NEWPORT NEWS REPORTS FEW TAXABLE INCOMES

Of 5,104 Taxable Males, Only Seventy-Four Claim Receipts in Access of $2,000.

ROANOKE BEHIND LYNCHBURG

With 10,420 Taxable Males, Only 263 Have Incomes Exceeding $2,000, While 487 Lynchburg Citizens Made Returns for Taxation.

Newport News income tax returns, as shown on the books in the office of C. Lee Moore, State Auditor of Public Accounts, are surprisingly low for a Virginia city. Out of 5,104 taxable males, only seventy-four claim an income of more than $2,000, while the total in excess of that amount is only $103,482.

Roanoke, too, for such a large town, does not make a favorable comparison with Lynchburg, a much smaller city. Out of a total of 6,904 males in the Hill City, 487 returned papers showing that they enjoy incomes of more than $2,000. In the larger city of Roanoke, with 10,420 taxable males, only 263 have income larger than $2,000.

Two men in Roanoke, David W. Flicker, with $51,866, and L. E. Johnson, with $46,608, almost equal the total of Newport News by themselves. The aggregate incomes in Roanoke of the $2,000 class, are $1,428,086. The total for Newport News is $251,482.

Income returns for both cities follow:

WHEAT MARKET FACES SERIOUS SITUATION

Prospects as to Shipping Said to Be Worse Now Than They Were a Week Ago.

CHICAGO, Ill., August 12.—It is estimated by those who are in the wheat trade that at least $75,000,000 is tied up in breadstuffs because of the war. One of the largest exporters in the Chicago market, when asked as to the prospects for making shipments aboard, said that matters were even worse to-day than they were a week ago. At that time there was some hope of being able to clear both wheat and flour at various ports in the country. He also said that if the meeting, which has been called by Secretary McAdoo, of the Treasury Department, at New York for Friday, fails to suggest a way for the opening of a lane across the ocean, there will be little chance for making shipments until the British government takes hold of matters.

Cables said that the shortage of breadstuffs in all of the importing nations was causing more or less alarm, as supplies have fallen off to an alarming extent. Those owning large lots of cash wheat in the United States, and who see no immediate relief were again big sellers at the September future in way of a hedge against their holdings. One of the features of this market at Chicago to-day was the continued buying of houses recognized as exporters, with big lots of wheat held for foreign shipment. Exporters were selling also. There were 7,092,000 bushels of wheat received at primary markets to-day. A year ago there were 1,833,000 bushels at primary markets. Wheat will continue to come out in goodly volume as long as cars are available and the railways care to take a chance on the wheat being unloaded.

Corn futures sold into the eighties to-day. The September delivery reaching 80 1-4 cents, the highest point of the crop. It closed 1 1-2 cents higher than Tuesday, while new crop months were up 1 to 1 3-8 cents. The scarcity of cash corn at the present time is impressing the trade, even encouraging buying of the distant months in face of improved crop prospects, resulting from the recent rains. Until the new crop commences to move it is certain that corn will be scarce. There is no question about the supply in the East being down to a famine level, and they will have to buy corn in the West continually. Offerings from the country to this market to-day were more liberal, particularly from Iowa, the latter section also underselling Chicago in the East, but the total offerings from first hands were not enough to cut much figure.

Cash corn was 1-2 to 1 cent higher. No rain of importance fell in the corn belt to-day, but temperatures were moderate, and following the recent heavy precipitation, crop conditions were generally favorable.

Oats followed corn in its advance and closed with net gains of 3-8 to 3-4 cent. There was further buying of September oats and selling of the distant deliveries by the elevator people. Rumors of heavy takings of our oats by the British government were current, but no confirmation was possible.

New High Sugar Records.

