New York Stock Market

New York, March 30.—The course of the price-movement of stocks shifted again to-day. The amounts offered for sale were not of great volume, but the demand was insufficient to absorb them except at material concessions. The dealing had an appearance of professionalism and the market was obviously narrow and apathetic. There were no striking news developments to explain the action of the market. A factor in inducing this action was the revised estimates of the extent of the rains in the Southwest, news of which prompted the buying of yesterday. The action of the wheat and cotton markets to-day was calculated to throw doubt on the efficiency of the relief afforded from the drought conditions which are said to be damaging the crop prospect.

Conclusions of wide application were drawn from the sudden weakness shown by the Atchison convertible bonds, which were dealt in "when issued" in the outside market. Compared with a price of 110 made yesterday afternoon, the issue was announced, the price ran off to 102 3-4. It was advanced in explanation that a provision by which the right of conversion is deferred until 1913 first became known to-day. The episode is cited, nevertheless, to show a heightened condition of new bond issues in the market.

Special interest attaches to the opinion of Chairman James J. Hill, of the Great Northern, regarded as expert authority, that the railroads of the country will require new capital at the rate of $1,600,000,000 a year for years to come to provide absolute necessities. In face of this necessity the demand for bonds both from home and from domestic investment sources continues to fall off. The speculation in rubber shares in that market shows no abatement.

The preparations for the April settlements made no impression on the general money market. The growing torpor of the demand for money has an obvious influence on settlement, as it is attributed, in part, to a falling off in mercantile and manufacturing borrowers. There was much discussion to-day of the danger of discouragement to enterprise in a prolonged delay in the decision of the important cases before the Supreme Court, the possibility of which is suggested in connection with the death of Justice Brewer. There was a rally in stocks when it became known that the Supreme Court would be in session to-Monday, with the possibility inferred of decisions being handed down.

The bond market was apathetic and irregular, due to slight recoveries of recent sharp declines. Total sales, par value, $3,166,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day of stocks were 688,600 shares.

New York, March 30.—Money on call easy, 2 3-4@3 per cent.; ruling rate 3; closing bid, 2 7-8; offered at 3 per cent. Time loans very dull and steady with a decline: sixty days, 3 3-4 per cent; ninety days, 3 7-8; six months, 4@4 1-4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4 3-4@5 per cent. Sterling exchange strong, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8450@$4.8500 for sixty-day bills, and at $4.85 1-2 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.85 1-2. Bar silver, 52 3-8. Mexican dollars, 44.

New Orleans, La., March 30.—Spot cotton steady and unchanged; middling, 14¾c. Sales on the spot 775 bales and 7,000 to arrive. Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 2@3 points on slightly lower cables than expected and moderate to light showers in Texas. In the first half hour of trading the buying orders greatly overbalanced the selling and prices took a quick upturn, landing 8@11 points up from the bottom. Later bearish traders flooded the market with reports of rains in Texas and prices fell 12@14 points from the high levels established in the early trading. These reports, however, were neutralized by complaints of the soil being too dry for planting in Louisiana, Arkansas and Alabama. In the afternoon session the decline was widened under increased short selling, based on rain reports from Texas. The market made the decline in a hesitating manner, owing to uncertainty over the quantity of precipitation. The closing was steady at the decline, 12@14 points.
