Saving Two Hours Out Of Every Three

Did you ever time a team of horses by detaining them long it takes them to cover a distance of one mile?

You will be surprised. And if they are hauling your goods you will be more than surprised.

We have held a watch every time we hitched up our Alco motor truck, and we find it takes them as long for a team of horses to go over a mile as it does one of our trucks.

An Alco truck, particularly the 2½ ton capacity model, makes 14 miles an hour, whether per mile—and with a full load aboard.

And the Alco truck not only does it the one mile but all day long, 24 hours in the day if necessary. It does business for and has delivered much more by noon. At the end of the day it does equally.

But an Alco truck operates as equally at the end of the day as at the beginning. It never tires.

Mechanical or motor transports that should substitute every horse drawn in Richmond and an Alco truck is the quickest and most satisfying means of getting acquainted with it.