NEW YORK, August 12.—The upward tendency of the sugar market continues and new high records were again made to-day, when fine granulated sugar was quoted at 6.50 to 7 cents, and centrifugal 96 test at 5.88. The consumptive demand was very active, both for local and foreign account, and holders of raw sugar in Cuba had in many cases withdrawn offerings in expectation of much higher prices.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

By Vote of 29 to 28, Members Decide Not to Divide Organization.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ROANOKE, VA., August 12.—The Valley Baptist Association, in the second day of its annual session at Laurel Ridge Church, was attended by large crowds. Among the visitors to the association to-day were Dr. J. W. Cammach, Richmond; Dr. F. H. Martin, Suffolk; Dr. D. G. Whittinghill, Rome, Italy.

One of the striking features of the association yesterday and to-day has been the devotional hour. With closed doors and a crowded house this devotional service has been held. Dr. H. W. Virgin, Roanoke, has conducted the three devotional services so far, and is appointed to conduct this service to-morrow, the last day of the session.

To-day the morning session was largely given to coisideration of the state of the churches forming the Valley Association. The roll of the churches was called, and in three-minute speeches delegates told of the condition of things in their several churches.

A committee appointed last year to report on the question of dividing the association reported this afternoon. After an animated discussion, by a vote of 29 to 28, it was decided not to divide.

The association will meet next year at Princeton, W. Va., with Rev. Hugh C. Smith, Christiansburg, to preach the introductory sermon.

News of Fredericksburg.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., August 12.—Judge John T. Goolrick, in the Corporation Court, has granted a divorce to Mrs. Effie Payne from her husband, Joe Payne, and the custody of their only child was given the mother.

The Fredericksburg fire company is preparing to attend the State convention of the Firemen's Association which will be held at Portsmouth, Va., August 26, 27 and 28. The firemen will have new uniforms and will make a good showing. They will carry more than twenty men.

The following teachers have been elected for Chancellor High School, in Spotsylvania County, near this city: Misses Viola Spitzer, principal; Miss Elizabeth Billingsley, sixth and seventh grades; Lucy Powell, fourth and fifth grades. There is a vacancy in the primary grades.

A number of girls' canning clubs have been organized in Spotsylvania County this year and are active in prosecuting their work. A number of these canning clubs will make exhibits at the Fredericksburg Fair to be held September 29, 30 and October 1, and will give demonstrations each day.

Illicit Still Destroyed.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LYNCHBURG, VA., August 12.—Deputy Collector Wood, of the internal revenue service, yesterday destroyed a complete illicit still in the northern end of Pittsylvania County. The still had been hidden in woods, and had not been in operation for several weeks.

NO GLOOM IS DEPICTED ON FACES OF BROKERS

Those Who Expect to Find Nothing But Sorrow Little Know Their Wall Street.

CHEERFULNESS BEST ASSET

Exchange in London Is Trifle Easier, and Work Toward Renewal of Intercourse Is Continued by Brokers—Steady Progress Made.

BY BROADAN WALL.

NEW YORK, August 12.—Those who expect to find gloom depicted on the faces of the Stock Exchange members little know their Wall Street. Stock brokers early learned to be stoics and cheerfulness is their best asset.

Links in the chain of re-established international credits may be traced to the rumors of a depository of gold in Canada for account of the Bank of England, and the reopening—under supervision of the British government—of the German banks in London.

Exchange on London was a trifle easier to-day, and bankers continued their work towards the renewal of intercourse between New York and London. Shipments of grain or cotton will, it is hoped, offset to some degree the securities now held in London already sold here and awaiting shipment. Stock Exchange committees were again busy settling differences and eliminating as far as possible the brokers or middlemen.

Until stocks can be delivered, paid for and the balances placed to the credits of the London bankers in New York, it probably will be impossible to establish a market for foreign exchange. Until a market for exchange exists there will be no call money available for the stock broker, and without call money new dealings on the inside or outside of the Stock Exchange will be impossible.

EVERY EFFORT DIRECTED TOWARD SIMPLIFICATION

Some of the wire houses—that is, stock brokers with branch offices in other cities that do their business over leased wires—have been in consultation with a view to the consolidation of interests and the elimination of expenses by the reductions of wires leased. Every effort is now directed towards the simplification and the curtailment of expense or the reduction of overhead charges.

