COURSE OF PRICES STILL UNCERTAIN

Cessation of Liquidation, Due to Covering by Shorts, Causes Rally.

CALL MONEY IS NOW EASIER

Ultimate Outcome When Liquidation Is Renewed Subject of Much Solicitude.

NEW YORK, November 20.—There was not the consistent weakness in the stock market to-day that was so conspicuous yesterday, but the course of prices was uncertain and fluctuating all day. Liquidation of the special kind that was in evidence yesterday was suspended for a time to-day. The perception of this fact prompted some covering of shorts put out during the decline. Hence the midday rally in the market. There was some recurrence of liquidation late in the day. The distinctly easier tone of the call money market in the last day or two does not serve as assurance against such exigencies on the occasion of the maturity of time loans. The whole problem of maturities of outstanding loans obligations offers somewhat formidable posibilities for speculative conjecture, especially in view of the conviction that nearly universal indulgence has been shown during the period after practical paralysis of credit from which business has suffered. The ultimate outcome when the business body begins to feel the currents of life circulate again and when, in consequence liquidation must be renewed, is the subject of solicitude. The development of the day which was least liked was the renewed rise in the premium on currency and the resulting signs of disorder in the foreign exchange market. The postponement of dividend action on the Atlantic Coast Line stock caused some special weakness in the Southern group. The calling loans by the banks which ran the call loan rate up to 15 per cent. was attributed in some quarters to preparations by the banks for subscriptions to the United States Treasury certificates. The effect was to weaken the whole market again. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,722,000. United States 3s declined 3-4, and the 4s, 1 per cent. on call.

NEW YORK, November 20.—Money on call strong, 6@15; ruling rate, 7; closing bid, 6; offered at 10. Time loans strong and dull; sixty days, 15 per cent., and ninety days, 12 to 15 per cent.; six months, 8 per cent. Close: Prime mercantile paper nominally, 8 to 10 per cent. Sterling exchange strong, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8685@$4.87 for demand, and at $4.78 1-2@$4.79 for sixty-day bills. Commercial bills, $4.78 1-2@$4.79. Bar silver, 59 1-4. Mexican dollars, 47. Government bonds, weak. Railroad bonds, irregular.

BALTIMORE STOCK MARKET.

BALTIMORE, MD., November 20.—Seaboard Air Line, common and preferred—Nothing doing.

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, November 20.—The cotton market was quiet to-day, but ruled generally steady, closing at a net advance of 7@12 points. Sales were estimated at 175,000 bales. The market opened firm at an advance of 12@15 points on higher Liverpool cables, bullish private estimates of the crop and reports that wet weather in the central belt was damaging unpicked cotton. There was heavy realizing at the advance, but offerings were pretty well absorbed, and after some little irregularity the market ruled quiet and steady. The close was steady in tone and within three or four points of the best. Sentiment seemed to be a little more favorable to the market, owing to the smaller estimates of the crop recently circulated, and the bull claims of continued firmness in the interior markets of the South. General business was restricted no doubt by uncertainty regarding the action of the revision committee for the close tonight and as to the showing of the census report expected early to-day. Local statisticians are estimating that the census report will show about 7,500,000 bales ginned to November 14th, against 8,580,000 to the same date last year, and think such a showing would indicate a crop of under 12,000,000 bales.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 54,828 bales against 56,204 last week and 68,066 last year. For the week 340,000 bales against 354,243 last week and 412,949 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 13,711 bales against 24,095 last year, and at Houston 7,625 bales against 30,493 last year.

Cotton futures opened firm and closed steady.
