PACE OF RECOVERY IS NOT SO SWIFT

Trade Authorities See Great Moderation in Expected Trade Revival.

FEW NEW ORDERS FOR STEEL

Freight Rate Uncertainty Again Shows Its Influence in Market.

New York, February 28.—Speculative sentiment had to reconcile itself this week to the conclusion that the expected trade revival was not to be as rapid as the recovery in the securities market which heralded it. Money also reflected the overtaking of abundant supplies by demand, both at home and abroad.

Testimony from trade authorities was pretty general as to the moderation of the pace of recovery. New orders for steel were fewer, and higher prices were not strictly maintained, it was reported, by all sellers. Softness in the refined copper market pointed to parallel conditions in that trade.

New England textile mills reported no large orders as a result of price concessions. A smaller volume of bank clearings confirmed the advices of a lull in activity which came from most of the great mercantile centres. January railroad earnings showed severe shrinkages, as did that month's foreign trade both for exports and imports.

The Interstate Commerce Commission's admonition against railroad passes corroborated belief that freight advances would be granted only after severe scrutiny of all available means of getting revenue. The freight rate uncertainty had some influence in prompting renewed resort to short note issues by the railroads, although the check to the improvement in financial markets also was a factor.

London and Berlin felt the effect of excess in new capital flotations. Amsterdam sold low-priced railroad stocks in New York. There was fresh distrust over the financial position at Paris, where Mexican and Brazilian affairs centre their strain. In the home market the Mexican situation, of little influence in recent months, once more was brought into the foreground by the Benton incident.

New York, February 28.—The level of the quotations to-day was lifted another notch. It was a slow process among the principal stocks, whose gains were limited to fractions, and there was a slight reaction just before the close. Some of the specialties, however, advanced from 1 to 4 points. The upturn was largely at the expense of the shorts. In Steel it was evident that selling had been over-extended. Cessation of foreign liquidation and easing of tension over the Mexican situation encouraged buying, but traders on long side were cautious. Possibility of fresh trouble in Mexico over the week-end, the freight rates situation, the New Haven tangle, the Rock Island situation and the Administration's attitude to encourage a conservative policy. The trade reviews confirmed recent indications that the revival in business was less general than hoped. Canadian Pacific and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western made January reports showing severe shrinkage in net earnings.

Rock Island securities again were weak. The collateral's fell nearly 2 points, touching new lows, compared with the week's high price of 5¾. Both issues of stock were forced down about a point. Shipping stocks developed exceptional strength.

The bank statement gave further indication that the currency movement toward New York was ending. Instead of the nominal loss last expected, the statement showed a fairly large increase, amounting to $3,500,000. This change, coupled with a moderate increase in deposits, brought down the surplus sharply.

The bond market was steady aside from the weakness in Rock Island collaterals. United States bonds were unchanged on call on the week.

New York, February 28.—Money on call nominally 1 per cent; time loans firm; sixty days, six months and seven days, 1¾@2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 2¾@4¼. Sterling Exchange steadier; $4.860 for sixty days and $4.863 for demand. Commercial bills, $4.85¾. Bar silver, 57¾. Mexican dollars, 45. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds steady.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, February 28.—After opening steady at an advance of 3@6 points, cotton to-day turned easier under local liquidation and liquidation selling, with the close steady, net 2@6 points net lower. Only March contracts maintained, or even increased, their premium, closing 26 points over May, and it was rumored that Southern spot holders still are short of March as a hedge against supplies in the interior.

The opening advance was on relatively firm cables. Private advices from Liverpool attributed the strength there to greater activity in Manchester and small offerings. There were a few overnight buying orders around the local ring at the improvement at the opening, which was followed by the week's showing, but the market soon weakened in sympathy with New Orleans. Part of the selling was attributed to Wall Street longs, while there were more offerings of May and generally from spot sources. According to official returns, Southern spot interests took practically all the March notices issued yesterday, representing about 50,000 bales, and after actual deliveries are made on Monday it is supposed that they will be practically in control of local stock. Private advices reported heavy rains in India. There was no change in the general character of Southern news regarding either spots or the new crop outlook.

Cotton futures closed steady.

New Orleans, February 28.—The cotton market to-day had a tendency to advance in the early trading, but later fell off under selling prompted by dispatches from Washington stating that new attempts were being made to pass antifutures legislation. The things seemed to matter to the highest trading months were 3@4 points up at the lowest they were 2@3 down, compared with the last figures of yesterday. The close was at the lowest of the day. Spot cotton quiet and unchanged; middling, 12c. Sales on the spot and to arrive, 2,000 bales. Futures closed: March, 11.36; May, 11.41; July, 11.81; August, 11.65; October, 11.53; December, 11.58.
