SHERIFF FAILED TO ENFORCE LAW

Governor Hughes Will Name Commission to Investigate Charges Against Bradley.

ALBANY, N. Y., August 17.—Governor Hughes will soon refer to a commissioner, whom he will appoint, the charges preferred against Sheriff John Bradley, Jr., of Saratoga county, for alleged failure to enforce the anti-race-track gambling laws at Saratoga. The commissioner is to take testimony in Saratoga and report his findings to the Governor.

The proceedure to be followed was indicated by Governor Hughes late today, when Sheriff Bradley appeared in the executive chamber to file his answer to the charges preferred by Walter Laidlaw, chairman of the so-called anti-race-track gambling campaign committee of New York.

Through his counsel, ex-Senator Edgar T. Brackett and Hiram C. Todd, of Saratoga, he made general denial of the allegation that during the racing season at Saratoga public betting had been openly conducted without interference by the sheriff and his deputies.

Louis Marshall, of New York, appeared for the complainants, accompanied by Mr. Laidlaw, and at least three witnesses, who, Mr. Marshall said, were in readiness to testify against Sheriff Bradley before the Governor, if he desired it.

With the approval of the Governor, Mr. Marshall submitted to Mr. Brackett the names of four hotels in Saratoga where, it is alleged, public betting was openly conducted.

70 YEARS OLD; FAST A MONTH.

Aged Couple Improve Their Health by Starvation.

SANTA ANA, CAL., August 17.—D. Edson Smith and wife, well-known residents of Santa Ana, after finishing an exhaustive course of study as to the cause and cure of disease, concluded that fasting came nearer than anything else offered as a cure for the ills that flesh is heir to, and accordingly decided to try it.

Each has fasted from three to eleven days at a time on numerous occasions, and decided to attempt a longer term of abstinence from food. After preparing themselves by eating only one meal a day for a month, Mrs. Smith made the first trial of a long fast by beginning on June 3d to take only distilled water.

All hunger left her after the third day, and did not return until after thirty-one days and four hours, when a strong desire for food came, which was gratified with a little orange juice first and then sweet corn meal gruel. She now eats regularly, and says she is greatly benefited and restored in health, while she decides her eyesight is better than it has been for years.

Mr. Smith began his fast on July 12th, and fasted for twenty-seven days, when he began taking nourishment, the first being orange juice and raw tomatoes. Mrs. Smith lost nineteen pounds during her thirty-one days' fast, and Mr. Smith lost eighteen pounds in his twenty-seven days' fast. Each will be seventy years old in a few months.
