PROMINENT WOMEN ATTEND CONFERENCE

Formal Opening of Christian Workers' Home Is Interesting Feature.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Montreat, N. C., August 15.—The sessions of the woman's conference, which are now being held at Montreat, are being attended by almost 300 delegates, who have registered from all sections of the church, and in addition to these, many other women are present. This is the most largely attended meeting of the woman's conference by far that has been held in the Southern Presbyterian Church.

The presiding officer is Mrs. Archibald Davis, of Atlanta, Ga., and Miss Margaret Rankin, of Charlotte, N. C., is recording secretary. Among the women taking prominent part on the program of the conference are the following: Mrs. W. C. Winsborough, of Kansas City, Mo., superintendent of the woman's auxiliary for the church; Mrs. Lacy L. Little and Mrs. J. Mercer Blain, missionaries in China, who are at home on furlough; Miss Margaret McNeilly, of Nashville, Tenn., who represents the woman's auxiliary in the office of the executive committee of foreign missions; Miss Barbara E. Lambdin, of Atlanta, Ga., similar representative of the woman's auxiliary in the office of the executive committee of home missions; Mrs. L. W. Curtis, of Macon, Ga., and Mrs. D. B. Wells, of Chicago, who comes to Montreat for the first time, and who is recommended as one of the ablest leaders of mission study classes; she will conduct the mission study classes during this conference, and will continue this feature of the program several days after the close of the conference. Women who are prominently identified with the missionary work of the young people's and children's societies of the church will also address the conference. Several of the missionaries from Mexico and other foreign mission fields of the church, who represent the Women of the church in these fields, are present, and their messages to the conference will be heard with special interest.

There are 2,606 women's societies in the Southern Presbyterian Church, the total membership being 66,654. During the past year there was a gain of seventy-eight societies and a gain of 6,210 members of these auxiliaries. The contributions of the women's societies the past year were as follows: To foreign missions, $124,553; to home missions, $52,464; to local causes, $166,567; to other causes, $57,935, making a total to all causes of $401,519.

The number of young people's societies in the church is 1,119, with a total membership of 29,507. These societies contributed as follows during the past year: to foreign missions, $12,572; to home missions, $5,880; to local causes, $13,853; to other causes, $6,198. There are reported also in this connection 244 men's and boys' societies, with a total membership of 6,020. These societies have given the past year $9,285 to foreign missions, $2,859 to home missions, $6,038 to local causes, and $2,294 to other causes. The amount contributed by the women's societies, the young people's societies and the men's and boys' societies give $460,498 as the total for the year.

The most interesting feature in connection with the beginning of the woman's conference was the formal opening of the Christian Workers' Home. This occasion was marked by a reception, which was attended by at least 500 men and women, who were glad of the opportunity given to inspect this building, which represents the united effort of the four great interests of Southern Presbyterianism—foreign missions, home missions, Christian education and ministerial relief and publication and Sabbath school work. The building was tastefully decorated for the occasion, refreshments were served and the social intercourse enjoyed added to the pleasure of the afternoon.

R. E. Magill, of Richmond, executive secretary of publication and Sabbath school work, who had special supervision of the entire work of the erection of this building, and Rev. Henry H. Sweets, D. D., of Louisville, Ky., executive secretary of Christian education and ministerial relief, who has been in charge of the entertainment of guests in the home during the entire season, extended cordial welcome to the many visitors present at this reception, and assisting them were a number of women who are prominently identified with the work of the church.

Will Release Woman Witness.

Washington, August 15.—The Department of Commerce will order the immediate release of Clara Metcher, held in Los Angeles as a witness against Prince Stanislaus Sulwokski, now honeymooning with his bride, Miss Marie Freese, heiress, of Los Angeles. Inasmuch as the prince has made good his escape from the United States, the department to-day decided that there was no occasion for further holding the Metcher woman.
