PETERSBURG, VA., August 7.—Umpire Reynolds won the game between the Goobers and Colts here to-day, though as a matter of form nine players on each side went through eleven innings before the decidig tally went over the plate, Petersburg getting the long end of a 4 to 3 score.

Seldom has it been the portion of baseball fans to witness a contest in which the arbitrator showed such incompetence as was displayed by Reynolds, who had charge of the decisions on the bases, and it appeared from a viewpoint of an impartial spectator that it was the intention of the Umps to have Petersburg win at all costs.

Reynolds, since his run-in with "Buck" Pressley, also at Petersburg, has been walking around with a chip on his shoulder daring some one to knock the said chip off, and to-day the Colts aroused the ire of the cockey one to such an extent as to cause him to banish three visitors to the clubhouse, which means that a fine will also be the portion of the Richmond players.

Twice during the early portion of the game Reynolds reversed decisions that spelt disaster to the Colts, and in the seventh inning when he called Simmons out, then allowed him to come back to first, was his worst break of the day. Had he stuck to his first decision, which was proper, Simmons would have been retired and the game would have ended in the regulation number of innings with the score 3 to 0 in favor of Richmond.

Three Sent to Clubhouse.

In the argument that ensued on account of the reversal of the decision "Googles" O'Brien was sent to the clubhouse, and when Bunting protested, he followed. Grimes, who was on the coaching line, also was sent to keep the other two players company, though the only thing he said to the Czar was, "That was the rankest decision ever given on a ball field."

Manager Ryan has protested the game, and it will be up to President Boatwright to decide the righ' or wrong of the matter.

Henderson also got into the melee when he, in an offensive manner, waived Ryan to the bench when the Richmond manager protested at there not being enough balls in play and the persistant manner in which the Petersburg manager was putting into play new balls when the home players were at bat in the tenth and eleventh inning.

The Game Was a Hummer.

To get down to the game, it was a hummer, with O'Brien having the Goobers eating out of his hand, and with the handicap of bad umpiring against them, the Colts fought all the harder, but the odds were too great to overcome.

Richmond scored two in the second inning. Berger walked, Newton hit safely past third, Schweitzer fanned, Ryan was out to first unassisted, both runners moving up a base and scoring on O'Brien's healthy wallop to right.

Petersburg had gathered only three hits up to this seventh, and their goal column had not been broken into. In the seventh Laval doubled to left, Hudgins was easy, O'Brien to J. Snyder, Laval remaining on the pivot sack. Agnew hit to short centre, Laval going to third, Damrau popped to Newton, Laughlin and Richmond received passes, filling the sacks, Simmons hit to O'Brien, and on a pretty play was out at first. The ball was tossed on the ground, and the players had started towards the bench, when, for some unaccountable reason, Reynolds reversed his decision, Laval and Agnew having crossed the plate. Simmons then started towards second, and was out, O'Brien to Bunting.

At this stage of the battle the arguments with the banishments took place, and with Woerth at second and Ramey in the box, the game continued. Richmond tied up the game in the next session on an error, a base on balls and a single.

In the eleventh W. Snyder hit safely to left, and was sacrificed by Laval, Hudgins popped to Woerth. With two down, Heine Busch put in Rice as a pinch hitter to bat for Agnew, and he came across with a hit to left, scoring Snyder and winning the game.

A double-header is on the card for to-morrow, and Ryan will use Sloan and McArthur to try and capture both games. The scores:

NEW YORK, August 7.—Although the Cubs never fought more vigorously than they did to-day to make an even break with the Giants, they were defeated by an 8 to 4 score. The beginning of the game had every appearance of an ultimate Cub victory, but in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings the Giants changed its aspect. Their entire eight runs were scored in these innings. Schulte's singles over first base in the second gave rise to an extended argument. Klem called it a foul, and on objection from the Cubs, Klem appealed to Umpire Emslie, who called it fair. Here Captain Doyle protested Emslie's right to give decision, but the Cubs finally carried their point. Score:

ERRORS AID PIRATES

BOSTON, August 7.—The Pirates' pitcher, Cooper, brought the Braves' great winning streak to a halt this afternoon. He held them to one run, while the Pirates succeeded in getting five off the offerings of Cottrell and Crutcher. It was not hits, but bases on balls, that made the Pirates' scores. Hess held Pittsburgh scoreless in the last three innings of the game. The score:
