MANAGER TINKER CAN'T HELP REDS

Returns to Game, but Is Unable to Stop McGraw's Climbing Giants.

FIVE PITCHERS ARE USED

All Hit Hard But Fromme, Who Holds Former Teammates in Hand.

Cincinnati, June 17.—Manager Joe Tinker was back in the game to-day, his five-day suspension having expired, but his presence at short did not seem to change the Reds' luck, the Giants taking the second of the four-game series by a score of 6 to 2. Lefty Packard went to the box for the Reds and big Jeff Tesreau for the Giants. Red Ames relieved Packard in the third inning and Harter replaced Ames in the following inning. After Tesreau had issued six passes in the fourth inning Art Fromme, the former Red, was sent in and finished the game. The score:

PERDUE BESTS O'TOOLE

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 17.—Hub Perdue had the edge in a pitchers' battle here this afternoon against O'Toole, and the Boston team copped the game, 1 to 0, thanks to a misplay by "Scroops" Carey. Getting over this one misplay, both teams should be playing yet, as the article of ball offered was the best seen on the local lot this season. Perdue was master of the situation at all times, as is attested by his pitching record. O'Toole let the visitors down with one hit less, however, but the support accorded him was not equal to that of the visitors. Mann, in middle field, attempted to monopolize all the great plays of the game, but decrepit Honus Wagner pulled one in the sixth session which aroused both stands and bleachers. The score:

PHILLIES ARE BLANKED

Chicago, Ill., June 17.—C. Smith applied the brush to Bill Locke's Phillies here to-day, 4 to 0. Third base was the nearest any of the visitors were allowed to approach home, and they were only granted seven scattered hits. Brennan opened the contest for the league leaders, but on four safeties the Cubs scored two tallies. After he had permitted one single and issued three passes in the third, forcing in a run, Moore was hurried to his relief, and he polished off the Cubs, holding them hitless until the finish. ## SUPERBAS BEAT CARDS

St. Louis, June 17.—Brooklyn defeated the Cardinals in easy fashion here to-day, 8 to 3. Bunched hits in the fourth and seventh innings produced seven runs for the visitors, one having previously been made in the second inning on a peculiar play. Daubert singled over second and Oakes, failing to stop the ball, Daubert completed the circuit while the ball rolled to the club gate. St. Louis in the seventh, on five hits, one of which was a double, made three runs. The score:

SAYS RAILROADS ARE TOO ACTIVE

involved, it does not propose, at any length, to discuss these problems, as it is thoroughly satisfied that they admit of feasible and practical treatment.

"Third. Before going further, it should be distinctly stated and clearly understood that nothing which is said in favor of the location near Fifteenth and Main Streets precludes, in the slightest degree, the establishment of a West End station at or near the Hermitage Golf Club, in a manner similar to the establishment of substations by carriers combining for the establishment of a union passenger station in other cities.

"Fourth. The preference of your committee for the location near Fifteenth and Main Streets is based upon the following reasons, which are deemed of paramount importance:

"(a) A union passenger station established at that location is nearest what may be termed the centre of gravity of the city population; it is the point where the cars of nearly every street car line pass in both directions, and to and from which transfers can be most conveniently obtained to and from every part of the city.

As It Affects Passengers.

"This is not only true with reference to the population within the city limits north of James River, but is also true especially of the population of South Richmond, which crosses the river from the Southside either by Mayo's Bridge or the Ninth Street Bridge.

"(b) It is the point at which the travel to the city, either for business or social purposes, can best be landed to reach the business houses, the hotels and the majority of residences, and the fear which has been expressed that there would be congestion on account of the number of passengers who would patronize a union passenger station located at this point is believed to be entirely groundless from the experience of other cities, notably that of New York, where a far greater number of passengers are handled at the Grand Central Station at Forty-second Street, which is but little wider than Main Street, and where a much larger number of street cars and vehicles receive and discharge passengers.

"As your committee views the matter, if the Atlantic Coast Line and Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac persist in their present purpose to abandon the Elba connection and to run their through passenger trains around Richmond and back into a station at the Hermitage Golf Club from Acca, your committee anticipates and most gravely fears that there would come a time, and not in the very distant future, when those through trains, northbound or southbound, will not be backed to the Hermitage Golf Club station, and the passengers destined to Richmond will be notified to take certain coaches, which will be detached from the through train and separately backed into the station; and it also fears that the Atlantic Coast Line station in South Richmond, at Hull and Twenty-first Street, Byrd Street Station and Elba Station may all be finally abandoned as stops, at least for all through passenger trains, either north or southbound, and that passengers destined for every part of Richmond and South Richmond on such through trains will be obliged to land at the Hermitage Golf Club Station, no matter how remote from that station may be their place of residence or business.

Final Consideration.

"(c) Finally, the most important consideration and one which does not seem to have been urged in connection with this subject, is that it would solve forever the very important question of the grade crossings of the Belt Line between Broad and Cary Streets, between which points there must be projected a dozen or more thoroughfares to accommodate the people in that rapidly growing section of the city.

"It may not be amiss to refer, for the purpose of illustration, to the action taken by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway when it was confronted with the necessity for connecting its James River Division (formerly the Richmond and Alleghany Railroad) with its peninsular division, i. e., its main line from Richmond to Newport News. When that connection was in contemplation, your committee is informed that the engineers of the Chesapeake and Ohio made numerous surveys of the territory which would have to be traversed west and north of the city, and that for the reason that so many grade crossings would be encountered by a link connecting those divisions by a surface route, they abandoned that idea altogether and constructed their very unique and costly steel viaduct down the bed of the river from a point near Belvidere Street to a point near Mayo's Bridge, and thence by elevated structure to its Main Street Station and to Fulton."

