RICHMOND IS READY TO WELCOME WARMLY FOOTBALL WARRIORS

Interest in Carolina-Virginia Game To-Morrow Far Greater Than in Previous Contests—City Apparently Has Gone Football Wild—Orange and Blue Teams Anrive To-day.

To-morrow will sound the death knell of football. The brief span over which the life of the greatest of all college sports stretches itself, will have been bridged, and the obsequies will be chanted in hosannahs by the victorious, while dirges will be the method of expression by the lest fortunate.

Here it's Virginia against Carolina; in Norfolk, it will be Carolina A. & M. against Washington and Lee, in both instances it will be the Land of Pines against the Old Dominion, and in Roanoke it will be V. M. I. vs. V. P. I., while somewhere else other native sons will be striving with the same singleness of thought and purpose before the same sort of crowds, yelling in the same sort of way, that is, assuming that crowds anywhere can be quite as enthusiastic as crowds in Virginia, and particularly a Richmond crowd. Anyway, even though it mark the passing of football for another year, football should be mighty proud of the last sad rites.

Mildly, Richmond has gathered the reins in its collective teeth, and has simply run wild—football wild. There have been times when the advance dope spelled uncertainty, and when something tangible might be offered upon which to base a satisfactory utterance statement that one team or another would win. But, even under such favorable conditions, interest was never so intense as now. If there be skeptics who regard this statement as fanciful, a trip to the places where tickets are sold and might have been purchased earlier in the week, will prove convincing. It will be a clean sellout before to-morrow morning. Besides giving information, this should prove a hint to those who have delayed providing themselves with cards of admission.

The old and time-honored Thanksgiving song—Carolina has something up its sleeve for Virginia—is just as potent now as in former years. Perhaps there's a foundation in fact for the feeling. Virginia has gone through the season with just one reverse; Virginia has convinced all that she has a mighty band of warriors, even though they were forced to trail the path of defeat before Georgetown by a scant margin; Virginia has been well coached and well groomed for the last performance on the grid for 1913—but what of Carolina?

Those Tarheels have had a comparatively easy schedule. They have been beaten and they have won games. There has not been anything flashy about their achievements but they have consistently improved. The coaching strength is the greatest ever assembled in the South—Pat Pendleton, Fatty Rhetenthal, Doggie Trenchard and Nat Cartmell, some wonderful quartet, and they have been augmented by Hanna, former stars at Carolina. Then, again, there is the fact that the only reason for not wearing numbers on the players, so that they who run might read and understand, is that some of the plays evolved might be exposed. It's the spirit of uncertainty that always prevails before a Virginia-Carolina game that, in the final estimate, draws the crowd year in and year out. Conservative people estimate the crowd at 10,000 before the gates open, and the advance sale practically proves their estimate.

Virginia will arrive this afternoon, and will be quartered at the Jefferson. The Carolina squad will remain in Petersburg until to-morrow, preferring to rest in the quietude of the Cockade City to braving the hosts of friends and admirers here. Prospects are for an almost ideal football day. With fair weather, fatter girls and youngsters, superladen with enthusiasm, the older among the crowd will absorb the spirit of the day and the spirit of the game.

OUTSIDER TAKES FEATURE OF CARD

Progressive, Overlooked in Betting, Comes Home Easy Winner in Handicap.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Norfolk, Va., November 25.—Progressive, an outsider, won the Atlantic Hotel Handicap, the feature race on the card at Jamestown to-day. In their anxiety to bet on Guy Fisher, Sickle and Tartar, the talent overlooked Progressive, who had not started in some time. The books, as a consequence, were showing 15 to 1 against him, with few takers. He ran the mile in 1:49 1-5, the fastest time made on the track at this meeting.

Executor won the selling handicap for two-year-olds, with Harebell a close second. Jockey Nicalous, on Harebell, was accused of crowding Ray O'Light, and the judges disqualified his mount. This put Song of Valley second and Supreme third. Jockey Nickalous was not to blame for the action of his horse, and the judges' decision was not a popular one.

Jockey Dupee, on Ragusa, made a claim of foul against Allen, who rode Syossett, the winner of the steeplechase to-day, but the judges could not see it. Syossett bumped Ragusa several times, and spectators in the grandstand thought the judges would certainly disqualify him. The interference charged to Jockey Nickalous was trifling compared with the bumping Allen's mount gave Ragusa.

First race, two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs: El Mahdi, 109 (Ward), 8 to 5, 3 to 5, 1 to 5, won; Castara, 111 (Schuttinger), 10 to 1, 4 to 1, 2 to 1, second; Bean Pere, 111 (Butwell), 5 to 1, 2 to 1, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:08 4-5. Ne Manager, Laura, Harvest Queen, Woodsie, Sunamit, Behest also ran.

