New York Stock Market

New York, February 19.—Pressure on the Stock Market relaxed to-day and the downward movement was checked. The undertone was distinctly better and at the close a number of leading issues had established net gains of 1 to 2 points. Early in the day, after a strong opening, bear traders made a move at the market and succeeded in sending some stocks to new low points for the movement. The list offered better resistance than recently, however, and prices soon moved up again. Thereafter the market was steady.

The change was, to some extent, a reflection of the improvement abroad, the principal foreign markets exhibiting a better tone. The better feeling apparently was due to relaxation of strain over the political situation. News from Mexico held hope of peace and fears of the entanglement of European powers in the Balkan war lessened.

The chief source of strength, however, laid in the size of the short interest. Covering of short contracts was responsible for a brisk demand for some speculative leaders. Steel was bought persistently and there was a steady demand also for Reading and Union Pacific. The strength of these stocks influenced the remainder of the list. There was some further selling of minor stocks, but the declines were not great and had little effect on the market as a whole. Chesapeake and Ohio was sold in unusually large amounts, and at one time showed a loss of over three points. The decline in Goodrich continued, the early part of the day pulling it down to forty, but later it more than recovered its loss.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,500,000.

Panama 2s, registered, declined 1-8 on call.

New York, February 19.—Money on call easier, 3@3 3-4 per cent; ruling rate, 3 1-2. Closing bid, 3 1-4; offered at 3 1-2. Time loans, strong; sixty days, 4 1-2@4 3-4 per cent; ninety days and six months, 4 3-4@5.

Prime mercantile paper, 5 per cent.

Sterling exchange, heavy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8316 for sixty day bills, and at $4.8760 for demand.

Commercial bills, 4.82 3-4.
Bar silver, 62.
Mexican dollars, 48 1-2.
Government bonds, easy.
Railroad bonds, heavy.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, February 19.—After a fairly steady morning the cotton market became suddenly weak and closed barely steady at a net decline of from 20@41 points. The opening was steady at an advance of 1 point on September, but generally unchanged to 3 points lower in sympathy with disappointing cables. There appeared to be a good many buying orders around the ring, probably representing a renewal of yesterday's covering movement, as well as some fresh demand, based on the steadiness of Southern spot markets, reports of more active demand for goods in China, a better tone of the Mexican situation and the readiness with which the market had absorbed yesterday's heavy offerings. Houses with European connections were again buyers, particularly of the new crop months, and there was some demand for May, which was said to be on orders cabled from Bombay. At any rate the market firmed up right after the call with the active months selling about 20@41 points net higher. The advance was checked around this level so far as the old crop was concerned, and after the new crop had sold about 8 points net higher on trade buying and continued covering, the whole list weakened. Numerous Wall Street and uptown brokers appeared around the ring with big selling orders, and the appearance of so much cotton offering seemed to revive aggressive bearish sentiment. Offerings soon became general, and the market closed at the lowest point of the day with old crop positions showing net losses of 15@17 points. Possibly the reported strike of garmen workers in Philadelphia inspired part of the afternoon selling, but the more general impression appeared tobe that the absence of more aggressive bull support and reports of more rapid progress with farm work had encouraged a renewal of the selling movement which had been so active on the break of Monday. It was also reported that some of the leading trade interests were selling old crops against purchases of new crop positions. The day's news from the South indicated no change of importance in the spot situation.

Cotton futures closed barely steady:

New Orleans, La., February 19.—The cotton market to-day displayed weakness late in the session after a period of uncertainty and indecision. In the morning no great amount of business was done, and prices worked below and above the level of yesterday's close. Later, heavy traders began feeling of the market, and finally applied sufficient pressure to cause a quick decline. There were no new features, and the market was mainly a professional affair. The opening was steady at a decline of 1@4 points, due to selling well scattered around the ring. The weather forecast for rain for the entire belt caused buying, and the most active months went 4@10 points over yesterday's final quotations. The advance was short lived. At noon prices were about at yesterday's close, but in the afternoon there was a drop to a level, 5@14 points under yesterday's final quotations, the new crop months showing the least weakness, which was taken to mean that strong interests were buying them. In the last hour of business shorts were profit-takers, and this sustained prices in the absence of support from the bull side. The close was officially called steady with prices showing a net loss of 5@13 points. Spot cotton steady, unchanged; middling, 12.7-16c. Sales on the spot 450 bales and 629 to arrive. Closing futures: February, 11.36; March, 11.41; May, 12.09; July, 12.10; August, 11.91; September, 11.58; October, 11.46; December, 11.41.

EUGENICS, TOPIC OF NEXT LECTURE

Fourth University Extension Lecture at John Marshall High School To-Morrow Night.

Eugenics—the much-in-vogue science of race betterment—will provide the subject matter of the next lecture at the John Marshall High School, under the University of Virginia extension series. An address on this topic will be delivered to-morrow night by Dr. H. E. Jordan, of the department of histology of the University of Virginia.

Dr. Jordan is regarded as one of the country's great authorities on eugenics. His lecture to-morrow night will be on the subject "The Effect of War on the Race," and will be cast on popular lines. The same lecture has drawn large crowds in Fredericksburg, Petersburg, Lynchburg and other cities in the State.

Coming at a time when Mexico's millions are engaged in a death struggle to establish stable government, while the Turks and the Slavs are resorting to the sword for rival dominion, Dr. Jordan's lecture on the effect of war will prove of high topical interest. There is no admission charge and the general public is invited. The lecture will be given at 8:15 o'clock.

Dr. Jordan will arrive in Richmond to-morrow afternoon and will address the Equal Suffrage League on the subject, "Eugenics." At the night lecture at John Marshall High School he will be presented by Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, director of medical inspection in the city public schools. Special invitations to attend have been sent to the Academy of Medicine and Surgery, Richmond College, Woman's College, Theological Seminary, Woman's Club, Federation of Mothers' Clubs, Equal Suffrage League and city officials.

The last lecture of the course will be given on the evening of March 21, by Dr. Charles Alphonso Smith, of the department of English, University of Virginia. His subject will be, "What Literature Can Do for You."

Planting Early Potatoes.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Williamsburg, Va., February 19.—Planting early Irish potatoes in this county, which was interrupted by the recent cold weather, has been resumed, and if it continues clear, will be practically completed this month. Several hundred acres have been planted already, and while the crop will not be as large as last year, it will be considerable. More watermelons will be planted this spring than in many years, and a bigger cotton acreage will be planted, a gin having been located here to handle the staple. W. O. Strong, of Kingsmill farm, will plant fifty acres to cotton, which is the largest individual crop ever grown in this section, it just having been ascertained that cotton does well on the Peninsula.
