EFFORT MADE TO LIFT EMBARGO ON TRADING

Brokers Wish to Deal in Securities at Prices Other Than Those of Closing on July 30.

NO ACTION HAS BEEN TAKEN

Conferences Are Held, and Reports Will Be Made at a Later Meeting. Banks Satisfied to Carry Bonds at Old Prices.

BY BROADAN WALL.

New York, August 26.—Wall Street was interested to-day in the efforts of bond houses to lift the embargo on trading in securities except at the closing prices of July 30. Conferences were held, but no action was taken, although the committee of five of the New York Stock Exchange was empowered to add two more houses to its number and report at a subsequent meeting.

From the banking point of view, it is claimed that banks are satisfied to carry bonds in loans at the old prices, and as long as no open market exists at varying figures the change in quotations will not trouble them. But should a new set of prices be established loans would certainly be jeopardized.

Efforts to change the methods of trading in stocks from those adopted by the clearing-house were equally unsuccessful. The committee of five said that members desiring to sell stocks in odd lots must do so in conjunction with the clearing-house under regulations which will be explained to applicants by committee.

TAKES CHEERFUL VIEW OF TRADE SITUATION

Among the successful floor traders who took a cheerful view of the situation, E. A. Fairchild was one of the most optimistic. Reviewing the situation, he said to the writer to-day:

"In familiar with conditions from San Diego to Jacksonville, from Portland, Ore., to Portland, Me., and I have unbounded confidence in the ability of our bankers to come out of this present uncertainty with a success that will be profitable to the holders of stocks in our industries and railroads. We of New York are tinged with the pessimism of the foreign markets. According to excellent authority, the increase in the value of our wheat crop since August 1 fully represents our immediate debit balance abroad. Has any country been so fit to take advantage of a great trade opportunity as we are to-day, and I feel sure that our people will be quick to appreciate what this will mean to our corporations."

A sensational advance in wheat was not followed by a free export movement, and foreign grain bills appeared, while the demand for sterling exchange was again beyond the supply, with demand selling at $4.84½.

The announcement was made that certain banks had said determined to issue long bills and hasten the return of more normal conditions in the exchange market. Call money again ruled from 4 to 5 per cent, with renewals at the latter figure.

In steel industry the tendency is upward, and another definite advance was made in billets with an increase in inquiries from foreign buyers.

New York, August 26.—Additional steps looking to the relief of the foreign exchange situation were taken by international bankers to-day, but definite details were lacking. It is understood the $50,000,000 of New York city obligations which fall due the first week in September will be met by the purchase of exchange in this market.

Arrangements are under way also to facilitate shipments of grain and other commodities to Europe in larger volume. Some banks have decided to issue long bills against future grain shipments. Most of the grain now going abroad is consigned to France, while England is taking small amounts of cotton.

Apropos of the cotton situation, Southern banks again were active borrowers to-day, and aside from numerous renewals of loans maturing between now and the end of the month, many new loans were reported. To meet these fresh demands, it is likely local banks will have to increase their supplies of emergency currency.

Announcement by the Pennsylvania Railroad of its intention to further curtail its passenger service along the main system was attributed to foreign conditions. Other roads are said to be contemplating similar action. In various lines of industry and utility there are indications of reduced activity.

Money shows a tendency to harden, some loans being made at as high as 9 per cent. Foreign exchange has been visibly strengthened by the reported success of the German army.

New York, August 26.—Commercial bills, 4.83¾. Sterling exchange, nominal; cables, $4.86@$4.86½; for demand, $4.84@$4.85. Bar silver, 54¾.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, August 26.—With no material progress expected in the progress of reopening the Cotton Exchange until after arrival here of the Liverpool delegation at the end of the week, most brokers were chiefly interested to-day in discussing the possibility of an effective Southern holding movement under such conditions as suggested by the Washington conference. The local spot market was nominal.

PRICE OF WHEAT BID UP EXCITEDLY AT CHICAGO

Chicago, August 26.—The price of wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade was bid up excitedly to-day. Actual transactions were few, owing to the optimism of holders that the European war will send the market still higher, but prices at the close were 5¼@6½c higher than they were when the closing gong sounded yesterday.

