Auction Sales Future Days

BY VIRTUE OF A DEED OF TRUST to me as trustee, dated the 28th day of November, 1910, from Charles E. Rafferty to the Gloucester-Mathews Bank, Incorporated, at Mathews C. H., Virginia, duly recorded in the Clerk's office of Mathews County, Virginia, in Deed Book No. 17, at pages 64, 65 and 66, and at the request of the Bank of Mathews, Incorporated, the legal holder of the principal and interest notes secured thereby, default having been made in the payment of the interest due, I will sell at public auction, at Mathews C. H., Virginia, on the following property, to-wit:

TUESDAY, THE 22D DAY OF JULY, 1913,

at 2 o'clock P. M.,

All that certain tract or parcel of land, with the buildings and other improvements thereon, including the "Auburn Wharf" property, situated, lying and being in the Westville Magisterial District, in the County of Mathews and State of Virginia, known as the "House Tract" portion of "Auburn," and containing one hundred and fifteen acres, more or less.

Also another portion of the same tract, formerly owned by Miss Sally V. B. Tabb, and containing about sixty-five or seventy acres, the same being sold in gross and not by the acre.

Also another portion of the same tract, formerly owned by Miss Sally V. B. Tabb, and containing ten acres of wood land, more or less.

All of the above property being the same heretofore conveyed to Charles Heath by Edith de C. Heath, Ada Ripley Dolliver and Thomas Dolliver, her husband, by deed bearing date on the 1st day of April, 1907, and conveyed September 22nd, 1910, by Charles and Anna B. Heath to Charles E. Rafferty by deed recorded in the Clerk's office of Mathews County, in Deed Book No. 17, at pages 62, 63 and 64.

Also all the right, title and interest of Charles E. Rafferty in and to forty-four and 34-100 acres of oyster planting grounds adjacent to "Auburn Farm" on North River, in the County of Mathews, by virtue of a lease from the State of Virginia, including all of the oysters and shells thereon.

TERMS: For cash as to so much as may be necessary to defray the expenses of executing this trust, including a trustee's commission of 5 per cent, and to discharge in cash the principal sum of a note for $16,000, subject to a credit of $1,200 thereon, together with interest on the remainder of $14,800 from November 28, 1912, at 6 per centum per annum.

J. BOYD SEARS, Trustee.

By H. Seldon Taylor & Son, Real Estate Agents and Auctioneers, No. 8 North Eleventh Street.

TRUSTEE'S AUCTION SALE OF LOT OF LAND AT THE SOUTHWEST CORNER OF TWENTY-FOURTH AND "R" STREETS, WITH A ONE-STORY FRAME STORE THEREON.

In execution of a certain deed of trust, from George B. Rudd to the undersigned trustee, dated November 22, 1909, and duly recorded in the clerk's office of the Chancery Court of the city of Richmond, in Deed Book 204-D, page 351, default having been made in the payment of several of the notes thereby secured, and at the request of the holder of said notes, I will proceed to sell at public auction, on the premises, on the house and lot above mentioned. This lot is situated at the southwest corner of Twenty-fourth and "R" Streets, and fronts on the west line of Twenty-fourth Street 38x125 feet to an alley 14 feet wide.

TERMS: Enough in cash to pay the cost of executing this trust, all taxes and insurance premiums to day of sale, and the following notes, viz: one for $20, with interest from November 22, 1911, to day of sale; one for $30, with interest from May 22, 1912, to day of sale; one for $30, with interest from November 22, 1912, to day of sale; one for $1,000, with interest from November 22, 1912, to day of sale, and as to the residue, the terms will be announced at the hour of sale.

WANTS RESORT NEAR TOWN FOR HOME FOLK IN SUMMER

Fact That Thousands Go Away on Holidays and Sunday Simply Goes to Show That There Are No Attractions to Keep Them in Richmond.

"When you figure how many thousands of people went out of town for the Fourth of July, and how many thousands go away every Sunday, it seems to me that we ought to have some recreations and resorts that would keep them comfortable at home," said a business man yesterday, who had just returned from the seashore. "The working multitude must have some comfort and relaxation on summer holidays. The beach, of course, is a big attraction, but notice how wilted and worn out they are when they get back home. All the pleasure is destroyed by a hot train ride.

"Is the seashore the solitary drawing card? I think not. There is nowhere else to go. We have no attractions for our own people in the summer time outside of a ball game and a few vaudeville and moving-picture theatres. Look at the acres of parks, but what do you see there? Hardly benches enough for the crowds, and a man does not dare walk on the grass, for long ago it seemed to be the established law that the parks were not for the people. If a poor fellow tries to sleep in a park here when he cannot sleep in his tenement room, he is arrested, locked up if he cannot get quick bail, and sent to court.

