Hampden-Sidney Meets Randolph-Macon Team Here To-Morrow

LOGAN EXPECTS TO WHIP CLABBY

Middleweight Championship to Be Decided Thanksgiving Day in San Francisco.

San Francisco, November 20.—However Frank Logan may fare when he steps into the ring with clever Jimmy Clabby, on Thanksgiving Day, it must be granted that Logan is extremely confident before hand. Furthermore, the reasons he advances for the hopes of success entertained are not devoid of logic by any means. Logan is largely an unknown, and, as usual in such cases, the followers of pugilism have pictured him as a determined, hard-headed, hard-fisted, husky, who expects to discount Clabby's artistic glovemanship with a combination of grit, endurance and forthright fighting.

Logan says that is not the way of it at all. He feels that he is stronger than the Indiana wizard—he knows that he is heavier—and he is sure his blows carry more force. He acknowledges, however, that it will take something more than this to earn a decision over the claimant of the middleweight championship.

One advantage Logan places great dependence upon is the fact that he is taller than Clabby and has longer reach. He thinks he knows how to utilize these advantages so that he will get the greatest good possible out of them. He says Sailor Petrosky boxed Clabby the wrong way, tearing in with lowered head, and allowing his face to become a mark for Clabby's corkscrew punches. Logan says he will stand straight, and that Clabby will have to leap and lunge if he wants to land.

This "straining for effect" on Clabby's part will bring Jimmy well within the punishment zone, according to Logan's ideas, so that, in addition to being hard pressed to find a target, Clabby will have to give some attention to saving his own devoted head from the fist-filled gloves that will be whirling around it.

Logan says he will be ready for anything Clabby may inaugurate and will employ all the means best calculated to offset Clabby's intimate knowledge of boxing.

After hearing all that Logan has to say, the only conclusion to be arrived at is that he considers himself to be very much a general and statistician as the youngster who won golden opinions by his masterly treatment of Petrosky.

Possibly, if Logan has made a mistake at all, it is in telling so much about his plan of battle. With a Queensberry student like Clabby, forewarned is often forearmed, and it may be that Clabby, out of his great fund of resourcefulness, will think up some brand-new tricks calculated to bewilder a less experienced man.

ARMY REGULARS HAVE HARD TIME

Driven to Top Limit by Coaches. Score Two Touchdowns and Field Goal.

West Point, N. Y., November 20.—In a hard driving workout, lasting two hours, half of which was devoted to scrimmaging with the varsity, the Army team scored two touchdowns and kicked one goal from placement this afternoon. There was no letup for the men, despite the unseasonably hot weather, the coaches calling for "more speed continually." The men responded with a will and went through the hard grind in splendid physical condition.

McEwan was back at centre to-day, Hodgsons place went to Hobbs, who scored one of the touchdowns on a pretty run around Britton's end for twenty-five yards. Hoge was signal caller for the other score on a line-smashing play. Oliver and Mercer were both tried at Huston's place in the line to-day. Hess, Boots and Milburn were tried at different times behind the Army line to-day. One of these men will take the place of Hodgson Saturday in the game with Springfield. Hodgson's injuries will not permit his getting back in the play before next week. Milburn will likely get the call.

SIR JOHN JOHNSON IS GOOD OLD HORSE

He Defeats Some Likely Sprinters in Hard Race at Jamestown.

Norfolk, Va., November 20.—Sir John Johnson, that "good old horse," came back to his own to-day when he defeated a quintette of likely sprinters in a mile race for three-year-olds and up. Walter Welles, who, on two previous occasions, snatched victory from supposed better horses, tried hard to get at Sir John, but only once did he stick his nose in front. It was for noly a second, too. Sir John took the challenge and shot to the front. He won by two lengths and was running easily.

George Zeigles, who trains Sir John for the Beverwych stables, says the famous old horse, now nearly nine years old, will be put on the pension list when he retires from the track.