The following is a comparison of prices to-day with those just before the big war became a practical certainty:

	July 27.	Aug. 26.	Advance.
September	$ .88¼	$1.02	$ .14¾
December	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

A year ago September wheat was selling at 86½c, and December at 91¼c.

To-day's advance began at the opening, with frantic clerks in the pit bidding 1 to 2 cents higher than the previous close and filling their orders piecemeal. Exporters had said there was a strong foreign demand for flour, and Lord Kitchener had been quoted as stating that England was prepared for three years of war, wherefore fortunate holders of the cereal concluded to wait for still higher prices, and there was no speculator with the temerity to sell short.

WAR PRICES ESTABLISHED IN CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

Wheat Makes Sensational Spurt, Without Real News to Help Bull Side. May Reach $1.21 3-8.

CHICAGO, ILL., August 26.—There is a world's market in breadstuffs. War prices have been established in the wheat pit on the Chicago Board of Trade. There was net gains today of 5 1-8 cents to 6 1-4 cents, and a new high record on the crop was established for all the futures. September wheat sold as high as $1.10 1-4; December reached $1.15, and the May as high as $1.21 3-8. There were reactions and declines from the best prices to 1 3-4 cents to 2 1-8 cents on profit taking sales by longs. The buying was led by professionals, and room traders not only at Chicago, but in the smaller markets of the country, including Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City and New York. It was generally believed by those who watch conditions closest that foreigners were sellers of wheat in a liberal way in order to secure handsome profits at hand. The wheat market to-day was one that will long be remembered because of the sensational price gains without any actual news to help the bull side of the situation, if the matter of sentiment be excepted. Bullish news on wheat came from all positions in the United Kingdom. Spot wheat at Liverpool was ½ to 3 pence higher, and futures were up 3 pence. There was considerable news of a bullish character from Russia. The wheat crop there was reported as having been severely damaged by rain during harvest time, and the deterioration was severe enough to bring the crop down 20 per cent under last year for spring wheat. It was reported that Argentine has prohibited the exports of grain and flour until October. A large area of wheat has been destroyed by the movement of troops in France, and the wheat already out in that country, while of good quality, shows an outturn that is disappointing. Great Britain was a big buyer of wheat and flour to-day. The millers of the United States are turning down a great many bids from importing countries, as their output is wanted by domestic users of breadstuffs.

The corn market was overshadowed by the sensational action of wheat values and the activity displayed in oats. Prices closed 1½@2 cents to 2 cents higher for the day, but reacted quite sharply from the high points. The trade was naturally affected by the sharp bulge in wheat, and continued unfavorable. Crop advices also encouraged buying. The country is not selling any corn to speak of, and cash handlers are scouring the belt for supplies. There was a better demand for cash corn, with prices 1 to 1 1-2 cents higher and sales of 245,000 bushels reported here.

Importers were heavy buyers of oats, and inquiries from abroad indicate that foreigners will need big quantities of our oats. The oats crop of Great Britain is reported to be much smaller than last year, and free buying by the British government is confirmed. Country commission houses and the local trade bought oats freely in the pit, and prices advanced sharply, resting spots being 1 1-4 cents to 1 3-4 cents higher than yesterday. The widening of the May premium was a feature, and showed that outside speculators were buying. Cash oats were 1 cent to 1 1-2 cents higher, with sales of 1,055,000 bushels reported, which included 750,000 bushels for export.

JAKE WELLS HERE

Makes Inspection of Bijou Theatre, Which Has Been Redecorated.

Jake Wells, head of the theatrical enterprises that bear his name, arrived here yesterday for the purpose of making a personal inspection of the improvements made to the Bijou Theatre. A small army of carpenters, painters, decorators and electricians has been overhauling and beautifying the Bijou in the last two weeks, preparatory to the opening of the new season next Monday night.

Mr. Wells expressed himself as delighted with the rejuvenated appearance of the playhouse. He predicted for the house under its new policy this season the greatest popularity it has ever enjoyed.