"The civic organizations and the leaders of uplift things should look at this problem and see if something cannot be done to make the laws—or rather the park rules—a bit less fierce. If you go to William Byrd Park and sit near the roadway around the lake your eyes are filled with whirling dust kicked up by automobiles, and you have to move. The rich can go to the mountains, but the poor we have with us always because they cannot afford it. Then why not fix something in or near town for their amusement and comfort and pleasure?

"Why does not some man with big ideas build a resort somewhere along James River, somewhere below town, with the right sort of attractions and a regular boat line or street car connections. Cincinnati built a Coney Island on the Ohio River, and when people out there can get a twenty-five mile boat ride and plenty of attractions, it is all they want. The trouble is we have neglected this opportunity, and sit back and say if people want that sort of entertainment let them go to the seashore. But did you ever figure how much money it took away from Richmond? If there is no human element behind resort-building of this character, then how about the money element? I am not advocating a wide-open town on Sunday, but we should provide something for our own people and at the same time provide something to bring other people here.

"James River, for recreation purposes, is dead, except for a few boats and an occasional moonlight to Dutch Gap. If we had daily trips to Dutch Gap the business would soon increase, and later you would see a big resort within reach of the home folk and a greater desire to go to some place near-by and thereby avoid the drudgery of a long train journey to the beach. Once we take hold of this thing we will wonder why we never thought of it before. We have the water, the means of transportation, ideal resort lands and plenty of money to back it, but thus far we have had no man who would undertake it. Keep the thought before them and in time Richmond people will get what they have long deserved."

Odds and Ends From the Wire

BLIND MAN A SUICIDE.

Ended Life by Hanging Himself While Alone in His Home.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 6.—Preferring death to blindness, which has afflicted him for some time, Herman Nitchie, father of "Young" Nitchie, the pugilist, hanged himself yesterday in his home, 2414 East Norris Street. Nitchie had been separated from his family and lived alone. Recently, in response to a request that he made to the Eleventh District police to be sent to a hospital, he was taken to the Philadelphia Hospital, but returned several days ago.

Neighbors have been looking after the old man since his return, and yesterday one of them, Harry Riley, went to Nitchie's home. When he failed to get any response to his repeated knocks on the front door he summoned Policeman Phillips of the Twenty-sixth District. They found the old man's body dangling from a clothes line. The body was sent to the morgue, but was afterward removed by a son.

ADRIFT ON CANOE BOTTOM.

Three Daring Youths Lost in Fog at Sea.

Atlantic City, July 6.—Losing their reckoning in a dense fog off the coast, Joseph Slack, of Ventnor City, and two youthful Philadelphians headed out to sea in a canoe, under the impression that they were approaching the beach. The canoe was upset by a giant roller, and the three frightened occupants, clinging to the upturned craft, drifted about for two hours.

The tide carried the drifters within 200 yards of the Ventnor beach, where their hails were heard by Life-Guard Tenny. He set out with a can buoy, guided solely by the cries of the imperiled youths, and finally made them out through the fog. One of their number was so badly exhausted he was brought ashore only with the greatest difficulty.

NAILS HEAD TO EVADE NOOSE.

Wife Murderer's Savage Device Bars Hanging, He Says.

Pottsville, Pa., July 6.—"I have driven two nails into my brain and you cannot hang me now," declared Malina Massa to the warden of the Schuylkill County Prison.

Massa, who murdered his wife at Raven Run several months ago, is under sentence of death, and as he has already made several attempts at suicide his statement alarmed the keeper.

Investigation showed that Massa's statement was true. He had driven the nails so firmly into his head that it was necessary to shave the hair off and lance the flesh in order to get a hold to pull them out.

Massa said he drove the nails in by holding them against his head and then butting his head against the cell wall.

What puzzles the surgeons is that Massa is still walking around, although the wound to the brain and skull was thought to be necessarily fatal. It is thought, however, that infection will surely bring death to the determined prisoner.

MUST LEARN TO SWIM.

Jersey Commissioner Proposes to Make It Part of School Course.

Trenton, N. J., July 6.—Many drownings of boys who did not know how to swim stirred Dr. Calvin N. Kendall, State Commissioner of Education, to say that he was an advocate of compelling school children to learn to swim. He mentioned universities where no one can graduate who cannot swim, and said that children should be taught to take as good care of themselves in the water as they are taught to do on land.

"How can this be brought about?" was asked.

