Philadelphia, April 22.—The Phillies won to-day's game from the Boston Braves in a well-played contest by the score of 3 to 1. Rudolph, the visitors' pitcher, had only one bad inning, but that was sufficient for the Quakers, who played the long end of the game. The feature was Cravath's home run in the fifth inning, and a great running catch by Paskert of Gowdy's liner. Score:

Chicago, Ohio, April 22.—Chicago lost the opening game of the National League season here to-day to Cincinnati by a 4 to 3 score. A home run drive by Groh in the fourteenth inning scored a single, stolen base and a single. Groh's home run came after Chicago had tied the score in the ninth inning on a single, sacrifice and an infield hit.

THREE STRAIGHTS FOR NORFOLK TARS

Gunboat Cochran and Clyde Richmond Have Pitchers' Duel Throughout Contest.

Petersburg, Va., April 22.—Norfolk made it three straights by winning from Petersburg this afternoon. The game was a pitching contest between Richmond and Cochran, for seven innings the Tars did not get a runner as far as the third base. In the eighth Stein, the first man up, got his base on balls and went to second when Stewart flied out to Richmond. Pressly then drove a hard one to centre field. Laval and Keller all started for it, but all stopped and the bagger held safely, allowing Stein to score with the only run of the game. Sensational catches by Keller and Stein, Laval's splendid work and the fielding of both pitchers, Cochran and Richmond, were the features. The score:

SPIDERS WIN FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Hampden-Sidney Taken Into Camp in Rather Easy Style—Robinson and Duval Pitch Steady Ball. Wiley's Fielding a Feature.

With the snappy fighting spirit bubbling out all over them, the Richmond College spiders took the Hampden-Sidney Tigers into camp with rather surprising ease, and ascended the first rung of the championship ladder leading to another cup, when they copped yesterday's game by the count of 7 to 2.

The game was rather slowly played, and though full of sensational features, it was evident from the start that the Spiders had the pole and were going to hold to it. The contest was characterized throughout by the many displays of the visitors, and, on the other hand, the heavy and consistent hitting and base-running of the locals. Several times they worked the hit and run play to perfection, and in their batting they displayed evidences of a nicely working machine, each player being a well working part. Team work played a large part in the victory of the Spiders, the same as it has in their other victories. There were several long hits made, among them being a home run by Bugg, the visitors' receiver. This boy scored both of Hampden-Sidney's tallies, and made a daring effort to score a third time when, in the ninth inning, Davis let one of Duvall's slants get beyond him. But the Spider backstop was on the pill like a flash, and nipped the runner just as he dived into the pan. Doc Scales contented for a long three-bagger, and Kid Lewis annexed a swat good for two bases.

Carrington pitched the entire game for Hampden-Sidney, and on the whole performed very creditably, except in the second and seventh frames, when a combination of spider hits and Tiger errors gave the home team their seven counts. For the locals, Robinson, a freshman, pitched a very steady and pretty game for the six innings that he worked.

This was his first appearance here at home, and he naturally evinced slight nervousness. Up to the seventh inning he had held the visitors down with one scratch hit and one run. In the seventh, after the first man had been retired by the swinging route, Bugg walloped out his home run. The next man, Richmond, followed with a clean single to centre. At this juncture Coach Robson thought best to relieve Robinson, and accordingly sent in Duval, who retired the side without any further tallies. Duval showed very good form, and performed very well for the rest of the game, not allowing any further points. It is safe to say, from Saturday's showing, that with a little more experience young Robinson will develop into a valuable hurler for the Red and Blue. The showing made by Duval was very encouraging also. In the game yesterday, as well as in the freshman and Trinity games, there was little, if any, stealing done on Davis, the Spider catcher. He is now playing in fine form, and Captain Anderson and Wiley are receiving his throws, and retiring the "would-be stealers" in a manner that is most discouraging to the ambitions of the visiting base-runners.

Hampden-Sidney got their first run in the second inning, when Bugg, first man up, walked, took second on Richmond's out, got to third on Gray's tap to Lewis, and came home when Robinson, covering first, dropped Lewis's throw. The Spiders came back strong in their half of the same inning, and garnered four runs. Flanagan opened up the scoring bee by a single between first and second, and took second when the Tigers' right fielder juggled the hit. Robins then uncorked a hot infield hit to shortstop, sending Flanagan on to third, and then immediately stealing second himself. Both men then counted on Scales's single to centre, and Scales journeyed the entire circuit when the centre fielder let the ball go by him. Davis then laid down a hard chance to Carrington, and the latter, in his eagerness, pegged the ball far over the head of his first sacker, allowing Davis to romp to the third station. Robinson then ripped out a red hot slam at the shortstop, who, by his fumbling, allowed Davis to score and Robinson to land safely at first. This ended the scoring for that inning.

