HARRIMAN REPORT AFFECTS MARKET

Intestate Commerce Commission Document Influenced Stocks.

COMPREHENSIVE RECOVERIES

Break Later on Report Dealing With Alleged Evils of Railroads.

NEW YORK, May 15.—There was a short-lived period of animation in the stock market to-day. This followed the appearance of a published abstract purporting to give the substance of the forthcoming report of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the results of the inquiry into the Harriman railroad combinations. The character of this alleged document was severe in its strictures upon conditions revealed by the investigation, and some drastic recommendations were included, looking to the correction of existing abuses. The substance of the report and the nature of alleged recommendations contained nothing that has not been the subject of stock market discussion and of professed apprehension ever since the sensation created by the testimony before the commission, the feeling reaching its most adequate stage in the height of the March panic in stocks. Stock market gossip since that time has arrived at a comprehensive solution of the problems, as presented by the measures for the dissolution of relationships in the Harriman combination, which was to result in the distribution of valuable rights to stockholders to share in the assets thus prohibited to the corporations. The appearance of anything like a sensation came as a welcome relief to the traders, who have found the greatest difficulty in making stocks move in either direction, many being led to abandon the market entirely.

Both the wheat and cotton markets absorbed still a large share of the speculative activity usually expended in the stock market. The persistent liquidation in the wheat market had its influence on the stock market, and there were comprehensive recoveries from the early declines, before the market broke on the Interstate Commerce report. The effect of that factor was modified to some extent when the recommendations described were said to be those of the counsel to the commission, and not yet adopted by that body itself; but the late recovery in the market was due principally to covering of short contracts. There was no important campaign in money conditions.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $1,004,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales stocks, 616,300 shares.

BALTIMORE STOCK MARKET.

BALTIMORE, MD., May 15.—Seaboard Air Line, common and preferred—Nothing doing.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The cotton market was again active to-day and sales were estimated at 500,000 bales. Fluctuations were very irregular, but the market ruled easier after making a new high record, and the close was barely steady at a net decline of 9@11 points on the old crop to a net advance of 4@7 points on the new. The market opened firm at an advance of 6@18 points in response to higher cables, outside buying and an unfavorable weather map, showing rains and a heavy frost at Oklahoma. July advanced to 11.02 shortly after the opening, and January sold at 1152, or about 12 points not higher on old crop and 20@21 points net higher on new crop months, but offerings were very heavy around these figures and the active selling of July by brokers identified with the bull leaders led to rumors that the bulls were unloading, and the July deal was being abandoned. The western belt forecast also called for more favorable conditions, and while the outlook was for showers and cooler weather in parts of the eastern belt higher temperatures in the Northwest made the weather outlook more favorable in the main, and this tended to promote some selling for a turn by local professionals. Offerings were pretty well absorbed in a scale down by fresh buyers and fluctuations in the afternoon were quite irregular, but the close was at the lowest level of the session. Southern spot markets were unchanged to ⅛c. higher.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 10,300 bales against 11,380 last week and 11,283 last year. For the week (estimated) 60,000 bales against 59,332 last week and 80,374 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 3,661 bales against 3,111 last year, and at Houston 831 bales against 1,889 last year.

Cotton futures closed barely steady:

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, May 15.—Renewed profit-taking caused a decline of more than 2c. per bushel to-day in the price of the leading options of wheat. To-day's market, unlike that of yesterday, failed to recover from the setback, closing prices being almost at the lowest point of the session. Compared with the previous day's close final quotations on September is down 2⅛@2¼c.; December, 2⅝@2¾c. July corn is up ⅜c. Oats showed a net loss of ¾@⅞c. Provisions are off 15@20c. Trading in the wheat pit lacked spectacular display, but the volume of business was exceedingly heavy. The market was under the domination of the bears, and although on one or two occasions prices showed some disposition to advance the general tendency was towards a lower level. A decline in the price of wheat on the Minneapolis curb, presumably due to more favorable conditions for seeding in the Canadian Northwest was the chief reason for the opening weakness here. The Weather Bureau predicted slowly rising temperatures in the spring wheat country to-night and to-morrow, and this brought out additional sales.

ON THE LOCAL MARKETS

GOOD BREAKS ON THE LEAF TOBACCO MARKET

The leaf tobacco breaks yesterday were as large as the warehousemen expected—maybe a little larger. The total sales amounted to something like a hundred thousand pounds, and the market was very active, all the goods offered bringing full value.

While the bulk of the offerings were made up of good fillers, all of which sold well, some good suncured wrappers were in the breaks, and these sold for something like fancy prices. A sample of the market's activity may be seen in some sales made by W. D. Butler & Co., of Stonewall Warehouse. They sold several crops from Caroline and Louisa counties. Among them was a crop of six packages from J. M. Bell, of Caroline, at the following prices: $45, $39, $37, $35, $28 and $15.50, average of $29.50; a crop of five packages for Dr. A. L. Martin, of the same county, as follows: $36, $28, $27, $25 and $10, average $26.50. Several other crops brought fine averages.

The sales to-day will begin at Stonewall, second at Shelburne's, third at Crenshaw's, and fourth at Shockoe.

FAIRLY ACTIVE IS STATE OF THE PRODUCE MARKET

The wholesale produce market was fairly active yesterday, although the receipts were not as large as the commission men had hoped for. The demand for vegetables was sufficient to keep the figures along up in the pictures where they have been prevailing for some time past. Fowls and eggs were in fairly good receipt, but the active demand kept the prices up to former quotations. Spring chickens are getting a little more numerous and a little more weighty, and are, perhaps, just a shade cheaper in wholesale lots, but the decline is so gradual as to be hardly perceptible. Fruits remain unchanged.
