New York Stock Market

New York, January 12.—The stock market was more or less unsettled all day by reason of the heavy selling of Pennsylvania shares following yesterday's announcement that the directors had proposed to the stockholders an increase of $100,000,000 in the company's capitalization. The action of the directors was altogether unexpected and gave rise to fears that similar steps may soon be taken by various other roads, with a resultant congestion of the securities market. Pennsylvania sold down to 125 3-4, a loss of 3 3-8 points from the previous day's high price, on a total of transactions much in excess of any recent day. Long Island, an allied property, declined 4 1-4 points and pronounced weakness was shown at times by New York Central. The balance of the market was generally firm, with exceptional strength in the coalers, Harriman and Hill issues and St. Paul, the latter inspite of a poor statement of earnings for November.

Industrial shares were fairly steady under the leader of United States Steel, which was effected favorably by reports that operations are soon to be resumed at one of the corporations largest plants, as well as the decisions of the leading manufacturers to maintain the existing schedule of prices. Other industrials whose recent weakness caused some criticism, showed a better tone to-day. Taking the market as a whole, however, its professional tone was even more pronounced. Trading diminished in the late session, but the market hardened gradually until at the close, prices were near the best of the day.

Bond were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,360,000. Sales of stocks to-day were 356,400 shares.

New York, January 12.—Money on call easy, 2 1-4@3 per cent.; ruling rate, 2 7-8; closing bid, 2 1-4; offered at 3 1-2. Time loans more active; sixty days and ninety days, 3 1-4@3 1-2 per cent. six months, 3 1-2@3 3-4 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4 to 4 1-2 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8230 to $4.8240 for sixty-day bills, and at $4.8570 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.81 5-8@$4.82 1-8. Bar silver, 54 3-8. Mexican dollars, 45.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, January 12.—The cotton market recovered part of its recent loss during the day's trading as a result of covering, trade buying and a renewal of bull support, with the close firm at practically the best of the day, or at a net advance of from 8@13 points. The opening was steady at an advance of 6 points to a decline of 1 point, the months being relatively firm in sympathy with steady cables and the large English spot business, while later positions reflected a renewal of yesterday's selling movement. Right after the opening all the active months sold a point or two under the closing figures of last night, but offerings for short account were much less aggressive than they were yesterday, bid trade interests were large buyers of March and May, and shortly after the opening prominent bullish interests entered the ring as buyers of the spring and summer months. There was also covering by recent sellers, and prices worked up to a net advance of about 6@9 points before midday. Reports of relatively steady interior markets and a better demand from mills held short selling in check, but around 11.00 for May some long cotton came on the market, presumably for the account of holders rendered nervous by the recent unexpected bulging of prices. This in connection with an easier turn at New Orleans started a renewal of local selling, under which prices eased off to within a point or two of last night's close, but in the later trading there was another advance, which carried May up to 12.05, or 22 points above the low level of yesterday on a continued trade demand, further covering, bull support and Southern buying, which was supposed to reflect a positive steady interior spot markets and prospects for decreases in the world's visible supply of American cotton for the week. May closed at 12.07@.08. Domestic mills are said to be selling cotton on declines, and part of to-day's buying by spot houses in New York was believed to be covering hedge against this business. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-16 lower.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 28,219 bales against 28,439 last week and 25,251 last year. For the week 220,000 bales against 270,716 last week and 161,290 last year. To-day's receipts at New Orleans 1,237 bales against 4,816 last year, and at Houston 7,692 bales against 6,056 last year.

Cotton futures opened steady and closed firm:

New Orleans, La., January 12.—Spot cotton quiet, firm, unchanged; middling, 15c. Sales on the spot 600 bales and 725 to arrive. Futures opened steady at a decline of 2@1 points under a moderate volume of selling orders that had accumulated overnight with the commission houses. At the end of the first half hour of business the trading months were 6@8 points up from the lowest and 5 points over yesterday's close. The market was very steady throughout the morning session, confidently as the result of sensationally bullish messages from Liverpool to the effect that English mills were consuming cotton with greater rapidity than ever before in their history. Around the middle of the morning prices were 6@7 points over yesterday's close. Later scalping longs took profits, and at noon the trading months were 1 point over yesterday's last prices. In the afternoon session the market was very steady. At 2 o'clock the trading months were 5@10 points over yesterday's close. The market closed steadily at a net advance of 38@50 points. Closing bid: January, 14.90; February, 15.00; March, 15.07; May, 15.27; July, 15.36; August, 14.88.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Ill., January 12.—Suspicion developed to-day that big holders of wheat were surreptitiously selling out as much as the market would stand. In consequence prices closed at a net decline of ½@⅝c. to ⅞@1c. All other leading staples, too, finished lower. Corn ⅛c. to ¼@⅜c. under last night; oats off ⅛c. to ¼@½c., and hog products down 5@22½c.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

An Economical Stockholder

Asked us the other day if we thought the money spent in advertising paid the Company. Our prompt reply was, yes. And we told him that one of the reasons his Company had made THREE times as much money last year as it ever made in any year of its history was that we let the people know something about the beneficial services rendered by a Trust Company.

Our motive in mentioning the above is that there are thousands of prudent men and women in Virginia who would make this Company their Executor and Trustee if they understood the safety and wisdom of doing so.

All we ask is the privilege of explaining it. May we do so to you?
