 bales against 3,814 last week and 9,710 last year. For the week 25,000 bales against 28,505 last week and 63,143 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 477 bales against 1,396 last year, and at Houston 470 bales against 2,375 last year.

Cotton futures closed steady. Prices ranged as follows:

NEW ORLEANS, LA., August 10.—COTTON—Spot cotton closed quiet and unchanged; middling, 10 5-16c.; sales were 200 bales on the spot and 25 to arrive. It is reported the demand for spot was good, but that good spot were difficult to obtain at the prices quoted. Futures opened steady from 2 points net lower to 1 higher. The market was weak, lacking support throughout the day and showing a decline under yesterday. A majority of those who have been instrumental in holding prices up appeared to have switched to the opposite point of view, their main reason for the attitude being crop reports, which were uniformly good, and indicate prospects of a large cotton crop. The close was steady from 2@6 points under yesterday.

Cotton futures closed steady, as follows: August, 9.95; September, 9.76; October, 9.67; November, 9.69; December, 9.70; January, 9.77; February, 9.82; March, 9.92.
