GREAT STRAIN ON STOCK MARKET

Only Powerful and Persistent Support Saved It from Demoralization.

STORM OF LIQUIDATION ON

Announcement of Knickerbocker Suspension Causes Market to Stagger Under Shock.

NEW YORK, October 22.—The stock market in New York has not been subjected to greater strain in many years than was the case to-day. Only the most powerful and persistent support saved it from running into absolute demoralization, and with the best that could be done the results were sufficiently serious, as is abundantly testified by the list of price changes and by the volume of transactions. The dealings record a greater proportion than in former times must be allowed for genuine transactions, owing to the many withdrawals of the great plunging class of operators from the market in recent months. The storm of liquidation raged in varying degree at different times of the day and with varying force in different quarters of the market.

The run on the Knickerbocker Trust Company was almost a matter of course, in view of the revelations over night, and the announcement of its suspension caused the stock market to stagger and sent a tremor of apprehension through the whole financial fabric. This convulsive period of the day's liquidation ran conditions to the verge of panic. After that the market righted itself to some extent and became quieter. The feeling in the financial district is one of open question as to how far the contraction of credit incident to the distrust now aroused may have to go and how far it will necessitate further business contraction to fit the resources available.

Bonds were weak. Total sales par value, $3,220,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks to-day, 1,379,300 shares.

NEW YORK, October 22.—Money on call excited and strong, 6@70 per cent.; ruling rate, 45 and 50; last loan, 6; no closing bids; offered at 25. Time loans nominal; 60 days, 6 1-2 bid, and 90 days, 6 1-2 per cent. bid; six months, 6 per cent. bid. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 7@7 1-2 per cent.; sterling exchange heavy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8525@$4.8530 for demand, and at $4.81@$4.8105 for 60-day bills. Commercial bills, $4.80 1-2. Bar silver, $61 1-2. Mexican dollars, 48 3-8. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds weak.

BALTIMORE, MD., October 22.—Seaboard Air Line, common and preferred—Nothing doing.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, October 22.—The cotton market was weak and lower to-day with the close steady at a net loss of 7@14 points. Sales were estimated at 350,000 bales. The market opened easy at an advance of 66 points on October, which was influenced by rather better cables than looked for and private reports that Southern offerings in Liverpool were less urgent, but 4@13 points lower on the later positions under liquidation and bear pressure, encouraged by unsettling rumors regarding the financial situation and good weather South. After selling 9@14 points lower on the active months, the market rallied slightly on covering, but eased off again in the early afternoon on renewal of liquidation and bear pressure, following reports of the temporary suspension of one of the largest local trust companies, and rumors that the cotton held by the farmers' union was being offered for sale in the southwest. The downward movement carried January and later months to a new low record for the season, and at the low point of the afternoon the general list was about 12@22 points under the closing figures of last night. The close was 5@8 points up from the lowest on covering, but the undertone showed little improvement, and the chief support was from shorts. The weekly weather report read favorably, but attracted little attention, and the chief factors were the unsettled financial condition and the reports of easier interior markets.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 69,134 bales against 61,265 last week and 114,089 last year. For the week 325,000 bales against 271,510 last week and 465,875 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 11,279 bales against 20,789 last year.

Cotton futures opened easy and closed steady:

Total since September 1st at all ports—Net receipts, 1,420,518 bales; export to Great Britain, 395,056 bales; to France, 102,275 bales; to the Continent, 383,716 bales; to Japan, 2,059 bales; to Mexico, 220 bales.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., October 22.—COTTON—Spots were quiet with all grades ¼c. down except middling fair, which was ⅛c. lower than yesterday, and fair, which was ⅜c. lower; middling, 11¼c. Sales were 600 bales on the spot and 4,000 to arrive. Futures opened steady but quiet, 5@10 points below the close of yesterday in sympathy with the stock market at London and New York. Indications of a continuance of good weather throughout the belt generally also was an early factor and brought about a further recession in values. Reports of weakness in the stock market, the news of a prominent trust company declining to pay directors, and the fact that Texas planters were offering cotton more freely were the features of the market in the afternoon when several more points were lost. The close was steady with active months from 3@14 points below yesterday's close.

LYNCHBURG TOBACCO MARKET.

Lynchburg, Va., October 22, 1907.

Sales of loose tobacco on the Lynchburg market for the two weeks ending October 18, 1907, reported by John L. Oglesby, of Lynch's Warehouse:

Sold week ending October 11, 58,300 pounds; sold week ending October 18, 23,000 pounds; decrease for week ending October 18, 35,300 pounds.

Sold from September 1, 1907, to October 18, 1907, 582,000 pounds; sold from September 1, 1906, to October 18, 1906, 598,300 pounds; decrease for 1907, 16,300 pounds.

The sales the past week were quite light, caused by the very dry weather of the past few weeks. The primings sold were in fairly good condition and brought very satisfactory prices. The new tobacco offered was of the medium grade, but had good body and color. The prices were fully up on all grades. There was a very heavy frost on the morning of the 15th, but it did no damage to the tobacco, as it was all cut and housed.

DANVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

(Reported by Dibrell Bros.)

Danville, Va., October 22, 1907.

Owing to unfavorable weather the receipts were not as large the past week as they would have been otherwise. The quality has been of a good medium character, with an absence of low grades and good to fine wrappers. Up to the present the quantity and quality of good to fine wrappers has been a disappointment. We had been led to believe that there was a larger proportion than has appeared in the breaks so far. The demand continues very active on all grades, with the big corporations as strong competitors amongst themselves, and leaving very little for the "independents" and other buyers, who are disposed to buy, but not at prevailing prices. While prices are considered high they are generally thought to be justified by the situation, and no material decline is anticipated under any circumstances. There has been a good deal of trading this week in redried stocks, both in old and new, and some quite large transactions have been consummated, and others are being negotiated at advanced prices over a few days ago.

The export trade is generally quiet. Cotton yarns are still weak. The trade is waiting the result of the financial difficulties rather than the prospects of any very quiet trade with retailers.

$200,000,000 FOR WATERWAYS.

Commission Evolves Systematic Plan for Guidance of Congress.

WASHINGTON, October 22.—The report of the Inland Waterways Commission, which will be made to the President about November 1st, will recommend the adoption by Congress of the most comprehensive scheme for improvement of the inland waterways which has ever been proposed. It will involve the expenditure of more than $200,000,000, almost rivaling in cost the Panama Canal.

Two great schemes, one for the development of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway, and the other for the development of a deep inland water route from Massachusetts Bay to Beaufort, N. C., are the principal features of the plan.

Heretofore the work has been carried on in spots, usually those which could exercise the greatest pull in Congress. The recent speeches of the President emphasized the haphazard manner in which river improvements have been made and declared in favor of adopting some such general plan as is now proposed. The President committed himself to a comprehensive plan for improvement of the Mississippi, and, it is understood, is also in favor of the inland plan along the Atlantic seaboard.

The report will be made to him only a short time before his message will go to Congress, and he will continue in the message the discussion of the subject.