Otto Wells came up from Norfolk and several conferences were held during the day, in which Manager Charles W. Rex, of the Lyric; Manager Charles L. McKee, of the Bijou; Manager Leo Wise, of the Academy of Music, and Manager Dewitt Newing, of the Grayce Scott Company, which is to occupy the Colonial, participated.

It was decided to retain the schedule of matinees for the Bijou that has ruled for several seasons past, giving afternoon performances on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week.

Charlie Briggs took formal possession of the box office as treasurer of the Bijou yesterday. Practically the entire staff of last year has been reengaged.

Gets Letter From Scheller.

Detective-Sergeant Atkinson yesterday received a letter from George C. Scheller, who, with his thirteen-year-old wife, was arrested here some time ago at the request of the Baltimore authorities on a warrant in which he is alleged to have made a false statement as to his wife's age when he procured his marriage license. In part, Scheller wrote that he was out under a $2,000 bond.

Gambler Fined $20.

Alfriend Mason, colored, was yesterday fined $20 and costs by Police Justice Crutchfield on the charge of running a gambling house at 802 Brook Avenue.

Further Continuance Granted.

Another continuance was yesterday granted in the cases against Sam Wingo and Roy Tyler, alias Ray Talley, who were arrested some weeks ago charged with making false statements to Deputy Clerk William Breeden, of the Hustings Court, and thus obtaining a marriage license for the marriage of Ruth M. Staton and Leo Bivens. September 9 was the date set for the hearing by Justice Crutchfield yesterday, and both of the men were released under $300 security.

Held for Grand Jury.

John Burns, colored, was yesterday sent on to the grand jury by Police Justice Crutchfield for trial on October 3, on a charge of breaking into the store of the Kirk-Parrish Company, Inc., 627 East Broad Street, with intent to commit larceny.

Each Fined $50 for Assault.

Bartholmew Parker and Robert Parker, colored, were fined $50 and costs each by Justice Crutchfield in Police Court yesterday when arraigned on a warrant charging them with assaulting and cutting Elizabeth Gray.

Charge Reckless Driving.

Heywood Cabell, colored, was last night arrested by Patrolman Marcuson, charged with recklessly driving his team through the city streets.

Arrested for Cruelty.

Gil Bailey, colored, was last night arrested on a warrant sworn out by Emmett Taylor, special officer of the S. P. C. A., on which the negro is charged with cruelly beating his horse.

VIRGINA COURT CLERKS ARE GUESTS AT BANQUET

Speeches From Representative Members Feature Dinner at Richmond Hotel.

MAYOR WELCOMES DELEGATES

Annual Convention Opens at Murphy's—Charles D. Denit, of Roanoke, Delivers Interesting Address. Will Hold Two Sessions To-Day.

Speeches from representative members of the Virginia County Court Clerks' Association featured the dinner given in honor of the visiting delegates of the organization at the Richmond Hotel last night. Court officials, representing practically every section of the State, were gathered about the banquet table, and an atmosphere of good fellowship prevailed. Samuel P. Waddill, clerk of Henrico County Circuit Court, and president of the association, presided at the meeting.

The annual convention of the clerks' association was formally opened yesterday morning at Murphy's Hotel with an address of welcome by Mayor George Ainslie. Rev. R. H. Pitt, D. D., delivered prayer. Deputy Clerk R. E. Marrable, of Newport News, responded to the address of welcome, in the absence of A. S. Johnson, of Isle of Wight County, the scheduled speaker.

INTERESTING ADDRESS BY CHARLES D. DENIT

"The County Clerk—A Profession," was the subject of an interesting address by Charles D. Denit, clerk of Roanoke County. In a most interesting manner President S. P. Waddill made his annual address to the gathering. On motion of Walter Christian, of Richmond, the president's address was ordered printed and distributed to all court clerks in the State.

The enrollment of new members, general discussions, and reports of the various officers of the organization, featured the afternoon session. Routine business was transacted and matters of interest to court officials were discussed at length.

