FORTY THOUSAND PEOPLE AT FAIR

attractions, and from every corner of the tremendous area streamed towards the track. Plaudits rang from the multitudes for the blue ribboners and their seconds. Above the sun shone in kindly benison. From every rooftree in the grounds gay banners flaunted to the breeze. The band played a stirring turne, and the horses pranced proudly down the track. As they came opposite the crowded grandstand, the band struck up another air, and the people rose to their feet. It was a day for Virginia. It was the fair itself, its exhibits, which then attracted the crowd. The side shows, essential in a way to the success of any fair, were then forgotten. Again the parade passed before the cheering people, and again the people shouted themselves hoarse.

And when the races were over, and Sewell, making the last ascension, had dropped from a perilous height, the people streamed through Midway and Ballyhoo Lane, and cheerful noise waxed strong and loud. There was not the unpleasantness of two years ago. The pepole were happy and good-natured, and it was a general occasion of jollity. It was as two streams flowing side by side, but in opposite directions. One crowd kept to the right and the other to the left, so that there was no confusion, and the going was easy.

Big Money on Midway.

The show people did a good business, and the anxious spieler who feared for his salary made good and laughed with the crowd. Members of the Connecticut Foot Guard and of the Blues had every courtesy afforded to them, and they remained on the grounds until the moon came out, and it was time to return to other festivities in the city. The captive balloon, without any apparent connection with the earth, swung slowly to the breeze, appearing like a phantasmal moon, and beneath it a thousand lights strung across the grounds shed their rays.

The events to-day will be the same, except that the racing events will all be of the harness class. To-morrow the card will show nothing but running events. And to-morrow there will be a chariot race, four horses abreast, around the track. If he gets his propeller in time, LeVan will resume his aerial stunts to-day, and the visitors, unwearied, perhaps, of one thing, may always look at something new, and in the heights above see the latest creation of man.

Priest's Advice Led to Their Recovery

Thin, weak, or frail people—those who "take cold easily" and sufferers of Bronchitis and Asthma, should be prepared with Eckman's Alterative in the house.

Remarkable cures of even Tuberculosis (Consumptive) persons are often accomplished. Here are two cases:

"Gentlemen: On June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular Peritonitis at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physicians gave me up. I was then urged by a priest to take Eckman's Alterative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 pounds. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 pounds, and am absolutely cured."

(Signed Affidavit) EDNA FINZER.
90 Savannah St., Rochester, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: I was trouble with Asthma and Bronchitis for seventeen years. After trying many remedies Eckman's Alterative was recommended to me by our parish priest. I am now feeling fine. I cannot praise it enough."

(Signed Affidavit) ANNA MAE McENTEE.
Lacon, Ill.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by Owens & Minor Drug Company and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

Scalp Itch Goes

Dandruff Germs are Responsible, Parisian Sage Will Kill Them

It's the little dandruff germs growing way down at the root of your hair that is causing that itch misery.

CLEARS COMPLEXION OF ALL AGE MARKS

Writing for the Denver Call, Mae Martyn says: "The woman who dreads using face powder will find splendid relief from her complexion ills by using instead a lotion made by dissolving four ounces of spurmax in one-half pint hot water, adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Or in cool weather, to make the lotion dry more quickly, use one-half pint witchhazel instead of the water.

"This simple, inexpensive lotion far surpasses face powder, as it gives lasting beauty to the skin. It stays on better and does not show on the skin like powder. For whitening and refining a coarse, muddy or sallow skin, this lotion is unequaled. It takes away that shiny look and makes the skin satiny and youthful looking. No beauty seeker should be without this wonderful complexion beautifier, as a few applications will make any face look years younger."
