As a SPRING and SUMMER MEDICINE, Carter's Spanish Mixture stands pre-eminent above all others. Its singularly efficacious action on the blood; its strengthening and vivifying qualities; its tonic action on the Liver; its tendency to drive all humors to the surface; its purifying the system; according to Nature's own prescription; its harmless, and at the same time extraordinary good effects; and the number of cures testified to by many of the most respectable citizens of Richmond, Va., and elsewhere, must be conclusive evidence that there is no humbug about it. The trial of a single bottle will satisfy the most skeptical of its benefits. See advertisement in another column.

Weak, nervous, depressed in spirits, and a prey to innumerable mental as well as physical evils, the victim to dyspepsia is indeed an object of commiseration. Yet it is absurd for him to despair. We care not how low, weak, nervous and irritable he may be, the cordial properties of Hoffland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia, are stronger than the many headed monster which is preying upon his body and his mind; and if he chooses to try them, we will insure a speedy cure. See advertisement.

COUGHING IN CHURCH.—The Greensburg Intelligencer of May 26, 1853, says the following complaint to Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Cough Syrup, a new remedy that is greatly in vogue now for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, and incipient Pulmonary diseases: From the Greensburg Intelligencer, May 26, 1853.

The weather, for a week past, has been quite cool, and, to us, very unpleasant. Besides being cool, and unpleasant in that way, it is exceedingly changeable. On Wednesday, the 18th, the thermometer stood between 80 and 90 in the shade, most of the day. The next day, overcasts and fogs were necessary to comfort; and on Friday morning, there was quite a hard frost in this vicinity, though nothing was seriously injured thereby. As a consequence of these sudden changes, many people are afflicted with bad colds and coughs. We observed a lady in church the other evening, so much annoyed with a hard cough, that we really felt alarmed for her safety; so much so, that it was with some effort that we could refrain from 'stalking' out in meeting; and recommending her forthwith to procure a bottle of Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, to give her immediate relief. For sale by Rupp & Oster of this place, and Colvin & Robeson Schellsburg.

In a short time he will replenish his stock, so as to make it an inducement to purchasers to give him a call. He will also keep Bacon, Fish, Salt, Molasses, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Brooms, Brushes, Patent Medicines, Drugs, Dye-stuffs, and every article usually kept in a retail store. PAPER HANGING and UPHOLSTERING will be attended to as usual with promptness and despatch—and he would take this occasion to say that he has now on hand, and will furnish to order, on the most favorable terms, every description of WALL PAPER and BORDERING. By unremitting attention to business, and a disposition to please, he hopes to merit and receive liberal encouragement. Bedford, April 6, 1855.

Bedford Academy AND FEMALE SEMINARY. W. W. CAMPBELL, Principal. This Institution, hitherto under the care of Rev. John Lyon, will heretofore be conducted by the present Principal. The past history of the Academy will, we trust, be a sufficient guaranty of its future efficiency. The branches taught will be the same as heretofore. TO MASTER PRINCIPLES will be considered the most important pursuit of the pupils and while it will be the constant business of the Instructor to impart knowledge, it will also be his aim to lead his pupils to make a practical application of their acquisitions. To load the mind with unnumbered formulas, without causing it to use them, would be like pinning a bow in a child's hand, without teaching him how to bend it. In fine, it shall be our object, as it has ever been, to lead the pupil to THINK.

We look forward confidently to the patronage of this community, which has thus far been so generously extended, and by an undiminished assiduity, we hope to merit your support. Cholera Among Kansas Emigrants. The Boston Journal of the 12th inst., contains the following:—Letters have been received in this city within a few days, by several parties, which confirm the statement made by our correspondent, that the cholera had appeared on some of the boats on the Missouri river. A letter from a gentleman who went out in the party of Kansas emigrants who left this city on the 10th of April, gives rather a gloomy account. The party left St. Louis in the steamer Australia, which was crowded with some two hundred and fifty United States troops, and after proceeding some distance up the river, the boat got stuck on a sand bar, where she remained two or three days, and until the writer left. The weather was oppressively hot, the thermometer ranging at about 90. There were several cases of cholera on board, and four persons had died with it. The letter does not specify whether they were soldiers or other passengers. The probability is they were soldiers, if we can judge from the condition in which they were placed. They were crowded below, a most uncomfortable and unfit place in which to pack human beings in such a temperature. Three of the soldiers had heavy cloths fastened to them with chains, which they had been sentenced to wear on account of desertion.

The following letter is from the St. Louis Republican, May 10:—I have just received a letter from a friend in Westport, in which he states that on the evening of the 3d, the cholera, that fell destroyer, appeared in the most malignant form, causing thirteen deaths in 24 hours. Its attacks were, in almost every case, sudden and completing its dread mission in two or three short hours. Among the victims were the wife and daughter of Dr. J. O. Boggs, who were much beloved by all who knew them.—The letter also stated that Kansas City was in as great or greater distress than Westport.—The frightened inhabitants were leaving both places as rapidly as possible, and dispersing themselves in the country and different towns in the vicinity. Up to the time of closing the letter, the evening of the 4th, there had been no abatement.

Here is one of the most impressive paragraphs we have lately seen: "Life is expeditious; we have it, but are as continually losing it; we have the use of it, but are continually wasting it. Suppose a man confined in some fortress under the doom to stay there till death, and suppose there is there for his use a dark reservoir of water, to which it is certain none can ever be added. He may suppose the quantity is very great; he cannot penetrate to ascertain how much, but it may be very little. He has drawn from it by means of a fountain a good while already, and draws from it every day. But how would he feel each time of drawing, and each time of drinking of it? Not, 'I have a reservoir, I may be at ease.'—No! but, 'I had water yesterday, I have water to-day, but having had it, and my having it to-day, is the very cause that I shall not have it some day that is approaching. And at this time I am compelled to this fatal expenditure.' So of our mortal transient life. And yet men are indisposed to admit the plain truth, that life is a thing which they are in no way possessing than as necessarily consuming, and that even this imperfect sense of possession, it becomes every day a less possession."
