One of the most important games of the prep-school league race will be played this morning in the Broad Street lot at 10:30 o'clock, when John Marshall and McGuire's battle for first place in the race. Should the Marshallites win, it will give them an excellent chance to cop the coveted trophy, a thing that they have been unable to do since the organization of the league in 1907. The baseball team of '07 is still a name to conjure with at public school, and this year's nine seems to be traveling the same road that the team of '07 found so rosy. The public school lads have the best record of any teams in the league this year, having played fourteen games and been returned a victor in twelve of them. Unfortunately, both of the games dropped have been championship affairs, and the Marshallites are anxious to avenge these defeats by copping both of their remaining championship battles.

McGuire's, on the other hand, have not been going so well in their out-of-town games, but of late have been winning their championship games with great regularity. A few weeks ago the Red and Black aggregation was thought to be entirely out of the running, but two shut-out games from the Academy has put them back with the leaders. Should they win from the public school team to-day they will stand a good show of again landing the cup. The last time these two teams met the Marshallites won by the score of 8 to 2, and McGuire's will enter the fray this morning determined to avenge that stinging defeat by trouncing the John Marshall aggregation in grand style. With this end in view they have been practicing faithfully the past week and are now in the best of shape.

Harry Hedgepeth will probably open up a new assortment of tricks against the Marshallites, one of which will be his new stunt of working his pitchers. It is Hedgepeth's intention to work each of his regular boxmen three innings. The efficiency of this rather novel method will be proved to-day. Ever reliable "Monk" Craven will do the backstopping for McGuire's.

The Marshallites realize fully the necessity of winning to-day's battle, and will start the fray prepared to win at all costs. They spent another afternoon in hard practice yesterday, and will enter the arena in first-class condition, and if McGuires' win it will be because they have the best team. Coach Clark decided yesterday to start Woodward against the Red and Black organization, with "Deacon" Blankenship as his partner. It is very probable that Clark will steal some of Hedgepeth's fire to-day by using both Woodward and "Big Boy" Atkinson.

"Dutch" Bottoms, who has been doing such good work in the prep school league this season, will again have charge of the festivities. Despite the fact that the game is to be played in the morning, it is thought that a banner crowd will be in the grandstand when "play" is called.

The team will line-up as follows:

SIXTH FORM VICTOR IN FIELD DAY TRIALS

Honors at the annual field day at Richmond Academy were won by the sixth form, the athletes of this grade winning the silver loving cup offered by the faculty with a total of 13 points. The seventh form was second. Eddie Roden won the all-round athlete's medal with 21 points, though he was given an awful race by E. W. Miller, who was runner-up, just one point behind the winner.

The events were staged on the Richmond College campus, and a large gallery was on hand to watch the youngsters perform. Some remarkably fast time was made in the many events, and all of the classes, as well as the individuals, acquitted themselves in splendid style.

A. A. U. Grants Privilege.

New York, May 15.—The board of governors of the Amateur Athletic Union through a mail vote to-day granted to the Southern Association of the A. A. U. a special privilege to conduct wrestling tournaments outside of championship contests.

PRESSLY'S RETURN IS CELEBRATED BY TARS

linguist, we absolutely refuse to attempt it. Everybody in the Tar line-up, save only Stein, got a chance to face Sloan, and for the most part that genial young man treated them kindly. When he wasn't doing the honors as host, Doc Newton took a hand and graciously allowed whatever came his way to travel on unmolested. After Doc had completed his shift, John Raley took a hand in the trouble, forgot his regular employment of first basing, and tried to help Dave Bunting play second. He jumbled his attempt, much to the chagrin of Dave, and so they kept on scoring. It wasn't all Sloan's fault, by any means. However, he contributed his mite toward his downfall.

Ben McIntyre took up the burden after that, and debutted into the argument by passing Stein, who stole, scoring on Mark Stewart's ride to left for a double. Another base on balls, another steal and another biff by Cleveland counted in the fourth. A base on balls, a questionable hit by Ulrich, a stolen base, and an infield out, plus Allen's duky double, brought two in the ninth.

The Colts battled bravely on throughout, and frequently had Markle in trouble. He was as wild as they say a hare is, yet the locals forgot all about it, and were smashing madly at bad balls throughout the game. To this can be attributed their defeat, even in the face of ten runs, for they threw away more than five tallies by foolish batting. Dave Bunting is responsible for two of the five runs scored by the Colts, driving twice for three bases and cashing each time. Had it not been for a couple of bad decisions by Win Clarke, the locals may have counted once or twice more, but his decisions, bad as they were, did not alter the result.

