

The Normans.
BEGMAN Young delivered a characteristic address at the Tabernacle, Great Salt Lake City, in February. We extract the closing paragraph: "The newspapers are teeming with statements that I said 'President Pierce and all hell could not remove me from office.' I will tell you what I did say, and what I now say—the Lord reigns and rules in the armies of the Heavens, and does his pleasure among the inhabitants of the earth. He sets up a kingdom here, and pulls down another there, at His pleasure. He walks in the midst of the people, and they know it not. He makes kings, presidents and governors at His pleasure; hence I conclude that I shall be Governor of Utah territory just as long as He wants me to be; and for that time, neither the President of the United States, nor any other power can prevent it. Then, brethren and sisters, be not worried about my being dismissed from office: for when the President appoints another man to be Governor of Utah territory, you may acknowledge that the Lord has done it, for we should acknowledge His hand in all things."

POWDER-MILL EXPLOSION.
On Wednesday morning last, about eight o'clock, the chimney of the dry house attached to the extensive powder mills of Stoneback & Detweiler, in Haycock township, took fire, and burned out furiously at the top. Only two or three persons were in the mill at the time; they heard the roar of the fire, and ran out of the building, intending to procure buckets, and ascend to the roof with water to prevent the shingles from taking fire. After a moment's reflection, they thought the undertaking a hazardous one, and very prudently abandoned it. They made their escape as fast as possible. In a few moments the roof was on fire in several places, and it is said to have been about three minutes before a spark fell through the shingles into the main part of the building, where there was about four tons of powder, which of course was instantly ignited, and the whole mill was blown sky high, a part of which has not since been seen.

The explosion was terrible, and shook the country for miles around. It was distinctly heard, the jar felt, and a cloud of smoke observed, at Plumsteadville, Price's Tavern and Dayleston. Mr. Charles Rowland, a farmer of Haycock, was plowing in his field at the time of the explosion. He informs us that the effect on him was of a stunning nature, and the earth trembled under his feet. The most fortunate circumstance connected with the terrible catastrophe is that no one was killed. John Stoneback, Sen., saved himself by getting behind a large tree less than a hundred yards from the fatal spot.

One or two other persons, who were about the mill at the time, made their escape by a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether, and succeeded in making their escape from the infernal machine. The powder mill belonged to John T. Stoneback and Samuel Detweiler, and is near the oil mill of John Stoneback, Sen. They are all situated on the Tobacco Creek, and near the road leading from Dowlstown to Richlandtown. The loss is variously estimated by different persons. The lowest estimate we have heard is $500, and the highest $5000.—Doyles-town, Pa. Democrat, April 25.

A CURIOUS CASE.
The London Times of the 13th of April, has the following reference to a curious case in which a lady of high social position and great wealth in London, had been tried for theft. The jury by whom the case was tried were unable to agree upon a verdict.

We were prevented last night, by press of matter, from offering any comment upon the case of Mrs. Ramsbottom. The report of the proceedings appear in our impression of yesterday. Upon the facts of the case it would be needless for us to offer any comment, so painful a notoriety have they obtained. Suffice it to say, that it appears to have been proved clearly that this lady did actually abstract from the shop of a draper named Moulie, in Baker street, certain small articles—a pair of sleeves and four pocket handkerchiefs. The only question was, was she at the time of the commission of the act in her right mind? She had stolen, or rather was supposed to have stolen, the sleeves, and when she presented herself again, measures were taken to have her carefully watched. Of course, when the question of motive came to be considered, the case absolutely broke down.—A motive there could be none in Mrs. Ramsbottom's case. She might, had she so pleased, have had all the sleeves and handkerchiefs in Mr. Moulie's shop, and her husband would have paid the bill without much murmur. The fact is, that in commenting upon this case we find ourselves in a certain difficulty. The medical reasons alleged by Mr. Ballantine in his defence of the prisoner, were in all probability founded upon truth, but they are of a character to bear much discussion. She had arrived at a time of life when the whole nervous system of woman is altered, and when the change is a morbid one, they are scarcely, if at all responsible for their actions. There are among them persons who, during that change, are in constant nervous excitement—under continual hallucinations—resulting from a morbid affection of the brain, superinduced by the change alluded to." Such was Mr. Ballantine's defence, and it appears to be founded on reasonable grounds.