Ella Grane, in the fifth race—a mile and seventy-yard—even fooled the wise one by winning easily. Rey, the favorite, was not in the money. Hedge Rose, another outsider, made a show of Arcelon in the last race. Mary Ann K., second choice, made a bid for the race and would have won in a few more strides; the first race for maidens was won by Undercover, a popular favorite.

Warbler came home for his third straight victory in the third race. He was the favorite and had little trouble disposing of Deduction and Joe Knight. The latter showed improved form and was a good second.

First race, maidens, two-year-olds, six furlongs—Undercover, 107 (McTaggart), 6 to 5, 1 to 2, out, first; Golden Prime, 107 (McCahey), 7 to 2, even, 2 to 5, second; Buzz Around, 107 (Butwell), 10 to 1, 3 to 1, 6 to 5, third. Time, 1:15 1-5. High Priest, Thenta Soldi, Bergamont, Chief Magistrate, Alice K., Pulsation, Balgarian, Indian Arrow also ran.

Second race, handicap, two-year-olds, six furlongs—Zodiac, 107 (Butwell), 15 to 1, 6 to 1, 2 to 1, first; Ben Quinee, 105 (McTaggart), 8 to 1, 3 to 1, 6 to 5, second; Salon, 109 (Buxton), 12 to 1, 4 to 1, 2 to 1, third. Time, 7:15 4-5. Valkyrie, Armament, Northerner also ran.

Third race, selling, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Warbler, 110 (Burlingame), 7 to 5, 3 to 5, out, first; Joe Knight, 117 (Butwell), 8 to 1, 3 to 1, 7 to 5, second; Deduction, 116 (Schuttinger), 2 to 1, 7 to 10, out, third. Time, 1:15 1-5. Kaydersoseros, Spellbound, Toddling, Miss Brush, Veneta Strome also ran.

Fourth race, three-year-olds and up, one mile—Sir John Johnson, 119 (Byrne), 2 to 1, 2 to 5, out, first; Water Welles, 110 (McTaggart), 6 to 1, 2 to 1, even, second; Genesta, 98 (McCahey), 8 to 1, 4 to 5, out, third. Time, 1:42. El Oro, L'Aglion, Rolling Stone also ran.

Fifth race, selling, three-year-olds and up, mile and seventy yards—Ella Grane, 109 (Ward), 6 to 1, 2 to 1, even, first; Little England, 105 (Burlingame), 3 to 1, 8 to 5, 3 to 5, second; White Heat, 104 (Carter), 15 to 1, 6 to 1, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:47. Rey, Battery, Schaller, Judge Walser, Sweet Owen also ran.

Sixth race, selling, mile and a sixteenth—Hedge Rose, 106 (Schuttinger), 15 to 1, 6 to 1, 2 to 1, first; Mary Ann K., 102 (Ford), 3 to 1, 6 to 5, out, second; Arcelon, 109 (McTaggart), 7 to 5, 3 to 5, out, third. Time, 1:49. Lad of Langden, The Rump, Duquesne, Napier also ran.

Milwaukee, Wis., November 20.—Packey McFarland, Chicago, and Jack Britton, New York, this afternoon accepted terms for a ten-round bout, no decision contest, in Milwaukee December 8.

TEAMS STRIVING FOR TIPTOP FORM

Virginia and North Carolina Are Preparing for Turkey Day Game.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Chapel Hill, N. C., November 20.—With a variety of experimental plays gaining headway, as devised by the Princeton coaching staff, and with individual members of the squad receiving special instruction as to the advantageous way of upholding their respective positions, preparations for the Virginia games goes merrily along. Numerous substitutes figured in the line-up of the two teams for scrimmage this afternoon, and as on yesterday the players that showed form received a bonus by way of curtailment of their alloted hour in the mix-up of the two teams.

Preliminary to the skirmish the first eleven was rushed through the feat of running interference on formation. This part of the daily exercise is being expertly administered by W. A. Reynolds, a former coach of Carolina, and also a member of the Princeton crew of football men, who have in bygone years attained recognition on the gridiron. His methods of coaching instills fresh encouragement in the palyers and they put their "best foot" foremost.