Pressly and his men played better ball than did the Colts. They hit harder, ran the bases better, as witness their seven pilferings, and used better judgment. Their defensive play was far and away ahead of that presented by the Colts. There is no use trying to find alibis, or to charge it to anything save being outplayed.

Not until the fourth did we score, and it was a gift offering. Berger walked, went to second on a wild pitch, and counted when Cleveland misjudged Ryan's fly ball. Three were added in the fifth, when Rohe walked and was sent around by Snyder's triple.

Snyder scored on Gray's out, and Bunting followed with a triple, cashing on John Raley's sacrifice loft. It was in the sixth that Clarke gave his worst decision. He called Snyder out at first when the local gardner clearly beat his knock to Stein. The visiting second baseman was slow handling the ball, and got his throw away late. Snyder landing safe by at least two steps. Clark called the play before the first baseman received the ball, and probably the umps didn't want to reverse himself.

A more costly decision came in the eighth, when the Colts scored again. Bunting led with his triple, and was scored by Raley's safe blow to right. Berger followed, and neatly beat McMahon's throw, but, as in the previous play, Clark called the runner out before the play had been completed. Had he waited, he must have seen that Berger was there ahead of the ball. There were other times when the decision was rendered before the play had been completed, but these two instances are the glaring ones.

As we have already remarked, there is no reason to believe that they affected the final result. Norfolk was out to win, and Norfolk won, by putting up a superior brand of baseball. No particular features marked the game, unless it be that Dolly Gray was robbed of a safety in the seventh, when he hit fast and low on a line to Ulrich. The score:

BLACKSTONE ACADEMY WINS.

Hampden-Sidney Reserves Fall Victims to Slants of Pitcher Chaney.

Blacksburg, Va., May 15.—Blackstone Academy defeated the Hampden-Sidney reserves here to-day by the decisive score of 8 to 0. Blackstone had things their own way, scoring practically at will. Chaney pitched a great game, only one hit being made off his delivery; this came in the eighth inning. Blackstone started the scoring in the first frame and scored every inning except the second and eighth. For Blackstone, Hardaway's sharp fielding, the batting of Hardaway and Sisson—the latter securing three hits out of as many trips to the plate—were the features of the game. For Hampden-Sidney, Whaley pulled down one from Ballard's bat that looked good for the circuit. The catching and throwing of Ballard was of high order.

Pittsburgh, May 15.—Poor work on the bases by Pittsburgh and opportune hitting by Kansas City gave the latter team the game here to-day, 1 to 0. Many Exhibitors at Annual Exhibition at Country Club This Afternoon.

The annual horse show of the Deep Run Hunt of the Country Club of Virginia will be held this afternoon on the grounds of the Country Club. Every indication is that not only will there be the largest fields in several years, but that the audience will be considerably larger than on previous occasions. PETERSBURG HIGH WINS FROM ASHLAND OUTFIT

Ashland, Va., May 15.—Petersburg High School defeated Ashland High School here to-day in a close and exciting game, 2 to 1. Both pitchers pitched good ball. Woodfin, Ashland's slabman, struck out fourteen men, while Booth struck out eleven of the Ashland boys. The visitors' runs were the result of errors by the local team, although they got on base when Elliott hit to right field for two bases.

The pitching of both slabmen was the feature of the game.

REJUVENATED PIRATES BEAT GOOBERS TWICE

Tannehill's Men Seem to Have Gained New Lease on Life and Play Good Ball.

Portsmouth, Va., May 15.—Tannehill's rejuvenated Pirates took both ends of the double-header from Busch's Goobers this afternoon. The scores were 5 to 4 and 5 to 2. The curtain-raiser went eleven innings and the afternoon five and a half. In the opener the Pirates played their first errorless game of the season. Tannehill presented an entirely new infield, and Foster, the Tennessee collegian, at first, made a favorable impression. Portsmouth outhit and outfielded the visitors in both contests. The scores:

HILDRETH'S COUP GIVEN RATHER RUDE UPSET

Pimlico, Md., May 15.—Sam Hildreth, trainer for August Belmont, attempted a combination play this afternoon, and had it not been for "Wizard" Bedwell and Jockey Taplin, would have cashed it. Hildreth started Belamour, a son of the great Beldame and Thornhill, a brother to Hawthorne, and so confident was he that both would win, that he sent a big commission to the out-of-town poolrooms. Belamour won after a busy finish, but Thornhill was beaten by Brave Cunard, of the Bewell string. Hildreth rode Butwell, instead of McTaggart, and there was a rumor going the rounds that the premier trainer was dissatisfied with the ex-messenger's saddle work.