Third race, selling, two-year-olds; six furlongs: Executor, 109 (Butwell), 3 to 1, even, 1 to 2, won; Song of Valley, 92 (Ford), 12 to 1, 3 to 1, 2 to 1, second; Supreme, 99 (Sumpter), 10 to 1, 4 to 1, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Harebell, Ray O'light, Suwanee, Flask, Yodeling also ran. Harebell finished second, but was disqualified for crowding Ray O'light.

Fourth race, Atlantic Hotel handicap, all ages; one mile: Progressive, 97 (Ward), 15 to 1, 6 to 1, 2 to 1, won; Guy Fisher, 111 (Butwell), 4 to 1, 3 to 2, 2 to 5, second; Tartar, 105 (Nickalus), 13 to 5, even, 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:40 1-5. Water Welles, Sickles, Strenuous, Perthshire also ran.

Fifth race, selling; three-year-olds; six furlongs: Warbler, 116 (Burlingame), 8 to 5, 7 to 10, out, won; Royal Meteor, 111 (McCahey), 3 to 1, 7 to 5, 5 to 5, second; Arran, 101 (Doyle), 15 to 1, 5 to 1, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:13 4-5. Joe Knight, Duquesne, Napler, Lace, First Trump Assessor also ran.

WHITMAN TAKES LEAD IN BOWLING SERIES

Whitman's high score	237
Whitman's low score	171
Total pins eight games	1,561
Average	195
McFarland's high score	201
McFarland's low score	158
Total pins eight games	1,425
Average	178

In the first series of eight games out of a total of twenty-five games of ten-pins, to be rolled for the championship of Richmond and Petersburg, the followers of the game were afforded an excellent exhibition on the Newport Alleys last night when Whit Whitman won the honors of the series by defeating Hermos McFarland by 136 pins, rolling a grand total of 1,561 in eight games, against McFarland's grand total of 1,425.

The second series of eight games will be rolled on the Palace Alleys next Tuesday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, and the final nine games will be rolled on the Academy Alleys, at Petersburg, on Tuesday, December 9, at which time the Petersburg bowlers will give a banquet in honor of the two bowlers, and the officials of the matches and newspaper men will be guests.

President S. N. Williams, of the Richmond Bowling Association, made a brief talk before the series began last night. He stated that this was a friendly contest, to decide the champion bowler of Richmond and Petersburg, and that a medal would be awarded the winner, who would be required to accept challenges three times a year from any bowler in the two cities.

President Williams acted as referee, as did also L. Walke, of Petersburg. Frank Overman was umpire, and Messrs Roy and Thorpe acted as scorers at different places on the alleys. There was a large number of spectators, and good-natured rooting encouraged both bowlers.

The series of games resulted from a challenge issued by the Petersburg Bowling Association, which stated that the members believed Whit Whitman to be the best bowler in Richmond, and they were willing to put up a prize of $50 for any man who would go against him. McFarland's friends believed in his ability to beat Whitman, and quickly put up a prize of $50 against the offer of the Petersburg aggregation.

The total pins made in the twenty-five games will decide the match, and interest will centre in the forthcoming games. The men were at their best last night, and their averages were splendid in view of the fact that new pins were used, and new pins are harder to knock down than those which have been used.

Following is the score frame by frame in the ten games:

Prizes for a State Series.

President Fitzgerald and other members of the Petersburg Bowling Association were present at last night's series, and made the following proposition for a State series:

That the Petersburg bowlers would put up a prize of $50 on the winner of the Whitman-McFarland series against any bowler in the State, a member of any bowling club.

That they would put up a prize of $50, backing Fittman and McFarland against any two-man team in the State, the bowlers to be members of some bowling association.

PLAY ONE MORE GAME SATURDAY

The John Marshall High School and the Benedictine College will meet next Saturday afternoon to play the game over which was thrown out because a man playing for the High School was over the age named in the bylaws of the Prep School League.

The cadets did not make the kick. It was a High School man who wanted the John Marshall High School to win fair and square. The High School held practice yesterday afternoon, and is confident of doing that what it did the first time, and that is to win from the Benedictine College by a good margin.