The second team, strengthened by the presence of Wiggins and Kluttz—men that have held their own in football in the past—was easily able to score a touchdown this afternoon. A punt by Kluttz to Tayloe, varsity half back, who fumbled, and, on quick pick-up by Wright, scrub end, registered the touchdown for the second team.

Taking No Chances.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Charlottesville, Va., November 20.—Remembering well the big surprise given the Orange and Blue eight years ago in Norfolk, when North Carolina won the Thanksgiving Day contest after Virginia had defeated the Carlisle Indians, the Virginia coaches are exerting every effort to get the players in tip-top condition for the contest with the Tarheels. They feel that they can do this and still drive the team hard throughout the week.

To-day's practice was equally as strenuous as yesterday's session. It lasted for fully two hours, including nearly an hour of scrimmage with the best scrub team that Assistant Coaches Varner and Harris could muster. Three touchdowns were scored by the Varsity. The scrubs made several first downs against the regulars. Some of the formations used by the second team were those given the players by the scouts who witnessed Carolina's game with Washington and Lee, in Lynchburg.

TWO BASKETBALL LEAGUES FORMED

Richmond and Federation Begin Work About December 4.

Two leagues of six basketball teams each were organized by the Richmond Amateur Athletic Federation Wednesday night at the Blues' Armory. The leagues are divided into two classes, A and B. Class A will be known as the Federation League, and will be composed of the following teams: Richmond Blues, Richmond Howitzers, Richmond College, John Marshall Athletic Club, Medical College of Virginia and the Union Theological Seminary. The Richmond League is class B, and will be composed of the McGill Catholic Union, Church Civic Association, First National Bank, Benedictine College, Richmond Blues' second team and Richmond Howitzers' second team.

The official courts will be the McGill Catholic Union, Richmond Blues and Richmond Howitzers. Double-headers will be played on each of the three courts, taking care of the entire twelve teams. The class B teams will always play the preliminary games, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, the halves being fifteen minutes, with five minutes rest. Class A teams will begin their games at 9 o'clock, and play twenty-minute halves, with a rest of seven minutes.

The federation appointed two committees to make rules and draft a schedule. The rules committee is composed of Frank Roe, chairman, and Wicker, Thornton, Hazen and Tousey. The schedule committee is composed of Bossams, of the Blues, chairman, and Hart, Sullivan, Hazen and Tousey.

Plans are under way to get the leagues in running order early in December, and the date for beginning will likely be Thursday, December 4. This will give the leagues three weeks before the holidays to shape the teams, so that early in the new year all of the twelve teams will settle down for the long championship grind.

Members of the executive committee of the federation present were Dr. Hazen, president, and Messrs. Roe, Crump, McSweeney and Tousey. The managers of the twelve teams were on hand, and about twenty interested players. The meeting was open to all, and the federation officials were delighted with the splendid interest shown. No admission will be charged to any of the league games, and large crowds are expected to be present at all the double-headers.

MIDDIES TAKING EASY WORK-OUTS

Weekly Scrimmage Held Before Game With New York University Saturday.

Annapolis, November 20.—The practice line-up of the week was held at the Naval Academy this afternoon. To-morrow there will be only signal work and individual practice along different lines, and on Saturday the team will meet the eleven of New York University for the last game on the home grounds. No very hard game is expected from the New Yorkers, as they have not been able to score on an opposing team this season. The regular Navy team will be used long enough for them to hit off the usual pace that has been the rule in practice this week, and then the second string men will have to play out the game, so no chance of injury to the regulars will be taken.

YELLOW JACKETS WILL TRY HARD TO GAIN VICTORY

Randolph-Macon and Hampden-Sidney Meet Here To-Morrow Afternoon.

Ashland, Va., November 20.—The Yellow Jackets will be on the warpath again Saturday, when they meet the Hampden-Sidney Tigers, and are going to make every effort to come out of the contest victors.

This will be the fourth appearance of the Yellow Jacket eleven at Broad Street Park this season, having defeated the Richmond Blues and Richmond College in the exhibition contest and being defeated once by Richmond College last Saturday.