The committee of five has arranged for a nominal market between members on the basis of the closing prices of July 30, and all who wish to do business at those prices are directed to apply through their brokers to the clearing-house of the Stock Exchange at 55 New Street. This should insure the public against their holdings, but leave doubtful a little on covering and with the recovery in hand. Final prices were generally 7 to 14 points net lower. Sales, 13,300 barrels. The market closed firm. Spot, $6.19@6.35; August, $6.20@6.21; September, $6.25@6.26; October, $6.23@6.26; November, $6.13@6.17; December, $6.10@6.17; January, $6.08@6.22; February, $6.22@6.30; March, $6.29@6.3[illegible].

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKETS.

Chicago, August 12.—Notwithstanding efforts by the English, French and Dutch governments to cause a renewal of exports from the United States, the trade remained skeptical to-day that either the financial or military prerequisites were near at hand. Prices for wheat recovered only in part from a break of 2½c. Despite comparative brusness at the close, the market showed a net decline of 7⅛@7⅜c. Corn finished 1@1½c above last night; oats, up 5⅛@7⅛c, and provisions at an advance of 50@50c.

PLANNING FOR RELIEF OF COTTON GROWERS

Representatives From Every Southern State Will Discuss Situation in Washington To-Day.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—Plans for relief of the South from embarrassment growing out of the closing of European markets during the war are expected to assume definite shape here to-morrow.

The Southern Cotton Congress, composed of cotton men from every Southern State, will open a special session called to deal with the war situation, and Southern Senators and Representatives will co-operate with them in perfecting financial legislation to enable growers to hold a part of the big crop over until market conditions become more nearly normal.

One plan for providing this relief, details of which have been worked out by Southern Congressmen, in consultation with experts of the Department of Agriculture, will be embodied in a measure introduced to-morrow in the Senate by Senator Hoke Smith and in the House by Representative Lever. The measure will propose establishment of a chain of licensed and bonded warehouses, where cotton may be stored until conditions become normal, and be made the collateral for issuance of emergency currency.

The advisability of some such action was urged before the House Agricultural Committee to-day by commissioners of agriculture of the cotton States.

E. J. Watson, Commissioner of Agriculture of South Carolina, and president of the Cotton Congress, outlined his view that cotton should be made a stable basis of credit, and that the Federal Reserve Board should be given power to make warehouse receipts a basis for currency issued under the Federal reserve act. His suggestions were seconded by E. R. Kone, Commissioner of Agriculture, of Texas; W. A. Graham, Commissioner of Agriculture of North Carolina, and W. B. Hollingsworth, of Georgia.

"We do not want a system of valorization," Mr. Watson told the committee. "We do not want the government to advance money to the holders of cotton. We want you to let us have the money to finance this crisis, on proper security, and we want the money withdrawn just as soon as the need for it has passed."

PRESIDENT RETURNS

Back in Lonely White House, After Funeral of Mrs. Wilson.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—President Wilson returned to Washington at 5 o'clock to-day from his journey to Rome, Ga., to bury Mrs. Wilson. With him came Secretary and Mrs. McAdoo, Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, Miss Margaret Wilson, Professor Stockston Axson, Mrs. Wilson's brother, and other relatives.

The trip from Rome was uneventful. On the advice of Dr. Grayson, his physician, the President spent most of the time on the observation platform of his car to get the breeze. Few people were at the stations to see the special go through.

At a place in Virginia, a gang of section hands working on the railroad ran beside the President's car while the train was going slowly, and he reached out of the window and shook hands with them.

The President appeared to have been aged by the sorrow and strain he has undergone, and his few words indicated that he was thinking constantly of Mrs. Wilson. The trip to Rome recalled vividly to him the days of his youth.

To-morrow the President plans to plunge into work and to assume active command again of the work of helping Americans stranded in Europe and of bringing about better business conditions in the United States. He will see the members of the Federal Reserve Board, a delegation of the representatives of the shipping interests, and several business men.