FORK UNION PLAYS LAST GAME TO-DAY

Blackstone Academy Will Be Met in Final Contest of Successful Season.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Fork Union, Va., November 25.—The Fork Union Academy football squad left to-day for Blackstone, where to-morrow they play their final game of the season with Blackstone Academy. The cadet eleven is far from the best condition due to several regulars of the team being out of the game on account of sickness or injury. Left End Peters will be out of the game, due to sickness. He will be with the team at Blackstone, however. Coach F. M. Benton has been working his charges at daily practice since the Woodberry Forest game. The cadets gave the strong Woodberry team a hard game, scoring an equally number of touchdowns, the Orange school winning out on a field goal. However, the cadets expect a hard game with the heavy Blackstone team, but will play their best to win the last scheduled game.

Captain Earnest fully expects victory at Blackstone, bringing to a close a very successful season. Pall and Peeples at full and quarter, who have been in the line-light as stars in numerous battles, are slightly injured, but will be in their old positions in the final game.

VIRGINIA EXPECTS SURE-ENOUGH FIGHT

Will Put Different Line-Up in Field From That Used at Georgetown.

Charlottesville, Va., November 25.—There is likely to be a real football game in Richmond Thursday, the same being that if the ball is handled cleanly and no vital mistakes are made, will stand as the fitting climax for the college season. Here at Virginia the coaches realize that the team, in order to win, will have to put up a better article of ball than has been shown since the Vanderbilt game.

Just how the Virginia team will line-up Thursday is not known. Certain it is, that it will not be the same as in the Georgetown game. This announcement to-night by Head Coach Warren has set the student body to guessing whether the changes will be in the line or backfield.

The final workout of the season took place this afternoon on Lambeth Field, one hour was spent in hard practice and an attack on the charging machine.

To-night a big mass-meeting was held in Cabell Hall to arouse interest in the game. The speakers were Dr. Charles Alphonso Smith, of the faculty, and Head Coach Warren.

The following squad of twenty-one players will leave here shortly after noon to-morrow for Richmond: Captain Carter, Gantt, Redus, Maiden, Woolfolk, Gillette, White, Coleman, Ray, Landon, W. H. Coleman, Gooch, Mayer, Randolph, Spear, Walker, Sparr, Creekmore, Brown, Flannagan and Word.

Thorpe, of Columbia, will referee, with Sugden, of Harvard, as umpire, and Murphy, of Yale, as head linesman.

CADETS ARE READY FOR HAMPTON TEAM

The Benedictine College is having some hard practice now getting into condition for the game in Hampton, where it will play the Hampton High School to-morrow. The boys are in good shape now, and should give the Crabtown warriors all the fight they are looking for. The Cadets are anxious to win from the Hampton boys for the reason that the John Marshall High School could do nothing with them in the game at Newport News. "Chief Morrow" Wise will be on the job with many of the cadets to lead in the cheering for Benedictine College. The team will leave Main Street Station on the 3 o'clock train for Hampton and will arrive in the Crabtown in time for a rest and to be entertained by the football team of that city.

HIGHLAND PARK WINS ONCE MORE

The Highland Park basketball team put it on the Barton Heights' boys by the large score of 25 to 6. The game was played at the Highland Park grounds yesterday afternoon. The game was a pretty one, even though the score was one sided and the Barton Heights' boys played hard throughout the game. Many features happened in the fast battle. The Highland Park boys started the game fast and simply took their opponents off their feet.

V. M. I. PLAYERS IN GREAT SHAPE

Ready to Put Up Game of Their Lives Against V. P. I.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lexington, Va., November 25.—The V. M. I. squad put in its last afternoon of practice here this afternoon before it meets V. P. I. in Roanoke on Thanksgiving Day. There was no scrimmage, most of the time being devoted to a hard, fast signal practice, dummy tackling and open field running. Youell, who for some time past has been in bad condition, did some punting and practiced a few goals. Much to the surprise of the coaches, he was able to play in the game with Roanoke College on last Saturday. Oaks has been doing some kicking in case he should happen to be called upon to take Youell's place.

After the signal practice, the coaches got down to work on some of the new plays they have been perfecting, and put in three-quarters of an hour rounding these into shape.

The splendid condition of practically all of the men on the squad has proven the wisdom of the coaches in rounding the players into shape at the very end of the season, instead of overtraining them. Every man to-day was in his place and in the pink of physical condition.

Head Coach Pearce, Coach Gutierrez, Manager Handy and Assistant Manager Carson, together with about twenty-five men, will leave Lexington Wednesday morning for Salem, where they will spend the night. The special train carrying the corps of cadets, faculty and Lexington people, to the number of 200, will leave Lexington Thursday morning about 9 o'clock. Special trains will also be run from Richmond and Lynchburg to carry the alumni and supporters of the V. M. I. to the game.