It is up to William and Mary to stop the fast flying Spiders Saturday or the Richmond aggregation will be the champions of the league. If William and Mary happens to put a crimp in Richmond College and the Yellow Jackets defeat Hampden-Sidney the Yellow Jackets, would rejoice at a chance to play off the tie that would result. Saturday after Thanksgiving would be an excellent time to do it.

Coach Reiss has been working his men hard for the final game and a long scrimmage was held both yesterday and to-day. All the defects noticeable in previous games have been remedied and a high-class game is expected. The scrubs have not been able to hold the varsity to downs, except once or twice this week, and when the scrubs were given the ball they were able to gain very little.

Bane and Driver have been starting the scrimmages and then Coach Reiss would replace them with the second string men, Richardson, Hawthorne and Midyette. This was done for fear they would be bruised or injured in some way, and as the team is in good shape now no chances are being taken on getting any one laid up.

Notwithstanding the defeat of last Saturday the men are showing a great deal of "pep" and every man has reported for practice regularly, and the second team has not let up in an effort to help turn out a winning team. If they cannot get the cup, which they have won so continuously, the Yellow Jackets are going to try and get the next best place by defeating Hampden-Sidney.

Hampden-Sidney has the heaviest team in the league, while the Yellow Jackets are next to the lightest, William and Mary being the lightest. The backfield of the Yellow Jackets, however is very fast and on a dry field should make up for any advantage in weight of their opponents.

To-morrow the last practice of the season will be held. Very light work will be given the men, such as running through signals and getting down the field under punts. Bane and Midyette have been practicing kicks from placement every afternoon, so they will be able to take advantage of any opportunity that presents itself Saturday.

The probable line-up will be:

Vaughan, captain, left end; Jones, left tackle; Morton, left guard; R. Scott, centre; Copley, right guard; Bush, right tackle; W. R. Scott, right end; Bane, quarter back; Driver, left half back; Blount, right half back; Sheffey, full back.

Substitutes: Mears, guard; Midyette, quarter back; Hawthorne and Richardson, half backs; Turner, full back.

KILLS BIG DEER WITH LITTLE GUN

Winchester, Va., November 20.—Jack Belt, a brakeman on a work-train of the Hampshire Southern Railroad, killed a four-pronged buck deer on the side of the Great North Mountain yesterday with a twenty-two-calibre rifle.

The train was standing on a siding near Salt Petre Cliff, in Hampshire County, W. Va., and Belt saw the buck swimming across the Potomac River. Grabbing his little rifle, which was in the caboose, Belt fired as the buck came from the water and started up the mountain. The bullet pierced the deer's heart, and the animal fell dead on the spot. It weighed 240 pounds.

BERNIER'S MEN READY FOR GAME

Hampden-Sidney Tigers Hope to Defeat Yellow Jackets Here To-Morrow.

Hampden-Sidney, Va., November 20.—To-morrow afternoon Coach Bernier will give the Tigers a long signal drill, and later will leave with his eleven for Richmond, where, on Saturday afternoon, the Tigers will go against the Yellow Jackets, from Randolph-Macon College, at Broad Street Park.

To Hampden-Sidney people, this annual game with Randolph-Macon is a football classic. As the Carolina-Virginia game is to those institutions, or the V. P. I.-V. M. I. game to their followers, so this battle of the Yellow Jackets and Tigers is to the Ashlanders and the Presbyterians. Win this game and the slate is clean. For years the most wholesome rivalry has existed between the two schools, and the clean games that they have staged are the pride of their adherents.

The fact that Reese, one of Hampden-Sidney's best coaches, and Driver, a star on the Tiger team last year, are at Randolph-Macon, serves as an additional bond of good feeling between the two institutions.

The games at Broad Street Park have always been closely contested, the Yellow Jackets, for three successive years, coming away victorious, last year by the narrow margin of three points. All are earnestly hoping that the hoodoo will be banished on this occasion. About half of the student body will accompany the team from here, and the cheering of the two schools will be a feature.

