STOCK MARKET REACTIONARY

Money Outlook and Pressure to Sell Union Pacific Sent Market Down.

RESOURCES TOO SCANTY

Southern Railway and U. S. Steel Went Off Sharply—Close Was Irregular.

NEW YORK, January 8.—The stock market became sharply reactionary to-day, and speculative sentiment underwent a marked alteration. Various factors contributed to this result, including several rumors, of which the failure of confirmation pointed to a bearish origin. The principal influences on the decline were the recurrence of uneasiness over the money outlook and the disquieting effect of the obvious pressure to sell Union Pacific. The tone of the money market was firmer from the outset, following the flurry to 10 per cent. late yesterday, and it became evident that the existing banking resources were too scanty to allow a resumption of speculative activity on a large scale.

The announcement of the purchase of $25,000,000 of three-year 5 per cent. notes of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company recalled to the attention of the financial world the fact that large capital requirements still remain to be supplied. The example was of added force owing to the underwriting last spring of a $100,000 convertible bond list of this company, on which instalments payable from time to time would supply large resources on hand. The resort to a note issue under the circumstances is regarded as significant of the unfavorable conditions for absorption of any new capital offerings in the market.

Southern Railway ran off sharply and it was supposed that liquidation for account of an estate of a late dominant figure in the company was responsible. United States Steel was also heavily sold. The announcement that the New York Central would repay the dividend payable January 15, on Thursday of this week, was a promise of a modifying influence on the firmness of the money market, but it was also regarded as a testimony of the necessity felt for measures to conserve the ease of the money market.

There was some covering by shorts at the declines, which were quite severe, but there was no effective rally, and the market closed irregular.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,866,000. United States bonds were unchanged. Tota sales stocks, 936,500 shares.

NEW YORK, January 8.—Money on call firm, 6@15 per cent.; ruling rate, 8 1-2; closing bid, 6; offered at 8. Time loans firmer; sixty days and ninety days, 6 per cent.; six months, 6. Prime mercantile paper, 6@6 1-2. Sterling exchange easy, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8490@4.8495 for demand and at 4.8070@4.8075 for sixty-day bills. BALTIMORE STOCK MARKET.

BALTIMORE, MD., January 8.—Seaboard Air Line, common and preferred—Nothing doing.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, January 8.—Trading in cotton was not active, but after an early decline the market steadied up, and was finally net unchanged to 7 points higher. Sales for the day were estimated at 175,000 bales.

The opening was easy at an advance of 1 point on January, but generally unchanged to 7 points lower, and shortly after the opening January showed a net loss of 3 points, and the more active months were 7@9 points lower under a continuation of the bearish pressure and liquidation, noted on the previous, which was promoted this morning by lower Liverpool sales and the continued full receipts. But at the decline the offerings for long account seemed to be diminishing; some of the recent buyers became slightly more aggressive in supporting the market, and later prices rallied on covering of shorts, with the close at practically the best level of the session and from 5 to 7 points higher on all the active months, including the near positions. New Orleans was closed for the day, and with the census report expected at 2 o'clock to-morrow, business was mostly local and in the way of evening up. A Southern organization estimates the amount of cotton ginned to January 1st at 11,714,000 bales, but this seemed to be without material influence on the market.

Estimated receipts at the ports to-day were 65,561 bales against 5,131 last week and 21,203 last year. For the week 280,000 bales against 213,701 last week and 193,296 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 18,058 bales against 6,786 last year, and at Houston 23,144 bales against 8,532 last year.

Cotton futures closed steady.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, January 8.—Small receipts in the Northwest were partly responsible for moderate strength in the local market to-day. Another reason for the firmness was unfavorable harvesting weather in Argentina. At the close wheat for May delivery was a shade higher than yesterdy's final quottions. Corn and oats were also each a shade higher. Provisions were 15@25c. lower.

ON LOCAL MARKETS

TOBACCO BREAKS LARGE; MARKET FIRM

There were busy scenes about the leaf tobacco warhouses yesterday, and in all, the auctioneers disposed of something like 150,000 pounds of the good sun-cured leaf.

Much common tobacco was put up and some that was not in the best of order, but on the whole the offerings were of the better working grades, and a few good wrappers showed up.

At Stonewall warehouse, which had a large break, the best price realized was $21. At Shelburne's a good pile of sun-cured wrappers brought $24. At Shockoe, $22 was the limit, and at Crenshaw's, several piles sold for from $18 to $23.

Many wagons reached the city last night, and the receipts by rail were good. The indications are that the breaks today will be somewhat larger than they were yesterday. The first sale will be at Shelburne's, second at Crenshaw's, third at Shockoe, and fourth at Stonewall.

At Crenshaw's yesterday, Mr. I. S. Winfree, of Powhatan county, made something of a notable sale. He offered a good large load of "Olive" long and short leaf, a grade of dark shipping tobacco that has made Powhatan county famous. He received an average of $11 for the entire load, the highest price being $13.50 per hundred. This is the best average the famous "Olives" have made in any market in Virginia for several years.

DULL BUSINESS ON THE PRODUCE BLOCK

The produce and fruit market was again dull yesterday. The weather conditions are very much against the wholesale dealers in country produce, fowls and fruits, lightening the demand not a little. The receipts yesterday were large enough—more than large enough— to meet the demand, and the wholesale dealers were left with good stocks on hand. They can easily meet the demand to-day even if there are no increased receipts. On most gods other than standard articles there was a slight decline in prices yesterday.

Eggs, which have been high all the season, are now far down, and the shippers picked up a number of good round lots yesterday at twenty cents per dozen.

Chickens, both alive and dressed, were a little off in price, as were all manner of fowls and game.