"The difficulty is the taxpayer," said the doctor. "We have the legislation. We received it from the Legislature this winter in the McDermott law, which compels the teaching in every public school of the State how to avoid accidents. Under this law swimming can be made compulsory, and when public opinion gets to that point it will become so."

SALARIES AND LIVING COST.

Teachers Find $800 a Year in Detroit Equals $1,000 in New York.

Salt Lake City, July 6.—With thousands of teachers present from all parts of the United States, the National Education Association convention opened here.

The report of the committee on salaries, tenure and pensions was presented by Joseph Swain, president of Swarthmore College. The report sets forth that a salary of $800 a year in Detroit is equivalent to $1,000 in New York or Atlanta, and that a comparison of salaries between cities is of no value without a comparison of the cost of living.

TRAIN TAKES HIS HEART OUT.

Unusual Fatality Between Swarthmore and Morton Stations.

Morton, Pa., July 6.—Isaiah Harris, aged forty-five years, of Media, was found dead along the Central Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad between this borough and Swarthmore. It is believed he was struck by a train some time last night.

Harris's heart was wrenched from his body and found some distance from the scene of the tragedy. His watch and chain and $7 were found intact. Deputy Coroner Griffith removed the body to the morgue.

JAPS GIVE TOWN A FOURTH.

Only for Them California Village Would Have Had No Celebration.

New Castle, Cal., July 6.—New Castle would not have had a Fourth of July celebration had it not been for Japanese residents.

Most of the Americans had gone on visits to neighboring cities, so the Japanese built a platform in a field, decorated it with American flags and Japanese lanterns, invited Americans to attend and provided day and night fireworks and free refreshments. A Japanese acted as master of ceremonies, and introduced the speakers, several of whom were Americans.

FASHION FEARS THE MOB.

Startling Creations of French Modistes Avoid Longchamp.

Paris, July 6.—The Grand Prix rarely brings out any very startling fashions, because the modistes fear that the crowd, which is less exclusive than the fashionable events at Chantilly or for the grand steeplechase, will ridicule and kill any sensational mode.

The split and peekaboo skirts worn last week on Grand Prix day were all of a modified kind, and the only novelties were hats decorated by miniature tennis racquets, silk stockings embroidered just below the knee with butterflies or with cockroaches—insects valued by the French as a sign of good luck. These stockings are only for wear with the slit skirt.

The smart set always welcomes new and bizarre fashions even if it does not imitate them. It is astonishing how quickly eccentric modes started by women outside the pale of society are adopted by the most exclusive ladies, who began by condemning such things as vulgar.

The heavy velvet hats of a few years ago seem about to have another call of popularity, a great number being in at the races this week.

HAWTHOINE WILL BE GIVEN PAROLE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Washington, July 6.—Julian Hawthorne, the author, will be paroled from the Federal Prison at Atlanta, Ga., where he is serving a sentence of a year and a day for using the mails to sell fraudulent mining stock, according to authoritative information here.

The parole board has held hearing to parole Hawthorne, but it cannot be acted on until July 14. It was learned that the report made by the board will favor the parole of the prisoner provided he is willing to conform to certain restrictions to be placed upon his actions by the warden. The report inclines to the belief that Hawthorne knew he was committing a fraud when he wrote glowing articles concerning the mining properties of his friends. Hawthorne's friends take strong exception to this, and declare that the writer was merely a tool in the hands of persons who were heavily interested in the sale of the Canadian mining stock.

Following the announcement of the finding of the parole board an attempt will be made to secure a pardon for Hawthorne, according to several of his friends. No action looking toward a pardon can be acted on until after the action by the board on July 24.

Hawthorne's friends are asking for his parole on the ground that the ends of justice have already been served in the humiliation and punishment already suffered by Hawthorne.

ROYALISTS ALARMED

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]

Paris, July 6.—Many of the prominent friends of the Duke of Orleans, who is the Bourbon pretender to the French throne, and who is now in South America, are endeavoring to dissuade the duchess from suing for a separation, which intention she announced some time ago when she brought an action against the duke for maintenance and to recover several thousand dollars, which she alleged he owed her. By his many escapades which have become public the duke has lost many of his former staunchest friends and supporters, and the royalist leaders feel that any further airing of the troubles of their head will tend to further weaken the cause.

Some time ago the duke was reported at Lake Como in the company of a fascinating English woman. He later sailed for South America on the same steamer with his English friend.

Buck—Pace.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Charlottesville, Va., July 6.—James E. Buck, of the United States naval service, and Miss Ruth S. Pace, daughter of Mrs. Walter Pace, of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, on Rose Hill, the Rev. Gilby C. Kelly, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. After a brief wedding trip they will go to Norfolk, where Mr. Buck is at present stationed.