Practically all of the arrangements for the contest have been perfected. When the initial kick-off is made before what is expected to be a record crowd, one of the most hotly contested games of the season will have begun.

BOSTON SCHOOL WANTS GAME HERE

St. John's Preparatory School, of Danvers, Mass., parenthetically referred to in the letter as Greater Boston, wants to play a game of football with a representative team in Richmond, a representative prep school. The Massachusetts eleven will journey East next week and would like to lock horns with some of our local youngsters on the 30th of the month. The travelers from the Hub City are willing to accept a nominal guarantee, to partly defray their expenses. They have an offer to play in Chicago, but would like to see how nearly equal the schools of the West and East and South are. The letter follows:

Danvers, Mass., November 22, 1913.

Mr. Gus Maibert, Richmond, Va.:

Dear Sir,—St. John's Prep School of Danvers, Mass (Greater Boston) would like to play the championship team of Virginia some day in the week beginning November 30.

We have an offer at present to play in Chicago, and would like to see a test of how Southern high schools or preparatory schools compare in football. Could you see if some Richmond champions would like to see us play there. The expenses would not be too much, as we go on a fair guarantee to help cover some of the expenses. Anyhow, let us hear from you.

Thanking you in advance, I remain

Yours sincerely,

B. THOMAS.

ABERNATHY STIRS STUDENTS IN TALK

Tarheel Captain Says That Carolina College Will Put Up Great Fight.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Chapel Hill, N. C., November 25.—Cheered on by the stirring utterance of Captain Abernathy, "that we are going to fight for coaches, of Carolina students and for Carolina alumni all over North Carolina, and fight like h——," a mass-meeting of huge proportions brought a dramatic finish to the Tarheels' preparation for Virginia on Thursday. Gathering momentum, the speeches by "Doggie" Trenchard, Graduate-Manager McLendon, Yandy, a member of the eleven, and members of the faculty, the demonstration excited by the mass-meeting continued until a late hour to-night.

Not of late years has crystallising of college spirit been so complete as it was to-night on the eve of the team's departure. The backing of student body is solid, and hopes are pitched high for giving Virginia the stiffest struggle in many years. To offset the advantage of the Virginia team in its superior qualities of weight and experience, Coach Trenchard is confident that the entire training and its knowledge of the game will make all North Carolina proud of its football eleven.

The final appearance of the eleven on the field this afternoon is signal drill practically makes positive the completion of the backfield, about which many thought it would start the game. Parker is slated for full back instead of Levin, and Fuller will start at right half. Allen will go in at quarter.

TINKER TO GET HIS WALKING PAPERS

Reds Must Now Do Annual Act of Hunting New Manager.

Cincinnati, O., November 25.—It was officially announced by the board of directors of the Cincinnati Baseball Club late to-day that Joe Tinker, manager of the team last season, would not manage the team during next season. The official statement said:

"The officers and directors of the Cincinnati Exhibition Company desire to announce that they could not come to a satisfactory agreement with Mr. Tinker to act as playing manager for the Cincinnati team next year. The question involved did not pertain to salary. Mr. Tinker seemed to believe that he was entitled, if he again assumed the position as playing manager of the Reds, to keep all the authority vested by the stockholders in the executive officers and the board of directors of the company.

"As to who the manager of the team will be is a question for the future, and will be considered at the proper time.

August Herrmann, president of the club, said that at present there has no one in sight to take charge of the team in 1914. It is understood Tinker will not be given his release outright.

The news that Tinker would not be retained came as a great surprise to local fans. While no indication of the new manager was given by club directors, it is intimated that the release of Fielder Jones by the Chicago Americans may have some bearing on the situation.

Will Never Play on Team.

Chicago, Ill., November 25.—Joe Tinker asserted here to-night he would never be a player on the team from whose management he was ousted to-day. He said his release came as a surprise, and he had no plans. Tinker regretted that he could not retain the management for another year, as he thought he could build up the team into a stronger aggregation.

Tinker asserted he was released because, as manager, he refused to be a figurehead.

BASKETBALL FIVE AT HIGH SCHOOL

The High School basketball squad is keeping up the hard practice which has been going on for the last two weeks, and feels certain of having a championship team. Hatcher and White are showing great form, and are expected to do some of the very best work for the John Marshall team this season. The football season will end Saturday, and then there will be about ten more men to join the now swelling ranks. Some of last season's stars are now out with the football team, and when they start practice the few weak spots about the squad will be strengthened.

MEEKS WILL LEAD QUINT OF BLUES

Wilson Meeks was elected captain of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' basketball team last night.