In the fifth frame Wiley, the Spider shortstop, started a lightninglike double by scooping up a hot swat off Carrington's bat and snapping it to second in time to cut off the runner, and then Ancarrow whipped the ball to Lewis in time to freeze out Carrington by a nose. There was no more scoring by either side until the seventh inning, when the visitors made a run through the circuit wallop of Bugg. The local outfit, however, took in three more tallies just to make things sure. Ancarrow got a free pass, and on the hit and run play Wiley placed one well to the Tigers' slabman, with the result that both men landed safe. Flanagan then slammed a hot one at Carter, who let it get through him, thereby allowing Ancarrow to cross the pan. Saunders, at third, muffed the throw from right field to catch Wiley, and the latter continued on home, Flanagan meanwhile moving up to second station. Robins then banged out a nice infield hit to short, on which Flanagan moved up to the hot corner, and then scored on Scales's pretty sacrifice to Carrington. The next two men were easy outs, and the game ended without any more scoring.

The predominant feature of the game was the brilliant fielding of Wiley, who held down the short field for the home team. Time and again he gobbled up wallops that looked good, and

SHIPBUILDERS HERE TO-DAY

Harry Mathews and his conquering Shipbuilders will be the attraction at the local ball yard this afternoon. Having reversed the condition of affairs prevailing in the city of Newport News last season, when the club went nineteen straight games without a victory, Mathews is determined to make almost a similar record on the reverse side of the ledger this season. He had the Colts three days this week, and took two out of the three games. He is positive that he can do equally as well here.

Manager Ryan will start either Shipe or Strain to-day. In the event that neither of these lads, who have been here all week working out every day, is in shape, Harry Griffin, our most veteran veteran, will be called upon. The game, as usual, will start at 4:30 o'clock and finish—!

BIG ED. REULBACH

Former star twirler of the old Chicago Cubs, who is this season shining in the box for the Brooklyn Superbas. The big veteran still retains his terrific speed, and appears to have at least gained consistent control of his delivery.

ALL OFF FOR WASHINGTON

Hundreds upon hundreds of fans will leave Richmond this morning at 9:30 o'clock on the special train run by the R., F. & P. for Washington to watch President Wilson stop directing the war with Mexico long enough to toss the first ball to Walter Johnson in the opening game of the American League season in the capital. Fresh from their trip into the wilds of the enemy, with a record of which any club might be proud, the Senators will don their white suits and attempt to take the measure of the Boston Red Sox, former champions of the world. By all the dope that can be conjured, Smokey Joe Wood should oppose the peerless wonder, but regardless of whether it happens to be Smokey Joe or Hugh Bedient or Ray Collins, the Idaho marvel is sure to have sufficient opposition to make him extend himself.

From a purely local standpoint, there is tremendous interest in the Washington club. Aside from the fact that Richmond and Washington are closely allied through ties of blood, Joe Boehling is up there, and Dr. Yancey Wyatt Ayers is up there, and Ray Morgan, another former star of the Virginia League, is up there. All of these things combined act largely like a loadstone, and draw people from Richmond to the District of Columbia whenever there is a ball game. Unless all signs fail, Tris Speaker will find a solid guerdon of some 2,000 Richmonders banked in the grandstand yelling their heads off for a Washington victory, even though Speaker hails from the Sunny South. Tickets for the game will be put on sale on the train. Remember the train leaves at 9:30 o'clock, and Walter Taylor, traffic manager of the road, will be in charge. A comfortable and pleasant trip is thus assured.

HOLLAND'S HORSES PROVE INVINCIBLE

Havre de Grace, Md., April 22.—J. L. Holland's horses are practically invincible these days at Havre de Grace. Gainor, from the barn of the Oklahoma breeder, galloped off with the Wilmington handicap, and Gallop and Haversack, also from the same stables, won their respective races as Johnny McTaggart pleased. McTaggart's work in the saddle is causing a sensation. There are many old-timers that unhesitatingly proclaim the New York boy the greatest that ever rode in America. Every horse the ex-messenger gets on seems to improve ten or fifteen pounds, and the public is following his mounts with the consistency they did Tod Sloan and Walter Miller when these artists were in their prime.

Twenty-Six Runs and Thirty-Three Hits Made by Portsmouth and Roanoke.

Portsmouth, Va., April 22.—Twenty-six runs and thirty-three hits were made in the game here this afternoon between the Pirates and the Tigers, with the latter on the large end of both columns, 14 to 12 in runs. Four of the hits were of the home run variety, the four-base wallopers being Talbot, Mills, Moran and Goalby. Portsmouth scored six runs in the first inning, but could not hold the lead gained, as the Tigers pounded Dye and P. O'Brien at will. The game was won in the ninth, when Roanoke scored four runs.
