

TRUMP OF DEMOCRATIC POLICY.—It must be gratifying to every true hearted Democrat to read the history of his party's struggles and its triumphs. Through all the political convulsions that have rocked the Union to its centre, this party alone has remained unmoved. Other parties have raised up to contend with it, and been only defeated and disgraced. Every party has felt the power of the Democracy, and in fact, they have vanquished the combined forces of all opponents. The policy of the Democracy has been adopted as the true policy of the country, and under its genial influence America has attained the proud position she now occupies—knowing no superior, acknowledging no rival. We love to recount and glory over the victories of the Democratic party, especially because of the fierce opposition of those cast off demagogues who rail against that party because it exposed their eagerness for self-aggrandizement at the expense of their country's welfare.

The recent action of the Know-Nothing convention at Philadelphia discloses another triumph of Democratic policy. The doctrine of popular sovereignty, at which whole platoons of routing Abolitionists find their indignation; that doctrine which the Democratic party inscribed in bold letters on its banners, under which it has fought single handed all the discordant elements of opposition—this doctrine of popular sovereignty which it is said, would be inscribed on the tomb-stone of the Democratic party, has been written in a high place in the creed of the new party that was organized to work our overthrow. This adopting of our principles is an attempt to steal our thunder, but we rejoice at it, as it is another recognition of the policy of the party, another acknowledgment that it is the party of the people—the party whose dogmas embody true patriotism, and whose aim is the welfare of the whole country. Daily Union.

From Utah.

The Salt Lake mail under charge of Hudson and Jones, bringing the mails of May and June, arrived at Independence, June 27. A telegraphic despatch to the St. Louis Republican states: The party had no escort on their route from Salt Lake to Laramie. Hoffman attended them to Fallon's Bluff, from which point Capt. Todd accompanied them to Fort Kearney. The delays heretofore are to be attributed to the want of an escort.

Indians were very numerous in and beyond the Black Hills. They were very much alarmed at the movements of our troops and desirous of peace, and proposed giving up the murderers of the mail party last fall. The troops gave them no countenance.

The reports of so many persons being killed by them are all fabrications. About 400 of the troops had reached Fort Kearney, and more were near by. Col. Cook, with his command, was thirty miles this side of that place on the 1st.

Emigrant trains were met at North Platte to the number of one hundred wagons. A few were seen between that and Kearney, but many more were met from that point to Fort Leavenworth.

In one of the Mormon trains the cholera had taken off twenty five or thirty, and one-third more were sick. Kirkwood's first train was met near Kearney.

Great excitement on the subject of gold found on the Sweet Water was manifested in Salt Lake Valley, and numbers were leaving daily for the diggings. By next mail the result of their operations will be known, and the bed of the river would soon be laid bare and the hidden treasure exposed.

A good deal of anxiety is manifested here about the gold discovered on the headwaters of the Red River in the territory west of Arkansas and many are awaiting the return of the passengers to bundle up for that point.

We are in the midst of harvest: wheat crops very good, and other grain quite promising.—Fruit likely to be abundant.