To Reduce Number of Members.

Washington, D. C., June 17.—Representative Campbell, of Kansas, introduced to-day a bill to reduce the number of members of the House after March 3, 1917, to 223, in place of the present membership of 435.

TRIPLE PLAY IS FEATURE OF DAY

Washington Wins, After Chick Gandil's Catch Renews Confidence of Team.

MULLIN BADLY ROUTED

Tom Hughes Sent to Rescue of Ex-Detroiter, and Stems Onslaught.

Washington, June 17.—This was boosters day at the Washington ball park, and the boosters saw the Senators pull a triple play against the Naps and then come from behind and win the game in the sixth inning by bunching four hits.

A boosters club has been organized here to support the home club "in victory and in defeat." This was the big day of celebration. The boosters royally rooted for George Mullin until Griffith yanked him in the third after the Clevelanders had hit his delivery to all corners of the lot. Tom Hughes went in with two on and was hit for a single, scoring 3 runs. Then, with Graney on first and Ryan on second, Steve O'Neil hit a liner toward right. Chick Gandil stuck out a glove and the ball stuck. Gandil touched first and then threw to McBride, making a triple play.

Washington hit Mitchell hard in only two innings, but that was enough. The score:

ATHLETICS WIN SWATFEST

Philadelphia, Pa., June 17.—The Athletics won a one-sided swatfest from the White Sox here to-day, 7 to 1. Both Scott and Houck twirled seven innings, and Lange, who pitched one, were pounded over the lot for a total of thirteen safeties, while Houck, for the Mack men, held the visitors to three hits. Ping Bodie knocked a homer in the fifth, giving the Sox their only tally. Baker also kept up his swatting record, securing a homer in the second round. The score:

BROWNS FIND YANKEES EASY

New York, June 17.—The St. Louis Browns easily defeated the Yanks today in the first of their three-game series, 7 to 4. The hitting was heavy on both sides, with the visitors having a shade the better, and the fielding explains the position of the clubs.

Keating started for the Yanks, but lasted only one inning, Fisher taking his place. Fisher and Caldwell were both given the gate in the sixth when St. Louis scored three runs off four hits, an error and a pass. Warhop finished the game. Baumgardner and Hamilton shared the slab work for Stovall's club.

Williams's work was the only feature of the game. He batted for 1.000, getting four hits out of four times up, one a triple. The score:

SPLITS DOUBLE-HEADER

Boston, June 17.—After losing the first game, 7 to 4, principally through the good pitching of Moseley, the Detroit Tigers made it an even split by taking the afternoon game from the Red Sox. Timely hitting and uncertain work by Bedient were responsible for the result. Bush collided with Nunamaker at the plate while trying to score in the third inning of the afternoon game and injured his leg so badly that he was forced to retire. The score:

WOMEN THREATEN "HUNGER STRIKE"

izes the belief that the end justifies the means as 'treason against the Almighty.'"

Whatever the motives of the prisoners, Judge Phillimore said he must treat them as persons who had done a very serious injury to public peace, and must be restrained from doing further mischief and made to some extent an example to others.

No Time for Leniency.

After passing sentences, he said:

"One of the counsel had suggested that the time for leniency had passed, and I do not think you will meet with quite the same treatment as have the others. I am bound to add that if the Home Secretary consults me, as he often consults a judge, I shall take upon myself the responsibility of saying to him that the ringleaders among you, at any rate, should not be let out of prison under any circumstances."

"Then we shall die together," exclaimed Miss Kenney.

The judge—"If you, in the words of our great poet, violate the great canon the Everlasting has fixed against self-slaughter you will have to reconcile such action with your conscience."

Miss Kenney—"I am quite prepared to do that."

Miss Barrett excitedly—"We shall all hunger strike."

Mrs. Saunders—"Miss Kenney will not keep me in prison against my will."

Miss Kenney—"They have got to let me out or kill me. I think your summing was most biased and unfair. You ought to be ashamed of yourself to receive £6,000 a year for hounding women."

Interest in Trial.

Greater interest was taken in to-day's proceedings than in any previous stage of the trial. The courtroom was crowded. Women formed the majority of the audience, among them being Mrs. Winston Spencer Churchill, wife of the First Lord of the Admiralty, and Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the Premier.

Miss Kenney asserted that the action of the Ulster Unionists and the speeches of Cabinet ministers, who, she said, had asserted that the unenfranchised were justified in rebelling to get their grievances remedied, furnished ample warrant for militancy.

"I am a rebel," she said, "and a rebel I shall remain until women receive the vote. If, like Miss Davison, it should be necessary for me to sacrifice my life, then I shall gladly die."

INCREASE IN LIQUOR LICENSE.

Will Be Voted by Alexandria Board of Aldermen To-Night.

Alexandria, Va., June 17.—The Board of Aldermen will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock to-morrow night, at which time they will reach an agreement on the liquor license proposition.

Recently the Finance Committee of the City Council in its report for license for the coming fiscal year, which begun May 31, increased the liquor dealers from $150 to $250. The bill was passed by the Common Council. The Aldermen, however, amended it by restoring the license to its original figures. Efforts on their part to finally compromise the matter by splitting the difference proved unavailing, and now they have determined that the best thing to do is to settled