INTERESTING SURGICAL OPERATION.—A surgical operation was performed at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, upon the person of a young lady about nineteen years of age, residing on Conway street, of a most difficult and dangerous nature, and such as is but very seldom resorted to by the profession. The operation was performed by Dr. Washington L. Atlee, of Philadelphia, who came to this city for that purpose, and consisted of the removal of an internal abdominal tumor which on being placed in the scale was found to weigh forty-one pounds. It was what is called a multilocular tumor, being composed of an adiabing mass of small tumors, among which were five large ones, each of which, on being opened, was found to contain a different-colored liquid varying from straw color to blood red.

The operation occupied about fifteen minutes, and the patient last evening was considered to be doing very well, with a reasonable probability of ultimate recovery. There are but very few professional gentlemen in our city who consider it expedient to have such an operation performed, the chances being looked upon as at best so doubtful a nature as hardly to warrant it. The same gentleman performed an operation some time since upon a lady of our city, who has now entirely recovered. That of yesterday was witnessed by Drs. T. M. Drizzle and E. B. Jackson, of Philadelphia, and Drs.

Hintz, Chatard, O'Donnell, Morris, Cackrell and Williams, of this city.—Baltimore Clipper 26th ult.

As a SPRING and SUMMER MEDICINE,
Carter's Spanish Mixture stands pre-eminent above all others. Its singularly efficacious action on the blood; its strengthening and vivifying qualities; its tonic action on the Liver; its tendency to drive all humors to the surface; thereby cleansing the system according to Nature's own prescription; its harmless, and at the same time extraordinary good effects, and the number of cures testified to by many of the most respectable citizens of Richmond, Va., and elsewhere, must be conclusive evidence that there is no humbug about it.
The trial of a single bottle will satisfy the most skeptical of its benefits.
See advertisement in another column.

Weak, nervous, depressed in spirits, and a prey to innumerable mental as well as physical evils, the victim to dyspepsia is indeed an object of commiseration. Yet it is absurd for him to despair. We care not how low, weak, nervous and irritable he may be, the cordial properties of Hoffland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia, are stronger than the many headed monster which is preying upon his body and his mind, and if he chooses to try them, we will insure a speedy cure. See advertisement.

CONTINUED IN CHURCH.—The Greensburg Intelligencer of May 26, 1853, pays the following compliment to Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Cough Syrup, a new remedy that is greatly in vogue now for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, and incipient Pulmonary diseases:
From the Greensburg Intelligencer, May 26, 1853.
THE WEATHER, for a week past, has been quite cool and, in fact, very unpleasant. Besides being cool and unpleasant in that way, it is exceedingly changeable. On Wednesday, the 18th, the thermometer stood between 80 and 90 in the shade, most of the day. The next day, overcasts and fairs were necessary to comfort and on Friday morning, there was quite a hard frost in this vicinity, though nothing was seriously injured thereby. As a consequence of these sudden changes, many people are afflicted with bad colds and coughs. We observed a lady in church the other evening, so much annoyed with a hard cough, that we really felt alarmed for her safety, so much so, that it was with some effort that we could refrain from "stating" out in meeting, and recommending her forthwith to procure a bottle of Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, to give her immediate relief. For sale by Rupp & Oster of this place, and Covert & Robson Schellsburg.

FEMALE SEMINARY.
W. W. CAMPBELL, Principal.
This Institution, hitherto under the care of Rev. John Lyon, will be conducted by the present Principal. The past history of the Academy will, we trust, be a sufficient guaranty of its future efficiency. The branches taught will be the same as heretofore. To master principles will be considered the most important pursuit of the pupils; and while it will be the constant business of the instructor to impart knowledge, it will also be his aim to lead his pupils to make a practical application of their acquisitions. To load the mind with innumerable formulas, without causing it to use them, would be like placing a bow in a child's hand, without teaching him how to bend it. In fine, it shall be our object, as it has ever been, to lead the pupil to THINK.
We look forward confidently to the patronage of this community, which has thus far been so generously extended, and by an undiminished assiduity, we hope to merit your support.