In the scrimmage Wednesday, the varsity piled up over 75 points to the scrubs' lonely 6, the latter's score coming when Oliver intercepted a forward pass and got away for a touchdown. The most noticeable feature was the aggressiveness of Ebel at end, Pendleton and Saunders at halves, and Shackelford in the line. The last named has justified the judgment of Coach Bernier in trying him out in the line, and he will give a good account of himself Saturday. The team is in tip-top condition, and keyed up to play a great game. Few new plays have been given the men, most of the time having been taken up in perfecting those that have not been used in either of the championship games already played. As soon as Quater Back Carrington found out William and Mary's weak points, he began pounding away at them with straight attacks, essaying a forward pass now and then for variety. The coach has not given out the team that will start the game Saturday, but it will very probably be the same as that that faced the Williamsburgers.

MARSHALL BOYS TACKLE HAMPTON

If Local Team Wins at Newport News To-Morrow, It Will Tackle Lynchburg High

The next game that John Marshall High School football eleven will participate in will be in Newport News, where it will meet the strong Hampton High School eleven at Horwitz Park to-morrow. The team, accompanied by a large number of the student body, will leave Richmond to-morrow morning and will get in Newport News in time for a short rest and a little practice. "Mac" Cosby will be in the game against the Hampton Crabs, and his presence will help a lot towards the chances of a victory for the Marshallites.

The Marshall boys will have a hard full when the two elevens meet, for the reason that the Hampton eleven defeated Norfolk High School squad, and the Marshall team could do no better than play the Norfolk bunch to a no-score finish. The Hampton High School has a better team than it has had for many years, while that of the Richmond eleven is weak through the loss of "Skinny" Wood and "Stump" Owens, who are on the sick list. Nevertheless, the Marshall boys have no idea of letting the Crabtown lads get away with the game, as to-morrow's contest lies between the John Marshall High School and the chances of the State championship. If the local boys win from Hampton they will take a trip to Lynchburg, where they will play the Lynchburg High School on Thanksgiving Day.

The John Marshall High School team lost the city prep school championship for the first time in five years and are determined to have some kind of honor, and so it has set its cap for the State championship. The fighting blood of the team is at the highest point.

L. Turner and Brumble will likely be seen at the ends, where they played star football for the Marshall eleven. Mainews, Owens, Cosby and Blankenship will likely hold the backfield positions down, while the line will be nearly the same as in the game with Norfolk High School.

STUDENTS HOLD LAST CELEBRATION

Cornell Getting Ready for Pennsy Game Thanksgiving Day. Ithacans Hopeful.

Ithaca, N. Y., November 20.—A big student demonstration, the last that the Cornell football team will witness before the Pennsylvania game, featured the practice of the red eleven on alumni field this evening. After a snappy mass-meeting in the armory, 2,000 undergraduates, headed by the cadet band, marched to the field, where for a half hour they cheered the varsity team as it crashed through the scrabs in one of the hardest final scrimmages of the year. There was continuous cheering and singing, and the team seemed to gain inspiration from the demonstration and support on the part of the undergraduates' body. It was the last time for the students to see the team in action before the Pennsylvania game, and they made the most of their opportunity.

The scrimmage itself, a hard fight on a field covered by two inches of mud, was on the whole encouraging, although the varsity was stopped twice on the scrubs' five-yard line. The regulars, however, managed to score twice, and they seemed to pull together better as a team than they had up to this week.

PLENTY OF MONEY OFFERED ON GAME

Little Actual Betting, as Supporters of Yale Are Shy.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

New York, November 20.—Plenty of money was offered in Wall Street today on the Harvard-Yale football game Saturday, but not a great deal of actual betting took place, for Yale men wanted better odds than were quoted them.

On the curb market it was reported that Harvard men were offering $10,000 at 10 to 7. The Yale men wanted 10 to 6, and there was not much Yale money in sight even at these odds.

Fred Schumm, who is one of the leading betting commissioners in the downtown district, said that he could only quote odds of 10 to 8 on Harvard. Yesterday his odds were 10 to 7. He reported Yale money as rather shy, but said there was an abundance of money offered by the Crimson supporters. About $1,000 was placed during the day.