The program arranged for to-day promises to be one of especial interest. To-day's sessions will be held at Murphy's Hotel, and the program follows:

Morning session—address, C. Lee Moore, State Auditor; "The Relations of a County Clerk to the Public," John D. Grant, Jr., clerk of Accomac County; "Delinquent Land Laws of the State," H. H. Holt, clerk of Elizabeth City County; general discussion.

After session—reports of special committees; miscellaneous business; election of officers; appointment of standing committees; adjournment. This afternoon sessions of the convention will be held in the rear hall at Murphy's Hotel because of the noise from the cars at the hall on Eighth Street.

Held as Runaway.

Earl Ruthridge, a fifteen-year-old boy, was arrested on Broad Street last night by Patrolman A. M. Smith and sent to the Juvenile Detention Home to be held pending the receipt of word from his parents in Baltimore. He later, it was said, admitted that he was a runaway, and confessed that he would like to return to his parents. They will be communicated with by the police.

Thief Gets Chickens.

J. H. Johnston, of 101 East Leigh Street, yesterday reported to the police that some one had stolen twenty-two chickens from his backyard.

ALEXANDRIA MAN SHOT: ASSAILANT GETS AWAY

Crandal Mackey, Jr., Receives Injury Which May Have Been Intended for His Father.

WASHINGTON, August 26.—Crandal Mackey, Jr., twenty-one years old, son of Crandal Mackey, Commonwealth's attorney for Alexandria County, Va., was shot in his right leg and thigh last night by an unidentified person while on the road near his home, a short distance beyond Rosslyn. He was returning from the city with a bottle of medicine for his grandmother.

A second shot was fired after the young man had fallen, but the shot did not strike him. Young Mackey remained on the ground several minutes after he was fired upon, fearing a move on his part might mean additional shooting, and when he was satisfied that the individual who had used the shotgun had disappeared he got up and went home.

He was taken to Georgetown University Hospital. Many of the shot were picked from his leg, and his father was assured that his condition was not serious.

It is reasonably certain that there was more than one man implicated in the shooting, says the wounded man, because of the remark: "I believe I got him," made by some one who is supposed to have done the shooting. The remark was made in a low but audible tone, and it is thought that the remark was that of a white man.

UNVEIL MONUMENT AT HANOVER COURTHOUSE

Fifteenth Regiment Association Will Hold Reunion and Participate in Ceremonies To-Day.

All of Hanover County will unite today in the annual reunion of the Fifteenth Regiment Association, the feature of which will be the unveiling of a monument to the Confederate dead. The affair will be held at Hanover Courthouse, and those in charge of the ceremonies have planned to make the day one of the biggest in the history of the county.

George P. Haw, president of the association, will preside over the ceremonies, and Robert E. Lee, of Fairfax, grandson of the great Confederate leader, will be the orator of the occasion. Rev. James Power Smith, D. D., surviving aide on Stonewall Jackson's staff, will deliver the prayer.

All citizens of the county are expected to bring baskets, and there will be a delicious dinner of Hanover products served on the lawn surrounding the courthouse. A train bearing local veterans and visitors from this city will leave here at 8:10 o'clock this morning from Main Street Station.

The Fifteenth Regiment now has about 120 survivors out of 1,400 who belonged to the famous organization during the war. Three companies were organized in Hanover, and it is appropriate that the reunion should be held during the unveiling of a monument to the Confederate dead of the county. The monument will bear the name of every Hanover soldier in the war.

The unveiling of the monument will be by Misses Anne Page, E. Sydney Morton, Martha Gaines Talley, Mary Mann Newton, Edmonia B. Noland and Elizabeth Lumpkin.

Such Times

as we are now passing through gives emphasis to the wisdom of appointing the VIRGINIA TRUST CO. executor.

Listen to this:

During the past year a gentleman died, leaving us executor, who owned valuable real estate, which was mortgaged.

The note will shortly fall due, and its payment has been called for. The estate has no money in hand to pay the debt.

Will we sell the property in such a demoralized market as this? NO, SIR! This company will advance the necessary money and pay the debt, and will hold the real estate until a favorable time comes to sell it at its value.