There were offerings of large amounts, ranging from $500 to $1,000, even that Harvard would not score eight points; that Yale would not make a touchdown; that Harvard would kick the first field goal; that the total score would be odd, and that Harvard's score would double that of Yale.

University of Pennsylvania, which has been a favorite at 2 1-2 to 1 over Cornell, was a 3 to 1 shot over the Ithicans.

Crimson Confident.

Cambridge, Mass., November 20.—Amidst a roar of cheers sent up from the throats of 3,000 of the undergraduate student body of Harvard College, the Crimson eleven finished its practice in the stadium to-day, previous to its battle with Yale Saturday afternoon.

At the conclusion of the practice, the students went through their "snake dance" on the return from the stadium to the college, and, if confidence ever reigned supreme in Dear Old Cambridge, it surely was manifested this afternoon.

The afternoon's work was of the light order, chiefly a thorough signal drill and a dummy scrimmage. The line-up to-day was Dana and Hardwick, ends; Storer and Gilman, tackles; Pennock and Hitchcock, guards; Trumbull, centre; Bradlee, Mahan and Brickley, backs.

Hitchcock, the veteran guard, was back in his old place, which gives rise to the belief that the former tackle is in condition to play his last game for Harvard. There was some doubt about his ankle being strong enough to hold out, but all visions of lameness have passed by his work to-day against the scrub team. Dana was in O'Brien's place, the latter laying off for a rest.

The players left to-night for the Vesper County Club, near Lowell, where they will remain until Saturday morning. There will be no work to speak of, although two signal drills are on the schedule for Friday. The Yale team arrived at Auburndale to-night.

To-morrow they will have their first glance at the stadium, and a light signal practice will be held.

FACES ALL TURNED TOWARD ROANOKE

Cadets of V. M. I. Anxious to Meet Old Rivals on Gridiron Thanksgiving.

Lexington, Va., November 20.—The V. M. I. squad which defeated St. John's last Saturday in a sea of mud, has been kept hard at work ever since in anticipation of the big game with V. P. I. in Roanoke on Thanksgiving Day. Saturday the cadets will meet Roanoke College on the local field in a game which promises to be more interesting than in former years. All faces are, however, turned toward Roanoke, where the cadets will once more tackle their old rivals. The two teams are well matched, the cadets somewhat lighter, both in line and backfield, but speedy and full of fight. The Techs, in addition to the advantage of weight, are superior to the cadets back of the line. The teams, taken all in all, are most evenly matched.

To-day the coaches kept the team hard at work during the entire afternoon, beginning with a sharp signal practice at 3 o'clock and ending up with a light scrimmage about 4:30. Practically all of the men were out and in fine trim. Yonell, the man with the big toe, who kicked the team to victory with A. & M., will probably not play in the game Saturday owing to a bad leg. He did some little kicking to-day, and went into the practice as usual, but was not in his usual good form. Hawkins, who did such fine work against St. John's, has returned from the hospital, and was following plays. Gallagher, the substitute quarter, is in the hospital with a bad shoulder, but is expected to be out for the game with Roanoke.

AMERICUS AND PERILLI MATCHED

Heavyweight Wrestlers of Excellent Ability Coming December 2.

"Americus," the crack heavyweight grappler of Baltimore, has been matched with John Perilli, the Italian champion, who makes his home in New York. The men will meet at the Academy of Music Tuesday, December 2, in a finish match, catch-as-catch-can style at catch-weights. Each man will probably weigh over 200 pounds.

As these men are about as good as there is in the heavyweight class outside of Gotch, a good match is expected. It will be the first time two first-class heavies have ever been staged in Richmond, and it is up to the public to show whether they want the first-class men or not. This bout will be staged at the time advertised.

"When Mr. Sousa retires he will leave a gap in the world of music which no one can possibly fill. Others have tried to imitate his method, but none has succeeded, and he and his famous band reign alone and unrivaled in the domain which they have made so peculiarly their own."
